

DUCK TRACKS

By ELBERT HAWKINS

Did you know that... Oregon's football squad loses about 150 or 200 pounds each day in routine drill.

Into the one- or two-pound class strangely fits most of Tex Oliver's left halves, the boys who pack the mail.

Russ "Moose" Inskip, 225-pound tackle, heaviest man on the squad, and Tackle Jim Stuart, 212 pounds of brawn, are in the five-pound class—record for this week.

Honors for Tex Oliver... Sprightly Jay Graybeal's last-quarter pass to Ted Gebhardt for Oregon's winning touchdown.

It was the second week in a row Tex's Oregon team won the honor. "Player of the Week?" That was a Duck too.

For consideration... Leonard Gard, the all-state basketball prospect from University High, who entered Oregon to play under John Warren and Hobby Hobson, is a victim of proselyting.

Having already registered at Eugene, Gard will be out of circulation during his freshman and sophomore years because of conference eligibility rules.

Fame is far reaching... William F. Board, originator of the Azzi Rating Football Rating system, listed the nation's 14 highest ranking football teams in the papers this week as usual.

- 1—Pittsburgh
2—Minnesota
3—Notre Dame
4—California
5—Alabama
6—Texas Christian
7—OREGON
8—Santa Clara
9—Ohio State
10—Northwestern
11—Columbia
12—Cornell
13—Oklahoma
14—Texas A. & M.

It is the first time an Oregon football team has been in the first ten of any national football rating system since 1933 when the Webfoots got their Coast co-championship with Stanford.

Frank Finch, Braven Dyer, Bill Henry, Charles Curtis, and Cal Wharton, of the California sports press, and Coach Bill Spaulding of UCLA unanimously pick Stanford to beat Washington State in Palo Alto today... by a 4 to 1 ballot.

Coaches Oliver and Mikulak left yesterday by train to scout the Washington State-Stanford game in Palo Alto... Oregon meets the men of Stanford next Saturday... Hank Luebeck, 300-pound Iowa tackle, is 43 1/2 inches around the waist and has a chest measurement of 50 inches...

Oregon football teams have beaten Idaho in 20 games out of 26, deadlocking four... against Southern California, the Webfoots have won only once out of eight meetings... Tom Blackman, an Oregon triple threat backfield ace of two years ago, is playing his second season with Eastern Oregon normal school... Iowa, the

Frosh Whip SONS at Grants Pass, 26 to 13

Warren's Boys Use Air Channels In Fast Contest

Three Scores Come From Passes; Long Drive Counters

Oregon's frosh football team took to the air for three touchdowns, and marched 70 yards for a fourth to down the Southern Oregon Normal eleven, 26 to 13, at Grants Pass, last night.

The first score of the game came in the second quarter when Pat Smith, frosh end, gathered in Doug Caven's pass and galloped the remaining 23 yards for the score. Caven's kick for the extra point was good.

The SONS came back in the same quarter to make a sustained drive into Duckling territory where De Sordi went over for the four-yard line. The kick for extra point was no good.

Roy Dyer sparked the next frosh attack when he faded back to the SONS' 44-yard line and heaved a long pass, which Bill Regner, end, nabbed and trotted over the goal line, making the score, 13 to 6. The try for point failed.

The next touchdown also came in the second quarter when the frosh made a 70-yard march to half-time score, 19 to 6, for the Jensen went over to make the half time score 19 to 6, for the frosh.

One of the game's most spectacular plays came in the third quarter when Bill Jensen faded back to the SONS' 33 and rifled a long pass to Steve Towler, who, as he was being tackled, laterally to Hyman Harris who went the remaining yards to score. Regner converted to make the score 26 to 6.

