

Roadman's Song Hit Goes Into Big Time

'I've Found Something New in You,' From Campus Show 'With Fear and Trembling,' Expected to Go Places

Not just snatches of the song, but the entire score of Wilfred Roadman's song hit, "I've Found Something New in You" is available to students today at Wilson's music store, according to Ethan Newman, assistant educational activities director.

The Los Angeles publisher also released the song for sale in Portland today at Sherman Clay, Meier and Frank's, Gill's, and the Sheet Music service. Within a few days, the score will go on sale at the University Co-op store, and at Washburne's, making the song which has become so popular on the campus since the "Dance of Champs" more than a mere snatch of melody on the lips of those who danced to it Friday night.

Freshmen, AWS Reach Amicable Date Agreement

Exchange of Days Agreed Upon to Secure Orchestra

Because frosh chairmen can obtain an orchestra for their annual Frosh Glee only on April 22, AWS officials last night agreed to take the date scheduled for the Glee, April 15, for their annual spring carnival, and allow the neophytes to hold their dance on April 22.

The social calendar issued at the beginning of the term named the weekend of April 15, not only as the date for the "Lil' Abner" dance of the class of '42, but also for the spring rush week in honor of high school seniors planning to attend the University next fall.

When Bill Loud and Walker Treece, frosh dance heads, found it impossible to obtain an orchestra for that date, they met with Barbara Pierce and Janet Goresky, AWS carnival chairmen, and from that meeting came the announcement that the girls' organization will move their affair up one weekend to April 15, allowing freshmen to entertain the campus on April 22.

Arrangements are now underway through the offices of the deans of men and women to change the official rush weekend to the 22nd, so that it may be in agreement with the frosh dance.

Deplores Grinding

That "Grand Old Man" of American literature, Booth Tarkington, whose years will number three score and ten this August, strikes a note of discouragement for midnight oil burners.

A graduate of Princeton in 1893, Tarkington declares, "I went to Princeton with the sincere and laudable intention of working very hard there. Happily for myself, I didn't, and if I were to repeat my course, I hope that I would be sensible enough to work no harder than absolutely necessary."

Great Britain's Future Policies Will Be Told

Noted Englishman, F. F. Figgures, Will Address Assembly Thursday

University of Oregon students have heard a lot this year about what other people think Great Britain should do, but tomorrow at an 11 o'clock Gerlinger assembly, a Britisher himself will divulge what his homeland is going to do.

F. F. Figgures, who is here on the Pacific coast as a representative of the Carnegie Foundation to address foreign relations groups in coast communities, will speak to Oregonians on "Britain's Policy in Europe."

Knows His 'Stuff'

In close contact with the British government heads, and a witness to the Czech occupation of Germany, Mr. Figgures was called by Dean of Personnel Karl W. Onthank yesterday "one of the most interesting men we could bring to the campus."

While here, the Englishman will be entertained by campus and city organizations, and will have Dean V. P. Morris of the BA school as official host.

Dr. Ballard to Talk At Vespers Today

4:30 All-U Service Is Foremost Holy Week Observance

Chief Holy Week observance on the Oregon campus is scheduled for today, when Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, speaks to an all-University vesper service audience in the music building at 4:30.

John Stark Evans of the University music department will play an organ recital of Easter music as a prelude to the service.

Dr. Ballard, for many years a college professor and writer, arrived yesterday from Portland, and will speak at several classes and religious meetings before leaving tomorrow. Today he is being entertained by church groups on the campus.

Among the books accredited to the Portland minister are "Spirit, Body and Soul" and "The Inferiority Complex."

Two members of the speech division, John L. Casteel and Don E. Hargis, will go to the annual conference of the Oregon State Speech association, April 14 and 15.

Mr. Casteel will preside at a panel discussion on "Speech Training for Classroom Teachers." Mr. Hargis also will appear on the program.

Change or Adjust, YW Freshman Told

If there is any possible way of changing an undesirable situation, one should do it, but if this is impossible, one should adjust himself to the situation, accepting it graciously, Sally (Mrs. Eric W.) Allen told a roomful of freshman YWCA members at a Tuesday afternoon meeting. She was introduced by Elna Johnson, frosh commission president.

Mrs. Allen in speaking on "Growing Up," commented on the process of growing from babyhood to maturity and the way in which some people seem to grow faster than others, and others when they are grown seem definitely retarded. Her talk was illustrated with many anecdotes and illustrations.

Three cans of popcorn were served as refreshments.

