Men's Gym Will Be Scene of PE Club's Co-Recreational Activity Nights

By HAROLD OLNEY
Tonight at 8 o'clock amusement-bound University students will gather in the men's gymnasium as the guests of the PE club, which is presenting its first co-recreational night of the term.

The object of the co-recreational nights, as expressed by Al Long, secretary of the group, is to make available for the students some type of recreation other than dancing and attending theaters.

Many Games Offered
A variety of forms of entertainment will be offered tonight including swimming, squash rackets, ping pong, shuffleboard, and group dancing. In addition, there will be tournaments between the various living organizations of the campus, in volleyball, handball and badminton. Teams will be chosen to represent the various houses, and each men's organization will be paired with a women's organization. The winners in each of the respective sports will receive 50 points and the runners-up 35. The paired houses having the largest total at the end of the evening will be declared the winner, Long said.

Pairings Announced
The pairings of the various houses will be as follows: Delta Upsilon and Kappa Alpha Theta; Sigma Nu and Delta Delta Delta; Alpha Tau Omega and Pi Beta Phi; Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Kappa Gamma; Yeomen and Susan Campbell hall; Kappa Sigma and Alpha Omicron Pi; Phi Delta Theta and Chi Omega; Theta Chi and Alpha Gamma Delta; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Xi Delta; Phi Sigma Kappa and Alpha Delta Pi; Gamma hall and Alpha Gamma Delta; Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Chi Omega.

Any of these organization who cannot enter or any others who wish to enter are requested to get in touch with Carolyn Dudley, Delta Delta Delta or Al Long, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

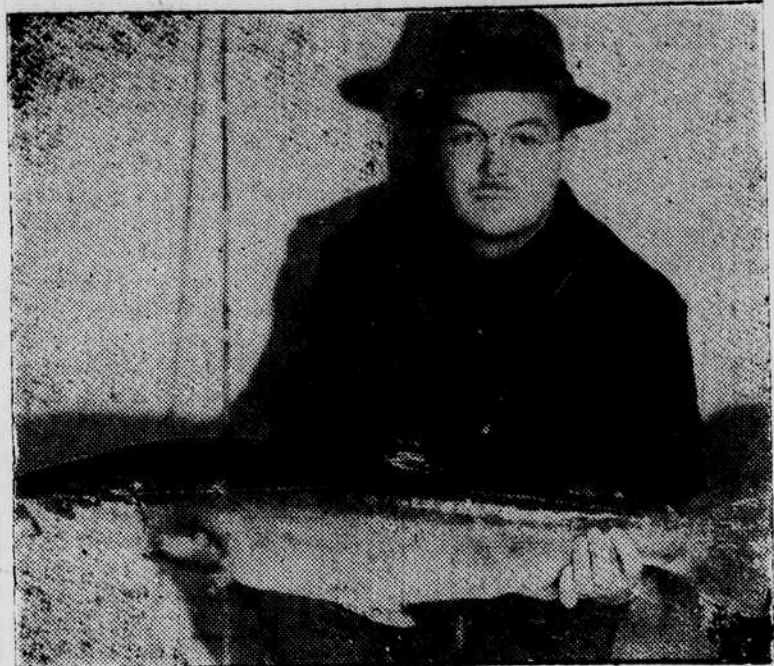

West Virginia 'Hitler Party' Leads to Cable

By ANNA MAE HALVERSON
The humor that seems to make United States citizens less susceptible to hysteria and mass ignorance didn't fail to crop out in this crisis as it has in most others.
The laugh originated when West Virginia members of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity staged a "Hitler Party" to which members came costumed like Hitler. The German press, famed for not being able to take a joke, seriously scolded the party-goers by calling them "insolent, shameless, and silly."
Not to be outdone they cabled Hitler thus: "West Virginia university students hereby sever relations with Germany, prosit."

Advisory

An anonymous coed at Brigham Young university wrote a story for the school paper frankly giving advice to weak-minded males. In regard to doorstep tactics, she said: "Don't ask us can you kiss us. If we say yes . . . we sound like a hussy . . . if we say no . . . you might not believe us. So give us a burner . . . and we'll let you know if we like it or not."—The Y News.

