Best Letter 'Home to Pop' Will Win Merchandise From Downtown Stores

Houses With Largest Percentage of Dads In Attendance at Weekend Celebration Will Receive Three Silver Award Cups

By securing a sheet of official Dad's Day stationery and writing a letter to their pops Friday at 4 o'clock, four students will be lucky and win prizes. A carbon copy must be sent to the educational activities office. The original will go home to Dad.

The incentive for drawing pops is a little different from that of last year. The idea is to tell fathers for themselves why "Little Joe's" winter term grades were not up to par. Last year's theme was to "sell" dads the campus in general.

UO Launches Charity Drive For Chinese

Goal Set at $300; Skull and Dagger, Kwama in Charge

With white and yellow tags reading, "I have shared with fellow Chinese students," leaving booths manned by white-clad Kwama and Skull and Dagger members and other student volunteers in increasing numbers yesterday, members of the campus drive for the Far Eastern Student Service fund last night were optimistic over reaching the $300 goal set earlier in the week.

Although definite checks had not been made, several houses reported nearly 100 per cent contributions of a dime or more, Tag Day Chairman Janet Morris reported.

Faced at first with a shortage of tags, the committee will go into the second day of the sale continuing organization sales as well as at the three booths on the campus. Yesterday students passing the booths at the Side, between Oregon and Commerce, and at the library, contributed more than $40 to the fund, Paul Sutley, executive secretary of the YMCA, said.

Student solicitors working under George Luoma and Anne Dean will continue contacting professors and students at the same time, Luoma said.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Westminster house will be host tonight at 6:30 o'clock to those who wish to listen to the "Town Meeting of the Air." Discussion of the topic will be held afterwards. Everyone is welcome, according to Frank McKinney, newly-appointed chairman.

International Relations club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the faculty room in Friendly. Robert Norton, Far Eastern commentator, will be present. All students are invited to attend.

Phi Beta will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Ingham, 2065 University, at 7:30. There will be a program by George Hopkins. Also refreshments. Everyone is expected to be present.

Amphibians who are going to OSC meet at the Side at 6 tonight with cars if possible and 50 cents for gas and ticket.

Nash on Vacation

Printer John Henry Nash left the University last week for a two months' vacation in Phoenix, Arizona.

News Speech To Be Given At 11 Today

Desmond Speaks; Talk Scheduled For Johnson Hall

A busy day is slated for Dr. Robert W. Desmond, professor of journalism at Northwestern University, who has been scheduled to talk on "The Impact of the Press on World Affairs" at 11 o'clock today in Guild theater, Johnson hall.

Arriving at 9 o'clock this morning, Dr. Desmond is to be met by members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity, who have arranged for his appearance on the campus.

At 11 o'clock he will speak in the Guild theater room in Johnson hall rather than in Chapman hall, where the talk was first set.

At 12:15 Dr. Desmond will be the honor guest at a luncheon sponsored by members of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity. About 35 people are expected to attend including Dr. Donald M. Erb, president of the University; William Tugman, editor of the Register-Guard; Art Prialux, editor of the News; and members of the University journalism staff.

After the luncheon to be held at the Anchorage, Dr. Desmond plans to visit classes and call on old acquaintances on the campus. He leaves Friday morning for the University of Washington where he will talk at the Newspaper institute.

In 1937 Dr. Desmond published a book, "The Press in World Affairs," unique in its field of journalism. Dr. Desmond was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1922, received his M.A. from the University of Minnesota, and his Ph.D. from the London School of Economics and Political Science in 1936. He taught journalism at Michigan, Minnesota, and Stanford before joining the staff of the Christian Science Monitor.

Other papers on which he has served are the Milwaukee Journal, the Paris edition of the New York Tribune, and the Miami Herald. On leave this year, he is professor of journalism at the University of California, Berkeley. He has been on the staff of the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University since 1938.

The talk is not confined to journalism students, says J. L. C. Ford, Sigma Delta Chi adviser. All students are welcome to attend.

Alum Back for Day

Alex Trackman, '24, was a Wednesday visitor to the campus. Mr. Trackman is now connected with the marketing division of the United States Department of Agriculture at San Francisco.

Files to Be Bound

A big job for the bindery developed recently when the files, some of them for a year, others for three months, of 139 newspapers were sent over from the library.