NEW JOB FOUND

Carol Auld, graduate of '37, formerly with the Coos Bay Times advertising department, has joined the staff of the Bend Bulletin.

Special Army Officer Gives ROTC Men Physical Exam

As genial and courteous as a southern gentleman, without the southerner's pomp, formality and stiffness, is Lieutenant-Colonel Henry L. Krafft of the medical corps, who was on the campus yesterday.

Lieutenant-Colonel Krafft was here to give the physical examinations to the graduating ROTC students who have applied for entrance into the army under the provisions of the Thomason act of 1935.

Being a decidedly small man, he looks like almost anything but an army officer. However, his appearance matches well with his characteristics.

This is the second year that Lt. Col. Krafft has been appointed the examining officer for the Thomason Act applicants at Oregon and Oregon State.

He enjoys doing this task, he says, and likes to deal with the University ROTC officers. He pointed out that he found them, as a group, to be in unusually fine physical condition. However, they had need to be, he said, for the test which they must pass to be considered for entrance in the army, is "quite stringent."

This test is a protection, not only to the government but to the student, he maintained. It would be a costly procedure for both parties to send a man to an army post and find out there that he was not in fit physical condition for the strenuous army life, he pointed out.

Lt. Col. Krafft will examine the applicants at Oregon State college today.

Two Students Hurt When Car Turns Over

Two University students, Richard Rodriguez and Bill Chilcote, both of Gamma hall, were badly shaken and cut up last night when the car in which they were driving overturned at the corner of Thirteenth and University streets, pinning them underneath.

Chilcote received a superficial ankle cut, while Rodriguez was badly bruised and cut about the face. Both were detained in a dazed condition at the infirmary overnight.

The car, with Rodriguez driving, turned from Thirteenth into University street too sharply and overturned, smashing the windshield, fenders and front end. Both students were able to climb from the wreck after persons attracted by the noise righted the car.

Houses Teamed For Concessions At AWS Carnival

'World Fair' Idea Will Be Continued In Booths

As plans for the AWS carnival, which is to be held on April 15, in McArthur court, progress, the following living organizations have chosen to work together in decorating a booth and preparing a concession for the occasion:

Alpha Chi Omega-Sigma Nu.
Alpha Delta Pi-Alpha, Sigma halls.
Alpha Gam-Phi Sigs, Sigma Alpha Mu.
AOPI-Sherry Ross hall.
Alpha Phi-Kappa Sig.
Alpha Xi Delta-Phi Psi.
Chi Omega-Fiji.
Tri Delt-Pi Kap, SAE.
Delta Gamma-Delta Upsilon.
Gamma Phi-Gamma hall, Sigma Chi.

Boys' and Girls' Co-ops.

Susan Campbell-Zeta, Omega halls.

Zeta Tau Alpha-Delts.
Orides-Yeomen.

Since the theme of this year's carnival is the World's Fair, each booth will be decorated to represent a country of the world.

Pat Taylor, who is in charge of concessions, urges all house representatives to meet and make arrangements for their booth.

The date of April 22, as originally announced, has been moved up to April 15, in favor of the Frosh Glee.

YW Committee Head Named at Meeting

The name of Marion Rones as leader of the YWCA China Cupboard and Chest group was announced by YWCA President Bettylou Swart at a planning conference held Monday evening at the bungalow.

Reports of the past year's work were discussed and new cabinet members outlined their plans for the coming year.

Plans were also made to attend the Oregon YWCA and YMCA cabinet training conference to be held April 14, 15, and 16 on the Willamette university campus in Salem.

Other subjects discussed included the annual McKenzie planning retreat and the junior-senior breakfast.

MRS. MACDUFF HAS VISITOR

Betty Ann Macduff, formerly on the staff at the local bureau of municipal research, is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Alice Macduff, assistant dean of women. Miss Macduff now works with the Michigan municipalities.

Students Plan Services for Easter Dawn

Dr. Morris to Give Sunrise Sermon at 6:30 Sunday in Igloo; Choirs to Sing

By BETTY JANE THOMPSON
The annual community Easter sunrise service which attracts people from Eugene and the surrounding communities will be planned and executed this year primarily by University students and faculty members.

Planned by the associated groups of the Student Christian council, the service will be held at 6:30 Sunday morning in McArthur court, Victor P. Morris, dean of the BA school, will give the morning address.

Music for the service will feature a combined choir directed by Glenn Griffith, Eugene high school music teacher, Mr. Griffith is also assistant director of the Eugene Gleemen, and junior director, choirmaster, and organist at the Methodist church.