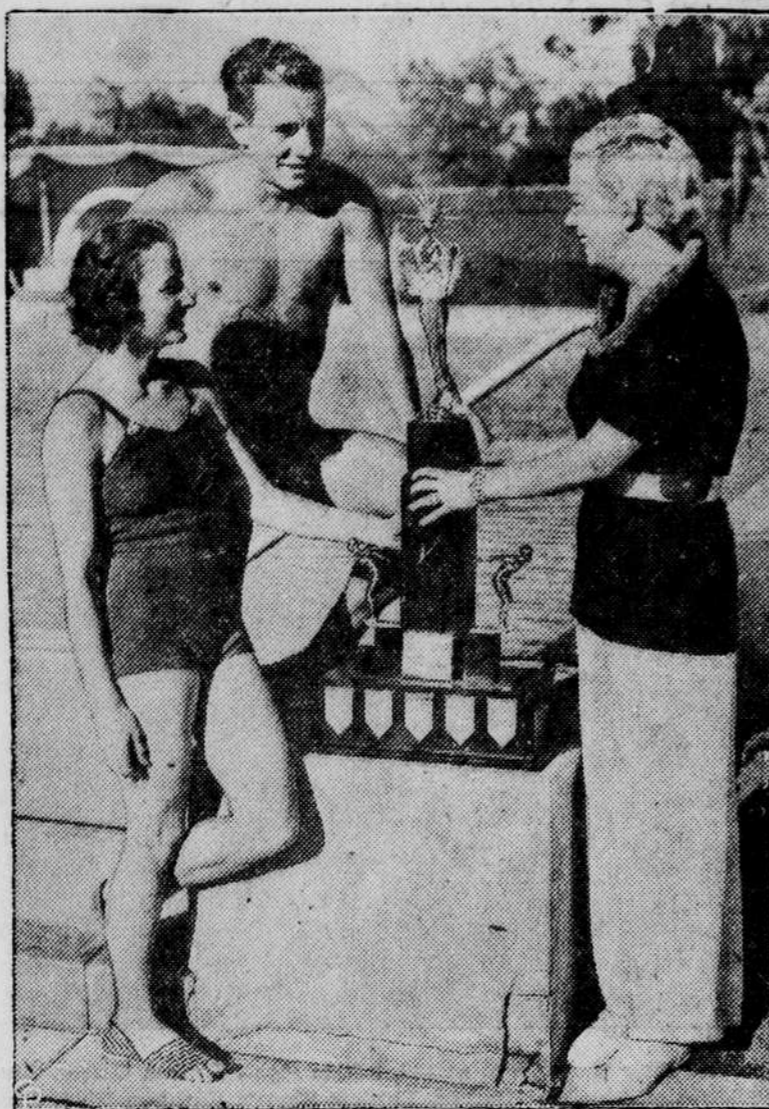

The SONS, in the final quarter, put on the steam to march down to the frosh 28-yard line, where Prible shot a pass to Bullion who went over for the last score of the game. The ball deflected off the hands of a Duckling player into Bullion's hands. The conversion was good making the final score 26 to 13.

The frosh made four first downs to five for the SONS.

Tex Oliver, the University of Oregon's new football mentor, is the twenty-second coach in the 44 years Oregon has played competitive football. In the 44 years of football competition University of Oregon teams have played 317 games, winning 182, losing 107 and playing 28 tie games. The Webfoots have scored 4184 points to 2209 for 45 different opponents.

nation's top punting team last year, had an average of 43 yards... Homecoming this fall will be November 5, when Oregon plays Idaho on Hayward field.

Beauty and the Cup

Katherine (Minnow) Rawls, probably the best all-around woman swimmer in the country, makes it a habit of winning trophies like these. In the center is Paul Wolfe, and on the right is Georgie Coleman, once queen of the divers and Olympic champion.

More Enter Ranks Of Mitt and Mat Club

With five new aspirants for the boxing team—along with the 22 men who reported at the regular meeting Thursday night—turning out to Jim Dimit, president of the Mitt and Mat club yesterday, indications point to a bang-up season this winter.

Forming a nucleus for the freshman squad, a Willamette valley champion, George Warner from Springfield, Warren Phillips, runner-up in the same league, and Art McChesney turned out today and signified their intentions of competing for the frosh this winter.

Phillips, who fights at 147 pounds, is remembered among the University boxers for holding hard hitting Merle Hanscom to a draw last year when the Webfoot boxers tangled with the Eugene Elks club.

Two sophomores complete the list of new candidates. Ferris O'Brien, who has been fighting in the CCC under the tutelage of Eddie Eddleman, one of the ranking lightweights several years ago, is a 147-pounder of promise. The other soph, Tom McRelvie, fights at 155 pounds.

At the present time 43 men have turned out for the boxing and wrestling teams and Dimit expects at least 55 or possibly 60 within the next few days. Any one who is interested should report to Herbert Colwell, who is to coach this year, or to Jim Dimit, president of the club.

was an upset to many but not a surprise to those who had seen the Vandals walk over Oregon (Please turn to page three)

Advertisement for Tony Matisi, an All-American tackle at the University of Pittsburgh. Includes a photo of him in a wrestling stance and text describing his background and upcoming debut.

