

The Women's Page

PAGE 2

MARGE FINNEGAN, Editor

FEBRUARY 22, 1940

For Women Only

By MARGE FINNEGAN

Well, here it is. Spring term at the U. It's the last one for some of us, and the first for many others, but encouraging for everyone. The whole campus atmosphere is changing with a much brighter outlook on everything.

The social calendar is packed this term with big dances every weekend, picnics and all the activities which make spring such fun. As for classes and studying, well, you'll just have to schedule your time and work them in some place.

April Fool!

Have heard of several clever April Fool tricks pulled Monday. The B.A. school bit en masse on the "Class will meet today in 101 Condon" sign which was posted on every Commerce board before 1 o'clock Monday. The Condon room literally bulged with students from finance, accounting, personnel management, and various other 1 o'clocks until "the dawn came" and they all filed back to Commerce—late to class.

Another good stunt was the ringing of the fire alarm in one of the sororities. When the girls gathered in the living room at 1:30 a.m., sleepy-eyed and somewhat alarmed, they faced a large sign fastened across the door—"April Fool."

Poole's Funeral Home finally gave up and started answering their phone with the "April Fool" phrase, in accord with the numerous calls they received from people who had found notes on their desks, "Call 723 immediately—important message."

Talent by Talent

From all reports the Spring Varieties show scheduled by the A.W.U.O. for Friday night is going to be quite an event. Everyone is

(Please turn to page eight)

Nan Wood Honeyman To Speak on Public Life At Matrix Table, April 25

Nan Wood Honeyman, former Oregon congresswoman and prominent in public life, has been announced by Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary, as guest speaker for the annual matrix table banquet, April 25.

Mrs. Honeyman, noted throughout the nation for her expert knowledge on public affairs, will speak on "The Woman in Public Life," depicting the possibilities, advantages, and disadvantages women will find in the professions. It is her opinion that now, more than ever before, woman will find abundant opportunities to serve and profit by experience in the professional world.

300 Invitations Sent

The traditional matrix table banquet is to be held in the parish hall of St. Mary's Episcopal church. Approximately 300 invitations will be sent to women throughout the state who have become prominent in journalism, arts, and letters. Outstanding women attending the University of Oregon, will also be invited to attend.

As an invitational feature, the outstanding freshman and sophomore woman in journalism will be chosen as honored guests at the affair. Girls outstanding in Eugene and University high school journalism are to be included on the list.

Program Planned

Plans for the affair are well under way, it was announced, with all committees appointed to complete arrangements. A string quartet will present musical selections before the banquet. Mrs. Eric W. Allen, adviser to Theta Sigma Phi, is to be toastmistress.

Committees for the affair follow: Invitations, Harriet Whalley, Kay Taylor, Sally Mitchell, and Sylvia Sarlat; publicity, Betty Jane Thompson; decorations and tables, Blanche Browne, Betty Hamilton, Barbara Stallcup, Reta Lea Powell; service, Doris Lindgren; banquet, Margaret Dick, Betty Fiksdal; properties, Helen Sawyer, Edith Oglesby, Eva Erlandson; reception, Alyce Rogers, Peggy Robbins, Doris Murphy.

Competition Between Names

By PAT ERICKSON

What's in a name?

Curious chance—combined with mothers' notions—fixed a name on most University coeds during or soon after the decade of World War I.

"Mary" and "Betty," and combinations using these two, seem to have enjoyed the greatest prevalence of the day.

While it's practically impossible to pick one name as the most popular on the campus today what with the close competition among conjunctions such as Mary Ann, Mary Jane, Mary Jean, Betty Jane, and Betty Lou, it's safe to say that Mary and Betty are Tops. Bette also enjoys some prominence.

Runners-Up

Hardly to be outclassed by these bits of nomenclature are runners-up Barbara, Dorothy, Virginia, Helen, Jane, Marjorie (Marjory), Ruth, and Jean (Jeanne, Jeane).

Enjoying frequency of use are Ann (Anne), Margaret, Alice, Doris, and Eleanor.

The biblical trio is represented by Hope and Charity, while Patience may have had some Puritan forbears.

A bit of Irish peeps forth in an occasional Kathleen, and Katherine (Catherine) is often called Kay. There are Sarah's and Sally's, and Spanish-sounding Dolores's.

Patricia's number several, as do Marian, Marilyn, Blanche, Frances, and Florence.

A variety of other names too numerous to mention are among those present. Perhaps none of them is more striking than "Braundia." Say, is it Irish, too?

Sweet Simplicity

Naive with its rows of shirring and minute collar, this model promises to be chosen by a multitude of style-conscious coeds. A nipped-in-waist and full, full skirt are indicative of the approved spring mode and make it ideal for dates and dancing.

Convention Delegates Housed

Women at the University of Oregon will have a chance to demonstrate the "hello" spirit when they greet their sister AWS members at the Associated Women Students convention April 15, 16, and 17.

To give Oregon coeds a chance to become individually acquainted with the visitors, the housing committee, under the chairmanship of Barbara Pierce and Margaret Young are arranging for each coed living organization on the campus to have a quota of 10 girls stay at the various houses during the three-day conference.

Arrangements are being made so that the delegates who are affiliated with sororities may be given first preference to those chapters which are on this campus.

Houses have agreed to furnish transportation for their guests to the formal banquet on Tuesday night and to the dinner Monday night which will be held at the Osborn hotel.

Representatives from the 11 western states will be guests at sororities and halls for Wednesday luncheon only.

Kaufman Bros. EUGENE'S FASHION CENTER

"Double Duty"

Pull a fast one on Jupiter Pluvius... turn a pastel reversible inside out for the "Oregon mist"... tweeds, shetlands, and plaids with matching hoods and hats.

7.95

"In-between"

Now and later for every occasion... crash, silk, and novelty crepes in shirt-maker styles. Every one is different with its big pockets, buttoned trim or skirt.

5.95

Style Notes

Your spring wardrobe starts with a coat—and we've the trimly fitted, self-trimmed coats that are this season's favorites from coast to coast. If you've an eye for fine fabrics, you'll get an extra fashion-thrill from our coats; because their "material interest" is great!

Navy's first and plenty of color. Note the price range—

$9.85 - $12.50 - $19.50

$21.50 - $25.00

The BROADWAY

20-30 East Broadway

A "Perfect" Initiation Gift

Why not one of our cunning little figures such as Freddy, the fawn; Stinky, the skunk; Tom and Jerry, the lambs; Cy and Sadie, the pigs; Nutsy and Chesty, the squirrels; and many other types of gifts.

The GIFT SHOP

963 Willamette St. Net door to Rex Theater