

Webfoot Trackmen Vie with Beavers In Corvallis Today

Ducklings Will Attempt to Win Their Fifth Successive Victory Over the Oregon State Sprinters; Robinson Enters Three Events

By JOAN JENNESS

Colonel Bill Hayward, Oregon's track mentor, will send his tracksters out after the laurels of the dual track meet to be held in Corvallis today. If the Webfoots emerge victorious in this meet it will be their fifth successive win over the Oregon State Beavers.

Mack Robinson will participate in three events, the 100-yard dash, broad jump, and 220-yard dash. Hayward is counting on Robinson to win all of them.

Jim Schriver, who finished second to his teammate, Kirman Storli, in the meet with Washington State last Saturday, has been given a good chance to win the half-mile.

George Varoff, Oregon's top pole vaulter, is still having trouble with an old leg injury so he will not be attempting to jump higher than is necessary.

Tough Competition

Frank Mandic, Beaver high hurdler will undoubtedly prove to be tough competition for the Oregon men Harold Weston and Bob Goodfellow. Bob Leslie, who has run the 110-yard dash in 9.8 seconds, will be one of the chief barriers for the Oregon men.

Jim Schriver, Bill Harrow and Kirman Storli are running the mile relay for the Webfoots, a fourth runner will be decided upon according to the progress of the meet. Possibilities for this position are: Jim Buck, Bob Goodfellow, Bob Mitchell, or Mack Robinson.

No lineup has been received from Oregon State.

Oregon entries:

Frosh Golf Team to Play Oregon State

The Oregon frosh golf team plays their second match with the Oregon State rooks today on the Laurelwood golf course. The Ducklings had little trouble in winning a decisive victory over the rooks at Corvallis two weeks ago and it is expected they will encounter still less difficulty in playing on their home course. The trucky greens of the Laurelwood course will undoubtedly cause the staters some anxiety.

Cliff Smith, frosh number one man, has been playing sub par golf on the Laurelwood course and his teammates follow close behind him. Fred Davis, Chet Keller, Neland Stone, Pete Klosterman and Ruth Tustin will follow Smith in this order for the 36-hole game.

Varsity Squad Clashes with Salem Today

Willamette Netmen Headed by Talbot, Crane No. 1 for UO

By DOROTHY BURKE

Paul Washke's second league-place varsity tennis team will vie against Willamette's five-man squad at Salem today in a return match to complete their third from the last match of the season.

The Oregon team is now sharing honors with Oregon State for second place in the conference league with the University of Washington holding top honors, having no defeats chalked against them.

The match today promises stiff competition for Oregon with Talbot Bennet, Willamette's number one man, holding a past conference champion title as well as being noted for one of the outstanding single racquetiers in the league. Number one man for Oregon, Larry Crane, however, is expected to qualify for the victories having beaten Talbot with a score of 6-2, 6-3, in the match with the Salem team here last month.

Slight Edge Expected

Les Werschkul and Ellsworth Ellis will hold number two and three positions of the travelling team while number four and five men will be Don Zimmerman and Jack Crawford.

Crane and Zimmerman will play the number one doubles match with Ellis and Werschkul holding down the second doubles team positions.

A slight edge in today's return match with Willamette is expected for the Oregon squad due to the result of their 6-1 victory over Willamette on the University courts earlier in the season. The match is scheduled for 2 p.m.

The Oregon squad will play two travelling matches before the final conference match May 28 and 29 at Seattle. Both matches will be played next weekend with the Oregon team playing at Linfield on May 21 and travelling to Seattle the next day for a penant-

WILL BROADCAST MEET
The track meet between Oregon and Oregon State college at Corvallis this afternoon will be broadcast over station KORE, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Coeds Add Doubles Matches to Series

Coed doubles matches got under way this week with several first round tennis matches being played off and one second round match completed with a default.

Pat Wethered and Louise Plummer are the only doubles team members ready for the third round matches, having defeated Barbara Jones and Thelma Bouchet who defaulted.

The all-campus singles have reached the third round stage with quarter finals expected to begin next week.

Second round all-campus singles: Kay Bossinger defeated Pat Wethered, 6-0, 6-0.

Betty Lou Kurtz defeated Billie Richardson, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Anne Frederickson defeated Marge Churchill, default.

Delphine Olson defeated Erma Huston, 6-1, 6-2.

Jane Burkett defeated Irma Helickson, 6-4, 6-1.

Beverly Steel defeated Janet Eames, default.

Annual Playday for Grade School Girls

The annual play day for the 6th, 7th and 8th grades girls of Lane county's elementary schools, sponsored by the physical education majors of the University of Oregon and the Lane county 4-H club will be held today from 9:45 to 12 o'clock on Gerlinger field. Janet Woodruff, associate professor of physical education, is supervisor in charge.

The theme for the playday is "Westward Ho!" Included on the program will be group games, an Indian dance, horseshoes, and team sports such as baseball, volleyball and relay races.

Deciding match with the University of Washington top leaguers.

Frosh Nine Meets Rooks Today at 2:30

Pete Igoe, speedy Eugene hurler, will take the mound for the frosh baseball nine today in their game against the Oregon State rooks at 2:30 on Howe field. Last Saturday the Ducklings won a 9-1 kick-over from the rooks at Corvallis, but the rooks are expected to put up quite a battle today with OSC pitcher Clayton Shaw in the pitcher's box.

Reserve pitchers for Coach Warren's frosh are Al Reider and Lanny Allegretto, right handers and Alvin Anderson, a southpaw.

Two more games are scheduled with the rooks, the next May 21 at Corvallis, and the last one on the home field May 28.

tleson and Smith. The coin decided in favor of Battleson. The most ardent supporters of Mack Robinson, sprint champ of the Webfoot track team, are his wife and son, Ronny, about three years old. They are out to watch Mack practice nearly every night. Ronny Robinson will be remembered by basketball fans as the tiny negro lad who came to most of last winter's games and, standing down on the floor, beat time with the band.

It is customary for a coed sports columnist, when she has the job thrust upon her, to run a little apology for her efforts at the top of her column. This year the writer is omitting this, not because she feels her masculine readers might not be deserving of an apology, but only because she feels entirely inadequate to the task of even attempting to make excuses. She admits, however, that since the day she was told that sports would be her job on the coed edition, she has been feeling rather like a balloon with the peeling taken off.
