

Semi-Finals for Senior Oration Contest to Be Tuesday Evening

A preliminary contest will be held Tuesday night in the Failing-Beekman oration contest, according to Donald M. Hargis, professor of speech. Seniors participating in the first round are: Freed Bales, John Kirigin, Kessler Cannon, Louise Aiken, Marshall Nelson, Bill Lubersky, Victor Goff, Robert Fulton, Betty Brown, and Kermit Gimre.

Friday night at 8:00, the contest will be held in the music auditorium. First prize awarded in the annual contest is $150, with a second prize of $100.

Decision on the two winners selected from the group of six will be handed down by a board of five judges: Mrs. Beatrice Sackett, member of the state board of higher education; Howard Zimmerman, '13, Astoria; Dr. J. F. Cramer, superintendent of schools, Eugene; Norman K. Tully, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Eugene; and Roy Mahaffey, professor of speech at Linfield college.

A musical program by the symphony orchestra will precede and follow the orations. At the contest, formal presentation will be made of the Albert cup to Barney Hall, president of the ASUO.

E. M. Hulme Will Speak

Edward Maslin Hulme, who is to speak at the University baccalaureate services May 29 on "The Message of the Master" has had a long career as a historian.

After graduating from Stanford and doing graduate work at Harvard and Cornell, he has filled a large number of posts ranging from teacher of history and literature at a Portland, Oregon, high school to his present post as professor of medieval history at Stanford, which he has held since 1921.

Hulme was professor of history from 1902 to 1921, and dean of the college of letters and science from 1917 to 1921 at the University of Idaho. Besides this, he has taught at summer sessions, the University of California, the University of Chicago, the University of Oregon, the University of Utah, the University of Southern California, and Duke University.

Stetson to Attend Education Meeting

Dr. F. L. Stetson, professor of education, will attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Northwestern Association of Secondary and Higher Schools at Portland, May 29 and 30.

Dr. Stetson is director of research in the association and a member of the committee accrediting on higher schools.

Oregon Sprinters

(Continued from page five)
100-yard dash, first heat—Orr, Washington State, first; Buck, Oregon, second; Emigh, Montana, third. Time, 9.5 (ties existing meet record).

Second heat—Robinson, Oregon, first; Ledford, Washington State, second; Pettichord, Washington State, third. Time, 9.7.

220-yard dash—Pettichord, Washington State, first; Robinson, Oregon, second; Orr, Washington State, third. Time, 22.2.

Second heat—Emigh, Montana, first; Ledford, Washington State, second; Buck, Oregon, third. Time, 22.2.

Low hurdles, first heat—Robinson, Oregon, first; Orr, Washington State, second; Stutfield, Washington, third. Time, 24.2.

Second heat—Buck, Oregon, first; Moran, Washington, second; Lockhart, Washington, third. Time, 24.6.

High hurdles, first heat—Moran, Washington, first; Deckhart, Washington State, second; Mandic, Oregon State, third. Time, 14.5.

Second heat—Wagner, Washington State, first; Stutfield, Washington, second; Carlson, Oregon State, third. Time, 14.9.

Slain in Mystery

Methias H. Warren, 73, father of Earl Warren, Alameda county, Cal., district attorney and a wealthy Bakersfield landowner, clubbed to death by an unidentified assailant as he sat in his modest home in Bakersfield.

Vivian Runte Receives Honor

Miss Vivian Runte, business administration senior from Eugene, was chosen last night as the most outstanding senior woman in the business administration school by Phi Chi Theta, national woman's business honorary.

Miss Runte was presented with a gold key from the honorary. The basis for the choice considered scholarship, activities, and scholarship.

Miss Runte has acted this year as a member of the House-heads group, representing the Orides, of which she is president. She is a member of both Phi Chi Theta, and Beta Gamma Sigma, women's business honoraries. Last year she was president of Phi Chi Theta. She is a member of Tonqued and YWCA, and served as secretary of the ASUO card drive this year.

Underwood Home Scene of Recital Given by Students

A well-filled house greeted Emile Chan and Ruthelbert Wolfenden, soloists, at a recital held at the home of Rex Underwood last night.

Miss Chan, pianist, gave a group of three numbers representing Bach, Mozart, Chopin, Brahms, Rimsky-Korskov and Saint-Saens. Brahms' "G minor Rhapsody" was well received by the audience as well as Saint Saens' Italian folk song, "Mandolinato."

Miss Wolfenden, violinist, offered Wieniawski's "Scherzo Tarantelle" and two movements of Vieuxtemps' Concerto in D Minor.

Fibsch's "Poem" was rendered by Miss Chan as encore.

TWELVE SICK

Reports from the infirmary show the following students listed as patients: Betty Thomas, Genevieve McNiece, Shirley Schrenk, Charles Delzell, Clayton Helgren, Walter Vernstrom, Ray Dalrymple, Alvin Anderson, William Harrow, John Bracher, and Theron Borden.

Second Night Favorable to 'Gentlemen'

"Two Gentlemen of Verona," given by the University theater and Very Little Theatre of Eugene, completed its second performance last night to an approximate audience of 250.

Eddie Hearn, Gayle Buchanan, and Jack Lewis were highly applauded by the audience for their good performances.

The third and final performance will be given tonight in the sunken gardens in back of the music building at 8:15. Tickets are still available.

Crumbaker Talks On Business Hour

Dr. Calvin Crumbaker of the economics department spoke over radio station KOAC yesterday on the business hour program sponsored by the school of business administration.

The subject of his speech was "The President and Tax Exempt Securities."

ALUM VISITS

Miss Florence Grebe, class of '29, and now from San Francisco, visited on the campus Wednesday.

Chance Similar to Leap Year In Reverse Open to Men Tonight

In the early hours of this evening the annual Mortar Board ball will breeze into being, and from then on the burden of how to be a good date shifts gently over to masculine shoulders.

Anytime now he can begin saying, "If she sends me gardenias I'll scream!"

This is his one big chance to keep her waiting and make her like it. Now he can empty his dresser drawer into her coat pocket, and transform her into a veritable walking check room. If he wants to order a $1.50 dinner so that he can dine in the manner to which he has become accustomed it's up to her to order a hamburger to make up the deficit.

This is his night to wrinkle his nose and pout if she suggests doing something he doesn't particularly want to do. "I'd just loooovvve to trade dances with her," is his line tonight.

If he feels like making it later than 12:15 it's up to her to convince him that beauty and sleep are synonymous.

Yes, sir, anyway you want to look at it, it's the maid's night out for an aggravating evening.

WILMOT TO TAKE FINAL

Wilbur Wilmot will take his final examination for the master's degree Thursday at 10 o'clock in the education building. His thesis is entitled, "Predictive Significance of A.C.E. Psychological Examinations for High School Seniors."

GOOD LUCK, FRESHMEN

13 years on the campus and doing better than ever. There must be a reason—Good Service, of course.

HENRY SCHRENK,

Operator and Manager.

CAMPUS SHOE SHOP

50 years experience

If a Penny Saved ---
Is a Penny Earned ---
Here's Your Opportunity!

The Daily Emerald offers to

Graduating Seniors

A seventy-five cent reduction on a year's subscription to the Emerald.

Get your subscription blank at the Co-op Tuesday or from your house representative and be assured of all the campus news next year at a new reduced price.

$3.00 regular mail price

$2.25 special price

$.75 earned

Oregon Daily Emerald