Students to Hear Dr. Harold J. Noble

Address Will Concern U.S.-Japanese Trade

Oregon History Professor, on Leave of Absence, Returns for ASUO Assembly At 11 a.m. in Gerlinger Hall

Stressing the economic importance of Japanese-American trade pacts which expire at midnight, Dr. Harold J. Noble, Oregon professor of history, will reveal an inside story of international relations this morning, when he addresses University students in Gerlinger hall at 11 a.m.

Dr. Noble will speak on, "Japan and the United States" and will summarize one year of study and teaching on the Oriental peninsula of Korea. He left the Far East last December and at present is on a speaking tour of the western states.

Japanese Pacts
According to Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, Dr. Noble will discuss various phases of America's long-time pacts with the Japanese. He is expected to point out some of the complications that may arise from non-renewal of the agreements and show why the United States is not anxious to continue the present setup on permanent basis.

Born in Korea
Dr. Noble, in addition to the past one year, has spent a large part of his life in Japan and is well acquainted with the people and their language. He was born in Korea, son of a missionary, and has come in close contact with Oriental customs. His past year's study has been at the University of Tokyo, where he received a Rockefeller Foundation scholarship.
Next fall Dr. Noble is expected to return to the Oregon teaching staff. He has taught at the University over five years since receiving his Ph.D. degree at the University of California, Berkeley.

OSC Officers Will Attend Military Ball

Invitation Is First Of Such Extended; Governor Coming

Governor Charles A. Sprague will escort Oregon's "Little Colonel" through an arch of crossed sabers at Scabbard and Blade's Military ball February 3.

The Oregon State college ROTC has been invited to attend, marking the first time that this courtesy has passed between the two schools. Col. H. B. Keene, Lieutenant-Col. W. H. Wadsworth, and Col. E. M. Sloan of the Oregon State infantry department will represent the military faculty at the dance.

"Bob Mitchell's orchestra has been signed to play for the ROTC convention, and will furnish the necessary music for all the marches of the evening," said Harry Milne, captain of the military honorary. There will be a sizeable collection of honored guests at the ball, according to advance reports from the dance committee.

Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Sprague will be present. Others include Major-General Charles H. Martin; Chancellor and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter; Dr. and Mrs. Donald M. Erb; Colonel Robert M. Lyon, commanding officer of the University ROTC; Col. E. V. D. Murphy, U. S. Army retired; Col. H. C. Dempewolf of the reserve officers; Major J. W. Crissy, Major A. L. Morris, and Major H. L. Barrett of the University ROTC; Major Carlton E. Spencer, director of civil aeronautics training; Dr. E. C. Waller of the national guard; Captain Kenneth Dalton of the Portland reserve officers, and Captain George Spilver of the Lane county reserve officers.

'First Mate Bob' Will Speak Tonight

"First Mate Bob" of the Haven of Rest radio program, will speak at the Eugene Baptist church tonight at 7:30 p.m., the church committee announced yesterday.

"First Mate Bob" has appeared in Eugene several times and most recently addressed a gathering of 5000 people in McArthur court. Included on this evening's program will be a Minute Man quartet composed of Rollin Calkin, John Harms, Estley Schick, and Gordon Frazee.

All interested students are invited to attend.

Dr. Gage to Speak At Portland Realty Board Luncheon

Dr. D. D. Gage, associate professor of business administration, will speak on "Title Problems in the Selling of Real Estate" this Friday at a noon luncheon meeting of the Portland Realty board in the Imperial hotel.

Professor Gage will point out how selling real estate is unlike selling other commodities, as even after the buyer and seller have agreed upon a price, there is always the question of whether or not the seller can furnish a title to the property.

Dads Assured of a Good Dinner

Librarian, 1891 Tells of Rise To Library, 1940

The recent visit of Miss Dora Scott, first full-time librarian of the University, brought to light an old report by Miss Scott which gives a good picture of the early library conditions here.