Beavers Ready For Portland U. Embroglio Today

Staters Shift Lineup In Effort to Notch Initial Victory

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 7.—Oregon State's battling Beavers finished final polishing maneuvers here today in preparation to meeting Matty Mathews' strong University of Portland Pilots here this Saturday afternoon.

The pilots, whose aerial attack carried them to victory over the Willamette University Bearcats last week, are believed to have the strongest team to represent the Portland school in recent years.

A starting lineup released here today included Don Coons, left end; John Hackenbruck, left tackle; Eberle Schultz, left guard; Jim Orr, center; Prescott Hutchins, right guard; Leonard Younce, right tackle; Joe Wendlick, right end; Jay Mercer, quarterback; Jim Kisselburgh, left halfback; Morrie Kohler, right halfback; and Kenny Dow, fullback.

It will be noted that there are two changes from the lineups that have started the other two games. These are Leonard Younce at right tackle and Jim Kisselburgh at left half. Both of these men, sophomores, turned in excellent performances in the University of Southern California-Oregon State game last Saturday in Los Angeles.

It was also announced that Don Coons, two-year letterman left end will captain the Beavers in the Pilot clash.

Clogged Cleats

By MILTON LEVY

JAMES CADENASSO From Oregon's performances on the gridiron this year, sport writers have picked two men who are very, very good prospects for a coast all-star berth. One of these men is James (Cat) Cadenasso, Oregon's center.

Cadenasso comes from Martinez, California, about 20 miles north of the Bay city, where he was born in the '16's.

Along with Bill Foskett, he played three years of high school football with Concord high. On his high school team he played guard and while in school the team took their conference championship two years in a row.

A St. Mary's Transfer From high school, Cadenasso went to St. Mary's where he played guard on the St. Mary's freshman squad.

This St. Mary's transfer is six feet tall to the inch and tips the scales at the 200-pound mark.

Oregon can thank Bill Foskett for bringing Cadenasso here. The star center had offers from several large California teams to play ball, but Foskett talked him into coming to Oregon to play. After playing three years of football together, they decided that a couple more years would not do any more harm.

Like Yerby, Cadenasso thinks that the success of Oregon's team lies mostly in the hand of Tex Oliver. "Cat" thinks that Oliver's coaching the team during the game from the press box is a very good idea because he can see the bad spots in what they are doing.

Cadenasso picks California as the toughest team that they have yet to meet.

From the performance that he has turned in for his only two conference games, James (Cat) Cadenasso will be one of the Oregon men to watch when the teams get their noses pointed toward the finish.

Bill Foskett, veteran tackle who unexpectedly returned to the Oregon grid encampment this season, was the first married player on any Webfoot squad in the past ten years... Bill left school following the 1937 season to get married and settle down in business... but decided to forget the business for another year in favor of more schooling... and football.

Renew your Emerald subscription now!

Shades of 1919

Old rivals meet again at Pittsburgh, scene of where they clashed in 1919 in the national amateur. They are S. Davidson Herron, left, the winner, and the old master, Bobby Jones.

Carefree Ducks Hop, Skip Through Paces Under Assistant Cole

Coaches Tex Oliver and Mike Mikulak Depart for the Southland; Will Scout Tiny Thornhill's Stanford Indians

With no game to worry about today, Oregon's spirited Webfoots relaxed for the first time this week, and gave a fair imitation of Stanford's famous "Laughing Boys" in their prime as they whipped through a brief practice session yesterday.

Under the direction of Big Bill Cole, the genial Oregon line coach, the Ducks laughed and skipped as they ran through signals and tossed the ball around with abandon.

Tex Oliver was heading south to personally scout Stanford along with Backfield Coach Mike Mikulak, but he had given orders to Cole not to have the Webfoots put on pads. So out they came, minus most of their paraphernalia, and full of the old "moxy."

Intensive work for the week is over, but the weekend of rest is expected to be a prelude to more hard work when Oliver returns from the south Monday armed with information about the Stanford Indians. Thornhill's gang plays Washington State today.

A quartet of reserves drew comment from the Duck leader before he left for Palo Alto. They were Chet Halomski and Bill Hawke, sophomore quarterbacks; Bud Nestor, stocky little guard; and Tip Hamilton, gaint tackle.

Thursday the Duck gridders were shown pictures of the UCLA-Oregon game of last Saturday, pictures which excited sport fans around Los Angeles because they failed to show Halfback Charley Fenenbeck's controversial touchdown run.

