Peace Meeting Splits As Ideas Clash on How To Insure Against War

Isolation vs. Collective Security Issue
To Be Settled by Committee; Strike to Be Held Week From Thursday

The dove of peace, symbolic goal of a student committee planning a strike against war, faltered in its flight yesterday when an intra-committee dispute broke out over the type of peace program to be propounded at the April 20 demonstration.

Plans for the anti-war demonstration reached a virtual stalemate when heated discussion arose over whether an "isolationist" or "collectivist" viewpoint should be expressed at the strike. The terms were not defined at the meeting, although several students indicated their beliefs centered around the theories that peace could be best achieved by isolating the United States from factors which might lead to war, or by collective action among nations to insure peace.

Speech Quintet Join National Honorary

Four speech students, Florence Sanders, Pearl King, Charles Devreux, and Roy Vernstrom, have filled requirements and will be formally initiated into Delta Sigma Rho, national speech honorary, May 3, according to George Hall, president.

To qualify for Delta Sigma Rho the student must be an upper-classman and in his third year of speech work. He also must have debated successfully against some other college or represented the University in oratory. There are five active members of the Oregon chapter at present: Zane Kemler, Ed Robbins, Marshall Nelson, Howard Kessler, and President Hall.

On the faculty there are six members: John L. Casteel, W. A. Dahlberg, Burt Brown Barker, Wayne Morse, Victor P. Morris, and Carlton Spencer. They will take part in the initiation at the Anchorage at 5 p.m.

Persons who have participated in debate or speech work have been invited by Delta Sigma Rho to attend the banquet at 6. This will take the place of the annual speech banquet. Hall asks that those who plan to attend notify him by the last of April.

Speech Department Supplies Speakers

Many requests have been received by the faculty in the speech division to deliver high school commencement addresses, John L. Casteel said yesterday.

The schedule thus far includes: W. A. Dahlberg to speak at Wasco and Rufus; D. E. Hargis at Glide; and Mr. Casteel at Adams, Echo, Knappa-Svenson, Dufur, and Co-burg.

Robert Bailey Services Set for Today

Eugene Rites for Student Leader
To Be Held
This Afternoon

Services for Robert C. Bailey, president of the senior class, who was drowned while canoeing on the upper millrace Sunday afternoon, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Congregational church. Close friends on the campus of Bailey, as well as his fraternity brothers, members of Theta Chi, will attend.

The death occurred after the canoe which Bailey and James Murray were paddling was swept over one of the spillways near the head of the race into the Willamette. Bailey, an experienced swimmer, failed to cling to the canoe. Murray left his position by the canoe and tried unsuccessfully to help him.

The body was recovered about thirty-five minutes after the accident. City firemen and physicians were unable to revive him.

Active on Campus
Bailey has been active in University life. He served as class treasurer when a freshman, and was elected president of the YMCA for this year before becoming class president. He was elected president of Zeta Hall before becoming a member of Theta Chi, in which he served as secretary and social chairman.

Bailey was the son of Supreme Court Justice J. O. and Mrs. Bailey of Portland, and is survived by a brother, Jason, a second year law student here, and two sisters, Frances and Barbara, both of Portland.

Funeral services will be held from the Holman and Lutz chapel in Portland Wednesday at 10 a.m. Members of Theta Chi will attend the funeral.

Spanish Honorary Sponsors Showing Of Mexican Film

In observance of Pan-American day, members of the Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish honorary society, are sponsoring a showing of "Jalisco Nunca Pierde," a Mexican movie, to be held in Corvallis Friday afternoon, April 14. The entire film is in Spanish and contains much music and local color typical of the Guadalajara region of western Mexico.

Following the film there will be an informal dinner at which South American students in attendance at Oregon State College will talk. University of Oregon students desiring to attend may obtain further information from Stanley Robe at 214 Friendly hall.

APPENDIX REMOVED

Adeline Hansen, sophomore, is in the Sacred Heart hospital recovering from an appendectomy. Miss Hansen, who was operated on last Friday, will probably attend classes within two weeks.