Miss Scott who now lives in San Francisco came to Oregon in 1891 when the library was in Villard hall and boasted 3916 volumes. In 1893 the library was moved back to Deady hall where it had been originally.

Librarian from 1891 to 1896, Miss Scott bared her troubles to the state board in a report of September 21, 1891. She mentions cataloging in the dictionary system all the books under her care and publishing 300 copies of a list of those books.

Concert Series Being Lined up For Next Year

Educational Board Listing Probable Artist Attractions

Already anticipating next year's ASUO concert series the educational activities board met yesterday afternoon to decide on probable immediate booking of at least one of the prospective attractions.

Occasion for the meeting was the fact that the board had two choices for their list which would have to be decided and wired within a day or so. Accordingly, one was chosen, and the result of telegraph dickerings will be revealed when the complete list is announced.

Quick action was necessary in order to alleviate one of the perennial problems of the board in arranging attractions, namely the arranging of suitable dates. The reason many outstanding attractions never see their names on the ASUO list is because schedules cannot be made to coincide.

The one choice was the only decision made at the meeting. Work of lining up next year's concert slate now complicated by the addition of a new inflexible universal fee, will be gone into more fully at the next meeting.

The new fee setup came in for considerable inconclusive discussion. Eight faculty members, headed by President D. M. Erb, and two students were present. Only missing members were J. O. Lindstrom and Jeannette Hafner.

Dads Will Be Entertained In Villard Hall

Novelties Program To Be Featured Saturday

From 4 to 5 Saturday afternoon, Oregon students will show that Hollywood has nothing on them when they present a novelty program for their Dads.

Arrangements are being made to move the entertainment from the Music building where it was formerly scheduled to the Villard assembly hall.

'Orphans', Too
Students who are "orphaned" this weekend because their parents were unable to attend this 13th annual Dads visit are urged by John Cavanagh, general chairman, to attend the program anyway.

"We are planning a musical program spiked with humorous skits, readings, dances—in other words—just a real good variety of numbers," Pat Taylor, chairman, stated, "so that each talented student may have a chance to take part in entertaining the Dads."

Joe Gurley will be master of (Please turn to page three)

Treece Fiddles (By Request) as Cavanagh Burns

Walker Treece, Dads' Day hospitality chairman, probably overdid "warming-up" exercises for his position, got ultra-hospitable, and poured out a hearty "Welcome Home!" to the wrong "insect." Anyway, he's holding down a berth on the infirmary's "sickaroo" squad.

However, the boy who has "bugs" on the bean is John Cavanagh, Dads' Day head. John's poring over Houdini books hoping to discover how the deceased escape artist went through blank walls. If John does find out, observers say, he'll "spring" his hospitalized hospitality-gusher and make the infirmary's walls, visiting ban, et al, look like a wet sack.

A new lawn will soon be planted in the plowed area next to the Murray Warner art museum.

F.M. Christianson Directs Famed St. Olaf Choir to Be Heard Here Next Tuesday

Sans hundreds of years of tradition and background, its home a Lutheran college of 1200 in Northfield, Minnesota, but known musically from the United States to Europe and back, Conductor F. Melius Christiansen's St. Olaf choir makes its debut in Eugene after 29 years of concert touring. The 70-voiced a cappella group, with its repertoire of religious and folk music, performs in the University's Igloo, feature daily except Sundays. Participation in the singing organization is extracurricular.

Studies in Leipzig
Conductor Christiansen, Norwegian born, came to America at the age of 17, taught in cities of the middle west later, then journeyed to Leipzig, Germany, for continued study in music prior to assuming his present position at St. Olaf college.

Ticket sale is already under way for the concert next Tuesday. Tickets may be purchased in the Educational Activities office by those not holding ASUO cards. Reserved seats are tagged 75 cents, $1, and $1.25. General admission is 50 cents. An ASUO card will admit the bearer.