This Is No Lie

J. O. Lindstrom . . . University business manager proves he landed this 14½-pound steelhead.

Lindstrom Hooks 'Biggie,' Proves it With Picture

J. O. Lindstrom, University of Oregon business manager, is right in there with the best of them when it comes to telling fish stories . . . since Saturday afternoon when he hauled in one of the largest steelhead trout ever taken out of the Siuslaw river.

The steelhead weighed in at 14½ pounds and measured 34 inches long.

"He Fought an Hour to Land It"
Lindstrom was fishing the Siuslaw with George H. Godfrey, University news bureau man, near Swissmore when he hooked the fish and began an hour's battle to land it above the rapids.

A number of times Lindstrom was forced to pay out 150 feet of line in his fight with the trout, while Godfrey managed the boat in the whirling water of the river. It was almost necessary to boat down through the rapids in pursuit of the fish.

Siuslaw Trout Aren't Minnows
Siuslaw trout are the largest and gamiest of the coast stream steelhead, according to Oregon fishermen.

Lindstrom's "take" on Saturday was the largest fish he has pulled out of an Oregon stream with his hook and line . . . not only that, but the big fellow is one of the largest ever taken from the stream where the fish have a wide reputation for fight.

Enrollment Shows Five Per Cent Jump

Junior Class Has Greatest Increase; Freshmen Next

With two weeks of winter term classes out of the way, registration figures last night showed the University's junior class leading all others in per cent of increase over last year's third-year students, with an 8 per cent jump to their credit.

Although only making a 3 per cent increase over 1938's sophomore class enrollment after two weeks of school, the sophomores again boast the heaviest class enrollment with 1145 members chalked up. A 4 per cent gain for the freshman class makes a total of 935 members, while this year's graduating seniors total 454, beating last year's enrollment on the same date by only 1 per cent.

The total figure of 3166 was set down for the whole University last night, a gain of 5.3 per cent over last year's late enrollment figure of 3007.

Changes in Social Calendar Released By Dean of Women

Reports from the dean of women's office today revealed changes and additions to the social calendar. The Phi Delta Theta informal will be held February 10 instead of February 11, and the Pi Kappa Alpha House dance will be held February 18, instead of February 4.

The Student Christian council is now scheduled for January 18, and the Sigma Pi Epsilon house dance date is set for January 21.

Exactly 125 students work on the 11 student publications at Fordham university.

Appointment Of E. W. Smith Confirmed

Nominee Resigns Milk Board Position; Senate Committee Reports Favorably

SALEM, Jan. 18—(Special)—The state senate yesterday confirmed by a vote of 20 to 9 the appointment of Edgar W. Smith of Portland to the state board of higher education after a five-man committee named Monday brought in a favorable recommendation.

Smith announced his resignation from the state milk control board earlier in the day, removing the last point of objection to his being named. A heated argument took place Monday afternoon, when it was pointed out by Senator Franciscovich that Smith would be ineligible to hold two positions, both of which draw $10 a day in salary.

Delayed by Small Vote
The matter of studying Smith's ineligibility was referred to the committee on Senator Burke's motion, which passed, 16 to 14. Senators on the committee were: Whipperman, chairman, Wallace, Strayer, Steiwer, and Zurcher.

Smith was named for the post on January 1 by former Governor Charles A. Martin. He will replace Walter E. Pearson, who resigned to become state treasurer. Mr. Smith is a former University student, but obtained his degree from Cornell university.

Charlotte Plummer In Successful Recital

The first clarinet recital ever to be given at the University of Oregon school of music or in Eugene last night was presented at the music auditorium to a large audience by Charlotte Plummer, senior clarinetist and student of John Stehn.

Opening the program with Mason's sonata for clarinet and piano, one of the most popular clarinet arrangements written, Miss Plummer and Edythe Farr, pianist, gave a beautiful interpretation of the difficult number. The first movement was quiet and somewhat pastoral in nature; the second was alternately wild and exciting, and slow and melodic, while the third movement contained something of the character of the first, although it was lighter and more brilliant.

The second selection, "Fantasie-Ballet," by Mazellier, was a competition solo in 1936 for clarinet graduates from the Paris conservatory. Also included on the program were two contrasting numbers by Hurlstone, "Intermezzo" and "Croon Song."

