Program for Men, Women's Groups To Be Drawn Up Tonight at Meeting; Two Hours Credit Per Term Given

W. A. Dahlberg, assistant professor of speech, announced the origination of the public discussion program for both men and women's groups which will meet tonight at 7:30 in room 107 Friendly hall. Since the symposium is an important speech department activity of the fall term, Mr. Dahlberg urges all interested to attend tonight's meeting. Freshmen are especially welcome.

The program's nature concerns questions of current interest such as propaganda, education, distribution, position of the U. S. in world affairs, plus other materials to be selected. Participating members assemble at some hour consistent with their regular course of study during which time the issues are discussed and exchange information which they have uncovered. Following these discussions the data is assembled and worked into speeches.

Men who are interested see Mr. W. A. Dahlberg, director of men's public discussion, while the women should contact Mr. Donald Hargis, director of women's public discussion. Two hours of credit are given for one year's participation.

Science Enrollment Rises 12 Per Cent

Chemistry classes show a 17 per cent increase in enrollment over last year's figures, bringing the total increase in all science departments to approximately 12 per cent.

Students in mathematics number 463, a gain of 67 over the 396 total of last year. The first chemistry laboratory periods have begun, with students studying compounds made of chemical elements.

Debaters Slate Appearances

Returning—by popular request. There in a nutshell is the story of the University men's symposium scheduled speaking tour through eastern Oregon. The men's symposium made numerous trips through several parts of the state last year with the result that requests have already poured into the speech department for another appearance of the University team.

The team, composed of Roy Vernstrom, Ken Erickson, and Charles Devereaux, will speak Tuesday and Wednesday in Bend, and Thursday at both Redmond and Prineville. Highlight of the trip will be a broadcast on the general subject, "Values in a Crazy World." The program will come over KBND at Bend from 8 to 8:30 Tuesday evening.

Mr. Dahlberg, men's symposium coach and assistant professor of speech, will be unable to make the trip.

Pen Company Offers Prize for Best Essay

The Sheaffer Pen company will give a radio to the Oregon student who best completes the following sentence in 20 words or less.

"Sheaffer's Fineline pencil is best for classroom work because . . ."

The radio is a portable G. E. Carryabout. The contest deadline is November 1. The only rules to the contest are that each contestant enclose with the sentence a retail store sales slip showing a 10 cent or more purchase of some Sheaffer product — ink, pencils, lead, adhesives, or pens. Entries should be sent to W. A. Scheaffer Pen company, Fort Madison, Iowa.

MOSCOW . . .

Russia's latest move came over the wire last night in a formal announcement of complete agreement with Hitler's peace offensive in Poland. Stalin backed up his statement by declaring Hungary in on the deal, which gives the German dictator a stacked deal in the central European diplomatic game. Russian troops are reported to be marching farther into Estonia.

BERLIN . . .

Herr Hitler's own newspaper told the world recently that Italy as well as Soviet Russia would play the big brother in Germany's game of "beating up little kids," if the allied powers refuse the German paperhanger's bid for peace in Poland. Observers are in accord that the once doubtful axis is in action again, as German and Italy appear to be in perfect agreement.

NATIONAL . . .

President Roosevelt's proposed changes in the neutrality act took it on the chin recently when Senator Borah told the senate and a crowded gallery that repeal of the embargo on arms and ammunition to warring countries would lead us into war. The popular Idahoan made one of the most appealing and convincing speeches of his career.

The senate will vote this afternoon on repeal of neutrality act, after attempts by the opposition to have the bill held over. This latest move was an effort by a democratic minority to have a recess of congress, during which President Roosevelt could dicker with the dictators.

INTERNATIONAL . . .

With Hitler steadily bringing the whole gang over on his side, most of us wonder what the allies are doing about it, and why has there not been any action so far. Where is the British army? None of us want a war but it is something like arriving at a show three hours early.

LONDON . . .

The British were still insisting that several of their planes

Grads Figure In News Prize

Three former Oregon students figured in prize awards at the annual meeting of the Ad Managers of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers association.

Two plaques were awarded, one for the best presentation in a campaign of newspapers promoting their own advertising for non-metropolitan dailies, and one for weekly papers.

The daily plaque was won by the Roseburg News-Review represented by its publisher, Harris Ellsworth, and Advertising Manager Roger Bailey.

The McMinville Telephone-Register won the plaque for the best weekly. Bill Jones, also a former Oregon student, is the advertising manager.

The awards, given for the first time, were presented by W. F. G. Thacher, professor of English and advertising at the University.