Five Air Trips Will Shower On Oregon Dads

Leaflets to Fall From Airplanes At 3:30 Saturday

Air trips over the campus will be the value of five souvenir leaflets signed by Flying school instructors, to be released from the sky at 3:30 Saturday in honor of the Dads, reports John Cavanagh, Dads' Day chairman.

The student or Dad who picks up an autographed copy from the 2000 to descend campus-ward as all five planes in Oregon's flying course fill the air with leaflets is eligible for the flight. It would be especially fitting, the committee believes, if a Dad should get the chance to see the campus from a bird's-eye view.

Fly in Formation
Arrangements are complete with the Dads' Day committee and Carlton E. Spencer, head of the civil pilot's training course at Oregon. The planes are to fly in mass formation releasing leaflets as souvenirs of the first flight of this kind ever attempted by the Oregon school, Mr. Spencer stated.

To Check Currents
The Cub trainers will make a pre-flight check-up of prevailing air currents to determine the best points for release of the leaflets. Flying yellow and green streamers, the planes are to circle at 600 feet as a special exhibition in honor of the Dads. Special permission has been granted by the University to strew the leaflets over the campus. At 3:45, immediately following the flight, Mr. Spencer will address the Dads in the music school auditorium.

New Book of Homer Collection in Library 'Delights Ladies'

A new book in the Homer collection in the library, of interest to men as well as women in spite of its feminine title, is "Delights for Ladies" written by Sir Hugh Plat and first printed in 1602 in London.

The "Delights for Ladies" are recipes for preparations to adorn their persons, tables, closets, beauty, banquets, and perfumes. Nowadays they are bought in a drug-store without half the work mentioned therein.

This copy of the book was printed by Violet and Hal W. Trovillion at their private press in Herrin, Illinois.

UO Official Answers Questions of Students On Increase in Fees

Earl M. Pallett Explains New 'Incidental' Charges Raised to $7 Per Term to Replace Previous $5; ASUO Cards Will Be Lowered

By HELEN ANGELL
Answering puzzled queries of undergraduates concerning the increase of college incidental fees in Oregon from $5 to $7 a term, Registrar E. M. Pallett last night explained that the new system will "constitute no increase at all in costs for nearly 70 per cent of the student body."

While the fees will be increased $2 each term, or $6 during the year, the price of the University student body card will correspondingly move down to $9 for the whole year. Since about 70 per cent of the student body now buy ASUO cards, no change in their college budget will be noted.

"The state board feels that certain extra-curricular activities now paid for out of that voluntary ASUO fee should be paid for by the whole school since they are an intrinsic part of a University education," Pallett explained.

Activities Included
Included in this group of activities now supported by the Associated students and henceforth by the University as a whole, will be the Greater Artists concert series, part of the Emerald subscription intake, salaries of educational activities employees, symposium trips, etc., the registrar said.

On the heels of the state board action Tuesday, Oregon's ASUO executive committee decided to meet today to clarify just how the administration of this new fund will be handled, and the Associated students' relation to it. University President Donald M. Erb has been asked to be present to explain the situation as it affects the finances of ASUO.

OSU Also Affected
The fee increase levied by the state board of higher education at their Portland meeting is not limited to the University, since a similar $2 a term increase has been voted for Oregon State college. There, too, the college proper will make certain Associated students activities a definite part of the curricular setup.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

The Daly Scholarship club will meet at the Anchorage at noon today.

Kwama will meet today at 5 o'clock at the College Side. Important. Please bring dues.

Students interested in national affairs will meet at the Westminister house tonight at 6:30 to hear prominent men discuss the question "Should We Support President Roosevelt's National Defense Plan" which will be the topic of "The Town Hall of the Air" program.

Because of the concert being given by the St. Olaf choir next Tuesday, the fireside meeting in the browsing room will be at 7 in the evening instead of 7:30. Miss Ethel Sawyer, browsing room librarian, will read the dramatic poetry of Edgar Arlington Robinson.

