

DUCK TRACKS

By ELBERT HAWKINS

Bobby Coltrin, New York Yankee scout, was in town yesterday for a brief peek at Coach Hobby Hobson's varsity baseball players before they entrained for the Inland Empire.

Several Webfoots, including Wimpy Quinn and Bob Hardy were mentioned as "possibilities."

Hardy, Oregon No. 1 southpaw pitcher, was singled out especially by Coltrin, who says the Yanks like their boys big and rangy. Lefty "Goofy" Gomez, present Yankee hurling prize, is an exception.

Oregon's lanky portsider isn't only Coltrin's choice as a professional baseball prospect. Two other scouts, Justin Fitzgerald, Detroit Tigers, and Ernie Johnson, Boston Red Sox, both said he might be a comer with more sea-sawing.

Fitzgerald, who played in the Yank outfield about two decades ago, stopped here last spring on his way to scout the new Western International league and said Hardy had a "natural" curve.

Scout Coltrin, who covers the coast area like a blanket, doesn't confine his scouting merely to college talent, he squints at outstanding preppers, too.

With Bruce Hamby, University sports publicity putter-outer, he drove out yesterday to look over Pleasant Hill's Red Mauney, who almost makes a habit of pitching no-hitters in his own class. Coltrin figures Mauney "not ready."

The Yankee scout himself was a fair country ball player, working with the Portland Beavers for a stretch from about 1905 to 1911.

It'll be a make or break for Hobby Hobson and his Webfoot baseball team who open a six games in seven days road trip today in Moscow against the Idaho Vandals.

Oregon plays Washington State on Monday and Tuesday, and winds up the trip on Wednesday and Thursday against Washington.

Coach Hobson is taking only four pitchers—Bob Creighton, Bob Hardy, John Linde, and LeRoy Mattingly. He doesn't know just when each will work on the mound though, but will ponder the pitching order on the train ride north. used against Idaho they'll each get to work again next week, oth- and Linde against the Vandals who admit they can't hit southpaw pitching.

Coach Hobson hates to work a pitcher offener than five days, so won't use the same man twice next week. All four may work in Thursday's finals against Washington, according to Hobson.

Moaning Grant Swan, Oregon State's pessimistic track mentor, can't see where his boys will get more than 27 points against Oregon in Saturday's annual dual meet at Corvallis.

Furthermore, he drags out a crying towel and says the Orange-men will get only one first place—that in the high jump. Colonel Bill Hayward, Oregon's prognosticating skipper, says his sophomore Webfoots will win, but not as easily as "Moanin' Grant" would have it.

Bill Jones Gets No-Hitter; McKenzie Gives Rossmen One Bingle in Last Frame

Theta Chis Win Loop Title; DUs Have Single Game Left; Kappa Sigs Down Zeta Hall; Sigma Chis Tie With Pi Kaps

By BILL HELPS

It looks already like it will be Wally McKenzie of Theta Chi against Bill Jones of Delta Upsilon in the intramural softball finals.

Bill Jones entered the hall of fame along with McKenzie as he pitched the DUs to a 13 to 0 victory over Phi Delta Theta yesterday. The win knocked the barnmen out of first place in the division loop, and kept the DU record spotless.

In winning the game, Jones fanned 10 and allowed only two men to get on base, one on an error in the third and the other on a walk in the fifth.

The DUs put two hits, two walks and an error together for three runs in the first, and added another in the second. Guy Benson held the DUs scoreless for the next two innings, but they belted him off the mound in a wild fifth inning.

Bill Jones opened with a double, and Bill Zimmerman walked. Jim Timmins hit to fill the bases, and Willard McInturff came through with a triple. John Weber scored McInturff with a hit, but Connie Grabb grounded out for the first out. Al Shaw grounded down the third base line, Weber was out trying to score.

Dave Silven walked, as did Dwight Nott. At this point, Jack Blanchard replaced Benson as hurler for the Phi Deltas. He promptly walked Bob Morris to send in a run, and did the same for Bill Jones, up for the second time that inning. Zimmerman singled to score Nott and Morris, and Timmins came through to send Jones in with a single. McInturff ended the inning, grounding out.

At the plate, the DUs were led by Timmis, who got two for two, and Weber, who hit three for four. Jones and Silven each got two hits in three trips.

Summary:	R	H	E
DU	13	9	1
Phi Deltas	0	0	2

Jones and Grabb; Benson, Blanchard and Stafford.

Sigma Chis 7, Pi Kaps 7

Sigma Chi went on a seven-run splurge in the last inning yesterday to come from behind and tie the game that Pi Kappa Alpha had virtually in the bag yesterday.

The Pi Kaps reached Pat Dolan for a pair of runs in the first, and added another pair in the second to go into a four-run lead. Meanwhile Jim Webb was allowing the Sweethearts only one hit, while fanning seven in three innings.

In the fourth, the Pi Kaps scored three more counters to put the game on ice—almost. The Sweethearts didn't seem to realize the fact, and coupled three hits with four Pi Kap errors to tie the game all up, and there it stayed. There wasn't time to break the tie.

