"The time has come," the walrus said . . . , and he was right . . . it has come!

Today at high noon the entire student body of the University of Oregon will see charming Maxine Glad crowned as Queen Alice of Oregon's Junior Weekend "Wonderland" to start the gay three-day festival at the traditional campus luncheon.

Alice and her court will rule tonight at the Junior prom at McArthur court, amid a wonderland of flowers, formals, soft lights and Art Holman's music. At 10:30 the queen will enter the ball room and graciously acknowledge her dancing subjects. Highlight of the evening will be the awarding of the Koyle and Gerlinger cups to the outstanding junior man and woman.

All "Wonderland" will outdo itself to entertain Alice and her four looking-glass princesses, Helen Gillam, Patsy Taylor, Alyce Rogers, and Margaret Williams. Oregon students will combine Mother's day with the spring term carnival season and will honor their mothers throughout the weekend at banquets, teas, and, of course, the canoe fete.

Students wishing to attend the campus luncheon this noon must buy tickets either from living organization chairmen or at the ticket booth between Commerce and Oregon anytime between 8 o'clock and noon, it was announced last night. No students will be admitted without tickets.

Tickets are priced at 25 cents for students. Mothers who register at Johnson hall between 8 and 12 o'clock will be admitted free.

Banquet tables, set up between Fenton hall and Friendly, will groan with tasty picnic foods, to be distributed to the long lines of hungry merrymakers by members of Kwama, Phi Theta Upsilon, and Skull and Dagger. Patsy Taylor is chairman in charge of the luncheon.

Today's festivities will climax the University careers of men who

Song Contest Set for 3 Today in Music Building

Final contestants in the interfraternity singing contest sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha, men's music honorary, will vie this afternoon for the honor of the best singing organization on the campus.

The Sigma Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities were selected by the judges to enter the final contest this afternoon in the Music building at 4 o'clock.

Each organization will sing three songs. The required number is the Oregon pledge song with the second number a fraternity song of their own choice. The third number is a choice between "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Dedication," "Sylvia," and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

The judges will be Louis Artay, professor of music, Munroe Richardson, graduate assistant in vocal music, and Glenn Griffith, director of the Eugene Junior Gleemen.

Authoress Ida M. Tarbell is conducting a special course on biography writing at Allegheny college.

First Day Sees 1604 Oreganas Delivered

Sixteen hundred and four copies of the 1939 "most beautiful" Oregana were carried away yesterday by proud and happy owners. And there are still 428 which must be claimed by noon today, according to Dick Williams, Oregana business manager.

Oregana distribution will begin at 8 o'clock today and continue at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

'Y' Bungalow to Be Headquarters for Independent Moms

Students not affiliated with houses, dorms, or co-ops have been invited to use the YWCA bungalow as headquarters for their mothers during the weekend, Mrs. John Stark Evans, executive secretary, announced yesterday.

Both men and women students, Orides and Yeomen, and other students living at home or off the campus should feel free to use the bungalow as a place to entertain their mothers or to rest at any time, she said.

Freshmen to Apply New Coat Of Paint to 'O'

Guided by dawn's early light, the frosh will assemble much used paints and brushes and wearily give the Skinner's butte "O" another coat of paint. Ambitious frosh painters are to meet at the "O" at 8:30, Ted Swartz, chairman, said last night.

The "O" was painted about a