Groups cooperating in the choir include the University polyphonic choir, the Eugene high school glee club, and the choirs of the Christian, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Mary Field Directs
The campus committee planning the sunrise service is headed by Mary Field, Student Christian council president, and committee chairman Bob Kendall.

Other responsibilities have been divided among the member organizations of the student Christian council. Committees include: decorations, Westminster house, Zaidie Enos; ushers, Eugene interdenominational youth league, Esther Rumbaugh; program, Peyton Bennett; collection, Intercollegiate Varsity Fellowship, Arnold Garrett; sound system, Don Hunter; music, Wesley foundation, Don Olson; mimeographing, Mrs. J. D. Bryant; publicity, Betty Jane Thompson; posters, YWCA; and building, YMCA.

Bill Wheeler Voted New Yeomen Prexy

Thompson, Snell Also Win; Ballot for Treasurer Tied

Bill Wheeler was chosen new president of the Oregon Yeomen, in an election held at the YMCA hut yesterday, announced John Luvaas, outgoing president, last night. Wheeler defeated his opponent Bob Boyd by one vote.

Other officers chosen were Ted Thompson, vice president, and Dick Snell, secretary. Frank Hodson and Bob Fullerton tied for treasurer, and consequently another vote will be held at the Yeomen meeting in Gerlinger lounge next Monday evening, Luvaas announced.

Last Sunday the Yeomen with the Orides hiked to the top of Spencer Butte. Other hikes and picnics are scheduled for the remainder of the spring term.

Annual Prizes High In Bennett Essay Contest This Year

Two prizes are being offered University undergraduate students in the annual Philo Sherman Bennett contest for the best essays on "Efficiency of congressional investigation committees in a democracy."

The maximum length of the essay has been set at 5000 words and closing date for the contest is May 10. Prizes are $25 and $15.

All entrants must register with Waldo Schumacher, chairman of the committee, which includes D. R. French, E. H. Moore, K. J. O'Connell, and J. G. Reid.

A convention of all Texas college twins will be held at Baylor university this month.

Rabbit Fur Sale Not to Be Made Dean's Duty

Here is a new problem for the dean of women. It seems that in addition to the regular problems assigned to this more than busy person, there comes a letter in the mail from a man asking her to help him sell his rabbit pelts. He said that his rabbit skins were just the kind that college girls wore in their fur coats and that he would sell for the modest price of $1.50 for the average piece of fur but $2 would be the price for the longer napped kind.

According to word from Miss Dodds, assistant in the dean's office, Dean Schwering is not going to take on the business as it was suggested.

Positive Peak Seen for Spring Term Enrollment

Hoopmen to Swell Total; Fee Record Due Soon Also

With a 2997 spring term registration figure piled up yesterday in the office of C. L. Constance, assistant registrar, officials there forecast that by tonight the first 3,000 spring term enrollment in the University's history would be placed on record.

Not only will this 3,000 figure set a new high for spring term registration, but it will also be the first time in Webfoot history that over 2900 students have paid their fees for spring term instruction.

Year's Gain Seen
A survey completed yesterday of the enrollment figures for the whole year showed that there have been, up until two weeks after the opening of this term, 3640 students registered here at sometime during the year. This mark is a six per cent gain over last year's record at this time of the school year of 3461.

Averaging increases for the three terms, Constance found that the school of education has gained the greatest percentage of new members, with 21 per cent more education majors listed than last year. Close on their heels is the physical education department, with a 19 per cent rise recorded.

Journalism Drops
Present figures give the journalism school the largest percentage of decrease in enrollment, with a seven per cent loss in majors noted. The law school with a five per cent downward slope in enrollment, was the only other school to register fewer majors than last year.

The 3,000 figure forecast by Constance yesterday was based on the fact that only one of the 1939 basketball team have yet turned in their registration material.

OFFICERS ANNOUNCED
Newly elected officers of Phi Delta Phi, law society, were announced yesterday by Sheldon Parks, new president of the organization.

The new officers include clerk, Jack Hay; historian, Wendell Wyatt, and exchequer, Dean Ellis.

Advertising Honorary to Study Consumers' Views

The local chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising honorary, will participate in a national study of consumer attitudes toward advertising, it was announced yesterday by W. F. G. Thacher, professor of English and advertising.

The study will include the economic, social, and aesthetic implications of advertising.

The investigation is actually controlled by the Harvard graduate school of business. Several prominent organizations of advertisers and practitioners of advertising sponsor the movement. It is financed to the amount of $50,000. This is the first time an investigator will call on from 10 to 15 residents of Eugene.

