

Ex Comm Will Consider Trip For Union Group

Election Dates, 1940-41 Fee to Be Discussed

When the ASUO executive committee digs down into its bag of "bills" labeled "must" during the initial meeting of its last term in office, it will fish out one concerning the possibility of a student union committee trip to Idaho, in addition to ones on nominating dates for ASUO elections and next year's student body membership fee, it was announced.

The student union trip is a horse of a different color than the others to be "ridden." It boils down to is simply a proposition to take six more students from the two student union buildings at Idaho, taking the money from the ASUO president's travel budget. Only mileage expenses would be allowed the group.

ASUO Fee Included?

As to the student body fee for next year, with the end of its tenure in sight, the present committee will have to make up its mind pretty soon whether a $2 required fee each term, the $2 to be levied next year as a state board activity fee, should include membership in the student body. Oregon State college, under the same system, is inclined to favor the idea, and there is plenty of administration support here.

The executive committee will probably do no more than talk about the question at this meeting, but the ground work will undoubtedly be laid for future action, even should that include a different plan to determine the status of student body membership. The question is the most difficult one to come before an executive committee since the abandonment of the compulsory fee several years ago.

Other Problems Up

But there will be other matters on the docket. Verdi Sederstrom, first vice-president of the ASUO, will bring in a report of his work of bringing the ASUO constitution up to date, and may suggest an immediate reprinting of constitutional handbooks. This leads to action on the part of those who were to work out new class constitutions, and from whom nothing but deep silence has been heard to date.

Coeds Announce Spring's Arrival With Wedding Bells

Romance and wedding bells appeared early on the University campus this spring with word that George Varoff, former Oregon pole vaulter and once holder of the world record in that event, had applied at San Francisco recently for a license to marry Miss Constance O'Connor of New York. The wedding date has not been announced.

Betty Hamilton announced her engagement to Jim Wilkinson Monday evening to members of her sorority at the chapter house. She is a member of Chi Omega and he of Alpha Tau Omega and a former faculty member. The wedding will be in June.

Friends of Carolyn Kamm and Bill Jackson were surprised to learn that they had flown to Lewiston, Idaho, during spring vacation and were married. The bride is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Dean Hazel P. Schwering presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Clara Van Fossel. A short business meeting followed.
