Idaho; Holds Lead

NORTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS

W	L	Pct.
Oregon State4	1	.800
Washington State4	2	.667
Idaho2	3	.400
Oregon2	4	.333
Washington1	3	.250

Oregon State's Beavers clung to the top rung in the northern division baseball race by turning back Forrest Twogood's Idaho Vandals yesterday in Corvallis, 7 to 4.

The Orangemen pounded Stoddard, ace Vandal hurler, for 13 hits, two more than Idaho got off Takami, and were aided by five errors. The Beavers made three miscues.

By the victory, Oregon State added a half game to their lead over the idle Washington State team, and pushed Idaho below the .500 mark. The two teams tangle at Corvallis again today.

Summary	R	н	F
Idaho	4	11	5
Oregon State	7	13	3
Batteries: Stodda	rd and	Pric	e;
Takami and Orell.	Umpire,	Sp	ec
Burke.

The museum will be open on Saturday from 2 to 5 and on Sunday from 3 to 5.

Palm Beach SUITS

Featured by

DeNeffe's

Smart for campus and elassroom . . . smart for weekend dates . . . smart for all next summer. Easy to wash and clean . . . shapely forever.

The Perfect Suit

for the

JUNIOR PROM

In white and pastels, sizes 35 to 44 in regulars, shorts and longs, priced-

Slacks $ 5.50 Single Coats 12.25 Formal

Select yours today while sizes are complete.

Coats . . 13.50

DeNeffe's

Look for the Label TAILORED BY GOODALL \((Palm Beach))/, ROM THE GENUINE CLOTH

Oregon State Trips Duck Cinder Entries For WSC Dual Meet Named by Hayward

Webfoot Hopes of Upsetting Cougars Rest With 21-Man Team Which Upset Huskies; Jim Schriver May Run Half-Mile

With but one minor shift the identical 21-man lineup of Webfoot sophomores and veterans which turned back the favored Washington trackmen last Saturday, will make a bid for northern division dual meet honors Saturday, meeting the powerful Washington State college Cougars on Hayward field in a feature of the Junior weekend celebra-

Jimmy Schriver, junior middle-distance man, will probably foresake the 440 to team with powerful,

Kirman Storli in the half-mile. Schriver's shift will bolster the half-mile, but will weaken the 440 -already a weak event-considerably. However, in the 440, Schriver would be competing against the Cougar's ace men, while in the 880, he will stand a strong chance of finishing in the money. Sprints Are Toss-up

Colonel Bill Hayward, Oregon's canny mentor, gives his Webfoots a definite edge in the pole vault, broad jump, discus, two-mile, and the low hurdles. The sprints and the half-mile, in his opinion, are toss-ups, while the Cougars will have an advantage in the remaining seven events.

The sprints where five of the nation's top dashmen-Mack Robinson and Jim Buck of Oregon, and Lee Orr, Mel Pettichord, and Curt Ledford of Washington State—will face each other, may establish the trend of the meet. If Robinson can repeat his performance of last Saturday and win four events the Ducks will be on the way.

Storli in the half-mile will carry the hopes of Webfoot followers who honestly believe he can top the best in the Northwest.

George Varoff, Captain Dutch Holland, Don Barker, Crawford Lyle and Robinson are the boys to whom Hayward will look for first Hayward figures either Don Barplace points.

Varoff will be trying for a 14-1 ond place points in the two-mile.

Washington 9 Squad Invades Oregon Friday

Chucker Bob Hardy Leads Hitting With .467 Average.

Coach Tubby Graves, mentor of Washington's Husky baseballers, leads the northerners on their Eugene invasion this weekend in the Ducks' third home series, with Oregon trying to climb to the .500

Oregon's Webfoots improved

foot height in his specialty, the pole vault. So far this year he has not been able to clear that height, although last year he lifted himself over 14 feet on more than one occasion.

Holland is rapidly gaining his form again and hopes to surpass 150 feet in the discus.

Oregon's Olympian, Robinson, is given an edge in the low hurdles and the broad jump, while ker or Crawford Lyle to take sec-

To Be Silent; No Prediction Colonel Bill Hayward called

Track Coach

the turn on the Washington-Oregon track meet last Saturday, missing the final score by only one point in a pre-meet prediction, but this week he's resting on his laurels.

Yes, the colonel refuses to name the score of the forthcoming Washington State-Oregon cinder duel. In fact Hayward says anything can happen in this one.

"Anyway," Hayward said, "I missed last week's outcome by a point. I slipped on that one." And Colonel Bill wasn't altogether joking. He has predicted meet scores to within a fraction of a point.

However, he did go so far as to give Oregon 70 points if his sophomores came through again, but if they falter against the powerful Cougar aggregation, the best he can see for the Ducks is 48 points.

No matter which way the pendulum swings, the meet, which may decide the northern division dual meet championship, will be one of the outstanding track duels of the past few seasons, Hayward believes.

greatly in their play against Idaho as compared with their work in the Washington State series. Both fielding and batting averages went up at the end of the series.

The series was marked by the surprising showing of two of Hobby's sophomores, Matt Pavalunas and John Linde. Pavalunas stepped into the second base shoeswhich Coach Hobson has been trying to fill all season-and handled the job adequately.

His steady play there was a distinct surprise. Pavvy was formerly an outfielder, but he seemed to have little trouble handling ground balls, making only one error in two into the pitcher's box to relieve ington Saturday, but he gets an-Bob Creighton, starting pitcher, af- other chance this Saturday on ter the game was delayed 30 min- Hayward field when the Webfoots utes because of rain, and set the Vandals down with two hits in five innings.