Every chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma is expected to participate. Harold Haener, business manager

Weekend Queen to Be Nominated This Week; Committee Selected

Queen Contest Plans Announced; Dean Schwering to Work With Committee on Selecting First Lady of Campus

The queen of the campus, the fairest of the fair—the Junior Weekend queen will be named before the week is ended.

Moving to set the ball rolling on the central figures in the annual all-campus fete, the Junior Weekend committee announced yesterday plans for the contest to name the queen from among representatives of every womens' living organization on the campus. A committee composed of Bob Hochuli, chairman, Elisabeth Stetson, Virginia Regan, last year's Weekend queen, and Dean Hazel P. Schwering, will work with the juniors' committee on the contest which gets under way today.

Candidates Chosen Today
Every women's house will select its candidates today and announce its choice to the committee this afternoon, and to the Emerald tonight by 9 o'clock. The list will be published tomorrow morning.

As in former years, the candidates will be interviewed by the committees in charge of the Weekend. This formality is scheduled for Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the dean's office. The committees will vote immediately after meeting the candidates and narrow the field to five princesses. These five will remain on the permanent Junior Weekend "royalty list."

Campus elections are slated for Monday afternoon. Ballots containing the five names will be available at the College Side during the day. The name of the queen will be announced Tuesday morning.

The main purpose of the dance as expressed by Miss Irvin, is to develop good feeling among the students. While dates for the affair are not forbidden, it is hoped that students will not hesitate to come stag. "It's not just for those who go to dances all the time," she said, "it's for everybody."

Miss Irvin also explained that while the dance was sponsored by the Skull and Dagger, and Kwama, that it was really an ASUO affair and the proceeds from the dance were to go to the Better Oregon committee.

The main work of the Better Oregon committee, as explained by Miss Irvin, is to aid in the orientation of freshman students.

The dance will last from 4 o'clock to 5:30, Miss Irvin said, and 10 cents admission will be charged.

News Bureau Sells Shots of Homecoming Of National Champs

Large, clear photographs of recent events on the campus, including the "Basketball Team Homecoming," are being sold at the University news bureau this week to students who are keeping shots for their souvenir scrapbooks.

Students will be able to recognize themselves and many of their friends in the large group photos as well as those of smaller groups. Scenes of the team getting off the train and their victory procession, the large crowds which massed to welcome them back to the campus, the Friday night banquet and many other occurrences are given graphic visualization.

Other older photographs taken since last September are also being offered at the bureau offices, 1259 East Fourteenth avenue.

DR. R. C. CLARK ASKED TO WRITE INTRODUCTION

E. E. Rich, editor of the Hudson's Bay Record Society of London, has asked Dr. R. C. Clark, head of the history department, to write an introduction to a volume of unpublished letters of Dr. John McLoughlin. The society plans to begin publication of its archives relating to Oregon history in the autumn of 1941.

The book will consist of McLoughlin letters which Dr. Clark copied during the summer of 1936 while working in the archives of the society in London.

Tennis Court Dance Set for Tomorrow

Skull and Dagger, Kwama Sponsor ASUO Frolic

At 4 o'clock tomorrow, the tennis courts between the law library and Commerce hall will again be converted into a dance hall and the strains of Maurie Binford's orchestra will float across the campus, as the Skull and Dagger-Kwama sponsored no-date dance gets under way, according to an announcement of Grace Irvin, Kwama president.

SDX to Meet Today To Report on Dance

A report on the Dance of Champs held in honor of Oregon's national championship basketball team last Friday evening will be given to a meeting of members and pledges of Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity in 104 journalism this afternoon at 4 o'clock announced Hubard Kuokka, president, last night.

Besides accounting for the dance, co-chairmaned by Bill Cummings and Roy Vernstrom, the journalism honorary will lay plans for a 1939 variety of "Green Goggles," traditional spring campus scandal sheet. A founders' day celebration and an informal get-together will also be discussed.

LIBRARY STAFF AND CHIEF VISIT STATE DEDICATION

M. H. Douglass, University librarian, and a group of the library staff attended the state Librarian convention in Salem yesterday, according to Miss Gladys Patterson, secretary.

The convention which meets annually began Monday under the direction of Miss Harriet C. Long, state librarian. As part of the program, the new library in Salem was dedicated Monday evening.

of the Emerald, is in charge of the investigation here.

Anyone interested in participating should report to Professor Thacher or Haener. Each investigator will call on from 10 to 15 residents of Eugene.

"It will take three to four hours of time for each person but I think it will be a very valuable experience," said Professor Thacher.