Strict 'Do's, Don'ts' Regulated Early Students

Come on fellers and gals—quit your crabbin' about "no liberty." We've got lots of time to have fun before 12:15 o'clock—well, as compared to the "do's and don'ts" our grannies and grandpaps had to observe when they went to the University.

Minutes Revealing
Someone got to snooping around and uncovered the minute books of John Straub, who was secretary of the faculty 57 years ago. Our predecessors led a tough life. Here are some of the "hear ye's" listed on the minutes of the faculty meeting of September 11, 1882:

"A student must not enter the brewery or saloon.
"Or drink any intoxicating liquor while in attendance at the University, or on his or her way to and from the same, except on the prescription of a physician.

Services will be held this afternoon at four o'clock at the First Congregational church for Bob Bailey, who drowned Sunday.

Young Artists Learn to Paint Near to Nature

Temperamental students of art are finding the blossoming of trees, blue skies, and colorful posies of spring more inspiring to their artistic ego than mere imagination.

The pupils can now do their painting in the great outdoors. One section, the spring water color class, is given only this term and all the painting is done next to nature.

Three teachers, assistant professor L. W. Hart, professor A. M. Vincent, and instructor D. J. McCosh, will each have charge of the section for an interval.

Independents Plan Triple-Bill Affair

A three-fold program including swimming and dancing climaxed by a wiener roast, will be the feature of the "4:40 Yard Dash," to be sponsored by the Yeomen, independent men, and the Ordes, independent women of the University of Oregon in Gerlinger hall on Friday night.

Men and women will swim in the pool of the women's gym, and dance in the Gerlinger sun porch. Feature of the evening will be the wiener-roast on the field between the library and the outdoor gym.

The evening will begin at 7:30. The cost of the function is to be 20 cents. All men and women on the campus are invited.

Arrangements are being handled by Erros Penland and Jim Hatch.

Campus Musical Enters Final Week of Rehearsals

Entering the final big week before the grand opening of "With Fear and Trembling" next Monday night in Johnson hall at the University of Oregon, Horace Robinson, drama division instructor and co-director of the musical with Wilfred Roadman, last night put the cast of 40 students through the first complete rehearsal of the comedy.

Major emphasis will be placed on final grooming and trimming of Gene Edward's dancing choruses and specialty numbers. Edwards himself and the lovely ballet dancer, Janet Eames, will carry one of the heaviest and most effective dance numbers.

Robinson's latest ingenious stage device is the introduction of Lorraine Hixson, the glamorous and successful Gina Kirsten movie star in the comedy, to the Johnson hall audience in one of her movie triumphs, fading the movie sequence of the singer as the curtains part to show the actress "in person."

The remarkable ease with which the complex factors of the show were fitted together in the always difficult "first draft" of the musical, indicate the perfection and careful planning with which the comedy has been handled.

Diplomatic 'First Lady' To Talk Here

Ruth Bryan Owen
First Woman to Hold Four Positions
In Government

Without sharing the honor with Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, coming here to speak at an ASUO assembly Friday morning, was, nevertheless, termed by faculty members yesterday indeed a "first lady of America."

When AWS officers, who will be her hostesses while she is here, meet Mrs. Owen at the train Thursday night, they will greet a woman who was the first woman to ever represent the Old South in congress, the first American woman to ever hold a diplomatic position, the first woman to serve on the the congressional foreign affairs committee, and the first woman to represent the United States at the Interparliamentary Union.

DGs to Meet Her
A member of Delta Gamma, Mrs. Owen will be greeted at the train by the local chapter en masse. Whether there would be any other activity in her honor on the part of the sorority could not be learned last night from her agent.

Although she retired from active political and diplomatic life in order to begin a career a few years ago as the wife of Danish Borge Rohde, whom she met while serving as minister to Denmark, Mrs. Owen still serves as advisor for the federal prison for women in West Virginia and on the adult education board of the Columbia Broadcasting System, in addition to conducting lecture tours.

