

DUCK TRACKS

By GEORGE PASERO Co-Sports Editor Oregon Daily Emerald

Marvel of that 71 to 41 runaway over Washington State, as far as most fans were concerned, was Lanky Hank Anderson, the six-seven lad from Hines in the high country of eastern Oregon.

But really, Hank's 18-point scoring feat wasn't so surprising. In fact, in this writer's opinion, it was due Anderson's shot-making record for five games as a Webfoot regular emphasizes my point in this respect.

Lanky Hank started his first conference clash at Seattle, the second night of the opening Webfoot-Husky series in the Puget Sound city. He collected 9 points that evening and won for himself a berth on the Duck "first five."

In the two Washington games here, Anderson clinched his right to a starting position by tossing 14 points in the first game and 12 the second. This despite the fact that, young as he is, he hasn't the stamina to play full contests and must rest part of the game.

Even Oregon State, a tough defensive club, couldn't block Lanky Hank's whirling, two-handed overhead shot. Result: he potted 10 points in that 28 to 27 curio at Corvallis.

Hank's High Average So, you see, there was nothing really amazing about those 18 points. Hank was hot and was hitting the hoop from anywhere around the key. He took 18 shots and made 9 good, a remarkable .500 shooting average.

In the five games he has started, the ex-EONS athlete has totaled 63 points to post a percentage average of 12.6. This tops John Dick's present average and also the pace set by Wally Palmberg in establishing the present northern division scoring record of 187 points. However, Anderson probably will not come close to Palmberg's mark for two reasons: first, he missed regular service in the first four games of the season; and second, he is playing his first year in varsity circles and yearlings are more apt to have off nights than veterans.

Donut Baseball at WSC Jack Friel, the little Irishman who leads the Washington State Cougar basketball team, carries a double burden at the Pullman institution. . . . In addition to being hoop coach, he's the head man of the Cougar intramural department.

Softball, touch football, basketball . . . all the regular intramural sports have a spot in the Friel system . . . and intramural baseball, a lost sport either at Oregon or Oregon State, is also featured. "The boys want to play it," shrugs Friel.

Touch football is played in the big Washington State field house, according to Friel . . . and so is softball, which is held toward the later winter months, baseball being played in the spring.

Incidentally, varsity lettermen are barred from all sports, not just the ones in which they have earned letters as is the case at Oregon. "This makes for better competition," Friel says. "We found that varsity men dominated in most sports . . . it's better this way."

Bush Smith Comes Back Gale (Busher) Smith, last year's great first baseman and now a Beaumont (Detroit Tigers), Texas, slugging hope is back on the campus for the Washington State series . . . he's in great shape, too, even though he weighs 181, 10 pounds more than he did when playing for Oregon.

"It's all muscle, too," says the colorful, smiling Smith who last year was the ace quipster of Hobby's troupe of champions. Smith is staying with his teammate, Ford Mullen, quiet second baseman who signed a Detroit contract at the end of the season along with Smith and Pitcher Bob Hardy. All were seniors.

Hardy went directly to Beaumont, the ace Tiger farm, and stuck all season, winning five and losing only three games. Ford was sent by the Tigers to Lake Charles and Smith to Alexandria in the Evangeline (Louisiana) league. Both were soon transferred to Jacksonville of the East Texas (Please turn to page four)

FRESH SWIM MEETS During the absence of the varsity Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the frosh will take over the pool in preparation for their coming meets with Salem high school tonight and Oregon State rooks over the weekend. Another meet may be scheduled with the Eugene high swimmers who just opened practice.

Webfoot Hoopsters Hand Cougars Fifth Defeat

Ducks Occupy Second Spot

He made two mistakes during the evening—collecting two technical fouls during a crucial stage in the second half from the whistle of referee Frank Heniges. Townsend holed one of the gift tosses with 11 minutes to go, boosting Oregon's lead to 47-45 which was the beginning of the end for Washington State.

Oregon Leads Early

The Cougars had a seven point deficit midway through the first half at 17 to 10 and 19 to 12 but made use of some oneanders from around the keyhole area by Olson to go out in front at half-time, 25 to 24.

