

DUCK TRACKS

By GEORGE PASERO Co-Sports Editor Oregon Daily Emerald

It's Friday night. Oregon is playing Washington at Seattle in the opener of a two-game series that may have a direct bearing on the northern division hoop title chase.

Mr. Average Eugene Fan hurries to his den, pulls up a chair, flicks on his radio, grabs his pipe and prepares to enjoy a good game. It's a grand feeling, you bet.

The radio warms up, and Mr. Fan turns the dial to KORE (Pushes the button, if you like). Music pours forth. "What, no game?" bellows Gus Fan (From here on we'll just call him Gus to facilitate matters.)

"Who the heck is broadcasting it. Somebody's gotta. Quick, where's the paper? Oh, only station listing it is a Seattle one, 1120 kilocycles." The worried look leaves Gus' face and tunes in to the Puget Sound city.

But right here is the rub. Now, Gus, like so many other fans, has only a five-tube set which does all right for picking up Eugene, Salt Lake City, California, and even Portland. Seattle, however, is a horse of a different color. For some reason, probably because of broken waves, stations of this city are hard to dial in.

Nothing Worse Well, getting back to Gus. He pours on the volume, and does pick up the game, or what he thinks is the game. But along with it he gets some dame who thinks she's a "catch" for the Metropolitan opera, a brass band that does a poor job of Artie Shaw-ing, and a couple of hockey games.

Well, Townsend whips one through, says the announcer. Oregon is hot. Townsend cans another. Then the soprano hits a high C. Out of nowhere comes the blare of a cornet. Someone gives the puck a jab with a hockey stick. Then Townsend misses one. What a ball game! Come on Seabiscuit, "cut the rug, chillun." Shoot, Townsend!

What a mess! Now there are worse things in this world for Gus than a jumbled ball game, but on this particular night Gus can't think of them. It's a good thing that Monday brings a new week and a calm, sane approach once again.

But getting back to Gus. He's regusted. Vociferates a bit and then, "Heck with it, I'm going to the show."

A Few Facts So, for you fans who couldn't get the game Friday and didn't even bother to tune in Saturday, here are a few facts, gathered from McArthur court, from Coach Hobson, and from members of the swimming team:

Oregon's "little" team of Red McNeely, Ted Sarpola, John Dick, Matt Pavulunas, and Vic Townsend opened the Friday night contest, a tough ball game, the Ducks losing 39 to 31.

Saturday night Coach Hobson completely revamped his lineup, starting Archie Marshik, six-seven center, and Hank Anderson, six-seven forward. John Dick, regular center, moved back to his old forward spot, and Porky Andrews, husky ex-footballer, ousted Matt Pavulunas at guard.

This lineup clicked and how! The Ducks won 47 to 32, leading at halftime, 27 to 14. . . . Townsend was top man with 13 points, followed by Dick with 12, Anderson with 9, and Marshik with 7. . . . Marshik played the whole game and turned in a fine performance at the boards, according to Coach Hobson.

Big Hank Connects Anderson, too, looked good . . . until he became too tired. . . . Hank scored four field goals in the first half. . . . Matt Pavulunas still hasn't hit his stride, and neither has Ted Sarpola. . . . Red McNeely played his usual steady game. . . .

With a changed lineup on Washington's tricky floor, Oregon's basketball quintet completely dominated the game Saturday night to score a 47 to 32 victory over Coach "Hee" Edmundson's Huskies to even the two-game series. Washington won Friday night to break a seven-game Oregon jinx. The win Saturday put the Ducks in a tie with Washington State for second place.

The Duck starters, John Dick, Hank Anderson, Archie Marshik, Vic Townsend, and George Andrews, made a combination that Coach "Hobby" Hobson had not even used in practice, much less in a game. Townsend was high scorer with 13 points. Dick trod on his heels with 12.

With his two six foot seven and one six foot four giants in the game, Hobson had a six foot three plus height average, his tallest team yet fielded.

