

DUCK TRACKS

By ELBERT HAWKINS
Co-Sports Editor
Oregon Daily Emerald

Owner of the speediest football legs on the coast is Jackie Robinson, UCLA's halfback negro sensation, who'll be out there on Los Angeles turf scaring the Oregon Webfoots to death this afternoon.

Bill Hayward saw Jackie last fall and pronounced him a streak of greased lightning in football togs. A member of the Webfoot coaching staff who scouted the Bruins this year won't let his name be used on a quotation but he says the Bruin backfield star, a first year man by the way, is "the fastest football player I ever saw," which is really covering a lot of territory.

It's no secret that Tex Oliver talked Jackie Robinson and Kenny Washington to his Ducks all week. He figures that to stop the UCLA clan means to bottle up that pair of negro flashes, and defensive practice for today's game occupied a lot of Oliver's preparations. He gave the reserves Bruin plays, named a couple of the Ducks Robinson and Washington, and told the varsity to stop 'em. Yessir Mack Robinson's little brother Jackie is going to meet a lot of Webfoots today.

Tiny Thornhill of Stanford goes even farther than calling Jackie the coast's speediest and trickiest back. In the UCLA Bruin, campus paper, he's quoted as comparing Jackie with Red Grange and Ernie Nevers who you'll recollect are on some authority's all-time all-American teams.

One possible defect in the Bruin offense is the fact that Jackie Robinson is rarely used as a blocker when someone else carries the ball. They use him as a decoy or man in motion. Won't that weaken the UCLA power when they sacrifice a blocker that way? Well, Mike Mikulak, the Webfoot backfield coach, has seen Babe Horrell's gang in action and we'll let him explain it.

"They don't need power . . . they get it through speed and deception."

Tex Oliver talked Robinson and Washington all week to his Oregons, but don't go away with the conclusion he figures UCLA has a two-man team. It just means that they have to be stopped or Oregon will need a flock of touchdowns to win. Kenny Washington was pretty well checked on Hayward field last year but the Webfoots were nevertheless lucky to squeeze out ahead, 14 to 12, in a movie thriller.

Flash Jackie Robinson hasn't scored a touchdown in conference play nor has he played a complete game. In fact Mikulak ventured to say the boy might not play much over 30 minutes against Oregon. But the things he has done and can do in a half hour hasn't helped Tex Oliver's sleep any.

Let's let Scout Mike Mikulak tell more about the team Oregon plays this afternoon. After all it is right on top of the conference with the Ducks and a lot hinges

Kappa Team, Phi Psi Nine Score Wins

Postponement and Forfeit Listed in Touch Football

By BERNARD ENGEL
Two victories, a tie, and a default featured yesterday's intramural touch football slate.

Kappa Sigma showed a well-balanced team in dropping Sherry Ross hall, 12 to 0; Phi Kappa Psi edged out a 6 to 0 decision over Delta Tau Delta; Sigma hall and the SAE's fought to a scoreless tie and the DU-Sigma Chi clash was postponed because of a pledge walkout in the Delta house.

Score Early
One minute after the game started, the Kappa Sigs were on the hall's four-yard line. Sherry Ross held off this thrust but a few minutes later, McAuiliffe of the Sigs threw from the Sherry Ross 30 to Lansing on the three, who carried the ball over.

The McAuiliffe-Lansing combination clicked again early in the second half. With the ball on the hall two, McAuiliffe whipped a pass in the flat for the second touchdown. Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Tau Delta staged a wide-open battle. Rohner of the Phi Psis caught a long pass in the first moments of the second half to register six points. Although the Deltas were within sneezing distance of the Phi Psi goal twice in the last five minutes, the Phi Psis held tight.

With the dormitory boys playing a shade better ball, the SAE-Sigma hall game ended in the season's fourth scoreless tie. Shackelford of the Sigs and Lowe of the SAEs sparked their respective nines.

Referees commented that the latter game was exceptionally clean-fought. One penalty for low blocking and an offside or two were the only infractions.

upon what happens on Coliseum turf.

"It's a very good club. It has lots of speed in the backfield—probably the fastest backfield in the conference. And the line is big."

Mike even compared the lines by positions to show that the Bruin forwards are heavier. "They have bigger ends—a little . . . their tackles are bigger, their guards are bigger . . . centers are about the same." So think twice before you bet a term's tuition at 50-50 on today's Oregon-UCLA embroglio.