Aviation Examiners Will Meet Students Interested in Flying

An aviation officer and a medical officer from the U. S. aviation reserve base at Seattle, Washington, will arrive at the Eugene hotel from Corvallis Thursday evening and will be prepared to consult with and give examinations to young men interested in naval aviation.

Those interested should contact Captain L. B. Stedman, Jr., U. S. Marine corps reserve, at the Eugene hotel Thursday evening or Friday morning.

Enrollment Sets New January Record of 3415

Registrar's Office Announces Totals For Winter Term

Setting a new all-time high for winter term enrollment, January registration figures climbed to a 3415 total Saturday, C. L. Constance, assistant registrar, announced yesterday.

The number represents a nine per cent increase over last year when 3147 students registered, and, according to Mr. Constance, should reach 3500 by the end of this week. He stated that approximately 25 or 30 students are expected to enroll yet this term.

Of the 3415 total, men outnumbered women, 2128 to 1287. One thousand twenty freshmen, including 84 students entirely new to the University, have enrolled. This is an increase of 20 per cent over 1939, when 932 signed up for first-year work.

Business administration, largest professional school on the campus, showed a rise of eight per cent from 873 to 942, the registrar's report.

'Y' Religious Group To Hear O'Neill Play

"Lazarus Laughed," O'Neill play, will be reviewed by Ethel R. Sawyer, browsing room librarian, Thursday at 4 o'clock for the religion group at the YWCA, according to information from Jean Crites, head of the group.

The group meets every Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. and has had speakers from different denominations on religion.

'Night Must Fall' Cast Announced

Third Production Of Year Scheduled For February 9

Ed Burtenshaw as the modern villain, Dan, heads the cast of Emelyn Williams' "Night Must Fall," which is to be the third production of the University theater this year. It will be produced February 9, and is directed by Mrs. Ottilie T. Seybolt. This will be Burtenshaw's second role of this type, as he has taken a similar part in the production "Kind Lady," by Edward Chodorov.

Rose Ann Gibson is playing the part of Mrs. Bramson; Charlene Jackson has been cast in the role of Olivia Grayne; and Fred Waller will handle the part of Hubert Lauri.

Jeannette Hoss will portray the character, Nurse Libby; Lorraine Hixson, the part of Mrs. Terence; Mary Jane Horton that of Dora Parkoe; and Gene Edwards the part of Inspector Belsize.

'Sweet Swing' to Be Featured by Sykes

New to Oregon from San Francisco after a successful engagement at the Hawaiian Gardens, Curt Sykes and his orchestra will hold their Oregon premiere at the WAA formal, Winter Wonderland, this Saturday night, open to all ASUO students.

Sweet music is the Sykes specialty, with some swing mixed in to make a varied program. Nancy Neer is the featured vocalist, supplemented by several male vocals. The first trumpet players, Vin Fischer, will head the brass section.

'Varied Program'

Several prominent students recently heard the orchestra at an audition in Portland. Concerning it Helen Brugman said, "Curt Sykes is better than anything we've had on the campus this year, I think. At the audition he played a varied program, but specialized in sweet music."

"It is a mighty good band! I understand the orchestra originated at San Jose State college in California. They have an exclusive special arranger who used to be with a very well-known band but is now with Sykes alone," responded Bob Cherny.

Co-operatives Again Lead Campus in GPA

Student cooperatives once again lead campus organizations in grade point averages, C. L. Constance, assistant registrar, revealed yesterday when he announced standings of 46 University living groups for the fall term.

These women's co-ops rank one-two-three to lead all other Oregon houses. Highland house is tops on the list with a 2.82 average and is followed by University house with 2.768 and Hilyard house with 2.75. Canard club, boys' co-op, heads male organizations, having a house GPA of 2.53.

Second in standing among male groups is Sigma hall dorm with 2.51. Sigma Alpha Mu, 2.4121, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, 2.494, respectively lead in the fraternity and sorority divisions. Average for the entire University is 2.303.

George's Heart Still Belongs To Infirmary

"Absence Makes the Heart Grow Fonder... For Somebody Else" was squeaking on the nation's phonographs back when many fresh and soph were bouncing around in practical three-cornered pants. Therefore, may be sophomore George Schreiber doesn't remember it. Regardless, he probably doesn't believe it now.

Hospital authorities remember George as the lad who spent the major part of fall term under their care battling flu bugs. If George feels as green as he looked yesterday while bargaining for relief capsules at the infirmary, his pals over there might dust off a cot and drag out some glad rags, 'cause perhaps they're due for company.