Long Arms Help The long arms of Dick, Marshik, and Anderson told the story on rebound shots and taking the ball off the backboard. Oregon took an early lead on a basket by Dick. The Huskies tied the count, but the Webfoots pulled away and were never headed.

Oregon led 27 to 14 at the half-time intermission and opened up with more for a 17-point margin early in the second period. Washington began to shoot wildly late in the game.

The towering Ducks arrived on the Oregon campus Sunday, but did not practice till last night. Hobson shoved his charges through a fast intersquad practice and worked on plays for the visiting Huskies.

Washington is scheduled to re-play the visit Friday and Saturday for the feature of the annual "Dad's Day" celebration.

Summary table for the game with columns for player names and statistics.

COED DONUT BALL

Four games are scheduled for today and five for the rest of this week.

Tuesday at 4 p.m.: Alpha Chi O vs. Tri Delt; Co-op vs. DG, outdoor gym.

5 p.m. ZTA vs. Chi O; Theta vs. AOPi, outdoor.

Wednesday at 5 p.m.: Gamma Phi vs. Alpha Chi O.

Thursday at 4 p.m.: Susie vs. AOPi; Tri-Delt vs. Kappa, outdoor.

5 p.m. Alpha Chi vs. Co-op; Sigma Kappa vs. ZTA, outdoor.

As for John Dick, he tops northern division scorers with 10.5 average.

Statistics show clearly the trends of the games. . . . Friday night, Washington had a decided shooting edge, firing away 70 times and hitting 21, a .292 percentage. . . . The Ducks, for their part, sank 14 for 70, or .200. . . . Rebounds were about even.

In the second contest, the Ducks dominated in all departments hitting 15 for 67 (.224), while the Huskies connected for 13 for 68 (.191). At the backboards, the Ducks were in command.

Webfoot Shortstop Signs Professional Ball Contract

Mallory Goes to Angeles

Elmer Mallory, Oregon's most promising shortstop since Joe Gordon, signed a contract recently to play professional baseball with the Los Angeles team of the coast league. Mallory had two more years of eligibility when he made the decision to turn pro.

Pi Kaps, 668s, Yeomen Win 'B' Donut Basketball Games With Low Scores Common

By BERNIE ENGEL

Local intramural basketball games are noted for their low scores but yesterday's fracas between Pi Kappa Alpha and Delta Tau Delta set some sort of a record. The Deltas were held to no field goals and only two foulshots.

Sparked by chunky Bill Moses, the Pi Kaps (Bs) rolled up 10 points in the first half and went on to earn 15 counters. The 668 dropped the Sigma Alpha Epsilon (Bs) 11 to 7 and the Yeomen seconds stopped Zeta hall 16 to 8 in the day's other donut contests.

Earl Matze made both of the Deltas' foul shots. He broke the scoreless drought with a successful toss early in the fourth quarter; with five seconds to go he sank another.

Lineups: Pi Kaps (15) Richmond, F. Yantis Wilson, 3. F. Burton Jacobson, C. Siewert McKenzie, 4. G. 2, aize Yancey, 4. G. Evans

Substitutions: Pi Kaps—Churney 2, Rex 2, Dunstead, Moses, Deltas—Ambrose, Skelley, Daniels, Eckleman, Foster, Bates.

668 Wins The boarding house lads had a 4 to 3 edge over the SAEs at the half and were leading 9 to 7 as the game went into the last quarter. The first half was a whistling scramble; the latter frame

Los Angeles Gets Mallory

By GEORGE PASERO Elmer (Mal) Mallory, star sophomore shortstop of Oregon's 1939 northern division baseball champions, yesterday announced that he had signed a contract to play professional baseball for the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific coast league.

Mallory, the fifth member of Coach Howard Hobson's flashy champs to join the pro ranks, is the second Duck tosser to sign up without completing his collegiate eligibility.