Famous Phi Betes To Speak on Radio

Advice for Future
Series Planned for National Hookup

"Get Ready for Tomorrow" is the title of a series of six radio talks over WEAU, New York, and the NBC's red network, set for 6 to 6:15 eastern standard time, Friday evenings, beginning April 14. The series, given by national figures in their respective fields, under sponsorship of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, follows:

April 21, "Get the Graduate Ready for Tomorrow," by Dr. Christian Gauss, of the Princeton university faculty.

April 28, "Get Ready for Tomorrow's "Printing Press," by John H. Finley, editor emeritus of the New York Times.

May 5, "Get Ready for Public Leadership," by Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard law school.

May 12, "Expression Through Art," May 19, "Living Tomorrow."

Queen of Wonderland

Maxine Glad . . . will see her brain child, the "Alice in Wonderland" of Junior Weekend, put into effect from her queen's throne.

Maxine Glad Captures Crown-Wearing Role Designed by Herself

Originator of 'Alice in Wonderland'
Theme Elected Queen of Juniors Over
Nearest Competitor, Alyce Rogers

She planned the part, and now she will act it. Maxine Glad, around whose "Alice in Wonderland" theme all Junior Weekend will be designed, saw her already successful plan bear the sweetest fruit of all yesterday when ASUO and junior class card holders went to the polls and voted her head into the Junior Weekend queen's crown.

In winning the right to play "Alice" in her own "Wonderland," the queen-to-be ran up a comfortable majority over Alyce Rogers, her nearest competitor, collecting 170 out of the 504 votes cast.

Final Results Listed
Standings of the four princesses at the end of the ballot counting were: Alyce Rogers, 111; Patsy Taylor, 92; Margaret Williams, 65; and Helen Gillam, 61.

Dean of Women Hazel P. Schwering made a surprise entry into the race by proxy, capturing a place in the finals when five unidentified supporters marked their ballots with her name.

The new queen will rule over all Junior Weekend events during the three days of the traditional spring term holiday. In addition, she will this year act a definite role as the Alice of "Wonderland."

National Rifle Champions Receive Fine Plaudits; Warren's Score Praised

If Coach Howard Hobson is the best basketball coach in the nation, then diminutive Sergeant Harvey G. Blythe, coach of the University rifle teams, can lay claim to the title of the "best rifle coach in the nation," for his teams of the last six years have done something that no other college rifle team has been able to do.

In the seven years that Sergeant Blythe has been coaching the Oregon marksmen, the W. R. Hearst National Championship trophy has been won three times by Oregon teams.

The trophy was won by the Oregon team in 1935 and again in 1937. This year the team upheld the every other year tradition by stepping out and grabbing the championship for the third time.

OSC Congratulates
Today, Colonel Robert M. Lyon, commandant of the University ROTC, received a letter of congratulation from Colonel Sloan, commandant of the ROTC at Oregon State college. Colonel Lyon expressed his pleasure at receiving the letter and said that it showed "the good sportsmanship of his unit in congratulating our rifle team on their success."

In regard to the victory of the Oregon squad, he said, "I'm very happy indeed. Very proud and happy. The hard work and conscientious training of these boys has placed their score so high as to put them at the head of all college ROTC units of the United States."

Blythe's Work Shines
Later, he added, "This has again brought the excellence of Sergeant Blythe, as a rifle coach, out to the front. The unceasing toil of Sergeant Blythe has told the story."

Sergeant Blythe, when asked what kind of a score he could shoot, laughingly said that he was "a has been." However, he admitted, when pressed, that there was only one member of his team which he would not be willing to bet on beating. That member is national individual champion, Stanley Warren, who fired a perfect score of 200 in the national match. This feat has never been matched before by a college marksman.

"It Was Partly Luck"
Warren insisted that his perfect score was partly a matter of luck. He had fired perfect scores before in practice but never in a match.

Warren has fired on three national championship teams in the last three years. He fired on the team which brought the Hearst trophy to Oregon in 1937. Then, in 1938, he was selected on the team to represent the ninth corps area and this team also won the national championship. Now, in 1939, he has finished his college competition by winning the national individual championship. Warren will not be back on the firing line for Oregon next year. He is a senior.
