Round 'n About....

WITH WEN BROOKS

I suppose all parents enjoy telling about the clever . . . and otherwise . . . antics of their offspring. The telling often is quite discomfiting to the offspring themselves but this never seems to bother the older ones.

When I was quite a bit smaller than I am now the folks one Sunday hied me off to a large Episcopal church in Indianapolis to be christened. Following the usual procedure in that church at the time, the bishop dipped a large sea shell in a basin and then proceeded to pour the contents over my head. Guess I made some sort of a scene. At any rate, my little sister, who had been watching the proceedings from a pew midway back in the church, now ran down the aisle shrieking, "Not for Peggy! Not for Peggy!"

Whenever the folks happened to be passing that church after that with friends, and Peggy happened to be along, she would proudly point to the building, "That's where brother gets his hair washed!"

When Fritz Kreisler was in town Monday the girls at one of the houses decided they would like to speak to the maestro. They phoned the Eugene hotel. When Kreisler answered the phone in person the girls didn't know what to say. After stuttering around a minute, one of them finally came through with, "Would you ser-made some of the sororities to fight?"

Mr. Kreisler answered quickly, "It would be fun. It would be fun. But I have to leave right after the concert." What next, little girls . . . what next!

Speaking of Kreisler: it was brought to my attention Tuesday that students . . . many college students . . . do not exercise the common courtesy of leaving quietly when they do, for one reason or another, find it necessary to leave before a concert has been completed. Just put yourself in the master's place on the platform as Joe Jones suddenly decides he's had enough and prefers to be back at the house. You are concentrating on giving a good performance when you suddenly hear feet scraping, banging about, and some raucous voice proclaiming to the world at large, "Come on. Let's get out of here!" Or something similar. How would you feel?

Did you know that Paul Cushing and Ida Mae Farrel are just like that? Should have seen the Theta Chi handcuffed to Ida Mae Farrel, Alpha Chi O, most of yesterday. The pair, needless to say, are going steady. And from the looks of things yesterday both parties were making sure the other wouldn't get away! Quite definitely!

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Christian Science organization meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the YWCA bungalow. All students and faculty members are cordially invited.

The hockey club will meet for practice at 4 o'clock. At 5 a business meeting will be held in the social room in Gerlinger. Final plans for entering the hockey tournament will be discussed.

Meeting of freshmen and sophomores interested in forming a social and discussion group at Westminster house at 7:30 o'clock.

Condon club meets in the men's lounge at Gerlinger at 7:30. Dr. H. E. Yocom will speak on "Marine Biological Station at Coos Bay."

Student Health Office Will Remain Open Armistice Morning

The student health service will be open on Armistice day morning, Dr. F. N. Miller, University physician, has announced.

The physician also requested that students be again reminded of the University dispensary hours on University holidays and Saturdays and Sundays, 8 to 12 o'clock on Saturday and 10:30 to 12 Sundays.

These hours, he stated, have been so set to enable dispensary treatment of minor ills without necessitating the calling of a doctor on weekends, except in cases of emergency.

Cressman Returns From Conference

L. S. Cressman, head of the department of anthropology, returned Monday from a conference of the Pacific coast regional committee for social science research in Berkeley. The committee discussed the steps to be taken in further research of social sciences on the Pacific coast.

year. I think the women look kind of silly all decked out in fur coats and fancy hats, when the men wear sport clothes. Too much show for me," asserted a rally committee member.

Wie geht's

In the east the newspapers call Orson Welles, that bogeyman of the Mars yarn, the "man of the week." Wouldn't he better be called the man of the week?

The Democrats took this fellow Corrigan too seriously. Too bad they can't capitalize on their wrong-way flight, too.

We read that tight rope walkers are getting to be a thing of the distant past. Probably they have become politicians.

In California the "Bettors Back Bancroft and Merriam," according to a San Francisco daily. But the bettors were not at their best.

With a minimum of straw votes this year there may be a scarcity of fodder. But lots of chaff.

Barker in 1932. The Pioneer statue was given to the U in 1919 by Joseph T. Neale.

Clever coeds: Charlotte Strickler, AOPi, remarking at one of the first school dances, "I feel just like an old gate on a dance floor. So rusty I can't swing."

And Janet Dillehunt, Gamma Phi, speaking of a date she had at a recent exchange-dessert, "He clutched me so hard he threw me out of gear!"

On the sentimental side: is there anything so devastating to the stability of the male mind as a woman's tears?

And I understand Bob Keene had a visitor while he was in the infirmary yesterday, Pat Taylor brought the SAE a double-decker ice cream cone, a copy of Esquire, and a dictionary. I can understand the first two presents.

Photography Club Of Yale Sponsors National Exhibit

Open to undergraduates at all United States colleges and universities, with an entry fee of one dollar, the Yale photography club at New Haven, Conn., is sponsoring a national intercollegiate photographic exhibition from February 13 to 20, 1939.

Prizes will be awarded to the three prints adjudged the best by Anton Bruehl, Frank R. Fraprie, Herbert C. McKay, Barbara Morgan and Richard A. Rathbone, judges.

The last date for receiving prints has been set at February 1. For further information applicants are requested by the club officials to address the Yale Photography Club, 403A Yale station, New Haven, Connecticut.

CRESSMAN TO BROADCAST

L. S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, will tell of the earliest inhabitants of the state and how they adapted themselves to various conditions, on the weekly broadcast sponsored by the museum of natural history over KOAC tonight at 8:15 p.m.

SLIP INTO A SLIPPER

For the Sleeping Porch
When you brave the sleeping porch, avoid cold feet with a pair of Zori's—straw slippers that protect bare feet and can be easily kicked off as you make the climb to the second and third decker.

For the Halls

As you pad about the halls during study hours—you'll find that you'll make less noise and avoid fines with our straw and leather slippers.

die, when as far as a full emotional enjoyment of the companionship is concerned, all he's got is a dead investment?
When a fellow can't express a normal affection for someone he would consider "pal," if she says "nix," if she is someone else's girl, how does he feel?
You can't play poker without putting some chips into the game. It's no deal. If a boy feels left in the cold by a girl who says "Can't we be just friends?" what to do but seek warmth elsewhere? And the average student doesn't find too much time to pal with one girl when he has obligations to another.

And as for Plato, was he a normal sort of a guy?
Sincerely,
Butch.

Dear Butch,
You're right! Plato was not a normal sort of a guy and neither are the girls who are frank enough to admit (few as they are) that they have a "fire for someo' in Paducah."

If you think it better for them to conceal their real feelings and lead you on, picture the disillusionment of discovering yourself merely another sucker on the string, after staking all your cards on what you believed to be a "live investment."

It's the Right Combination

... that's the reason Chesterfield stands out from the others

The reason Chesterfield is different is because it combines the smoking qualities of the world's best cigarette tobaccos in one cigarette.

It's the right combination of these tobaccos... mild ripe home-grown and aromatic Turkish, rolled in pure cigarette paper... that makes Chesterfield a better cigarette for you to smoke... milder and better-tasting.

They Satisfy