Infielders Ford Mullen and Gale (Busher) Smith and Pitcher Bob Hardy, seniors, all penned Detroit Tiger contracts last spring. Wellington (Wimpy) Quinn, a junior and captain-elect of the 1940 team, became a regular third baseman of Bob Brown's Vancouver club of the Western International league.

Best Since Gordon Considered the finest shortstop prospect since Joe Gordon cavorted on the Webfoot diamond, Mallory was signed by Dutch Ruether, Chicago Cub and Angel scout. He is to receive a $1,000 bonus when he reports to Los Angeles for spring training next month.

A Junction City youth, Mallory has played a year for Eugene in the Oregon State league, a season with John Warren's frosh club, and another on the Hobson varsity. Two summers he spent at Payette, Idaho, starring in the fast Idaho semi-pro league. At Payette last season, he hit .373. He is 19 years old, five feet, eight inches tall, and weighs 165 pounds.

Yearling Hoopsters Win Two Contests

Oregon's yearling basketball team chalked up two more victories this weekend when they defeated The Dalles high school and the Portland "Y-Golds", on their third road trip of the season. The young Ducklings defeated The Dalles 67-36, and the "Y-Golds" 42-31. Borrevik led the scoring parade both nights, scoring 22 points against The Dalles and 12 points against the Portland outfit.

The team left Eugene with four or the five starters slightly injured and the possibility of their playing in doubt. Kirsch, Tuttle, and Taylor were all able to play and the only injured man who spent the entire time on the bench was Jake Werschkul, the giant forward.

Frosh State Two The frosh hoopsters now have five days of practice ahead of them before they meet Dallas high here Friday night and the Multnomah club intermediates here Saturday night. Dallas is considered one of the top high school quintets in the state and it will be the second time that the frosh have encountered the Dallas "Dragons."

Summary of Saturday night's game with the "Y-Golds": Frosh (42) (31) "Y-Golds" Oliver, 2. F. 12, Darby Sidesinger, 4. F. 3, Main Borrevik, 12. C. 3, Lynestein Kirsch, 7. G. 5, Smith Tuttle, 3. G. 3, Ellsworth Taylor, 10. S. 1, Pendergass Reynolds, 4. S. 2, Howe Bubalo. S. 2, Partlow McMahon. S. Hodgen

Suzu Downs AOPi Size counted last night when the Susan Campbell basketball sextet defeated the AOPis 25 to 9. The AOPis were handicapped all through the game by their diminutive size as compared with the height of the Suzies. Susan Campbell took the lead early in the game and was never headed.

Duck Swimmers Sink Huskies

Oregon Trips Titlists, 44-32

Macdonald, Dallas, Wetmore Star in Washington Meet

By PAUL McCARTY

Fifteen hundred excited swim fans watched the University of Oregon upset the Washington Huskies Saturday night 44 to 32 in a thrill packed exhibition of speed and form. The underdog Webfoot swimmers, who were given little chance to defeat the defending Washington champions, crawled out of the Seattle tank with six firsts out of nine events.

Jack Dallas, Oregon's record-breaking junior, took his special event, the 200-yard backstroke, with a 30-foot lead over Ralph Lafferty, another Oregon swimmer. Time for Dallas was 2:34.3. A cold prevented him from making better time.

Macdonald Wins Twice Jerry Macdonald, whom Seattle described as the big sophomore prospect of intramural fame, came through with wins in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. The entire Oregon swimming team was rooting for Macdonald in this race, but no one was more enthusiastic in their yelling than Jerry's parents who were in the stands.

Oregon placed one-two in the 150-yard backstroke, with Sherm Wetmore, who along with Dallas is the other half of the Long Beach twins, finishing ahead of teammate Gerald Huestis, little Eugene sophomore.