A bouquet from every member of the Emerald sports staff to Rollie Dickie, intramural head, for his friendly cooperation on those little things which help so much . . . Rollie is in charge for one year in the absence of Paul Wash- kie and he has not only learned the ropes but he's been a real asset to the department . . . ironing out those protests, re-scheduling postponed games in a loaded schedule, etc. is no easy job for anyone . . . a big problem came up in connection with touch football when they found out the 5 o'clock games couldn't be finished in daylight . . . but by starting games promptly at 4, moving the second tilts up to 4:45 and cutting playing time to 15 minute halves instead of 10 minute quarters, they've staved off that problem for a while anyway.

Speaking of the PE boys . . . Russ Cutler, who is a popular choice of the handballers as the school's best player, has lost only one game in four years to Honest John Warren, the frosh grid skipper who told us about it and he acted like he was proud to have done that well . . . Honest John's handball compares favorably with the rest of the coaching staff's, too . . . Vaughn Corley, the varsity line coach, is going to scout Oregon State and Washington State in Corvallis today.

In the Washington-Standard game the eleven boys with the long faces will be STANFORD. This is a homecoming game on the University of Washington campus and the huskies are out to put the finishing touches on their program up there.

WASHINGTON STATE is going to learn a few pointers about football from the Beavers when they play in Corvallis this afternoon. They will probably not learn enough about it to topple Oregon State from their top posi-

Player-Scribe Bob Smith Writes from UCLA Front

Editor's note: We're presenting an inside story from one of the members of the Oregon team in Los Angeles, Halfback Bob Smith, whose interests apart from football lie partly in journalism. Bob wired for us to rewrite his story but we give it to you as is and with no apologies.

By BOB (LEFTY) SMITH

WITH THE OREGON TEAM, Los Angeles, Oct. 27—(Special to the Emerald)—We had a workout this afternoon with a fair crowd on hand. L. H. Gregory of the Oregonian was there with the Los Angeles sports writers. Bobby Blenkinsop was at the train to meet us and will return with the team.

We're staying at the Chapman Park hotel, which is next to the Brown Derby (so the bell boy tells me). We stayed at the Chancellor last time but the game resulted in a tie so we moved. Looking for a hotel with victory.

Had a chalk talk at five today, then dinner. At seven we went to the show, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

We never read the papers before the game but the bell hop (we should keep this boy) told me they expect a very large crowd for the game. Tex doesn't feel that the players can benefit from reading reports on the games; on this trip, though the fellows are on the school books. Even Jay is involved with "Behind the Doctor." John Day Officer usually sets the weekend for one of our good supporters and this one is for Blenk.

That pre-game tenseness is here and the fellows are ready for this game. Borrowing a term from Joe Huston that really fits. After preparing all details for the game we feel that "we're set."

The Dope Bucket

By AL LERGIC

Last week's diggings didn't pan out so hot on account of the local team doing us dirt. Henceforth, and from here on in, all games played by Oregon will not be calculated in the week's predictions as the writer, being blessed with more school spirit than brains, tends to pull his punches when the "dope" comes too close to home. So after this Oregon's playing will not be an official part of the Dope's bucket.

On the other two games last week we called them one hundred per cent exactly correct. A feat not to be sneezed at, and if the percentage keeps up to that level, Al will be able to enter some of the contests and walk off with some coffin nails (fire sticks to you). Last week there were only three conference games, but all eight teams will be playing this week to try to lower a few percentages.

Four Top Coast
Four out of the eight conference teams have 1000 per cent batting averages this week. Two of those teams will meet, and the other two will have an easier time of it. This is the first time that two Oregon teams have been at the top in conference ratings, and they will furnish a lot of tough competition for the brethren from the north and from the south.

Now that all the dope, excuses, jinxes, ratings, percentages, and information is calculated for the four games, Al has drawn his own conclusion and has picked the following four to be on the short end of the score when the gun goes off in the last quarter.

In the Washington-Standard game the eleven boys with the long faces will be STANFORD. This is a homecoming game on the University of Washington campus and the huskies are out to put the finishing touches on their program up there.

tion but the tutoring will undoubtedly come in handy later on. That mighty CALIFORNIA team should start rolling one of these weekends but it's hard to feature them starting against University of Southern California's ball packing dynamite. California has our vote to win, but not this game.