The facts of the controversy which is again creating excitement are these: With the score favoring Oregon, 14 to 12, and some two minutes remaining in the game, Fenena-back piled into the center of the Webfoot line where he was apparently stopped by the clutching linemen. The whistle blew. Webfoot players relaxed, believing the play was halted. But Mr. Fenenbeck lit out for the goal line and crossed standing up.

Referee Tom Loutitt, who blew the whistle, called the play back, claiming that the howitzer-armed back's knee touched the ground. Rumbblings of dissatisfaction rolled out of the southland at the beginning of the week, but the thunder did not explode until the release of pictures of the game the latter part of this week.

The pictures, taken by J. W. Teeter, University photographer, failed to show about a half-dozen plays of the game. And one of these was the Fenenbeck scamper. Teeter explained that he had two cameras on the job in order to insure the recording of the entire game, but that just before the Fenenbeck run, the film ran out on one machine, and the spare jammed, leaving the touchdown run and several following blank.

The films were shown at Los Angeles and Eugene Thursday after being mailed, under seal, from a San Francisco laboratory.

Advertisement for McCrady's Cafe, featuring 'Juicy Jumbo' hamburgers. Includes a cartoon character and contact information for 878 Willamette.

Phi Delta Theta, Phi Psi Golfers Win Donut Tilts

Losers Are Blanked By 12 to 0 in Both Engagements

The Phi Psi and Phi Delta Theta divoteers became the first two teams to win matches in the intra-mural golf tournament, by defeating the Beta Theta Pi and Chi Psi golfers, respectively. The matches played at Laurelwood golf course, October 6, proved to be runaways, as the losers did not garner a single point in either of the matches. Low scorer for the day was Hal Duden, Beta, and ex-Lincoln high of Portland golf star, who shot a 72.

Results: Phi Psi Pts. Fred Carlson 0 Derwent Banta 0 Ed Jameson 0 Herbert Hamar 0 Total 0 Beta Theta Pi Pts. Richard Werschkul 3 Earl Fortmiller 3 Hal Duden 3 Robert Wintermute 3 Total 12 Chi Psi Pts. Dick May 0 Robert Winslow 0 Robert Jolley 0 Forfeit 0 Total 0 Phi Delta Theta Pts. Tony Frombolo 3 John Nelson 3 Ray Houghton 3 Kenneth Shipley 3 Total 12

As a result of their victories, both the Beta Theta PIs and Phi Delta Thetas went into the second round, along with eight teams who drew first round byes. They are Delta Upsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Gamma hall, Sigma Nu, Omega hall, Campbell Co-op, Comets, and Theta Chi.

As a result of their victories, both the Beta Theta PIs and Phi Delta Thetas went into the second round, along with eight teams who drew first round byes. They are Delta Upsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Gamma hall, Sigma Nu, Omega hall, Campbell Co-op, Comets, and Theta Chi.

As a result of their victories, both the Beta Theta PIs and Phi Delta Thetas went into the second round, along with eight teams who drew first round byes. They are Delta Upsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Gamma hall, Sigma Nu, Omega hall, Campbell Co-op, Comets, and Theta Chi.

As a result of their victories, both the Beta Theta PIs and Phi Delta Thetas went into the second round, along with eight teams who drew first round byes. They are Delta Upsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Gamma hall, Sigma Nu, Omega hall, Campbell Co-op, Comets, and Theta Chi.

Classified Ads section with contact information: Phone 3300 Local 354

For Rent advertisement: GARAGE. On edge of campus. $2.50 per month. 1315 E. 13th. FURNISHED APARTMENT. New kitchen and bathroom. Two bedrooms. Oil heat. Garage. 690 E. 12th. Call 2685-J.

Barber Shops advertisement: IT PAYS to look well. For your next hair cut try Eugene Hotel Barber Shop.

Radio Repairs advertisement: MOVING!! Economy Radio Lab is moving to 678 E. 11th by the Mayflower theater on November 1.

Expert Plumbing advertisement: CHASE COMPANY PLUMBERS. Repairs and installations of all kinds. Servicemen always ready. Phone 243. Inquire 936 Oak.

Picture Framing advertisement: PICTURE FRAMING for all kinds pictures and certificates. Oriental Art Shop, 122 E. Broadway.

Brushes advertisement: NEW FULLER Brushes. Phone 3245-M.

For Sale advertisement: WOMEN'S GOLF CLUBS in good condition. Phone 3084-M or call 651 E. 14th evenings.

Used Cars advertisement: USED CARS Bought and Sold Cash for your car or equity. QUALITY GARAGE 857 Pearl Eugene, Ore.