

DUCK TRACKS

By GEORGE PASERO, Co-Sports Editor
Oregon Daily Emerald

News from the swim front . . .
The "March of Dimes" campaign to send Oregon swimmers east to the nationals swung out yesterday with campus distribution of official "I am helping Oregon swimmers" cards . . . a tag goes to anyone who contributes ten cents for the cause.

So if you see a Webfoot, be that person man or gal, strolling down the campus, a diamond-shaped tag bobbling from a buttonhole, you'll know he's one of the Oregon students helping to send Jack Dallas, Jerry Macdonald, and Sherm Wetmore to the national championships at Yale university, New Haven, Connecticut, March 29 and 30.

been affiliated with the University two terms, but in that time he has come to know and think highly of Jack Dallas, even though the Duck paddler is learning his flying under a different tutor.

When a man like Meany thinks so much of a boy he will shell out a five spot, the lad must really be all right. . . . Thanks, Bob Meany.

Donut Ping Pong In Semi-finals

Theta Chi, Beta, ATO, and Supers Will Meet at 4

Intramural ping pong moves into the semifinal round today, with Theta Chi meeting the Superchargers at 4 o'clock, and ATO tangling with the Betas at 5. The matches will take place in the restricted activities room, physical education building.

Theta Chi won its berth in this round by stopping Phi Sigma Kappa, 2 to 1. Their opponents, the Superchargers, moved in by way of a bye.

Alpha Tau Omega moved in at the expense of Sigma Phi Epsilon, 2 to 1, and Beta Theta Pi dropped SAE, 3 to 0.

Theta Chi's win was largely the result of Leonard Clark's singles win over Estley Schick, Phi Sig.

There comes a time when all good men must pass in review before a greater judge than they. Following this rather widely-accepted theory, Emerald sports reporters have brazenly dared to pass on the merits of the latest crop of intramural basketball players—and following are the results:

At forward—Willie Reynolds, Theta Chi, and Wimpy Quinn, Beta. Willie played on the devastating front-line trio which sparked Theta Chi to the intramural pennant—'nuf said.

Quinn, one of two unanimous choices for the squad, was a leading scorer and bright-light of the Beta entry.

Duds Progressed

Center—Taylor, Duds. The Duds made the most progress of any of the nonfraternity entrants. Hodggen's team made the play-offs but fell before ATO in the first round.

Guards—Wilson Maynard, Sigma Chi; Bill Scott, ATO. Scott was the second unanimous choice for all-star honors; plays either forward or guard. His absence from the final game on account of tonsilitis didn't help ATO any.

Maynard was selected as the better man of the powerful Sigma Chi five. He also doubles at forward; scored 10 of the Sweetheart's 18 play-off points.

Second Choices

Second team men included: Forwards—"Whizzer" White and Harrison Bergtholdt, the other two members of the championship forward wall. Bergtholdt was regularly a center but was too good to leave out and so was Shiple.

Center—Ken Shiple, Phi Delt. Ken is a veteran intramural campaigners, led his team to a one-defeat season.

Guards—Jack Waits, Sig Ep; Jay Graybeal, ATO. Both these men are fast on the floor. Waits stood out on the better-than-average Sig Ep team. Graybeal had a habit of serenely dribbling along, suddenly spotting an opening, and darting through for a score. A flip of his legs and he would leave his opponents yards behind. (No; we're not writing football.)

Compiled by the same group of sages as that which selected the "A" all-stars the "B" team.)

Forwards—Pete Igoe, Phi Delt, and Bob MacDonald, ATO. Igoe has a good shooting eye and managed to lead the champions' scoring in most of the games. MacDonald wears glasses but puts up