A meeting of the upperclass student union committee has been called for 1 o'clock in the student union room.

Christian Science organization at the University of Oregon will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the YWCA bungalow.

Phi Beta meets tonight at 7:15 in Alumni room of Gerlinger. Both members and pledges are to be present. A program will be presented.

Amphibians will hold an important meeting in Gerlinger hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

All committee chairmen for the AWS convention are asked to attend the meeting to be held today at 4 o'clock in the Side in the upstairs room.

Students to Speak At Triangle Lake

Three speech students will talk before the Triangle lake CCC camp next week. J. L. Casteel, director of the speech division, has announced.

The students to go are Charles Devereaux and Leonard Clark who will speak on "The Problems of Distribution" and Dorothy Durkee who will give a humorous reading.

Press Confab Opens Today At University

22nd Annual Meet Is Three-Day Fete; Over 100 to Attend

Over 100 Oregon newspaper men will open their twenty-second annual press conference at the University journalism school this afternoon at 2 p.m. when members of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers association gather at the Eugene hotel for a budget committee meeting.

This year's conference will last three days from Thursday, January 25 through Saturday, January 27. Complete program for the conclave was announced yesterday by Harris Ellsworth, convention president.

Today's schedule, in addition to the budget meeting, will include a 3 o'clock gathering in the Eugene hotel of the board of directors of the publishers association. Conferences have been planned both Friday and Saturday with special dinner banquets.

Highlight of the program will come Friday when Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic honorary, with the help of a conference committee, announces winner of the Hal E. Hoss cup for the best Oregon weekly newspaper with a circulation of under 1000.

The cup is now in possession of the Redmond Spokesman, a paper which received it last year for the third time. Joe C. Brown and Mary Brown are publishers of the Spokesman.

Sigma Delta Chi members will judge the papers. Committee in charge this year includes, George Pasero, SDX prexy, Elbert Hawkins, and Phil Bladine. The conference committee will be composed of R. C. Hall, manager of the University press, and two daily paper publishers.

Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, will take active part in the program, entertaining ladies attending the conference at Gerlinger Friday afternoon. They will help with registration and meeting of members today.

College Traditions Told at Y Luncheon

With "Fun and Frolic on Other Campuses" as her topic, Mrs. E. E. DeCou, acting executive of the YWCA, spoke at the Dill Pickle club Wednesday at their weekly fireside luncheon.

Mrs. DeCou told of the various traditions and celebrations she recently viewed on college campuses all over this country and in Europe. As a member of the national board of the YWCA for the past two years, Mrs. DeCou has attended a national board meeting in New York, as well as regional meetings in Spokane and Asilomar, Calif. She is now acting as executive secretary to take the place of Mrs. John Stark Evans, who is ill.

Mrs. DeCou is the wife of Dr. E. E. DeCou, professor of the mathematics department, and a resident of Eugene.

Jewett Speech Subjects Listed

Friday Is Deadline For Topics; Prizes Again $15, $10, $5

Friday is the last day to turn in speech topics for winter term Jewett speech contest, according to J. L. Casteel, speech division director.

The subjects are to be of the speaker's own choosing but they must have the approval of a member of the speech department staff. A list of proposed subjects has been posted on the bulletin board.

This term's addresses will be extemporaneous and will advocate a policy, proposal or point of view with regard to the subject chosen. The speech will be limited to 10 minutes.

Only notes which refer to statistics can be used during the talks. After each speaker has finished, the judges may question him on any point set forth in his speech.

Prizes to be offered are: first, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

The finals will be staged in room 12, Friendly hall, Wednesday, January 31.

Portland Art Staff To Visit Museum On Dads' Weekend

The art museum will be open Thursday evening for the convenience of the staff of the Portland art museum, who are being brought down by Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker. Both front and rear doors will be open from 8 to 10 and the public is invited.

The museum will be open Saturday between 1:30 and 4 p.m. to give the dads a chance to look it over.