The game leaves the Pi Kaps and Sweethearts tied for fourth place in the division race's final standings.

Webb and Faunt; Dolan and Phelps.

Theta Chi assured themselves a top spot in the intramural softball finals yesterday when they beat Sherry Ross 6 to 0.

Wally McKenzie, the speedy Theta Chi pitcher, pitched a no-hit game until the seventh inning when Bill Phelps, Sherry Ross center fielder got a single. McKenzie struck out 13 men, while Maxwell struck out 3.

The only home run of the game name written on it. It was a "gem" so we'll put credit where credit is due.

came in the fifth inning when John Bryant, Theta Chi shortstop, hit one far into right field.

The Theta Chis scored their runs in the second, third and fifth innings with runs by McKenzie, Cushing, Merle Hanscom, Clark, Cooley and Bryant.

Summary:	R	H	E
Theta Chi	8	6	0
Sherry Ross	0	1	6

McKenzie and Cushing; Maxwell and Hoffman.

Kappa Sigs 5, Zeta 2

Kappa Sigma scored a 5 to 2 victory over Zeta hall yesterday in the intramural softball game.

Od Hughes, Kappa Sig pitcher, allowed only four scattered hits.

The Kappa Sigs opened the scoring in the first inning when Gene Truby walked Wally Caufield and Bill McKenna. A double by Hughes brought the pair across the plate counting three of the runs. Neil Stackhouse and Ray Jewell made the other two runs in the fourth inning.

Zeta's runs were made by Dalrymple in the second inning and Jerry Turner in the sixth.

Kappa Sigs made six errors as compared to Zeta's one.

Summary:	R	H	E
Kappa Sigs	6	5	5
Zeta hall	4	4	1

Hughes and McKenna; Truby and Whitfield.

Wrestlers Wanted For Guide Pictures

Gene Truby, varsity wrestling manager, announces that all varsity wrestlers are to report to the front of the PE building at 12:45 today for pictures to be taken for the Spaulding wrestling guide. Wrestlers are asked to report in trunks.

Varsity Golfers Use Reserves in Kings-X Match

Oregon's golfing reserves will help the crack varsity golf squad today in a return match with College of Puget Sound on the Eugene Country club course, as Coach-Captain Walt Cline conserves the full power of his Webfoot crew for a stiff fight against Oregon State tomorrow.

Victors once this year in Tacoma over the Loggers 20½ to 6½, the Webfoots will take a chance on repeating that win today with the aid of the reserves, then throw their whole golfing strength against the Beavers here tomorrow.

Oregon has more at stake in the Beaver match, with a defeat at Corvallis by the Beavers last year to settle. Next Saturday the Webfoots wind up their match play season with a return trip to Corvallis against Oregon State.

The Tacoma Loggers bring only five men today, so a total of 22½ points will be the stakes in the 36-hole round, instead of the usual 27 points.

CPS lineups have not been announced, but their team probably will be composed of five of the following: Stoeffel, Stewn, Johnson, Fisher, Schwetz, and Ramsey.

Playing for Oregon in the morning best-ball foursomes will be Doc Near and Kirk Eldridge; Ben Hughes and Shelby Golden; and Bob Speer. Singles matches will include Walt Cline, Bill Watson, Bob Speer, Lou Cook, and Rich Werschkul.

Coed Tennis Advances to Third Round

Weather Slows Up Doubles Play, But Singles Progress Rapidly

Coed tennis matches are at the turning point with the third round matches to be completed this weekend. The first round matches were slow getting under way because of the weather, but the second round matches of the inter-house singles and the all-campus singles have been completed and some active competition is expected in the remaining games.

The singles matches are expected to be in the quarter finals by Monday. The doubles tournament is progressing much slower because of a late start which leaves it with only the first round matches completed.

Second round interhouse singles:

Mildred Snyder defeated Anne Fredrickson, default.

Blanche Browne defeated Dorothy Gunchrie, default.

Beverly Steel defeated Ione Ring, 6-0, 6-0.

Genevieve Treadgold defeated Jean Foster, 6-3, 6-2.

Doris DeYoung, defeated Marian Bromley, 6-0, 6-1.

Jane Burkett defeated Virginia Hastings, default.

Betty Lou Kurtz defeated Caro Cogan, default.

Amie Thyng defeated Sally Clarkson, 6-2, 6-3.

Irma Helickson defeated Jane Weston, default.

Kay Bossinger defeated Pat Withered, 6-0, 6-0.

Betty Lou Kurtz defeated Billie Richardson, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Anne Fredrickson defeated Marge Churchill, default.

Del Olson defeated Erma Huston, 6-1, 6-2.

Jane Burkett defeated Irma Helickson, 6-4, 6-1.

Beverly Steel defeated Janet Eames, default.

If Gene Could Only Yodel

Gene Mako, who helped the United States to recover the Davis cup, international tennis trophy, is in the movies now, and here you see him going about his chores in Hollywood. The girls are the Brewster twins, Gloria and Barbara.
