

'Little Colonel' Will Be Chosen At Military Ball

Candidates Will Be Introduced During Krazy Kopy Krawl

Twenty candidates for Little Colonel, who will be chosen by popular vote from the ranks of University coeds and who will take command of the campus on the night of the Military ball, February 4, are to be announced in tomorrow's Emerald, it was made known last night by Jack Gavin, captain of the University company of Scabbard and Blade, national military honor society.

Sponsored by members of the military honorary, the Military ball will be the first formal of the term, with tuxedos in order for civilian students and dress uniforms for the military men. The dance will be held in Gerlinger hall with elaborate decorations carrying out a military motif, according to Bill Van Dusen and Don Smith, co-chairmen. Babe Binford and his orchestra will play.

The Little Colonel candidates, chosen from each woman's living organization by popular vote, will be introduced in person at the Krazy Kopy Krawl next Saturday night, it was announced by Gavin. Each couple will be furnished two ballots at the door on the night of the Military ball, and will cast their votes during the dance. A committee supervised by a faculty adviser will announce the results of the election and the Little Colonel and her aides will be introduced.

Invitations have been extended this year to both Governor Charles A. Sprague and former Governor Charles H. Martin, who, with Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter and President Donald M. Erb, are expected to be escorts for the Little Colonel and her aides in the grand march.

An appropriate military ceremony has been arranged for the announcement of 16 pledges to Scabbard and Blade. The names of these men, juniors in military science, will be kept from the public until the night of the dance.

Whisker Derby To Start Saturday

Staiger Has Called Soph Meeting for Tonight in Villard

Stan Staiger's sophomore class, dormant since the sophomore informal of late last term, will tonight begin to show signs of life when the second sophomore meeting of the year is called to order at 7:30 in Villard.

Several purposes are behind the calling of the meeting, Prexy Staiger said last night. First is the beginning of groundwork on the Sophomore Whiskerino, annual whisker-derby dance, set for February 11.

Clean-shaven sophomore faces will go on the "unfair" list after Saturday, Staiger said. By a week from Saturday the boys will be separated from the men.

The sophs will also learn their financial standing at the meeting. Committees will bring in financial reports from the sophomore informal, while the treasury report will also be brought in, with a statement of class card standings. No appointments will be made tonight, Staiger said, with the exception of the orchestra committee, which will go to work immediately.

Life Insurance Contest Draws Many

Twenty-six students have entered their names for the annual life insurance sales contest which will be held sometime in February, according to C. L. Kelly, professor of business administration.

The contest will consist of a 10-minute talk by each of the contestants, representing an actual contract with a prospect under conditions similar to those which sales are actually carried out.

Each contestant will represent a life insurance company. The drawings for the companies will take place in Portland at a meeting of the Life Managers of Oregon Association early in February.

Mr. Kelly will select the judges for the contest from among the Eugene insurance men whose companies are not to be represented in the contest.

The three winners of the local contest are to be sent to Portland for a final contest in which they will be graded.

Distributed among the three winners will be $35 in cash. The name of the final winner will be engraved on the plaque in the hall of the commerce building, he will also be awarded a medal by the Oregon Mutual Life Insurance company.

Kansas State college has sent ten of its unique white poultry to Sweden where they will be used in genetics experiments.

Webfoot Symposium Teams Ready for Annual Campaigns

Men, Women Debaters Due to Begin Statewide Jaunts: Will Appear Before Schools, Clubs, Church Groups

The University symposium teams will go into action the first part of February, according to a program being planned by D. E. Hargis, director of the women's group, and W. A. Dahlberg, coach for the men.

Letters from city, town, and country have been and are still pouring into the mailbox of the speech department asking the men's and women's groups to discuss their topics before high schools, colleges, clubs, church organizations and granges over the state.

Women Already Veterans

The women's symposium, which has already spoken in Eugene with the University of California on their northern tour and before Eugene and University high schools, will talk for the Dakota club in Eugene on February 1.

Telling of the problems of youth and giving possible solutions, they will take a trip north, beginning February 6 and returning February 10.

The high school at Rainier is their first stop. On February 7 they take in high schools in Knappa, Westport, and Clatskanie, as well as the Kiwanis club in Clatskanie.

Portland College Included

February 8 finds the women at either Reed college or St. Helen's hall in Portland, February 9 at high schools in Seaside, Warrenton, and Astoria. Their last stop on the trip is Tillamook high school on February 10. Probably five women will make the trip.

Back home again they speak at the Congregational church on February 12 and Springfield high school February 17.

A shorter trip will be made taking in Albany and Silverton high schools on February 20 and McMinnville and Newberg on February 21.

More Trips Planned

There will be several more trips not yet outlined, in addition to a long trip during spring vacation, Mr. Hargis reports.