Concluding the program, Miss Plummer and the string quartet, composed of Mary Ann Holt, Lorene Mitchell, Ruthalbert Wolfenden, and Madge Conaway played Mozart's harmonious quintet for clarinet and strings.

Frosh Sparring Partner Hard On 'Emperor'

"Emperor Jones," alias Smokey Whitfield, Oregon's actor-boxer-swingmaster, took the count in a boxing workout Monday afternoon to the extent of a broken rib, delivered at the hands of a freshman sparring partner.

The injury is a painful one, Smokey explained yesterday, but the rib will be in working order again within a week.

Whitfield's lung-power will not be impaired for the "Emperor Jones" production in any case, as the break will have healed before the show opens, according to Smokey's doctor.

Dr. R. C. Clark Asked To Review Article

Dr. R. C. Clark, head of the history department has been asked by the American Historical Review to write a review of "Winning Oregon" by Melvin C. Jacobs, professor of history in Whitman college.

"This is an important contribution to the history of Oregon," Dr. Clark said. The article will appear in the Historical Review about July.

The University hoopmen . . . put their heads together before the WSC game last night—and emerged the winners.

Semesters, Rally Reform Due for Test

Exec Committee to Put House in Order In First Meeting of Winter Term

Facing consideration of both the ASUO rally setup and the proposed change to the two-semester system of University operation, the ASUO executive committee will meet today for its first regular meeting of the term.

The committee will look over the several reform plans which ASUO Prexy Harry Weston has been accumulating for the last two weeks, including the most recent one by Dick Williams. Here all the committee expects to do is get an idea of what is available in the way of rally plans, postponing definite action until next week.

Semesters Get Throttle
However, there will be no side-stepping on the part of the committee when it comes to the proposal to change the present three-term setup to a two-semester system, as proposed by Zane Kemler, ASUO first vice-president and member of the executive committee.

Kemler pointed out last night that the ball must be started rolling immediately, one way or another, before the state legislators pack up their toothbrushes and head for home.

Faculty Rumored Favorable
The two-semester plan comes before a student group first on the strength of reports circulating yesterday that the faculty put the stamp of approval on such a system two years ago. The faculty would again have to pass on the proposal before it could reach the state board, Kemler said.

A successor to ex-Yell King Paul Cushing will have to be chosen by the next home basketball game, which is scheduled for a week from Friday. What the committee will do in this matter is not known, in view of their present judging of rally reform plans.

One other item of business which will have to be taken care of is the confirming of a minor appointment.

The meeting will be in the form of a luncheon at the Anchorage.

Most popular non-athletic extracurricular activity at the University of Maine is the stage.

WSC Lead Fades Before Duck Drive

Gale Finds Scoring Eye; Gets 22 Points

Wintermute, Dick Also Star in Oregon Win at Pullman

By GEORGE PASERO

After trailing at half time by a 25 to 21 score, Oregon's defending champions came back with a second half rush that netted them the surprising total of 36 points and a brilliant 57-44 victory over Washington State's giant Cougars in a northern division game at Pullman last night. The two teams play again tonight.

As Laddie Gale goes, so go the Webfoots, Duck hoop fans said when the big all-coaster experienced unaccustomed difficulty in finding the hoop against the Washington Staters at Eugene.

Gale Was "Hot"
But last night Laddie Gale was hot, very, very hot, and the hotter he got, the hotter the Ducks got. He collected only two field goals and only six points in the first half, but as the second half got under way, tall Laddie began to find the range and the whole Duck team began to catch some of the Gale "fire." By the game's end Gale had rung up 22 points.

No sooner had the second period started than Bobby Anet was driving down the floor to flick a one-hander through the hemp. Burly Johnny Dick followed up with another and the Ducks had knotted the score for the first time in the ball game, at 25-all.

Fee Installments Due Friday, UO Cashier Warns

The first installment on registration, student body, and out of state fees is due by Friday, January 20. Fines will be meted against students making late payments C. K. Stalsberg, University cashier, warned.

Payments will be received at windows 3 and 4, Johnson hall, between 8 and 12 in the morning and 1 and 3 in the afternoon.

'Redbook' System Will be Banished; to Be Replaced By Photostatic Copying

Beginning next fall term, the University's age-old "redbook" system of recording grades and registration material will give way to modern photostatic copying of this information by Oregon's photography department, C. L. Constance, assistant registrar, announced yesterday.