Bette Morfitt Names Intramural Girls From Houses

Intramural representatives for the various women's living organizations were announced yesterday by Bette Morfitt, WAA intramural manager. Those girls named were:

Margaret Crosby, Alpha Chi Omega; Mildred McCarthy, Alpha Delta Pi; Dorothy Burger, Alpha Omicron Pi; Marjorie McLean, Alpha Phi; Norma Scarpelli, Alpha Xi Delta; Madalyn Henniger, Delta Delta Delta; Evelyn Nelson, Delta Gamma; Sally Morrow, Gamma Phi; Margaret Young, Theta; Margaret Debeaw, Pi Beta Phi; Margery Hoffman, Sigma Kappa; Peggy Parker, Zeta Tau Alpha; Betty Murry, Chi Omega; Betty Plankington, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Helen Smedley, University Co-op; Margaret Shippler, Hilliard House. As yet no one has been appointed for Hendricks hall.

During the 1938-39 school year, 200 colleges created some 300 scholarships for foreign refugees.

Library Posts List Of 10 Best Magazine Articles of Month

Posted on the wall in the reference and periodical room of the University library is a list of the 10 outstanding magazine articles of the month. This list is selected by a council of librarians and is published by Harper and Brothers each month.

Especially notable is an article in Fortune, entitled, The Vatican, which is beautifully illustrated with the first photographs ever permitted to be taken inside the Vatican.

Magazine File Put On Desk

The index at the periodical desk in the library has been revamped for the convenience of the students by placing an alphabetical list of all current issues of magazines published on the periodical desk.

The latest numbers may be found on the shelves in the periodical room, with the exception of a few, which are behind the desk.

The index tells the location of the current numbers and also the location of the bound volumes. If the call number is given, the student must inquire at the circulation desk. All issues of the current year are at the periodical desk, as they have not yet been bound.

An asterisk by the title indicates that the collection of that periodical for the last 10 years is not complete. The student may inquire at the desk to find what issues are available.

New Transfer Girls To Enter Upper PE

There are six upper division transfer students in women's physical education this year, Miss Florence Alden, director of women's physical education, said yesterday. The new girls are: Virginia Furst transferred from Willamette university; Jean Napp, St. Catherine college, St. Paul, Minnesota; Helen Wirtenberger, College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minnesota; Mrs. Mildred Schwartzkopf, Kansas State teachers college, Fort Hays, Kansas; Marilyn Christlieb, Southern Oregon College of Education; and Sara Castebeer, University of Nebraska.

Taylor Slated For High Post

Dr. Howard R. Taylor, head of the University of Oregon department of psychology, has been named president of the Western Psychological association, it was announced here today.

Dr. Taylor's presidential duties will include preparation for and participation in the organization's annual session which will be held at the University of California at Los Angeles in the spring, which leading psychologists from all western states will attend.

A member of the psychology department at the University since 1925, Dr. Taylor is also director of the personnel research bureau, and is assistant dean of the graduate school.

A graduate of Pacific university, Dr. Taylor received both his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Stanford University. He is a member of Sigma Xi, science fraternity, and Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity. Numerous magazine articles on various phases of psychology have been written by Dr. Taylor.

Abbey of Woman's Home Companion says: "Its sparkling, shimmering, laminated style of circlets of Pearl and Jet is the loveliest I've ever laid my eyes on."

It holds far more ink than ordinary rubber ink sac pens. For its sacless Diaphragm filler abolishes rubber sac, lever filler, and piston pump. Its Television barrel shows the level of ink—prevents running dry in classes or exams.

Go and try it today—and be sure to look for the Blue Diamond mark on the smart ARROW clip—that means it's guaranteed for life! You'll never have to buy another pen. The Parker Pen Co., Jacksonville, Fla.

Duck Tracks

He called that run from fake punt formation late in the game deep in Oregon territory and brought big smiles to Oliver's face by running 19 yards to the Webfoot 31 for a first down.

While the charging Duck forwards were out-manuevering the Stanford line, Oliver's Oregonians spilled the apple cart in another department, the air.

According to a super analytic dope sheet concocted by California scribes, University of Oregon's pass defense rated absolute and uncontested bottoms in the conference while Stanford's aerial attack was declared one of the best. The combination of a bad defense against a strong attack should have been disastrous. But it wasn't. To the contrary, Oregon got 113 yards to Stanford's 55 in that phase of the game.

Honest John Warren took time off from coaching frosh football to scout U.C.I.A.'s 14 to 7 triumph over Washington in Seattle Saturday afternoon and he pronounces the Bruins one of THE teams to beat. Jackie Robinson . . . the man Oregon might have had . . . showed a pair of fleet heels to the Huskies and he was aided no little by Kenny Washington, the negro half-back Oregon has had trouble with before.

Warren will be one of the two scouts Oregon uses each weekend for various conference games . . . he's taking the place of Hobby Hobson who is concentrating on basketball now. . . . The other Webfoot scout is Vaughn Corley, the Southern-like line coach, who watched California's Golden Bears lose to St. Marys in Berkeley, 7 to 3. . . . Oliver takes his Webfoots south, you know, to play California this week.