Results of the meet were as follows: 200-yard medley—Won by Oregon—(Wetmore, Dallas, and Mallory)—time 3:12.8. 220-yard free style—Won by Bockman, Washington; second, Goldberg, Washington; third, Smith, Oregon. Time, 2:22. 50-yard freestyle—Won by Macdonald, Oregon; second, Hyatt,

Tennis

Russ Cutler has scheduled a meeting of all frosh and varsity tennis men at 7:30 tonight in room 122 of the PE building. Cutler stated that the meeting is to discuss matters of the team.

Washington; third, Becker, Washington. Time, :24.6.

Diving—Won by Athens, Washington; second, Cathey, Oregon; third, Swarz, Washington.

100-freestyle—Won by Macdonald, Oregon; second, Bockman, Washington; third, Becker, Washington. Time, :54.8.

150-yard backstroke—Won by Wetmore, Oregon; second, Huestis, Oregon; third and fourth, Koke and Hoeppen, Washington. Time, 1:40.4.

200-yard breaststroke—Won by Dallas, Oregon; second, Lafferty, Oregon; third, Yake, Washington. Time, 2:34.3.

400-yard freestyle—Won by Bockman, Washington; second, Goldberg, Washington; third, Huestis, Oregon. Time, 5:21.5.

400-yard freestyle relay—Won by Oregon (Smith, Mallory, Wetmore, and Macdonald).

Boxing Smoker for Wednesday Night

John "Buck" Berry, halfback on Oregon's football team will share the limelight with Jim Manley Wednesday night when the two meet in the main event of a 16-bout program of boxing and wrestling put on by the varsity fighting forces.

Another match that promises thrills will be the Pete Riley-Martin Schedler bout. Riley is ineligible for the varsity, having transferred from Oregon State last fall, so the outcome will have no bearing on the team selection. Schedler is a clever boxer and expects to give Riley plenty of trouble with his lashing left jab. Jim Harris, another footballer, will see action against G. A. Smith in the 167-pound class.

Jack Fruit is slated to try out his damaging body punches against Warren Phillips. Other matches are: 130 lbs. Dick Jackson vs. Duke Warner; 155 lbs.—Bob Flavell vs. Wally Johnson; 150 lbs.—Ken Power vs. Herb Anderson; heavyweight—Hank Greenberg vs. R. C. Ashcom.

Admission will be granted to student body card holders.

Mat Finalists Meet Wednesday

Nudelman Battles 1939 Champion in Feature Match

Followers of the grunt and groan sport will get a chance to view the varsity wrestlers for this year, when the final elimination for places on the first team is held at McArthur court Wednesday night.

The finalists will be selected from the following matmen: 118-pound class: Wendell Haley; 135-pound class, Paul Logan, Robert Foster, Ernie Faust, Francis Nickerson; 145-pound class—Harold Schluter, Masao Hayashi, Waldo Caulfield, Burt Duke; 155-pound class—Mort Myers, Emil Ek; 165-pound class—Earl Jeans, Ray Foster; 175-pound class—Vic Nudelman; heavyweight—Glenn Carroll, Willie Williams, Harold Kaschko.

Last year's mat champion, Dale Peterson, will wrestle 175-pound Vic Nudelman in the feature match of this week and Monday of next week to determine the men who will compete in Wednesday's finals.

Ski Club to Hold First Meeting of Year Tonight

The first meeting of the University ski club this year will get underway in room 105 Commerce tonight at 7:30 p.m. With President Norm Holt presiding, the skiers will elect new officers for the coming year and discuss final plans for a trip to Hand Lake Sunday.

Last year was the first year for the campus club and the idea clicked with the followers of the snow sport. The club made many trips available to members.

"Anyone and everyone interested in skiing is urged to attend tonight's meeting," said Holt. Plans will be discussed at this meeting to show some of the club's collection of motion pictures.

"Alabama Kid"

That Lem-ola dispensing kid, "Alabama," is going along with Prof. Dahlberg's symposium team to tour the country this term. People go into Hersh's place just to hear "Bam speel out that "May I help you?" spiced with a decided southern flavor, the enchantment just flows out. Potential symposium audiences are bound to like him, even if they don't agree with his subject.
