VOLUME XLI UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1939 NUMBER 25

Piggers' Guide Debut At Lunch Time; Service Clubs to Sell Directory

Editor, Sales Staff Plan Campaign; Book Lists 4000 of Faculty, Students; Freshmen To Aid Directory Sales; Few Are Ready

Oregon's official student directory, known in campus circles as the "Piggers' Guide" today goes on sale in every living organization as Editor Bill Knight and his sales staff swoop the campus in their piggers' campaign.

A terra cotta cover with blue insert page is the new dress which surrounds the list of over 4000 students and faculty members listed in the year's guide, Knight said last night.

In charge of campus sales of the directory will be members of Kwama and Skull and Dagger, sophomore women's and men's service honoraries. Members and freshman aides will be in each living organization on the campus during the lunch hour today to sell the books.

Only 1750 Printed

Price of the guides, as in previous years, is 25 cents, with only a limited number available. Looking back on last year's sale, when the directory supply was exhausted early in the drive, Knight warned that with such an enlarged student enrollment this year, the quantity will be even more limited. Only 1750 books were printed under this year's setup.

BULLETIN

Students in each living organization are asked to bring the 25 cent fee for their 1939-40 "Piggers' Guide" to the lunch table this noon. Kwama and Skull and Dagger members distribute copies.

The printing of the book was kept virtually a secret by Knight and his staff until the first volumes came off the University press early yesterday afternoon.

Gala Parade Planned for Homecoming

Pairing-Off Results Revealed; Groups To Build Floats

Plans are under way for extensive living organization participation in the traditional homecoming noise parade festivities, according to Richard Werschkul, parade chairman. The drawing to determine house pairings was conducted yesterday afternoon at the College Side under the direction of Chairman Werschkul.

The results of the drawing are as follows: Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Nu, and Gamma hall; Alpha Delta Pi and Delta Upsilon; Alpha Gamma Delta and Sigma Alpha Mu; Alpha Omicron Pi and Sigma Phi Epsilon; Alpha Phi, Alpha hall, and Sigma hall; Alpha Xi Delta and Theta Chi; Chi Omega and Phi Gamma Delta; Delta Delta Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Yeomen; Delta Gamma and Beta Theta Pi.

Listing Continued

Gamma Phi Beta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Omega hall; Hendricks hall and Kappa Sigma; Hilliard house and Phi Kappa Psi; Kappa Alpha Theta and Chi Psi; Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Delta Theta; Orides and Alpha Tau Omega; Pi Beta Phi, Sherry Ross hall, and Zeta hall; Sigma Kappa, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Canard club; Susan Campbell hall and Delta Tau Delta; Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma Ci, and Campbell co-op.

Living organizations are urged to start construction of their floats immediately in order to avoid what has previously been a mad, last-minute rush for noise producing apparatus.

Each living organization participating in the parade will be contacted personally by Richard Werschkul to coordinate the efforts of the noise parade committee with those of the members of the individual floats.

Goblins, Witches Not on Sked for Sick Boys, Gals

Sixteen students were recovering from serious sicknesses in the infirmary yesterday, bedecked in striped pajamas either the size of a small tent or little brother's shirt.

Hendricks hall had a monopoly on two of the wards for the day, with Jean Spearow, Anne Gildisheim, Virginia LeFors, Jean Goldsmith, and Charlotte Collins recovering from everything from poison oak to a hurt finger.

Missing Boy Tells Location

Post Card Sent by Cox Stills Rumor Of Auto Accident

Charles Cox, who disappeared late last Wednesday night while supposedly on his way to his home in Heppner, sent a card to his parents from Bisbee, Arizona, it was divulged last night.

The card, dated three days ago, clears up the possibility of an accident, but his exact whereabouts is still unknown. Investigation revealed that he equipped his car, a Mercury sedan with four new tires at the Union service station at Sixth and Willamette before leaving Eugene.

Cox was the object of a statewide hunt when he failed to arrive at Heppner. State police and searching parties have been scouring the steep slopes of the McKenzie pass where it was feared he had driven off the road and plunged his car down an embankment.

The card stated that he was traveling with another man and that he would be home in about a week.

University Students To Play Over KOAC

Barbara Hollis McMillan, soprano, and Marjorie Scobert, pianist, will present a short recital of classical compositions this afternoon at 2 o'clock over station KOAC, Corvallis, under the auspices of alumnae members of Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music honor society, according to Maud Densmore, who is in charge of arrangements.

