

Weekend Heads Plan Program

Chairmen Search For Prospective Fete Announcers

Chairman of Junior Weekend committees reported yesterday that their groups were functioning well in preparing their part of the program for the three-day festive period—May 10, 11, and 12. The weekenders are still awaiting responses from student ranks in two fields, however.

Donna Ketchum and Pat Erickson, co-chairmen in charge of arranging the program continuity for the canoe fete, repeated their request for prospective announcers for this event. Anyone wishing to try out for this job should contact either of the two girls immediately.

Jack Holcomb, in charge of preparations for radio programs, said that he was pleased with the response his request for student talent to appear on the shows. The broadcasts will be presented over stations KGW and KOIN in Portland and KORE during the first weekend of May, Holcomb announced.

Bill Ehrman, weekend prime minister, was busy arranging for a "good will" trip to Portland for Queen Betty Buchanan and her princesses—Laura Jean Maurice, Sue Cunningham, Eleanor Collier, and Janet Foster.

Kroopnick Runs for Law School 'Queen'

Follow-up of the University Junior Weekend parade of queen candidates Tuesday was the law school's "Junior Weekend" favored candidate for law school "queen."

Riding in the lead car, the beautiful chief contestant, nominee for the first-year class, was Meyer (Baldy) Kroopnick. He was a picture of beauty. In other words, the perfect queen candidate for the law school "Junior Weekend" (says Kroopnick).

Hardly in the running, says Hugh Collins, the law school's press agent-in-chief, are several "opposition" candidates. George (Pelican Pouch) Tichy, Robert L (Thermous) Recken, K. A. (The Trout) Abraham, and W. A. F. Lubersky will probably be also-rans, he assured the press.

If elected, Kroopnick, who has the odds now, promises to shave, and his manager promises that Kroopnick will then take a bath. The others haven't made promises yet, says Collins, since they are past the first year, and are of known reputation. In his search for posts for campaign supporters, if elected, Kroopnick has invented two new committees so far. They are the committee for Finnish relief and the committee for morons, which he has delegated to the Emerald reporter on the law school beat.

Symphony Leader To Judge Entrants In Band Carnival

Rex Underwood, director of the University of Oregon symphony orchestra, left Eugene yesterday morning for the Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney, where he will be a judge in the competitive band and orchestra festival of the northeast Washington division.

Mr. Underwood will judge orchestras and soloists in competition Friday and Saturday, and Saturday night will conduct the concert of the festival orchestra, made up of participants from all parts of eastern Washington.

H. B. Wood Elected Education Head

The Inland Empire Curriculum society, a subdivision of the Inland Empire Education association, elected H. B. Wood, professor of education, president for the ensuing year.

The society is composed of persons in the northwestern states interested in public schools' curriculum work, Wood commented. It is the only sectional society of its kind in the United States. Once a year it meets in Spokane, and the fall meeting rotates. Next fall it will be in Eugene.

Macgregor Will Be New Law Teacher

John M. Macgregor, prominent member of the New York city bar session and a University of Oregon alumnus, will return to the campus this summer to teach two courses to law students in the coming summer session, according to Dean Wayne L. Morse.

The two courses which he will teach are water rights and admiralty. These two are not offered in the regular curriculum, says Dean Morse, so the opportunity is an unusual one.

While in the University, the attorney was ASUO president, 1922-23, a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and was elected to Alpha Kappa Psi, men's honorary fraternity in commerce.

Peanut Party Slated

Wesley House's open house will be held at the Methodist church tonight, starting at 8 o'clock.

The theme of tonight's entertainment will be a Peanut party. Group games and folk dancing are a part of the program offered. Aileen Williamson is in charge of the party.

Open House Tonight

Open house will reign at Westminster house tonight from 8 o'clock until 11:30 when the Friday night party gets under way.

Games, dancing, and refreshments will be open for the enjoyment of anyone wishing to come.

Aviation, Radio Occupation Lists Will Be Available

After several months of preparation, the first two of more than 35 occupational guidance lists to be compiled by Miss Elizabeth Findly of the reference department have appeared in mimeograph form and will be available to those interested. The lists are selected annotated bibliography of material in the University library.

These two deal with aviation and radio. Miss Findly will continue to add to a more comprehensive list for student reference. The project is being carried on cooperatively by the University library and the personnel division.

Carl Frost Receives Eastern Position

Carl Frost, psychology graduate, has received notice of his appointment to an internship at the Worcester state hospital in Massachusetts.

The 12-month internship will begin September 1, 1940. It carries with it an opportunity for graduate work at Clark university.

Schwering Talks

Dean Hazel P. Schwering of the Oregon campus traveled to Salem Monday to speak to about 25 University mothers on the subject of organization of women students on the campus. She had lunch at the home of Elizabeth Stead, a student on the campus.

Bob Swanson

picks his racing cars for speed — his cigarettes for slow burning

HERE THEY COME in a hurricane of flying dirt and squirting oil. You can almost hear the high whine of the motors and the shriek of brakes and burning tires as they streak into the sharp unbanked curves. They may call 'em "midget racers," but there's speed to burn underneath those toy-like hoods. Leading the pack in the picture above is Bob Swanson, Pacific Coast champ. In a split second these racers may be climbing each other's hoods, hurdling, somersaulting, flying through fences. Bob Swanson likes a slower pace in his off-time. Fishes a lot. Smokes Camels a lot. He explains: "I don't like overheating in my cigarette any more than I like it in a racing motor. I stick to Camels. I know they're slower-burning...milder and cooler."

SPEED'S MY DISH IN A RACING CAR — BUT I WANT MY CIGARETTE SLOW-BURNING. CAMEL CIGARETTES BURN ON THE SLOW SIDE — GIVE THE 'EXTRAS' IN SMOKING PLEASURE

In recent laboratory tests, Camels burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested — slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

WITH BOB SWANSON, it's always a slow-burning Camel. "That slower burning makes a big difference," says Bob. "Camels are milder—easier on my throat. They don't bother my nerves. And they never tire my taste. They give an extra amount of smoking, too." Yes, speed is fine in the right place, but millions have learned that in cigarettes the coveted extras of coolness, mildness, and full, rich flavor go with slow-burning Camels.