The men's symposium, discussing "Values," has agreed to speak at the high school and Christian church in Junction City on February 7, Mill City high school and Sweet Home School Masters' club February 14, and the Congregational church in Eugene February 19.

Southern Oregon Next

They will take a longer trip from February 20 to 24, beginning at Drain high school. On February 21 they take in the Bellevue grange at Ashland and Phoenix high school.

February 22 brings the men to Medford and Central Point high schools, February 23 to Jacksonville high school, February 24 to Roseburg and Oakland high schools.

Term End Nears

On February 27 the group will speak for the Portland chamber of commerce and Hillsboro chamber of commerce, and on March 2 or 3 Lincoln high school in Portland.

The high school and community forum at Sweet Home will hear them on March 9.

Professor Dahlberg states there will be more engagements when he completes his plans.

Miss Smith Finds Jobs For Two Graduates

Two new positions have been obtained for graduate students through the graduate division of the employment office, Miss Janet Smith, employment secretary, announced yesterday.

Polly Lou Todd is now with the Multnomah county relief and Leonard Hufford is employed by the First National bank in Eugene, Miss Smith said.

Miss Smith Back After Profitable Job Hunt

With two positions for graduates secured, two others lined up, and several others in view, Miss Janet Smith, employment secretary, returned last week from a "very profitable" job-hunting trip to Portland. So encouraged by the prospects of other openings, Miss Smith announced that she would go back this week to interview other employers.

Two graduates have been placed in attorneys' offices as secretaries, Miss Smith said. The bureau of public health offers two possibilities, one in the bureau of sanitation and the other in the dairy inspection bureau.

Two Terms of Law In Summer Session.

Plans for the University law school's summer session were announced recently by Wayne L. Morse, dean of the law school.

The session will be divided into two terms. The first term will begin June 12 and end July 21. The second term will last from July 24 until August 18.

In the selection of courses, provision has been made for students desiring to begin the professional study of law as well as for advanced law students.

During the first term, beginning students may study criminal procedure and insurance. Rights in land and domestic relations and persons will be studied the second term.

Other courses offered will be constitutional law and taxation. The group of courses offered should also be of interest to advanced and graduate students in political science, economics, sociology, education, journalism, business history, and psychology. All courses carry graduate credit.

The faculty will include Dean Morse, Lawrence E. Hartwig, assistant professor of law, and Kenneth J. O'Connell, assistant professor of law.

New Yell King To Be Selected At Assembly

Applications Must Be at ASUO Office By Noon Today: Must Show Cards

Strong-lunged aspirants for the position of Webfoot yell king will display their talents before a mass ASUO assembly in Gerlinger hall at 11 o'clock tomorrow, and after all the candidates have performed, the student body will cast secret ballots to select Paul Cushing's successor.

Applications for the yell king position must be in to ASUO Prexy Harry Weston by noon today in order for the student to be eligible to enter competitions at the election meet tomorrow, it was announced last night.

To Replace Cushing The choosing of a new leader for the Oregon rally committee has been occasioned by the ineligibility rating given to Cushing after grades were issued at the end of fall term. A two-point GPA is required before participation in student body activities is permitted by the administration.

The assembly is under the direction of Weston, who has announced that ASUO cards will be checked at the door and ballots presented to holders of the tickets.

Will Meet People

Each of the candidates will be introduced by the president to the student body and to members of the basketball team, who are expected to be seated on the stage during the meeting.

Basketball Coach Howard Hobson will make a short talk to the student body, and Lester Ready will sing. Bobby Garretson will accompany him.

Recreation Jaunt Billed For Skiers

The University of Oregon Ski club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Norman Holt, ski club president, announced last night. The meeting place is uncertain, and will be announced definitely tomorrow.

Business in order at the meeting will include discussion of plans for an over-night outing, the reservation of a railroad car on the special train going to Crescent lake, and arrangement for a bulletin board to be used in obtaining transportation for skiers on Sunday trips.

In the near future a six or seven car ski train will be run to Crescent lake at the summit of the Cascade mountains for an all-day ski session. The club will discuss the reserving of a special car on this train for University of Oregon skiers and students. Date of the trip will not be announced until sufficient snow warrants good skiing. Round-trip tickets on this skiers' special will cost $2.00.

The planned bulletin board, which will probably be located at Hart Larsen's campus store, will be used as a means of promoting Sunday ski trips for as many students as possible. Students going on this Sunday's skiing trip who have unfilled cars are asked to sign the bulletin and list the number of students for which they have available room, while students who wish to go but have no transportation are asked to sign their name, address, and phone numbers, as are the car-owners.

This plan will be carried out this week and every week hereafter.

with the deadline for signing set for Saturday so that all skiers and car-owners may be contacted by Saturday night.

The transportation committee includes chairman Bob Jolly, Marjorie McLean, and Fred Parkey.

Ski club emblems will be presented to members present.