Tschaikowsky's "None But the Lonely Know," and Strauss' "Morgen" will be sung by Mrs. McMillan. Miss Scobert will accompany her, and also offer two solo numbers, "Playfulness" by Thome, and "Chant D'Amour" by Paderewski.

Lovisa Young Ayers, contralto, will be featured on the first program in November, Miss Densmore said.

'Remember When' Theme of Signs; $15 Display Cost Limit

Scenes or events of previous years depicting the theme of "Remember When" will be used for living organization signs. Not more than $15 is to be spent for each display. All ideas must be turned in to Bob Corby at the educational activities office by noon Saturday, November 4.

Displays must be completely finished by 5 p.m. Friday, November 10, or they will be automatically disqualified. The signs must be left standing and illuminated until midnight Friday. An itemized expense list must be turned in at the educational activities office by Saturday noon, the day of the Oregon-Oregon State game. The prizes will be awarded during the intermission of the homecoming dance.

ROBERT CORBY,
Homecoming sign chairman

Gave Them Ideas for a Homecoming Theme

Dr. James Gilbert is giving Kenneth Shipley and Lillian Scott a few pointers on a homecoming theme. Dr. Gilbert originated this year's theme "Remember When" to add to his long list of homecoming slogans.

College Regalia Changes Little, Dirty Cords Tops, Scribe Says

By BETTY HAMILTON

True, wooden shoes have taken the place of women's fashionable boots, but sweaters and dirty cords continue to be popular. Pictures in old Emeralds reveal that the hip-length sweaters which the gals are sporting now, were worn a while back on the campus. Things really don't change so much. Let the alumni know they aren't strangers, but merely a part of the good old Oregon gang.

A bit of advice from the committee—if you have any problems, ask your alumni about them. They probably had the same troubles then and might give you a likely solution. You'll find that they will like to reminisce about their college life. Maybe you'll get some good pointers on how to get the grades or sumpin.

We Can Smoke Now
Back in the old days a woman was frowned on if she smoked in public, or at all.

Campus Always 'Snow White' Due To Soot Machine

What would the University of Oregon campus look like if all the soot from the roaring furnaces in the physical plant were allowed to pile up? It doesn't—that's true—why?

Among other interesting phenomena, Oregon possesses a little gun called a soot remover. Yes—it actually takes the soot out of the smoke that drifts so lazily across the campus when you're hurrying to class.

It is no doubt a boon to those light colored clothes, to that creamy complexion and a clean appearance in general to Oregon's campus.

Hulten to Speak Over KGO

"What is a good newspaper?" will be discussed by C. M. Hulten, assistant professor of journalism at the University of Oregon, over radio station KGO, tonight at 9:45.

Hulten, who is on a year's leave of absence, is studying for his master's degree, while serving as acting assistant professor at Stanford university. The program is heard weekly, features Stanford, and is sponsored by KGO.

Beginners to Receive Badminton Lessons In Gerlinger Tonight

Instruction for beginners will be offered by the Badminton club at its meeting tonight at 7:00 in Gerlinger hall under the direction of Miss Virginia Garrison, club adviser, and Jack Newton, president.

Anyone interested in badminton is invited.

The facilities in Gerlinger hall provide for two men's and two women's singles courts, two men's and two women's doubles courts, and three mixed doubles courts. Practice play is also scheduled for Thursday night.

A meet with Oregon State has been set for November 21, with other meets with Salem and the Portland schools scheduled.

Jim Frost Gets Ad Staff Post

Rita Wright Resigns Emerald Position; Parker Appointed

Jim Frost, sophomore in advertising, was recommended for the position of Emerald advertising manager to fill the vacancy caused by Rita Wright's resignation. George Luoma, Emerald manager announced last night. Luoma handed his recommendation to the educational activities board yesterday. The board's decision will be announced next week.

Rita Wright, who received her appointment last spring, tendered her resignation from the position of Emerald advertising manager due to the time demands of her position as advertising manager of a downtown women's store. Miss Wright plans to enter the field of advertising for women's stores.

Miss Wright expressed that she could not effectively carry the responsibilities of Emerald advertising manager with her duties at the downtown store. Although Miss Wright cannot meet the time demands of advertising manager, she will continue work as a member of the Emerald business staff.

