

Plans Begun For Annual AWS Convention

Over 200 Delegates Expected to Arrive On UO Campus

Completing the 1939-40 cabinet's plans and beginning the 1940-41 officers' work, AWS leaders, both old and new, are cooperating in preparing for the western sectional associated women convention which will be held on the Oregon campus April 15, 16, and 17.

Over 200 delegates are expected from the 11 western states, stated Anne Fredriksen, president of the western AWS officers.

Arrangements are being made to house the visitors in sororities so that they will be on the campus the whole three days of their stay, Miss Fredriksen explained.

High spots of the conference will be the one-day trip of all the 200 girls to the Oregon State campus, the formal banquet Tuesday evening, and the breakfasts sponsored by sophomore, junior, and senior women honoraries.

Grace Irvin was named by Miss Fredriksen as general chairman of the convention. Her subordinate committee heads are: housing, Barbara Pierce and Margaret Young; registration, Janet Goresky and Jane Hochuli; publicity, Helen Angell and Betty Jane Biggs; advertising, Sally Mitchell; formal banquet, Barbara Bamford and Marge McClain; sorority luncheon, Aurelie Wolcott; honorary breakfast, Jeanne Haehlen; transportation, Maxine Hansen and Billie Christenson; Monday luncheon, Bettylou Swart; dinner, Bette Morfitt; Monday and Tuesday breakfasts, Barbara Fulton; publicity display and designs, Jean Kendall; entertainment, Pat Taylor and Martha McClung; Wednesday banquet, Betty Buchanan; speakers, Majeanne Gloven; favors, Janet Morris; discussion groups, Elizabeth Steed.

L. E. Detling Spends Spring Vacation In Death Valley

A trip to Death Valley to collect specimens of spring flowers for the University herbarium was made by Dr. L. E. Detling, herbarium curator and assistant professor of botany, during spring vacation.

According to Dr. Detling this is a very good year for desert flora in Death Valley because of the unusual amount of rainfall. The collection which he brought back included several rare species of plants.

I'll Pass

(With apologies to Pat Taylor)
I eat my Wheaties, watch my glands.
Dirty dishwasher never touches my hands.
I'm just as careful as I can be,
And still nobody takes a pass at me.

I've been wailing that phrase since I don't know when,
But I have a chance now that won't come again

Until I'm too old to appreciate men.
Oh, why won't somebody make a pass at me.

Today's the day girls get 'em if they can.

Believe me Sister, I'm out to get a man,

If only so that I can stop this plea,
Oh, why won't somebody make a pass at me. J.W.S.

Bill Rosson Wins John Pershing Military Award

Cadet Colonel Has Outstanding Record In ROTC

Bill Rosson, cadet colonel of the Oregon ROTC unit, last week was awarded the General John J. Pershing medal for distinguished attainment in military education, Colonel R. M. Lyon, military head, announced last night.

This medal is given annually in each of the corps areas of the United States. Notice of Rosson's selection was received from Ralph C. Bishop, secretary of the civilian military education, and official presentation of the medal will take place during spring term.

Rosson was named an outstanding freshman cadet in the year 1936-37, and last year won the sabbic awarded annually by the reserve officers to the outstanding junior.

Museum Poor Hunting Ground For Reporter

An Emerald reporter trotted briskly into the museum of natural history and asked the usual question, "Any news?"

H. L. Robe, museum attendant, shook his head and answered solemnly, "Nope, everything's dead around here."

After a quick look at the assorted stuffed birds, deer, bear, and squirrels, not to mention various skulls and skeletons, the reporter agreed with him and left hastily.

Frosh Girls Top Fall Probation List

One hundred twenty-four frosh girls were on probation at the end of fall term, according to information collected in a recent probation study by the office of the dean of women.

Nineteen of these girls did not return winter semester, decreasing the winter term list to 105. Freshmen in the group numbered 63; sophomores, 23; juniors, 8; seniors, 8; law students, 2; and special students, 1.

Further study of the high school and psychology ratings of the group showed that 82 girls had prep ratings of 5 and under (below average) and 79 girls had psychology ratings of 5 and under.

Nineteen had prep ratings of zero, with four psychology ratings of zero, and twenty psychology ratings of one. There were two girls in each class who rated 10 in the tests.

Morris Appointed To Head Annual YMCA Finance Drive

Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, has been appointed general chairman for the annual YMCA finance campaign, R. W. Kimberling, Eugene president of the association, announced yesterday.

Dr. Morris will make appointments of other general campaign officers this week, and preliminary

Variety Show on Spring ASUO Slate

One of the main features of the spring term student body card, the Varsity show, will be held April 5 from 9 to 12 p.m., according to Verdi Sederstrom, chairman of the committee in charge of the show.

Admission is free to student body card holders. Otherwise it is fifty cents.

Tables and chairs will be placed around the edge of McArthur court to accommodate the patrons. Refreshments will be sold and served by the Kwamas.

Art Holman's band will furnish the music, and Les Harger will act as master of ceremonies.

One of the main features of the evening will be a floor show of University talent. The show itself will last about one hour. Tryouts are being conducted in an effort to find all the available talent.

stages of the campaign will start within the next few days. General campaign has been set for the dates of April 29 to May 8.