In the Duck-UCLA battle, the under pup, the University of Oregon has our vote to win so that leaves none other than the UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES to bring up the rear.

Monday afternoon's matches include the only remaining first round match—between Canard club and the Delta Tau Deltas. The other three listed games are second rounders—between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Chi and Yeomen, and Kappa Sigma and Theta Chi.

Chi Psis Win Over Alphas In Water Tiff

Zetas, Campbells, SPEs Win Frays by Default in Polo

Chi Psi won the only one of the four scheduled matches in the intramural water polo tournament by yesterday defeating the Alpha hall team by a 5 to 0 count. The other three scheduled matches were forfeited.

The Chi Psis showed a smooth offense in their game. Led by Tom Starbuck, who scored all five points, the mirrace team completely outclassed their opponents. Starbuck scored three of his counters in the first half and the other two in the last period.

In the other three matches the Zeta hall team won by default over the Sigma Alpha Mus, Campbell co-op won similarly from Gamma hall, and the Sigma Phi Epsilon outfit also won by the forfeit route from the Sigma Nus.

Monday afternoon's matches include the only remaining first round match—between Canard club and the Delta Tau Deltas. The other three listed games are second rounders—between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Chi and Yeomen, and Kappa Sigma and Theta Chi.

Two Scores Result From Interceptions

John Warren's Crew Makes One Drive Early in Tilt Which Ends With Fumble; Babes Show Plunging Power

By RAY SMITH
John Warren's frosh just didn't have "the stuff" last night. The Oregon boys threw everything they had at the Babes in an effort to stop "Pest" Welch's powerhouse aggregation, but the Washington eleven steamrollered to a decisive 19-to-0 victory before 3000 fans who turned out for the night contest under the lights of Hayward field.

The frosh presented only one serious threat during the game, that in the first quarter when they marched to the Washington 16 before losing the ball on downs. Welch's squad scored twice in the second period and once in the fourth.

Long Drive
First Babe touchdown climaxed a 72-yard sustained drive down the field. Starting from their own 23, Washington moved in three plays to the 41. Then, with second down coming up, Pete Susnick, outstanding player of the evening, fired a pass to Dwight Smith who raced all the way to the Oregon eight before being downed by safety man Butch Nelson. Susnick made it over in three plays from there. Try for extra point was blocked.

Both other scores came as the result of pass interception. Just before end of the first half, Bob Friedman intercepted a Duckling pass on the Oregon 32, and carried it back seven yards to the 25. Susnick plunged to the five in three plays, and then passed to left half Casimir Pomanek for the second touchdown. Carl Falk booted the extra point to make the halftime score, 13 to 0.

Frosh Lads Fire
The frosh attack seemed to lack the necessary fire for real scoring punch. At that, they out-first-downed Washington 10 to 7, however, they could never make yardage when it really counted.

The Babes scored their final touchdown in the fourth quarter. Mark McCorkle, fullback, intercepted one of Louis Baum's short, flat passes and ran 52 yards down the east sidelines into pay dirt. Oregon smeared the attempted conversion, but the 19 points were more than enough to win.

Last night's score was exactly the same as that of the Frosh-rook game played in Portland two weeks ago. The Ducklings will re-meet Bill McKalip's aggregation next month in Corvallis for their final game of the season.

All-Campus Play Advances

Second Round Tennis, Handball Pairings Listed

The first round of the all-campus handball and tennis programs has been completed despite the failure of many applicants to arrange to have their matches played before the deadline set by Rollie Dickie, head of intramural sports.

About half of the pairings were won on defaults. In instances where the games were not run off before the date set, the name that appeared on the top of the bracket was passed on into the next round.

The following is the second round schedule of matches that have to be played and reported by Monday, October 30:

Handball singles—Baker vs. Amato, Sinclair vs. Ek, Corey vs. Petrie, Collins vs. Stafford, Smith vs. Lowe, Evans vs. Townsend, and Williams vs. Thompson.

Handball doubles—Smith and Corey vs. Petrie and Lowe; Conrad and Robertson vs. Williams and Amato.

Tennis singles—Lewis vs. Newton, Kemp vs. Gorsage, Slater vs. Patton, Helikson vs. McFaddin, Livesay vs. Key, Smith vs. Kitchen, Fouchek vs. McInnis, and Carlson vs. Heath.

Tennis doubles—Bladine and McEachern vs. Lewis and Trask; Sherman and McFaddin vs. Fouchek and Baker.
