

DUCK TRACKS

By GEORGE PASERO, Co-Sports Editor
Oregon Daily Emerald

With the Atherton report and the resultant curbs on methods of aiding athletes reverberating up and down the coast, one Dick Hyland, masterful and outspoken columnist of the Los Angeles Times, comes out with the smartest bit of criticism of the situation yet read by your correspondent.

Hyland, the man who presented UCLA with the boeing championship last fall as a result of conduct by Bruin rooters during the Oregon game, raps the professors for their part in the "you-must-not" decrees, suggests that these professors, high moguls of the Pacific Coast conference, spend every third year working for a living instead of profiting, so that they would at least begin to suspect that material and practical items have their place in this world as well as do their (quote) "fuzzy" theories . . . also that moralizing through proclamations is ineffective . . . that it's against human nature.

Whew! 600,000 Pages

Furthermore, Hyland charges the professorial grand moguls with "failing to recognize the laws of the state and federation of states under which we now live," and shouts to high heaven that the officials can't make their edicts "click."

Quoting Hyland: "The Grand Moguls hired an ex-G-Man to snoop for two years at a cost of $40,000, and acquire a flock of information regarding what was going on in their own colleges. This information, he placed, reputedly, in a 600,000-page report. My, oh, my! If this be education and efficiency, give me ignorance and waste. I know half a dozen sports writers on the Pacific coast who could sit in front of their typewriters and produce sufficient verified data on 10 pages to indicate and prove what has been taking place in the Pacific Coast conference for years. Putting the same information on 600,000 words is rank redundancy, simply repeating over and over what is already proven."

Hyland's Challenge

"At the moment your reporter is looking for a GOOD athlete. He will subsidize that athlete. He will be a good student, or he is not a good athlete, in my book. So his scholastic standing being equal to or above that of the average college undergraduate, he will get in no trouble on that score. He will go to a state college in the Pacific Coast conference, whichever one he picks. AND LET US SEE BY WHAT DENIAL OF HIS—AND MY—PRIVILEGES AND RIGHTS UNDER THE STATE AND FEDERAL CONSTITUTIONS, MR. EDWIN ATHERTON, COMMISSIONER FOR THE PROFESSORS, AND THE PROFESSORS, WILL PREVENT THAT BOY FROM COMPETING ON ATHLETIC TEAMS AT THAT COLLEGE SO LONG AS HE IS ELIGIBLE IN ALL OTHER WAYS EXCEPT THROUGH THE ACCEPTANCE OF FINANCIAL AID PROCURED THROUGH ME."

They're Still Tigers

No, Baseball High Commissioner Landis' "crack-down" on the Detroit Tiger's diamond organization doesn't affect the status of Bob Hardy, Eusher Smith, and Ford Mullen, the big three of Oregon's 1939 baseball club and all members of the Tiger chain now.

How do we know? Well, Dick Strite of the Register-Guard, in order to quiet rumors and speculation, wired back to the Chicago Associated Press bureau, and the answer stated definitely that no mention of the three players was made in the decision by Landis which cost the Detroit club some $500,000 in cold cash and players. The clubs they were affiliated with, Beaumont (Pitcher Hardy), and Lake Charles (Infielders Mullen and Smith), were mentioned in the ruling, however.

Who Said "Weak at the Boards?"

Just a few figures to show that it was the shooting and not the backboard work, as so many of us have opined, that beat the Ducks last Friday in their game with Oregon State. Fact is, these statistics, compiled by the McArthur court managers, show that the Ducks have been mighty effective at the glass-boards all year . . . in only one game, the final Rubenstein affair, have Hobby's boys been outclassed, and then it was excusable for the Ducks were dead on their feet after probably the longest road tour ever made by a collegiate hoop team. Certainly the longest of the year.

In the Oregon State game, the Oregons grabbed 27 rebounds to Oregon State's 30, this despite a height handicap. Shooting, however, was a different matter, the Ducks casting off 58 threes and canning only 8, a very poor 13.8 per cent. Contrast this with Oregon State's 13 for 34 tries, or 38.33 per cent.

The Idaho games were different stories as far as shooting was concerned, the Ducks hitting 17 for 56 and 20 for 72 while Idaho was connecting with 11 for 45 and 16 for 50.

At the boards in these two Vandal games, the Webfoots dominated completely, taking 41 rebounds in the first game to 18 for Idaho and 36 in the second game to 33. Not so bad for a team that was supposed to be weak in picking off rebounds.

Frosh Oppose Dallas Tonight

Roster Riddled by Foot Injuries As Warren's Yearlings Face Seventh Game in Valley City

By DON C. CAWLEY

With the Dallas high game slated for tonight, Honest John Warren will be forced to floor a team minus four of his regulars. Don Kirsch, John Tuttle, Warren Taylor, and Jake Werschkul will all be on the side lines as the yearlings face their seventh high school opponent at Dallas.

Kirsch and Tuttle are definitely out of the contest with injured ankles, Kerschkul has an injured foot, and Taylor has only an outside chance to play, having had six stitches taken in a mouth injury that he received in the scrimmage against the varsity.

