

Frosh-Sophomore Swim, Get-Together Tomorrow--It's Annual Tug-of-War

By NORMAN FOSTER

The annual frosh-soph swim and general get-together will be tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The location of the picnic is to be the shady nook where the railroad tracks and highway cross the mill race.

Jack Daniels and Stan Staiger are issuing invitations to the affair. It is understood that they have asked their very best friends to come and join in the fun. The boys announced that the principal morning's entertainment will be a happy fun game. It is called "tug-of-war." Guests are asked to come appropriately dressed for the occasion. Suggested attire is a bathing suit and water wings.

Entertainment Planned for Tea

Gamma Alpha Chi will have charge of the arrangements for entertainment at the tea to be given May 16 in alumni hall for all Eugene, University, St. Mary's, and Springfield senior high school girls.

Plans are being made to have a style show, with two girls from each house modeling, and demonstrating the do's and don't's of a coed's wardrobe.

Short talks will be given by Kay Phelps, president of Mortar Board, on the scholastic angle of college life. Anne Frederiksen, president of AWS will speak on activities, and Betty Lou Swart, president of the YWCA, will discuss the part that organization plays in a freshman's life. The sports side of the University will be covered by Margo Van Matre, president of WAA.

Southerner to Be Quizzed Over KOAC

William Nash, winter term addition to the drama division, will be interviewed over KOAC Friday between 7:30 and 8 o'clock by Mark Hanna, instructor in speech.

Mr. Nash, who is from the deep South, will give his views on the problems of share-cropping, the negro question, and the Klu Klux Klan.

Canoe Fete Tickets Vanish; Few Available

With the fame of the University of Oregon Junior Weekend canoe fete spreading all over the state, the question of seating the increasing crowds that flock to Eugene each spring for the festival is a perplexing one, according to Hal Jahn, general chairman for the fete.

This year, reserved seats are $1, with other special sections at 75 cents, and general admission at 50 cents.

Jahn said yesterday that the 75 and 50 cent seats are still available and may be purchased at the educational activities office in McArthur court.

The wooden seats lining the south bank of the millrace have been reinforced and added to for the "Alice in Wonderland" fete.

$100 Scholarship Offered 1940 Women By Spinsters' Club

A scholarship of $100 open to junior women who are residents of Eugene is offered by the Spinsters' club of Eugene. Any girl who wishes to apply for the award may fill out application blanks in the dean of women's office or from Miss Helen Tillman in the president's office.

The qualifications are that the girl must be a resident of Eugene and must plan to graduate in 1940. Financial need, scholarship, character, and ability will be considered in the awarding of the scholarship, according to Miss Helen Dodds, secretary in the dean of women's office.

The deadline for the return of the applications has been set for next Tuesday at 5 o'clock in the dean of women's office.

Art Majors' Picnic Scheduled May 20

Saturday, May 20, will see art majors lunching, swimming, eating free ice cream, and, in general, doing things usually done at picnics at Swimmers Delight.

Thirty-cent lunch boxes may be purchased at the park by those not

Oh, What Fun!

The game is played by two teams—the frosh on one side, the sophs on the other. The general idea is to pull your honorable opponents across the warm race water. Oh, what fun the children will have!

The captains of the two teams, Daniels and Staiger, after consulting their respective banks to see how much they are overdrawn, have decided to place a wager of some 25 cents on the outcome of the game. Staiger demanded odds because the frosh were victorious last year, but Daniels refused to yield one cent.

Only One Obstacle

Only one obstacle stands in the way of the fun-bent children. The Junior Weekend committee, sponsors of the party, said that they would not buy the rope for the boys to play with. Staiger and Daniels replied that they wouldn't buy a rope either but said that they might be able to pick one up some place. So anyone missing a nice length of rope will know where to call for it.

Patrons and patronesses of the affair will be selected from the Order of the "O". It will be their duty to see that the dear children don't play too rough and drown a few of their playmates.

And don't get your feet wet, children!

DE COU GIVES TALK

Professor E. E. DeCou, head of the mathematics department, gave an address before the Oakridge high school Tuesday, May 9, on the subject, "Mathematics, the Mirror of Civilization."

Chi O-Sigma Chi Float to Satirize Croquet Scene

By JIMMIE LEONARD

"Alice thought she had never seen such a curious croquet ground in her life: it was all ridges and furrows: the croquet balls were live hedgehogs, and the mallets live flamingoes, and the soldiers had to double themselves up and stand on their hands and feet, to make the arches. The players all played at once, without waiting for turns, quarreling all the while, and fighting for the hedgehogs; and in a very short time the Queen was in a furious passion . . ."

And again Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" has offered the theme of a Junior Weekend float. Sigma Chi and Chi Omega are capitalizing upon the scene describing "The Croquet Game" for their float. Dorothy Ash, Chi O representative, and Ed Wallis and Glenn Briedwell, Sigma Chi workers, will design a float from that conglomeration of fantasy. But with the memory of past canoe fetes, the new achievements in the way of decorating, the music of Art Holman, and a UO-type of imagination, it won't be difficult for spectators to find the intended understanding.

Political Satire

Politics being a fertile field for satire these days, the Chi O-Sigma Chi delegation will inject a smattering of international burlesque into their offering. The United States will represent one side in the croquet game; the other side—but that would be telling. What a game!

Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Sigma are sponsoring the float that will pass the canoe fete stage Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. Their float theme will be "The Lion and the Unicorn," taken from "Alice in Wonderland."

Must Watch Fight

Off all things that could happen, Queen Maxine must witness a fight. Remember the Lion and Unicorn? They will satirize two of the "square-shooting" agencies in our government:

"The Lion and the Unicorn were fighting for the crown:

The Lion beat the Unicorn all round the town.

Some gave them white bread, some gave them brown:

Some gave them plum-cake and drummed them out of town."

Two girls from the Theta house—Helen Chesnut and Janet Foster—are working with Kappa Sigma's Joe Beach and Dick Alcott in the preparation of the float.