Another boy who hit in the pinches was "Lanky Hank" Anderson, Oregon's unorthodox shooting six foot seven forward, who collected another 14 points. Since that second night in Seattle six games ago when he crashed the Webfoot lineup for good, Hank has piled up 77 points or about 13 per game.

Little Paul Jackson, Oregon's fire-brand newcomer at guard, had a 12-point evening and again sparked the winners. Two-year veteran Jack Jennings got 13 at center for the Cougars, another big reason why the two quintets were able to post an accumulative point total of 110.

A New Record

Another record went by the boards in last night's thriller which had approximately 5000 customers in screams. It was that total of 21 points for 4 minutes and 10 seconds Oregon and Washington got last year.

The second half started at 25 to 24 for Washington State and when the Cougars yelled for time out 3 minutes and 50 seconds later it was 36 to 36—23 points being tallied in that time!

Here's the way it went: Townsend opened with a steal and dribbled half the length of the court to put Oregon ahead 26 to 25. Then Kirk Gebert hit a close one for the Cougars followed by Jennings' short shot. Hank Anderson popped in a bucket but Jennings matched it. After 2 minutes and 30 seconds it was Oregon 28 and Washington State 32.

Then They Shot

Then the teams really started to toss 'em in. Hank Anderson holed a pass from Jackson, Townsend hit a long shot, Chase poked in a rebound, Hank heaved one in from the corner, and Townsend came through again with a swishing set shot. At that stage with it 36 to 36 and less than four minutes gone, the Cougars called time out.

They matched basket for basket during the next six minutes with Captain John Dick hitting two timely field goals for Oregon. Midway through the last half it was tied at 44 to 44.

Then came another long shot by Oregon's dead-eye guard, Vic Townsend. This was the spot where Cockey Olson got peeved and gave Oregon two shots on technicals and another free throw when he fouled Paul Jackson. Oregon got two points out of that and after 11 minutes and 40 seconds had its 48 to 45 lead which it never again lost.

Show Stamina

Washington State showed surprising running stamina considering its tough four games in five nights' tour through the Willamette valley, but just couldn't match Oregon at the finish.

Betas Down Zeta Hall; Sigma Nu, Sig Eps Annex League A Hoop Tiffs

By JIM SCHILLER

Beta Theta Pi edged out a thrilling 24 to 18 victory over a big, rugged outfit from Zeta hall in an intramural "A" league basketball contest, while on the same court yesterday in the men's gym Sigma Nu overcame Alpha hall, and Sigma Phi Epsilon had a point scoring spree at the expense of Sigma hall.

Sig Eps 37, Sigma 14

The point-mad Sig Eps raced and tore their way to 37 to 14 rout of a much smaller Sigma hall team in a game that consumed only 12 minutes of actual playing time. Even though some of the Sigma players failed to show up on time, the Sig Eps refused the game on a forfeit and agreed to play it with the periods vastly shortened. This meant that the millrace team actually poured in the counters at a rate of better than three points a minute.

Sig Eps, 37 14, Sigma Jackson, 8, F. Parker Waits, 16, F. 6, Grant Reginato, 8, C. 4, Libke Giovanni, G. Moore Fagin, L. G. 4, Phillips Subs: Sig Eps—Frye 2, Hopkins 2. Sigma Nu 21, Alpha 14 It took the Sigma Nu outfit until midway in the third quarter before they could go into the lead against a determined Alpha hall team, but once ahead they never relinquished that lead.

Sigma Nu easily had enough shots in the first half to run up a big lead, but as a result of the Greek letter boys bad shooting eyes the Alpha outfit enjoyed an 8 to 5 halftime advantage. It was the insertion of chubby Cliff Sexsmith into the Sigma Nu lineup in the third period that changed the smith quickly scored four points complex of the contest. Sexsmith and sparked his teammates on.

Sigma Nu, 21 14, Alpha Campbell, F. 3, Endicott Lingle, F. 3, Kelty Wilson, C. 4, Adams McCormack, 4, Lewis Whitman, 8, G. 3, Lewis Subs: Sigma Nu—Wiley 5, Sexsmith 4; Alpha—Lebenzon, Kunz. Beta 24, Zeta 18

In the classic contest of the afternoon in court 40, Beta Theta Pi's old reliable point machine, Wellington "Wimpy" Quinn came through with ten counters and the Betas Marched off with a hard earned 24 to 18 win. Beta, 24 18, Zeta Anderson, 4, F. 4, Apa Rathburn, 6, F. 4, Jansrud Quinn, 19, C. 5, Landeen Johnson, 2, G. 5, Keller Leonard, 2, G. 3, Kent Officials—Mullen and Boroughs.

