

Symphony Will Be in 'Pops' Tradition

Tschaikowsky To Be Featured Tuesday Night

Emerald Concert Will Be Given Free To All UO Students

Although there will be no checkered tablecloths or refreshments of an edible nature, the Emerald's concert of the University Symphony orchestra next Tuesday night in the music auditorium will be definitely in the "Pops" tradition as far as selection of a program of popular compositions goes.

The six symphonic numbers to be presented have been selected from the January and February concert programs on a basis of audience applause and response. All compositions are extremely melodious and have been taken for the most part, from the romantic works of Tschaikowsky. This is especially appropriate at this time, since 1940 marks the one-hundredth anniversary of the Russian composer's birth.

Complete Program

Mr. Underwood is particularly anxious that all students interested in music be in attendance, and although the orchestra members will be dressed in their usual black and white regalia, the entire concert will be conducted on an informal basis. A feature of the evening will be an informal answering of questions about instruments, rehearsals, compositions, and other interesting characteristics of the performance.

The complete program for the event follows:

1. Scherzo from Tschaikowsky's "Pathetique." This number is characterized by Mr. Underwood as "one of the most brilliant and effective virtuoso pieces in orchestra literature."

2. Ballet music from "Le Cid" by Massenet. The four selections—Andalouse, Argonaise, Aubade, and Navarraise—rhythmically recreate the atmosphere of the various provinces of old Spain, and are of the Iberian type in which Jose Iturbi specializes.

3. Waltz from Tschaikowsky's "Serenade in C." This lilting waltz is always popular, and resembles some of the gay music of Victor Herbert.

Dance of the Sugar-Plum Fairy from "Nutcracker Suite." This charming little excerpt from Tschaikowsky owes much of its popularity to the sparkling use of the celeste throughout. In the February concert, when the in-

Instrument was played by Miss Emile Chan, the number was enthusiastically encored.

"Maid With the Flaxen Hair" Prelude, "Maid with the Flaxen Hair" by Debussy. Played by the string orchestra and with Concertmaster Jane Young as violin soloist, this proved to be the hit of the January concert.

4. Overture-Fantasia, "Romeo and Juliet." This romantic song poem from the pen of Tschaikowsky tells the story on which Shakespeare based his play. The "love theme" recently provided the basis for the popular "Our Love," which Andre Kostelanetz arranged in modern tempo.

Admission will not be limited to holders of student body tickets. All students will be admitted free of charge.

Mothers to Dine At Special Affair

Campus Tour, Tea Will Be Arranged To Honor Visitors

Feature of Mothers' Day weekend, May 10, 11 and 12, will be a banquet scheduled for Saturday, May 11, in John Straub Memorial building, according to plans of the committee in charge of entertainment. Only 550 tickets are to be issued for the event, it was revealed, all six units of the men's dormitory to be utilized in handling guests.

Mothers will be able to make a campus tour sometime during the weekend, according to present plans, with student guides posted at convenient points doing the directing. These will be stationed at the student health service, physical education building, art museum, museum of natural history, library, and Chapman hall, the campus' newest building. Books from the Burgess and Nash collections will be on display at the library.

AWS and YWCA are sponsoring a tea for the mothers Friday, May 10, in Gerlinger hall.
