

Fun-Full 'Varieties' Will Open Season At Igloo Friday

By MARY KAY RIORDAN

Spring term . . . Spring Varieties . . . The two simultaneously go together to open the new season on the campus. Featuring many well-known student entertainers on a varied program, the dance will be from 9 to 12 o'clock Friday evening in McArthur court with campus clothes in order.

From Les Harger, as master of ceremonies, to Art Holman and his orchestra, who will furnish the dance music, ASUO card holders will find entertainment and fun packed into the traditional Oregon dance. Music arrangement by Holman plus a specially written satire, "The March of Term," a review of winter activities and interesting events will spotlight the floor show scheduled for 10 o'clock.

Tables and chairs will be arranged around the Igloo in cabaret style, and refreshments will be served by Kwama members.

House Dances Not Slated Yet

Sororities and fraternities have not swung into social entertainments for spring term as yet although house dances have been scheduled filling the coming weekends. Famous through the years for well-known spring term formal house dances, sororities and fraternities, are making elaborate plans for this big social affair, while other organizations which are equally known for gay old barn, or gingham and cord dances make informal plans. The social calendar is filled with dances, teas, luncheons, and dinners, and increasingly popular each term are the exchange dinners and desserts.

Exchange Dinners Start

Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Sigma held an exchange dinner Tuesday evening, one of the first inter-fraternity exchange dinners of spring term.

Wednesday exchange desserts included Alpha Tau Omega-Alpha Chi Omega; Chi Psi-Alpha Omicron Pi; Delta Tau Delta-Chi Omega; Delta Upsilon-Kappa Kappa Gamma; Alpha Phi-Kappa Sigma; Delta Gamma-Sigma Phi Epsilon; Hi-land house-Kirkwood; Theta Chi-Delta Delta Delta; and Pi Beta Phi-Sigma Alpha Mu.

Thursday Alpha Delta Pi-Sigma Phi Epsilon; Phi Sigma Kappa-Alpha Gamma Delta; and Sigma Nu-Alpha Phi will hold exchange dinners.

Spring! Vacation! New Outfits!

By DORIS MURPHY

Give a woman a few days vacation and she'll buy the stores out . . . and from the looks of the clothes that blossom forth on the campus the minute there's a hint of sun, those few days of spring vacation were well spent. . . .

GLORIA WADSWORTH has one of those man-tailored jackets with huge patch pockets and no collar, which she wears over a forest green velveteen skirt . . . a clever adaptation of the cowboy shirt is worn by BETTE NORWOOD . . .

it's black silk with buttoned cuffs and is just right with her checked suit . . . MARIAN MARKS has that "little girl" look when she wears her red silk polka dot dress with tiny round collar and big inserted pockets . . . black and white linen plaid makes up MABEL TURNER'S spring formal with its sleek fitted bodice, yards of skirt, and short black bolero . . . KAY DILLARD chose a light blue silk jersey street dress with quarter-length sleeves and a wide gathered bodice fitted at the hipline . . . one of the fads that promises to be a success is the wedgie and VIRGINIA KERR has a pair of light and navy blue . . . a bit of white pique collar on ALICE HOFFMAN'S checked dress with oval yoke of black crepe and a wide three-buckle belt makes it noteworthy . . . silk jersey is used to advantage in BETTY ANDER-

UO Amphibians Carnival to Vie With Aquabelles

By ADELE CANADA

Billy Rose can keep his "aquabelles"; Florida its bathing beauties; and England can have its channel swimmers; for the University of Oregon still has the Amphibians. . . .

They're giving a show soon—The Amphibian Water Carnival. It will include exhibition life-saving, diving, racing, and form swimming. But don't get the idea that this will be like one of those recitals that we used to give when we were younger to show mamma just what we had learned. This is to be real entertainment.

The most difficult part of the show will, of course, be the form swimming. The largest group of swimmers is working in the waltz crawl. To be entertaining this must be done with precision; and to get precision the girls must coordinate with the music as well as with each other. At practice the waltz crawl number looked good; but then form swimming isn't hard to look at any time, and when pretty girls are doing the swimming—well—

I'd like to invite you all to watch the practice; I can't though for the show is still a secret, so you will just have to wait until April fifteenth.

SON'S navy and white formal of inch-wide stripes . . . the blouse is shirtmaker style and the cover-up jacket is red grosgrain.

Coeds Copy Old Vienna

Old Vienna will flourish on the University campus of today with coeds being able to dramatize themselves in several articles of clothing copied from the ladies of Johann Strauss' day, according to the plans of John Cavanagh, junior week-end promotion chairman.

A committee on clothing, headed by Joan Chrystall, will interview down-town merchants and get their opinions on the salability of bits of period frivolity such as peasant aprons, "Old Vienna Bouquets," delicate and flowery junk jewelry, and the dirndl skirt.

Flower Styles

Glamorous formals could well be copied from this era, as well as corsage idiosyncrasies that the girls of that period enjoyed such as wearing several single flowers, one at the neck and one on the skirt of the dress.

A committee is also being selected to survey campus opinion in order to find out the interest of women students in clothes of the Strauss period.

Theta Sig Pledges Ten; Doris Murphy Elected President

Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalistic honorary, formally pledged ten girls Tuesday evening at the Chi Omega house. Pledges include Relta Lee Powell, Eva Erlandson, Barbara Stallcup, Betty Hamilton, Helen Sawyer, Doris Murphy, Edith Oglesby, Sylvia Sar'at, Sally Mitchell, and Betty Fiksdal.

Election of officers resulted in president, Doris Murphy; vice-president, Edith Oglesby; secretary, Eva Erlandson; treasurer, Harriet Whalley; and keeper of the archives, Betty Fiksdal.

Initiation of the ten pledges will be held April 14, followed by a breakfast at the Anchorage.

Grace Irvin Active On AWS Convention

By CORRINE WIGNES

Spring—the time for fun and loafing! But not so for Pi Phi's dark-haired Grace Irvin who besides making plans for the AWS convention, of which she is chairman, also has the task of pledge trainer in her fraternity.

Pounding the gavel of Kwama last year, Grace presided over the service honorary. She also served on the AWS council, and this year is a member of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary, and chairman of the campus luncheon for Junior Weekend.

This 21-year-old junior English major from Redmond, Oregon, has blue eyes, and is five feet six inches tall. She can sew and also likes to cook, and her amiable personality is one of the best. The Beta pin she wears on her sweater belongs to John Skibinski.

Active YW Worker

An active YWCA worker also, Grace was president of the sophomore commission, chairman of the "Heart Hop" and "Hello dance" during her sophomore year, and this year is in charge of the membership drives.

Although this ambitious coed plans to teach high school English and French after graduation, she hopes at some time to go into personnel work.

"I think," she says, "a person should have high ambitions, so that even though he may not quite achieve the goal he has set for himself, he will ultimately reach above the half-way mark and still be near the top."

She explained that this was like striving for a 3.5 and getting a 3.00.

Holds House Offices

Outstanding in her fraternity, Grace is a member of both the (Please turn to page eight)