Oregon Matmen Score Victory

McMINNVILLE, Feb. 13.—(Special)—Eric Waldorf's improving wrestling team won its second match in five days tonight as they rolled over Linfield college varsity 23 to 11. Four members won by pinning their man, and one ended in a decision.

The Oregon freshman squad won an overwhelming victory 14½ to 1½ against a picked bunch from the McMinnville school. Two matches ended in fast falls for the Ducks, both under three minutes. One was a decision for Oregon and there was a draw.

After the smaller school has taken the first three matches from Oregon, the visitors opened up and took the next four, three by falls. First Mort Meyers threw Henry, 145-pound man, in three minutes and 30 seconds, then in quick succession Waldo Caulfield and Ray Foster each took care of their opponent in a little over four minutes.

Vic Nudelman, Oregon, won a decision over Mulliken in a hard fought match and then 190-pound Harold Kaschko threw 220-pound Conklin from Linfield after five minutes of some of the hardest wrestling that he has ever done.

Both Hal Oman and Stan Watt of the frosh threw their opponents in fast time, and Roy Ell, promising heavy, won a decision over former AAU champ Venemon of Linfield. Doug Walwyn drew with Holderreed.

Results: 121 pounds—Logan (L) pinned Pat Lynch (O) in 3 minutes, 56 seconds.

128 pounds—Kendrick (L) decided Bob Still (O).

136 pounds—Davis (L) decided Paul Logan (O).

145 Pounds—Mort Meyers (O)

TRACK TURNOUT

The first track meeting of the season is to be held in the unfinished portion of the men's gym today at 3 o'clock. Coach Bill Hayward asks all freshmen and varsity men who are interested to turn out.

155 pounds—Waldo Caulfield (O) pinned Rosethal (L) 4 minute 35 seconds.

165 pounds—Ray Foster (O) pinned O'Keefe (L) 4 minutes 36 seconds.

175 pounds—Vic Nudelman (O) decided Mulliken (L).

Heavyweight—Harold Kaschko (O) pinned Conklin (L) 5 minutes 13 seconds.

Exhibition: 140 pounds—Doug Walwyn (O) drew with Holderreed (L) 144 pounds.

163 pounds—Hal Oman (O) pinned Reusser (L) 161 pounds, 2 minutes 20 seconds.

155 pounds—Stan Watt (O) pinned Rich (L) 163 pounds, 2 minutes 47 seconds.

Heavyweight—Roy Ell (O) decided Venemon (L).

So the Scribes must win!

Emerald Vies With Orange In Hoop Clash

Oregon Emerald and Oregon State Barometer hoops offer an exhibition of how basketball shouldn't be played when the two teams meet at McArthur court at 2 o'clock Saturday in the second game of their yearly series.

Emerald basketeers (?) are determined to win to hang a jinx on Oregon State's varsity when it plays the dashing Ducks Saturday evening. Last year, the Emerald won two games and dropped one. When the scribes triumphed, so did Hobby's varsity, and when they lost, the Duck crew blew that 50 to 31 affair.

This year the Emerald men were beaten at Corvallis February 3, and true to form, the Orange men matched the Baro writers by downing the Oremonds, 28 to 27.

So the Scribes must win!

Glass Board Glimpses

By KEN CHRISTIANSON Assistant Sports Editor

Coach Jack Friel of the Cougars: "We played our best game of the year and it wasn't good enough. Hobby's chances for another northern division title are fine if his boys continue shooting as they did tonight. Nobody could beat them tonight."

Washington State's boys wished Hobson good luck against Oregon State for Saturday. Shades of last year's Oregon-Washington game. The Ducks and Huskies sank 21 combined points in four minutes 10 seconds of the second half in that game. But last night saw 23 points marked up by the Oremonds and Cougars in three minutes 55 seconds for some new record.

Washington State player: "Tain't legal, the way he shoots." He was speaking of Hank Anderson. (Please turn to page four)