"By this new system, pictures merely will be taken of the type-written material on each student's registration blank, instead of copying it several times by hand," Constance, who is formulating plans and obtaining use of equipment for the project said. He suggested that "such a change will cut in half the work of registration officials."

According to Constance, each sheet on which the permanent record is filled out will be reduced one-third by filming and will lessen space required to file records by nearly half.

To Be More Accurate
Accuracy will be the greatest single improvement of the new system, Constance explained, since it is impossible to copy by hand all of the thousands of registration cards without making errors on many of them. Until now, officials have copied in pen and ink material on entering students and their grades during their four years here. The new system will provide for all copy for photographing to be typewritten.

Utopia Planned
"The ultimate hope of the present plan is to some day reach a stage when all material on a single student will be located in one office on one sheet of paper rather than scattered in the offices of the two deans, in the personnel department, registration offices and health service," he declared.

The new system will supersede the present plan in which paper copies are kept in bound files, from which it is difficult to extract copies for references, Constance said.

Portland Men to Be Guests of PE School

The school of physical education will play host to several Portlanders who will be on the campus Friday and who intend to visit the PE school, according to Dr. R. W. Leighton, dean of the school of physical education. The visitors, who are prominent in health education and physical education in Portland, will be escorted through the new men's gymnasium, he said.

Those expected are: Lestle Sparks of Willamette university; Dorthea Lensch, director of recreation at Portland; Eldon I. Jenne, director of physical education for the Portland schools; Ethel Mealey, director of health education of the state board of health; and Mrs. William Kletzer, national vice-president of the Parent-Teachers association.

HOME EC HAS VISITOR

A visitor to the home economics department yesterday was Mrs. J. D. Pigg, the former Miss Polly May, a graduate of the school of education in 1938. Her husband, J. D. Pigg, a graduate of the BA school in 1937, is now working on the state income tax commission in Portland.

Coed Capers Chance Of Lifetime, Girls Say

It's the chance of a lifetime! At this year's Coed Capers you'll have an opportunity both to see and be your favorite movie star. When the University of Oregon Limited leaves for the Riviera, on the night of February 2, it will be loaded with a galaxy of popular screen and radio stars.

As Earl Scott's orchestra swings into its opening number the dance floor of the Hotel Riviera will be crowded with such celebrities as Martha "Pat Taylor" Raye, Joan "Nancy Cooper" Crawford, and Deanna "Shirley Hoyt" Durbin. It has been rumored that as a special feature Ethel "Florence Cantrell" Waters, inimitable torch singer will make her appearance on the program.

Coed's may dress in fashionable beach togs, tourists costumes, formal evening gowns, spectator sports clothes, or they may come as ladies' maids, or secretaries for the celebrities. World famous figures, members of royalty, authors, or anyone else who may winter at the Riviera will be welcomed.

A cash prize will be awarded to the house which has the largest percentage of its members present. Tickets are now on sale at all women's living organizations.

UO Students 'Tops' in Nation in Libe Use

First in the United States in utilization of the reserve section of their University library is the rating that Oregon students received in a 1938 survey of American college libraries, Mrs. Gladys Y. Patterson, library secretary, revealed yesterday.

Each student at the University took out an average of 157.07 books last year from the reserve section to top the list of 37 colleges tested in the survey.

Following Oregon is Chicago, where each student averages 111.24 volumes per year; Dartmouth, with a record of 110.77 per person; and Cincinnati, where each student uses 100.53 books.

OSC Not Too High
Oregon State College at Corvallis is far down the list, using only 55.02 volumes per year for each student, while the University of Washington ranks still lower in the list, with an average of 48.39 for every person.

Few Books Go Home
The University of Oregon falls down in home circulation, ranking eighth in the list of 37 in number of books that each student takes out of the library's circulation department or browsing room for home use. An average of 36.11 books each year is the average taken out by each University enrollee. North Carolina is tops in this group with an estimate of 102.22 books for each of their members.

Little Money Spent
In a similar survey of 42 American institutions on the subjects of amounts of money spent each year on the library, amount available for new books, and salaries paid employees, Oregon is far down the list, rating around thirty-fifth in each of the three check-ups.
