Olivermen Make First Hayward Field Appearance Today

Regular Duck Lineup Will Open Clash

Zags Hold Wins Over Texas Tech And Idaho

A couple of Hare brothers will be in other positions in the backfield, at right and fullback respectively. Ralph Schlosser at center is the standout in the line, from all reports.

Same Lineup Listed

The Olivermen will probably open the game with the same lineup that started against the Bears last week in Berkeley. Dick Horne at left end, Jim Stuart at left tackle, Ernie Robertson at left guard, and Jim Cadenasso at center. In the right side, its Captain Ox Walden, Merle Peters, and Vic Reginato.

Denny Donovan will open at quarter, with Jay Graybeal and Johnny Berry at the halves and Marshall Stenstrom at full. Bob Smith may be a starter, as may Roy Dyer at half.

This lineup indicates that the headman is taking no chances on an early score by the fast Bulldogs. He intends to keep these same men in the game until there is an accident or until the Ducks score. A lot of passes seem to be the order of the day, for most of the week was spent in perfecting an already good overhead attack.

Amphibians Pick Members

Twenty-Eight Are Chosen as Fall Tryouts End

By MARGARET DAKE

Twenty-eight new members were chosen by the Amphibian club as the fall tryouts were completed last Thursday.

A double-stunt dive, executed by Ruth Hall and Jeanne Hachen, along with the high average piled up by Florence Jackson in diving, were the highlights of the final tryouts.

Vicky Sandner completed forty yards in 25.5 while Janet Farnham came in only two seconds behind. Vicky also showed originality in choosing the butterfly breaststroke in the form competition.

There will be one more tryout at a later date for those whose vaccinations took so hard that they were unable to compete.

The new members are: Mary Anderson, Marion Barret, Adele Canada, Marilyn Christlieb, Florence Cooley, Jane McCurdy, Joyce Coffee, Miss Earl, Janet Farnham, Miss Finlison, Mary Jane Ford, Mary Ann Fox, Mary Lee Fry, Ruth Hall, Jeanne Hachen.

anyhow, he's one Californian that's 100 per cent for Oregon.

Short shots: Jim Harris and Dick Horne were lifeguards at Long Beach, Cal., this summer. . . . That accounts for the tan. . . . Bob Smith's mother and two sisters dropped in to see him at the Igloo yesterday.

A fine burn suffered in the Cal game has Cee Walden on the shelf. . . . tsk, and I thought they did not use straight lime any more, only dehydrated lime and white earth. . . . Fat (er, I mean Husky) Matt Pavalunas is working out daily for the coming basketball campaign. . . . Burly Bob Creighton, ace right-hander of the 1939 baseball champs, is in school, but his pitching this year is not to batters.

Tall Elliot Wilson, the big "cornstalk" from Nebraska, is being saved until the 1940 football season. Wilson, largest man on the Webfoot squad is considered a whale of a prospect for the future.

Joe Gordon, great Yankee second baseman, blew in and blew out of Eugene Tuesday, but he left word that he would take graduate work at the University come winter term. . . . and speaking of baseball players, Busher Smith, flashy first baseman of the '39 champs and now a pro, is planning to marry ere long.

Powers Captures High Man Honors With Two Firsts

By JIM SCHILLER

With the intramural swimming title ringing on the results of the last race, the Alpha Tau Omega team came through with a victory yesterday afternoon over the Beta Theta Psi. The win in this 120-yard free style event made the ATO's margin of victory, 27 to 20.

Throughout the whole meet, the score was close with neither team able to gain any noticeable advantage. In fact, the lead changed hands twice during the course of events, and the score was tied once.

Crowd Is Tense

The Tau outfit received a bad break in the 120-yard medley relay event when Powers slipped and fell into the pool just as he was about to swim his leg on the race. The first leg of the race was even, and so Powers' mishap cost his team almost a quarter of a lap.

Because this match was for the championship, five minute rests were allowed between each event. During the rest period before the last and deciding event, there was a noticeable tenseness hanging over the entire crowd.

Powers Is High Scorer

High scorer for the meet was Powers of the ATOs who redeemed his accident in the medley relay by winning first places in both the 40-yard breaststroke and 60-yard individual medley event.

ATO 27, Beta 20

40-yard free style: Allen (A), Dallas (B), Toozie (B), 20.0.
40-yard backstroke: Finke (B), Hochuli (A), Livingston (B), 25.2.

40-yard breaststroke: Powers (A), Steele (A), Dallas (B), 24.9.
120-yard medley relay: Beta first (Finke, Craig, Toozie), 1:15.9.
60-yard individual medley: Powers (A), Craig (B), Finke (B), 40.1.

120-yard free style relay: ATO first (Fugit, Boone, Allen), 1:04.6.

The Dope Bucket

In these United States there are approximately 13,350 newspapers. Of these about 2,100 are dailies, 10,800 are weeklies and the rest are semi-weeklies and tri-weeklies.

On these papers there is usually one person who thinks that he can predict the results of football games, and a great many who try to pick the winners. Rather than be one of the "run of the mill" it will be our solemn purpose to pick the losers. No percentage, no ratings, no secret formulas will aid us in picking the losers. Just our skill in sensing the underdog will be the deciding factor in our choice.