Hobson indicated that Bob Beard 6 inches to better the dual meet would stay in right field, while record against Washington but either Ken Battleson, Bob Smith, or John Yerby would handle the half a foot. left field job.

Hardy Hits High

Bob Hardy still tops the hitters with 7 hits in 15 trips for a .467 percentage. Beard has 5 in 13 for a .385 average, while Captain Ford Mullen, Jimmy Nicholson, Gale Smith, and Wimpy Quinn are all close behind.

Individual averages:

В	H	Pct.
Bob Hardy, p 15	7	.467
Bob Beard, rf 13	5	.385
Ford Mullen, c 27	10	.370
Jim Nicholson, m 24	8	.333
Gale Smith, 1 24	8	.333
Wimpy Quinn, 3 24	8	.333
Ken Battleson, If 4	1	.250
Matt Pavalunas, 2 5	1	.200
Bob Smith, r 6	1	.167
Jack Gordon, s 24	3	.125
Jack Coleman, 2 11	1	.091
Bob Creighton, p 12	1	.083
John Yerby, If 13	1	.075
John Linde, p 6	0	.000
Tom Cox, 2 1	0	.000

DR. ELLIOTT Optometrist

FREE EXAMINATION SPECIAL STUDENT PRICES

Over Kuykendall Drug Store 874 Will. St. Phone 419

DUCK

Maybe you didn't know it but the University of Oregon campus is going to be hit by a thunderstorm this weekend.

It won't be the annual Junior weekend storm—the one that blows our campus luncheon helter-skelter -but just a string of athletic events a mile long.

With Junior weekend festivities furnishing enough variety to keep a body running in circles from Friday through Sunday, there's also five different collegiate sports engagements to be staged here in a day and a half.

The schedule - makers had a tough job trying to avoid conflictions, and failed in several cases, but they did get the weekend crammed with spicy entertainment. So just take your choice.

Baseball fans-just drop in on Oregon's two-game series with the Washington Huskies in varsity baseball on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Track fans-witness a spectacle on Hayward field Saturday p.m. when Colonel Bill Hayward's varsity cindermen play host to Washington State.

Football fans-see Tex Oliver's 1938 eleven in action for the first time in a game Saturday against the Oregon All-Stars.

Tennis fans-Paul Washke's varsity netmen entertain Oregon State's northern division champions here Friday at 2 o'clock. Golf fans—a joker, you'll have to fly up to Moscow and Pullman to see the varsity team in action.

Comes another chance for George Varoff to get his haircut.

The quiet Oregon pole-vaulter Linde, southpaw hurler, stepped failed to hit 14 feet against Washmeet Washington State.

Pole-vaulter George recently vowed he'd get no haircut until he With Pavalunas at second base, hit 14 feet. He went over 13 feet failed when the bar was moved up > Colonel Bill Hayward fears the Cougar cinder array. He says they're tougher than Hec Edmundson's Washington team which Oregon barely nosed out, 67 to 64, Saturday.

Hayward's worries aren't without basis either, at least considering what the Cougars did last year. Six Cougar athletes are listed "on the NCAA honor roll for 1937."

Two Washington State sprinters, Lee Orr and Bill Benke, rated number one on the NCAA honor roll in the 220 and 440-yard dashes, respectively. Curt Ledford wasn't far behind, with a fourth in the 220yard dash.

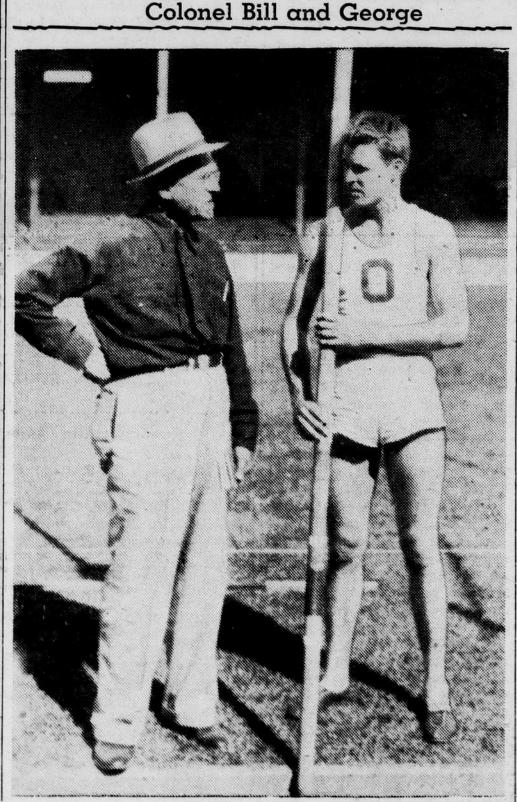

Jack Orr and Harry Nettleton of the '37 team placed seventh and ninth in the 440-yard dash, and Glenn Taylor got a tenth in the high hurdles.

The Cougars of Washington State will be hard to beat.

For all-around fielding in all kinds of weather, Gale "Busher" Smith, Oregon first baseman, rates about tops. Smith handled 80 fielding chances, 77 of them on put outs, and he did it without an error in Oregon's six conference games

Anse Cornell and Tex Oliver say there definitely won't be any night ball game between the varsity and the All-Stars . . . it has been set

(Please turn to page eight)

Oregon's veteran track coach, Bill Hayward, and the world's indoor pole vault champion, George Varoff, are shown pondering the future.