Jim Frost began Emerald work last year and held the position of Friday advertising manager during part of the year. This year Frost again took over the duties of Emerald's Friday manager.

"Jim is one of our most outstanding staff members, and I am certain he can fully meet the requirements of advertising manager," Luoma said last night. Luoma also noted that under this year's program Emerald appointments made by himself, with the board's approval, are on a term-to-term basis.

Doug Parker will take over the reins of Friday advertising manager for this term. Luoma announced with the news of Frost's recommendation. Parker is a senior this year, and also an advertising major. "Doug has made a fine showing in Emerald activity," Luoma said. "He is taking over the responsibility of one of the Emerald's most important positions, that of handling local accounts," Luoma added.

Canceled Assembly Gives Students One-Hour Vacation

Oregon students will have a one-hour "vacation" this week on Thursday at 11 o'clock. This period, which is regularly set aside for student body assemblies, will be open for the first time since the assembly program got under way following the opening of school.

According to Karl W. Onthank, chairman of the assembly committee, a speaker had been contacted for the scheduled Thursday meeting but was unable to attend.

The ASUO will be in charge of the assembly for next week and Dr. Bruce Baxter, president of principal speaker for the following week's assembly, the last before the Thanksgiving holiday period.

Yeomen Elect White Secretary, Meet in Session With Orides

The Yeomen, independent men of the campus, elected Horace White Monday evening for their secretary for the following year.

A joint meeting of the Orides and Yeomen was held following the regular meetings and Miss Ethyl Sawyer, of the library browsing room, read to them excerpts from the play, "Of Thee I Sing." Light refreshments were served. Miss Janet Smith was also present.

Emerald Presents News Broadcasts Over KORE Weekly

The Emerald now takes its place with other leading daily papers in presenting its own radio newscasts. This afternoon at 2:45 the second weekly 15-minute Emerald-of-the-Air broadcast will be aired over KORE, local affiliate of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

News for this new feature is compiled from the office of the Emerald and from the University news bureau by Aerial Editors Alan Torbet and Bill Ralston.

Homecoming Theme Disclosed; Sign Motif Will Be Carried Out

'Remember When' Chosen to Bring Back Memories to Old Grads Who Will See Graphic Reminders of 'Good Old Days'

Remember when? Old grads will see graphic reminders of the old days at the homecoming weekend when all houses on the campus will be plastered with signs and displays designed to bring back fond memories of those "dear days now past and gone."

Bob Corby, committee head in charge of displays, has announced that "remember when" will be the prevailing theme that all displays must follow for the rapidly approaching weekend. The sign motif will be carried out at the dance, making "Old Oregon" the main idea when the alumni comes to Eugene.

Competition Keen

The living organizations will be on their mettle in preparation for the decorations, and competition will be fierce for the winner's cup. Last year Theta Chi took it in the men's division and the Alpha Gammas had the best display among sororities.

All ideas, which must follow the theme, are to be submitted to Corby at Mary Graham's office in the activities department in the Igloo by noon Saturday. If two houses turn in the same idea, the one submitted first will get the nod.

This allows one week to develop the displays. Five o'clock on the Friday before homecoming is the deadline for construction. All displays are to be completed by then or they will be automatically disqualified.

This year the expenditure for the displays has been stepped up to $15, an increase of $5 over the preceding year. An itemized list must be turned in to Corby at Mary Graham's office by noon Saturday.

Diversity of Ideas

All displays are to be left standing and illuminated until midnight Friday. Ideas can cover a number of things, such as the now outmoded practice of "hacking" freshmen for various offenses on the steps of Johnson hall.

The number one displays, as well as second and third places, will be announced at intermission time at the dance Saturday evening, which will feature Leon Mojica's band. Judges will be announced some time in the near future.

PE Majors Play Touch Football

Seventeen physical education majors are getting a practical application in their course on football coaching for the first time. They are now required to play the game at regular class periods in order to be prepared to coach it. The course is required for all senior majors who are not on the football squad, and was formulated by Ernest R. Knollin, professor of physical education.

Drafted from the coaching staff are Mike Mikulak and Vaughn Corley, assistant coaches, who are instructors for this course. The course which features many innovations found only in this school will be used as a model for the smaller colleges and high schools of the state.