Bubalo to Start

Warren plans to start Sidesinger and Bubalo at the forward slots, Wally Borrevik at center, and Reynolds and Baker at the guard posts. These five probable starters have been working quite well together during the past few scrimmages and should prove to be worthy opponents for the Dallas men.

The frosh record thus far stands at five wins and one loss. Their only defeat came at the hands of the Longview Lumberjacks last Saturday night in a game at Longview. Don Kirsch is the leading scorer on the team to date, closely followed by Wally Borrevik. Jake Werschkul, who has 27 points to his credit in only three games, has the highest average on the team. The scoring of the frosh thus far:

Kirsch	38
Borrevik	36
Taylor	31
Werschkul	27
Sidesinger	22
Tuttle	18
Reynolds	14
Bubalo	10
Baker	6
Fuhrman	6
McMahon	4
Graham	4
Lydegraf	4
Anderson	4
McKeavitt	2
Simpson	1

NOTICE
Sigma Delta Psi will hold a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in room 101, PE building.

Pledges Cris Madera, Ray Dickson, and Verlyn Wolfe are to be initiated, and all members must be there, according to President Jim Buck.

Duck Mermen Leave Friday For Husky Meet

8 Men Placed on Traveling Squad By Coach Cutler

A nine-man University of Oregon swimming team, Coach Russ Cutler, and Senior Manager Jim Selders will head north Friday afternoon at 12:25 for Seattle and the swim meet Saturday at 2 p.m. with the University of Washington.

Eight swimmers making the trip are definite, but the ninth man is still in doubt. Fighting it out for this position are Pierce Mallory, Harold Chung-Hoon, and Jim Mar-nie, freestylers.

Mallory Fast

Mallory, a letter-earner last year, is just a recent turnout whose experience puts him on par with the other two contestants, despite his few workouts. Mar-nie, varsity man last season who has been ill and worked out this week for the first time this term, is another speedy freestyler. Harold Chung-Hoon, a Honolulu boy, placed himself among varsity swimmers with his fast times in recent intersquad meets and in time trials.

Smith Out

A civil service examination, date of which cannot be changed, will keep Freestyler Jim Smith off the traveling squad for the Seattle trip.

Swimmers making up the squad will include Ralph Lafferty and Jack Dallas, breaststrokers; Gerald Huestis and Sherman Wetmore, backstrokers; Al Sndner and Ralph Cathey, divers; Jerry MacDonald and Dick Smith, freestylers.

Cutler said his team would arrive in Seattle Friday night at 9:20 and taxi immediately to the New Washington hotel. Following the meet Saturday afternoon, the team will attend the Oregon-Washington basketball game in the Husky pavilion. The return trip will start at 11:30 Saturday night and finish in Eugene at 11:55 a.m. Sunday.

Four Coed Teams Start Donut Play

Four teams take the floor today as coed intramural basketball gets under way. DG will meet Alpha Gam, at 5 in the inside gym, while Susie takes a stand against AOPi in the outside gym.

Thursday's games will start at 4 o'clock with the Alpha Chis and Tri Deltis playing in the inside gym. At five, Hendricks hall and Sigma Kappa will take over the inside floor as ADPi challenges Pi Phi in the outside gym.

Practices may be scheduled for Friday and heart checks must be posted at the infirmary before competing in any games.

Next week's schedule follows:
Tuesday, January 23 at 4 p.m.—Kappa vs. Orides, Coop vs. DG.
At 5—Zeta vs. Chi O, Theta vs. AOPi.
Wednesday at 5—Gamma Phi vs. Alpha Chi, Alpha Gam vs. Lucky Stars.
Thursday at 4—Susie vs. ADPi, Tri Delt vs. Kappa. At 5—Alpha Phi vs. Coop, Sigma Kappa vs. ZTA.

Big John

Here's John Dick, Oregon's veteran center, going up into the air to drop the ball through the hoop. He'll get plenty of chances to do just this Friday and Saturday when the Ducks play Washington at Seattle.

Kirkwood Defaults to Fijis; Scribes, Pi Kaps, DUs, Omegas, Sig Eps Bow In 'B' League Competition

By BERNIE ENGEL

Two routs and the first default of the season featured yesterday's intramural basketball "B" play.

Kirkwood co-op failed to show up and thus gave the Fijis a 1 to 0 victory, but Manager Al Samples plans to have a squad on hand for the next contest. Two defaults would cause loss of entrance points.

Phi Delta Theta made effective use of the fast break as they dropped the Scribes, a team composed of Emerald staff members, 36 to 13; Beta Theta Pi ran over Omega hall, 45 to 8, for the season's highest margin of victory; the Superchargers edged Sigma Phi Epsilon, 12 to 11; 668 club beat Pi Kappa Alpha, 10 to 8; and Canard club chastened the Delta Upsilon five, 18 to 7.

