

Propeller Club To Be Guests of Portland Unit

Dinner to Be Held At Benson Hotel February 16

Twenty-nine members of the Propeller club, national professional society in marine shipping and foreign trade, will be guests of the Portland Port of the Propeller club on Friday evening, February 16, at a banquet in the Tyrolean room of the Benson hotel in Portland.

Guest speakers at the banquet will be Arthur B. Parle, vice president of the American President Lines, who will talk on "American Merchant Marine," and L. C. Newlands of Portland, who will speak on "Proposed Columbia River-Oriental Line." The president of the Portland Port of the Propeller, H. W. Collins, will welcome the group.

First Time

"This is the first time that a joint banquet has been held by the two ports of the Propeller club, and we hope that it will become an annual affair," Mike Moran, president of the local port declared.

Saturday morning the group will inspect the docks and interview business men engaged in shipping and exporting trade.

The following faculty members will accompany the group: Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration; A. L. Lomax, faculty adviser of the Propeller club and professor of foreign trade; and A. G. Dudley, associate professor of business administration.

Miss Harriet C. Long, librarian of the Oregon state library, was a campus visitor Tuesday.

Special speakers provided by the Carnegie Institute, sponsors of the clubs, are Andre Philip, professor of economics and finance at the University of Lyons, who is in this country on a speaking tour, and G.

Tyrannosaurus, Dimetrodon -- Did They 'Talk'?

Tyrannosaurus vs. Dimetrodon in the battle of the ages. All the University geology department had to do was to describe what it sounded like, but they were stumped.

Hal Roach, movie producer, is making a movie called "1,000,000 B. C." at the present time and the fight scene between the two prehistoric monsters was included, but their research department and their sound men were at a loss as to what noise to put into the mouths of the hulking creatures so they called on the University for help.

Geology department officials said nothing was known concerning the vocal organs of a tyrannosaurus. They had never even heard of a dimetrodon.

Bernard Noble, Rhodes scholar and professor of political science at Reed college.

Miss Amy Heminway Jones, world traveler and active member of the International Relations club, will be here to conduct the conference.

Delegates from over 40 colleges in the northwest are expected.

Advertising Staff Luncheon Guests

Short, Luoma, Frost Talk; Managers Feted at Banquet

The Emerald advertising staff is sponsoring a series of luncheons this week to acquaint members of the staff with the progress of Emerald advertising this term.

Yesterday the day managers and their staffs met. Frank Short, instructor in journalism, spoke to the group on "Emerald Newspaper Work."

George Luoma, advertising manager, commented: "Emerald advertising has been handled in a concise, business-like manner this term," in his talk.

Jim Frost spoke on "Local Advertising."

The day managers who were honored at the banquet were: Fred May, Wednesday; Jean Crites, Tuesday; Bob Rogers, Saturday; Doug Parker, Friday; and Ma-jeanne Glover, Thursday.

Another luncheon will be held this noon.

fielding average is a bit surprising since he made only two errors in three years at Oregon and was considered the finest fielder in the northern division. However, the fact that most ball players are a bit jittery in their first pro season may account for the miscues.

Spring News averages:

	Hitting				Pct.
	G	AB	R	H
Mullen	61	257	46	84	.327
Smith	58	228	33	72	.316

	Fielding				Pct.
	G	PO	A	E
Mullen	61	168	178	18	.951
Smith	58	525	27	12	.979

Both Smith and Mullen have received their 1940 contracts and appear to be well satisfied. They will leave for the Beaumont training camp early next month.

Good merchant pack choice apples on bottom, too!

TAKE this week's Post, for instance. "On top" is Richard Sherman's newest story of marriage. You're As Old As Last story in the issue ... a heart-thumping horse-race yarn by Borden Chase.

And if any one article is better than our lead article by Stanley High, it's the final one—a dispatch from Rome, The Balkans Play It Safe, by John T. Whitaker.

As Post readers know, "choice apples are found on bottom of basket as well as on top."

Such top-to-bottom, bottom-to-top reader interest just naturally causes advertisers to favor the Post. In 1939 the Post was awarded $11,000,000 more advertising revenue than the next magazine.

CAN MARRIED PEOPLE "KEEP YOUNG" BY TRAILING THE YOUNGER SET? What do you think of married people who continuously horn in on young people's parties? Here's the story of a husband and wife who tried to find the fountain of youth that way ... and what happened to them. A short story in this week's Post, You're As Old As You Feel, by RICHARD SHERMAN.

HOW TO CATCH A CROOK WITH ROD AND REEL. Crunch and Desperate put to sea, in this week's Post, on their most dangerous adventure to date. An adventure that started as an innocent big-game fishing trip and ended with guns in their ribs and the Poseidon headed for nowhere. An exciting yarn on page 12 of The Saturday Evening Post. Crunch Goes Haywire, by PHILIP WYLIE.

WHY NO "BLITZKRIEG" IN THE BALKANS? The countries that touched off the last war aren't even in this one. Why? And for all their rich possessions, Stalin and Hitler have so far kept hands off. Why? Meet the Balkans' crafty strong-arm squad—Carol, Boris, Paul, Metaxas and Gen. Ismet Inonu— and you'll know. Don't miss The Balkans Play It Safe, by JOHN T. WHITAKER.

WALTER D. EDMONDS' NEW CIRCUS NOVEL. The prize-winning author of Drums Along the Mohawk re-creates the romance and glamorous adventure of two young runaways with a small-time traveling circus, a hundred years ago in upstate New York. Start reading this colorful new Post novel. Second part of eight.

I NEVER KNEW THAT ABOUT QUAKERS! Do you know how the Quakers can run a world-wide relief organization on an annual budget of only $90,000? How they got the Nazis' permission to enter Germany and to help the Jews? What they did in Spain? ... An eye-opening article about an army that quietly fights for peace, not for war. Read 100,000 Quakers May Be Right, by STANLEY HIGH.

"SHE'S A CHAMPI!" "SHE'S A QUITTER!" Queen horse, "The Lady." She was a chestnut darling with the legs of a dancer, and each hoof left a print the size of a teacup's rim. A born racer—who mysteriously quit every race at the half-way mark ... The heart-thumping story of a horse trainer who refused to lose faith, The Lady Was A Flop, by BORDEN CHASE.

THE MAN WITH 3500 VALENTINES. In a pack-rat's paradise in two rooms on 42nd Street in New York City, Sy Seidman has an amazing collection of 3500 old valentines, a dozen of which appear in color in the Post this week. The unique story of a hobbyist who collects everything from fans and souvenir hankies to banks and presidential songs. See—Roses are Red.

AND ... The exciting solution of Leslie Ford's murder mystery novel; another chapter in Dime Store, the life of F. W. Woolworth, merchant prince; short stories, editorials, poems, cartoons, and Post Scripts—all in The Saturday Evening Post this week.