It doesn't seem as though George's heart has grown fonder for somebody or something else, but still belongs to the infirmary.

Hospital enrollment fell off slightly over the past 24-hour period. Those confined include (Please turn to page four)

Robert Norton Will Discuss Far East

Far Eastern affairs will receive another authoritative probing to-night when Robert Norton, associate editor of "China Today," meets with the International Relations club at 7:30 in the faculty room, Friendly hall.

With the abrogation of the 1911 trade treaty with Japan taking effect next week, and the almost un-noticed change in the complexion of the war in China, affairs in the far Pacific are assuming an increasing importance to America. Mr. Norton is an authority on the Sino-Japanese situation and in his speaking engagements throughout the country has given understandable interpretations of important Asiatic developments almost overshadowed by the immediacy of the war in Europe.

Plans for the northwest regional conference of International Relations clubs will also be discussed and committees appointed. The conference is slated for February 23 and 24 on the University campus.

All interested students are urged to attend tonight's meeting.

Model Display Today Shows Potentialities Of Proposed Building

Johnson Hall's Basement Floor Is Scene Of Exhibit From 1-5 p.m.; Glenn Williams Heads All-Fresh Committee on Project

Setting up a slogan of "in union there is strength," the committee whose goal is a student union building for Oregon are prepared to show the student body what to expect of such a structure this afternoon when a union building display in room three, Johnson hall, is opened for exhibition.

Glenn Williams, freshman class treasurer, has been appointed chief of an all-freshman committee designed to carry on the work of the present group when graduation enforces their retirement, and has a council of fifteen freshmen ready to start work.

Sign Points Way

In the basement floor of Johnson, a sign proclaiming "student union room" points out the location of the display. Williams will lead off in the first hour as official commentator to explain various points of the exhibits, to be relieved by successive committee members. Hours for inspection are from one to five.

To the right of the door entering the room hangs a large sized campus development study drawn by Professor F. A. Cuthbert, University landscape architect. The illustration is a detailed study of proposed improvements in the university layout and involves several possible locations for the union building.

Shows Proposed Mall

Professor Cuthbert's drawing portrays the future Mall with the library as its focal point, and the suggested changes in the millrace tract. His plans outline a location for an amphitheater along the race for open air performances, such as concerts and the spring term canoe fete.

The displays include complete blue prints from the University of Nebraska student union and three pencil studies of proposed property development on the campus.

On the bulletin board along the wall is posted a complete report and financial setup of the famous Wisconsin union. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, said concerning the structure:

'Houses Into Homes'

"The student union building has turned houses of learning into houses of learning."

The Wisconsin plant has recreation rooms, soda fountains, and plenty of available dance floor space.

Betas, Thetas Vie for Sing Money

Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Alpha Theta glee clubs posted their bids for a slice of the $150 cash award going to winners of the interfraternity sing, when both voice groups appeared on the McDonald theater stage last night singing three songs apiece.

Beta's combine sang "Beta Girl," "Loving Cup," and its chapter song, while the Thetas offered "Theta Lips," "When the Moon is Shining Brightly," and Russ Morgan's theme, "Does Your Heart Beat for Me."

With the half-way mark already passed, this school year's sing contest is on the back stretch. Seventy-five dollars goes to the winning fraternity club and a similar amount to the top sorority group when prizes are awarded toward the year's close.

The contest is sponsored by the McDonald theater.

SDX Pledges To Be Initiated

Publishers, Dads Will Be Guests at Formal Breakfast

Formal initiation of fall pledges to Sigma Delta Chi will take place at a breakfast Sunday, January 28, last day of Dads' day, it was decided at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday.

Both publishers, who will be in attendance at the publishers' convention, and dads here for the weekend, will be guests at the initiation. Four initiates have signified their intentions of becoming members.

Lyle Nelson resigned as co-chairman of the SDX dance committee, and Ray Foster was appointed by President George Pasero to work with Jimmy Leonard on the annual affair. Leonard reported on available dates for early spring term, and it was decided that April 6 was a good date.

Leonard has corresponded with several big name orchestras, and has promised that a "name" band will play for the dance. A newspaper contest procedure was discussed by Phil Bladine and Pasero in connection with the convention January 26 and 27.

Westminster to Give Skate Party Friday; Students Welcome

A skating party was announced by Westminster house for Friday night. Persons wishing to come should sign up. The group will meet at the house at 6:45 p.m. Anyone with a car is urged to bring it for transportation.