Lineups:

Phi Deltis (36) (13) Scribes
Lidstrom, 12 F Phelps
Schweiger, 10 F Wright
Dickson, 4 C Christianson
Feesley, 2 G Pasero
Dyer, 4 G Buchwach
Johnson, 4 S Nelson
Phillippi, S Watson
Arbuckle, S
Watson, S Parson
Valpiani, S

Betas Four H On

With Don Turner shaking his curls to tally 16 points, the Betas had a 20 to 5 advantage at the half and held the Omega hall men scoreless during the third frame while boosting their own score to 31. Tony Crish, Paul Beard, Les Werschkul, and Turner all played hang-up ball for the frat men.

Lineups:

Betas (45) (8) Omega
Turner, 16 F Maxwell
Werschkul, 17 F Cutler
Conrad, 4 C Rohrer
Hemow, 8 G Phelps
Beard, 4 G Inahara
Crish, 6 S Sever
Fisher, S
Craig, S
Hoff, S

Superchargers Win

The Supercharger-Sig Ep clash ended in a thrill. With the count 12 to 11 for the independents, the horn blew just as the referee called a foul on the chargers. Lee Reynolds took two shots, but the tension was too great, and he was unable to save his team. The Superchargers led 9 to 8 at the half.

Lineups:

DU (7) (18) Canard
Ripper, F 3, Herndon
Wagner, F Holcomb
Anderson, F 3, Bowerly
Leahy, 2 G 5, Bishop
Stuhr, G 6, Carr

'Rebuilt' Huskies, Ducks Await Clash

By KEN CHRISTIANSON
Coach "Uncle" Hec Edmundson, Washington coach, is having his troubles with that driving basketball team which finished second in division play to Oregon national champs last year.

The genial Husky mentor lost four of his last year's starters as did Coach Howard Hobson of the Webfoots. He has had to build his 1940 team around Big Bill McDonald, racy center and captain of the squad.

Both the Oregon and Washington lineup will feature new faces and forms compared to the squads floored last year. These two teams will continue their fast-breaking rivalry Friday and Saturday nights in Seattle's university pavilion. Oregon had to rebuild its team around John Dick, all-Western NCAA forward.

Captain George Gone

With the loss of Pat Dofsey, Roy Williamson, Dick Voelker, Harry Lockhart, and last but not least Captain George Ziegenfuss, Edmundson has been handicapped.

One of the "sparkplugs" of the team is Bob Dorr, returning letterman, who was out at the first of the season with a bad heart. He is back in the lineup now, but it is not known how long he will be able to stand the pace. McDonald provides most of the Washington height under the backboard.

One of the best men on the team is Sophomore Harry Nelson, all-state player from Utah. He is a high scorer, tall, and wears glasses which doesn't hamper his shooting eye.

Voelker Boys Set

The two Voelker boys, Jack and Bob, are probable starters for the weekend clash. Jack is a forward while Bob can play either forward or guard and is only a sophomore. Bob Lindh, another sophomore who plays forward, has been going well in games to date. He was an all-city choice in Seattle.

Against Minnesota, one of the drivingest of the driving teams, Washington boasted a four-inch height advantage, yet the Gophers ran over them. Washington was able to take but one of three games from the Minnesotans with a last-minute scoring spurge.

Ducks Scrimmage

Washington split with Washington State in their two first conference games. The Huskies took the first game with a one-point margin in an overtime period.

Hobson, in preparing his Ducks for their series with Washington, scrimmaged them against Ansel's Oregon's last night. He used all 15 of his squad against the ex-Oregons.

HOBBY'S BOYS

By LEN BALLIF

VIC TOWNSEND

Vic "Twinkletoes" Townsend they call him. Although he has been on the Oregon campus only five months, young Townsend has received more recognition for those "twinkletoes" than most students achieve in four years.

Vic first sprang into the limelight at the AWS carnival, when he won the jitterbug contest. Then came basketball, and Townsend won his way to the first string and proved he belonged there when Coach Hobson took the Ducks east for nine gruelling games.

"Purdue was the toughest of the teams we played," said Vic.

"Yeah," added John Dick, applying the finishing touches to a coke, "and Baltimore had the roughest. Those boys didn't fool around when they played basketball—they went right out and played football!"

Up With Berry

Vic is a transfer from Compton junior college, where he played basketball on the same team with Buck Berry and Dick Home two years ago. His present athletic status is that of a junior, although this is his first year at Oregon.

"Officiating varies all over the country," claimed Vic. "Contrary to some rumors, the officiating in our New York game with Long Island university was exceptionally good. In some parts of the country they call you for checking, in other parts they don't."

Although Townsend hails from Huntington Park, California, he said he likes Oregon weather, especially for its versatility. In the Ducks' first two conference games, Townsend scored 17 points, most of them the result of a fast-break followed by a never-miss cripple shot.

clared Hobson, "Our team didn't look too impressive."

The Oregon coach, Bob Officer, trainer; Lloyd Robbins, student manager, and an undetermined number of players will leave at 9:10 a.m. Thursday.