Don't Solve for X

The underdog has been taking a beating long enough and now is his chance to howl and get howled about. Of course there is an ancient and dusty old Arabic formula that could be used to pick the winners with the losers given, you have to solve for x, but it is our purpose to give you the team that comes off the field with fewer touchdowns, more touchbacks, and the smaller score.

The pickings for this week will be simple as there are only three

Bears Battle Cougars; Huskies Face Beavers on Gridiron Today

By BERNIE ENGEL

With California the only member of the conference "southern branch" seeing action, the fourth weekend of coast football competition comes today. Battlefronts include Seattle, with Oregon State moving in on the Washington Huskies; Berkeley, with Washington State meeting the Golden Bears; and Eugene, where the Oregon Webfoots pull into a tough kings-ex clash against the hungry Gonzaga Bulldog.

After meeting three of the toughest teams in the country, the Eugene squad must now face a team which comes with a weight advantage, a marvelous kicker, and has nothing to lose.

Tony Canadeo does the Gonzaga punting, and his 60-yard boots look very impressive alongside the present Webfoot average of 32 yards.

After trimming her "city cousins" at the University of Washington by a single touchdown, Washington State moves into a toss-up encounter with California, which team lost to Oregon by a touchdown last week. California is a slight underdog; she has not won a game so far this season. Washington State trimmed Gonzaga to wreck a long-standing tradition, but has shown only fair stuff. Those who have seen her declare she has a spark if she once gets going.

Beavers Unbeaten
Oregon State's undefeated, untied Beavers meet their second conference opponent after poor showings against Portland University.

Coach Lon Stiner was dissatisfied with the performances of his backfield stars, Jim Kisselburgh and the Kohler brothers, in the Portland game and has threatened to start a sophomore contingent in their places.

Intensive blocking drill was designed to smooth out the glaring rough spots shown by the 19-to-0 defeat at Oregon State rooks' hands. With the Washington Babe game one week away, fundamentals were the order of the day.

Warren Works With Babes
Eric Waldorf took charge of the ends, Joe Huston, the guards and tackles, and "Honest" John Warren, the centers and backs.

Warren claims poor blocking and tackling were responsible for the poor freshman showing against the rooks.

Wayne Nelson, quarterback from Salem, was out of uniform with a slight cold. Louis Baum, left halfback, also missed the scrimmage session.

Babes Are Tough
The second contest of the season, the Washington Babes, on Hayward field is expected to be tough. Seattle reports indicate that the Husky Babe aggregation will be one of the strongest elevens in their school history.

Standout of the Washington attack is Ira Brin, 240-pound tackle from Portland's Jefferson high school.

conference games on the coast. On second thought they probably should not be called pickings because they will be on the bottom, so this week's "digging" will be those teams the first off the field after the winner has headed for the showers.

Cougars Will Lose
On the block this week is the Washington-Oregon State game, the California-Washington State contest and the Oregon-Gonzaga game.

Phi Psi, Phi Sig Net Teams Win

One shutout and one default marked Friday's intramural tennis matches. Phi Psi, paced by Paul Livesay, dashed through Gamma hall, 3 to 0. Phi Sig won from the Sigma Chis on a default.

A deciding match between Theta Chi and Delta Tau Delta was played with the Theta Chi singles man Bill White the victor. He took R. Metzler (Delta) into camp, 7-5, 6-4. While winning in one play-off, Theta Chi lost in another. C. Gorsage (Zeta) won from White (Theta Chi) 6-2, 6-3, giving Zeta a 2-to-1 win.

Singles: Paul Livesay (Phi Psi) over C. Peetz (Gamma) 6-0, 6-0. Doubles: Slater and Rohwer (Phi Psi) over L. Wilson and R. Wilson (Gamma), 6-4, 6-4. Mullin and Stirwalt (Phi Psi) over J. Coursey and J. Doerfler (Gamma), 6-0, 5-7, 6-2.

Next week will see netmen ready for action as the final round begins.

Dallas, Wetmore Lead Strong Duck Swim Squad In Northwest Title Chase

By BEN MCCARTHY

Dallas, Wetmore & Co. appear to have a tip-top chance of winning the northern division Pacific coast swimming championship.

These two waterboys will lead a team of veterans that will be decidedly strengthened by the addition of several of last year's freshman stars. The biggest help to the tank squad is expected to come from Jerry MacDonald, erstwhile freestyler and an exponent of the unorthodox in swimming. MacDonald created a minor sensation in intramural swimming last fall and was well on his way to repeating this year when his team was eliminated.

Fast Trio

Those in the know feel that the medley relay team of Dallas, Wetmore, and MacDonald will be a cinch to annihilate the coast record for the event. The composite times of the three swimmers adds up to three seconds less than the present standard.

Dallas and Wetmore are almost certain to better their record-shattering performances of last season in their individual events. These two Oregonians are rated near the top in national college circles and their potentialities are unlimited.

Lafferty Returns

Among the returning veterans are Pierce Mallory, Tom Starbuck, Jim Marnie, and Dick Smith, all freestylers of very high caliber. The boys are all print exponents except Smith who covers the 220 and 440 courses. Jack Dallas will receive most of his accompaniment in breaststroke from Ralph Lafferty. Lafferty is a star in his own right, although he was overshadowed last season by the exceptional Dallas.

CHALLENGE ISSUED

Phi Gamma Delta intramural swim team has issued a challenge to the champion Alpha Tau Omega team. The two teams staged a close match last week with the ATOs, the winners. Alpha Tau Omega won the donut title yesterday.
