

Boy Meets Girl -- -- Saturday Night

Social Season Starts With Open House; "Our Town" Is First Drama Offering; Many Living Organizations Plan Parties

By MARY KAY RIORDAN

Oregon men begin the annual fall "toe trotters" dance Saturday night when all women's houses hold open house from 7 to 11:30 o'clock. Fraternities, organizations, and independents swing out with the coeds for ten minutes at every house on the campus during the most democratic and wearying dance of the year.

Tonight brings the first opening of the University drama theater when the lights go up on Thornton Wilder's "Our Town." Various dramatic groups on the campus are in the production playing through Saturday.

AOPis Honor District Officer

Alpha Omicron Pi welcomed Mrs. Dewitt Oliver, district superintendent of the sorority at an informal dinner Wednesday evening. The alumni of Eugene were also guests.

A fireside honoring Mrs. Oliver, and Mrs. H. Briggs, Alpha Omicron Pi's new housemother, was held Wednesday night.

Kappas Observe 69th Anniversary

The 69th anniversary of Kappa Kappa Gamma will be observed Monday, October 16, at the Oregon chapter house. Guests at the dessert supper will include members from the Oregon State chapter and all alumnae. Jolene Woodruff is in charge of the arrangements.

Alpha Xi Delta pledges were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Laurin Reynolds, alum adviser of the Oregon chapter.

SHOES

It's ladylike to wear shoes up until 11:30; after that it's permissible to remove them. If afraid of splinters wear your heavy woolen knee-high stockings. Have all spare shoes lined against the wall for rapid changing. Collapsible heels would solve the Mutt and Jeff situation (if you find any, do let us know). Sororities with an eye to appearances have installed shoe-cleaning stands.

CONVERSATION

It helps to say "hello" once at least before your partner leaves. Your favorite book makes an ideal topic. If you get a brainy type, excuse yourself and dash off after your English comp assignment. The big silent type who is impervious to all your attempts at conversation will yield to a dreamy look in your eye when you subtly hum "What's New." The older the line the better—always good is

First Faculty Tea Held

Marking the opening of the year the Oregon women's faculty held its first tea Wednesday from 3:30 until 5:30 o'clock in Alumni hall. Mrs. H. Lester Barrett and Mrs. Clifford Constance were co-chairmen for the affair at which new faculty wives were introduced.

In the receiving line were Mesdames J. H. Gilbert, president of the club, D. M. Erb, D. L. Hunter, O. J. Hollis, and C. L. Kelly. Miss Florence Alden, Mrs. L. E. Schreff, Miss Maude I. Kerns, Mrs. Hazel P. Schwering, and Mrs. Otilie Seybolt poured.

Assisting hostesses included Mrs. Earl M. Pallett, Dr. Elizabeth Montgomery, Miss Mabel Wood, Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, Mrs. Orpha May Beck, Mrs. Alice H. Ernst, Mrs. M. H. Douglass, Miss Mozelle Hair, Mrs. Lora Ware, Mrs. George Hopkins, and Mrs. Howard Hobson.

The Misses Mathea Hansen, Marcia Brown, Francis Holland, Elizabeth DeBusk, Laurie Sawyer, and Marguerite Kelly served.

Gilding the Lady

It's just such a dress as this that proves an eye-snatcher at campus formal and house dances. Glamour and simplicity are combined in this stunning dinner gown of two-toned crepe in red and black, with the new peg-top skirt and gold kid belt. The importance of gold is stressed again in the gold-finished leaves which strung on a chain are worn as necklace and bracelet.

For Women Only

By MARGE FINNEGAN

Some people believe it's a great life if you don't weaken—others maintain it's greater if you weaken soon enough to enjoy it, but it's all the same to me—I gotta cold in by dose. All week I have been sniffing and going out of my way to steer clear of the infirmary, and what do I get. People look at me (and about half the rest of the campus now in the same condition) and nod very knowingly and mumble "Hm! musta been a big weekend in Portland." This is where I burst forth very angrily and stamp my feet and shout back (that is I did until I woke up yesterday morning and found myself mute) —"I didn't go to Portland to the game. All I did was spend a very quiet weekend on a deserted campus—and look what happened!" It's no use, ya' can't win.

Oregon Rah!

Recently heard a group of males ranting and raving at great length about the Oregon women at the football game, and it seems they were somewhat disgusted with the feminine group. The gist of the discussion was to the effect that our men feel we not only dress too well for such occasions—but spend too much time worrying about it all through the occasion. "If more women would let down their hair and have fun at the games, they'd feel some Oregon spirit," one fair-haired lad informed me. Sophisticated boredom is definitely out of place at a football game.

Quick Comeback

On the other hand, women reading that last paragraph over my shoulder as I ground it out, rose in defense—panning the rally committee. Well, that's an old campus growl which I cannot settle in the small space allotted me, but perhaps a word to the wise is sufficient. It may save them much publicity later—or to be subtle, perhaps benches should not be provided at all for the committees at the games. Well . . .

Coed of the Week

MARCIA JUDKINS

One of those persons who does not wait for the world to come to her but goes out to make a place in the world for herself, is Marcia Judkins, our nomination for coed this week, a junior, she has not yet seen the last of her teen days.

A Eugene girl, she enjoyed participation in activities and liked to make new friends. So when she entered the University, she was determined that her living at home would not be a handicap. Joining the YWCA, she entered into its activities and was soon being placed in responsible cabinet positions.

This is one you've just got to have—unless you're a bookish fellow given to staying indoors. The "watch-case" top on this pipe keeps the wind from tearing into the pipe-bowl and "emptying" it. Protects the briar (and that new weed outfit of yours) from burning.

The slotted grill controls the draft perfectly, and slides back sideways for filling and emptying. The whole pipe is trim as a watch and tight as a clam—makes all other covered pipes look like the Gay Nineties. It's the smartest thing that's come through our doors in many years—you'll agree as soon as you see one. Shown above, No. 33.