SDX Meeting Set for Today

Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism honorary, will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in room 104, Journalism, to discuss plans for the banquets and contests planned for November and December. It was announced Tuesday night by George Pasero, president of the local chapter.

All committee members and heads of contests are urged to be present so that business can be quickly transacted, Pasero said. Professor James L. C. Ford, adviser to the group, will also speak to members. Roy Verstrom, Bill Grant, and Glenn Hasselrooth will give special reports.

A social period will close the meeting.

Emerald Staff Set for Change

Meeting Will Be Held Tonight for All Staff Members

A complete house cleaning will be in order when the Emerald workers meets at 7:30 tonight in room 105, journalism building, from which will be turned out a completely rejuvenated staff, Lyle Nelson, Emerald managing editor, announced last night.

In addition to making changes in the staff personnel, Nelson announced that he intended to make changes in the entire set-up so as to make it possible for more workers to hold responsible positions on the news staff.

There will undoubtedly be many jobs thrown open to journalism students who have never before had an opportunity to work on the paper, he said, while a thorough shakeup is slated for the present staff.

E. M. Pallett to Attend Portland Ceremony

Earl M. Pallett, University registrar and executive secretary, will attend the dedicatory ceremony at the new $271,000 state tuberculosis hospital in Portland today.

The new building, which will be completed by November 15, was financed in part by the family of the late Ex-Governor Julius L. Meier.

Among state notables who will be present at the program are Governor Charles A. Sprague, Secretary of State Earl Snell, and State Treasurer Walter Pearson.

C. Church Visits

Campbell Church was a visitor at the University library Tuesday. Mr. Church was going through Eugene and stopped between trains. Of particular interest to the caller was the library browsing room, which is dedicated to his late wife, Adelaide Church. It was the first time Mr. Church had seen the room since the dedication, and he expressed himself as well pleased with the appearance of the room and was especially gratified at the number of students making use of it.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Rev. Alden D. Kelley, secretary to the college work department of the Episcopal board of education, will meet with the Episcopal student group cabinet Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 at the home of Helen Lyles, student director. Dr. Kelley will speak at the church in the evening at 8 o'clock.

A covered-dish dinner (each person brings his favorite dish) will be given at Westminster tonight at 6 o'clock. The group will eat sitting around the fireplace, and afterwards discuss the weekly program.

The Badminton club will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Gerlinger hall.

Carnival Abolished By Council

AWS Will Be Host To Officers and Dean From OSC

By BETTY JANE BIGGS

The AWS council transacted the following business in their bi-monthly meeting yesterday:

1. Abolished future carnivals.
2. Made plans for a speaker for student body sponsored by AWS.
3. Discussed the meeting at which OSC officers of AWS and Dean of Women Kate Jamieson will be guests of honor.
4. Changed name of "dime crawl" to "nickle hop"; set date for November 21.
5. Plans elaborated for AWS western college convention.
6. Kwamas put in charge of "mum" sales.
7. Card party and Coed Capers set for winter term.

Although a profit between $200 or $300 was made on this year's carnival, judged the most successful one ever given, the AWS council at their regular bi-monthly meeting yesterday decided to abolish all future carnivals because of complaints from fraternities.

Pledge Dance Pondered
Instead of this project the council hopes to sponsor a pledge dance at the beginning of each year. Another benefit they hope to bring to the student body is a speaker such as Ruth Bryan Owen, who appeared on their behalf last year. Contacts are now being made to secure a lecture for this term.

Mrs. Kate Jamieson, dean of women at Oregon State College, and the AWS officers from Corvallis will be guests of the Oregon women students on November 14.

Arrangements have been made to have Gerry Gilmore, a freshman at Oregon State, speak on her European experiences. Miss Gilmore has attended school in Germany.

Farmer's Fling Set For Friday

Pink gingham, blue denims, fringed straw hats, and a hay-seedy appearance in general will be the last word in style at the "Farmers Frolic" to be given at Westminster house Friday night from 8 until 12.

The spirit of the party should equal nothing less than a good, old-fashioned house-warming, what with corn-husking contests among the girls and mending-bees among the fellows to give each a chance to display their skill.

Dancing will be the chief entertainment. Novelty numbers, including hill-billy songs by duets and quartets, a comic skit, a harmonica special, and other musical numbers will keep the evening lively.

Refreshments will be served later. All campus young people are invited. Frank Hodson, social chairman, said.
