Campus clothes are in order, and a 10-cent door charge will be made for each couple. Bob Calkins' orchestra will play at the affair. The hour's program has been planned to include tagging.

Dr. Poffenberger Visits Psychology Department Here

Dr. A. T. Poffenberger, professor in applied and physiological psychology from Columbia university, recently visited the psychology department here.

As a member of the Social Science Research council, he is visiting the different universities collecting information concerning research ventures. Dr. Poffenberger visited with Dr. L. S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, as well as faculty of the psychology department.

Dr. Poffenberger is a past president of the American psychology association.

Condon Club to See Movies of Wild Life

Motion pictures and slides will be shown at the Condon club meeting tonight by Frank Wire, Oregon state game commissioner. The meeting will be held in 101 Condon at 7:30.

Mr. Wire's pictures will include views of Oregon's wild life and game as well as scenic shots, according to Warren Lomax, Condon club social chairman.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Tydings to Inspect ROTC Department

Major William L. Tydings of Portland arrived on the campus Tuesday for the annual United States army inspection of the state's ROTC departments, their administration facilities and methods.

Major Tydings will inspect the advanced military science classes on Wednesday, and will be present at the Thursday uniform parade drill.

Band Box

(Please turn to page two)
Top arranger is Glenn himself. And of course the top record, by a huge margin, is "Tuxedo Junction." Leading non-favorite: Artie Shaw.

"18th and 19th" Looks Like Revival

Will Osburne's arrangement of "Between 18th and 19th on Chestnut Street" has been recognized as outstanding among all the bands in the country. Here is a true old blues melody a la Jelly Roll Morton and Bessie Smith who were dishing out in the days when New Orleans was the musical center of both "black and white jazz." It's an indication of the trend toward extensive revival of the older type of American music.

Fresh Out of Love?

What has happened to love? Of the twenty-five top songs this week only a mere four or five are expounding the charms of America's favorite after-dinner hobby. This golden ingredient in the lyricwriter's treasure chest seems to be woefully missing. "Do I Love You," "Make Love With a Guitar," and "Love Song of Renaldo" are practically the only "love" ballads which are currently popular . . . and at that they are far down the list. Who knows—maybe the song writers are having family troubles and just simply don't feel like writing nice sweet goey love songs.

"Woodpecker Song" Saw Europe First

The immortal "Stardust" gathered dust on the music shop shelves for three years, from 1929 to 1932, before it finally caught the ear of ye public. . . . "The Woodpecker Song" was a smash hit in war-torn Europe preceding its introduction in this country. . . . Tongue-twister of the week is "Knick Knack Pollywah Jingsol." What was that again?

College Dailies Get on Board With Tabloids

Tabloids are storming the country.

Not so long ago our own Emerald changed its dress and put on new make-up in the form of tabloid editions. Schools all over the United States have been doing that, too. Prominent schools using tabloid are Northwestern, Minnesota, Kansas, Louisiana State and others. Last week we saw a condensed issue of the U. of Washington Daily, not to overlook a pint-sized special run of the Daily Californian. We're watching the Oregonian day by day. . . .

Pinafores

are not an exclusively Oregon idea—darn it!

San Jose State's Spartan Daily carries advertisements for "Pinafores for little women. . . . Care-free days are here again! Wear the emblem of smart little girls . . ."

"This is not a snap course," a Washington professor was heard to warn his class which was in the process of snapping notebooks and generally getting ready to depart a few minutes before the bell sounded.

Types of Whistlers

The "Fio-wheet" type — frequently calls taxis, waiters and newsboys with his accomplishment. Absence of front teeth greatly aids production of ear-splitting screech. Much admired by small boys.

The "Thsoooooow" type — Instead of applauding a movie, play, or speaker he whistles. Recommended for breaking up political rallies, or lectures.

Out-of-date — Revels in ex-popular tunes. "Yes we have no bananas!" is one of the favorites. Frequently found in engine house drawing rooms.

Cross-eyed — Sees beautiful coed but looks in the direction of weather-beaten spinster. Whistles, gets spinster.

The finger-whistler—Very dangerous, not recommended for amateurs. This type has been known to become excited and bite off both fingers.

ATOs, Finns

enough for his third victory. Star of the Alpha team was Harold Kaschko, who hit three times in three trips to the plate, driving in two runs and scoring two himself.

Finns Win

Bob Lundell came lumbering across the plate with the Finns' winning run 10 minutes after the regular time limit had expired to give the Finns a 3 to 2 decision over the Sluggers.

Three runs were scored by overthrows as the Finns only made four hits from the offerings of Jaross, and the Sluggers obtained two official hits from Pitchers Shepard and Lundell.

Yearlings Seen

440-yard run — Mallory, Rudolph, Rucker, Gearhart.
880-yard run—McKinney, Watt, Maher.
220-yard dash—Rudolph, Ralston, Cougill, Wren.
200-yard low hurdles — Soper, Furman.
Shot put and discus—Powers, Elliot, Foster, LeClair.
Broad jump—Gearhart, Wren.
Pole vault—Thomas, Hannen.
High jump—Beifuss, Thomas.
Javelin—Bouck, Damskey, LeClair, Ericksen.
880-yard relay—Selected from Rudolph, Rucker, Ralston, Gearhart, Mallory.

Rogers Will Invite ADS to Hold 1941 Convention Here

When Bob Rogers, as delegate of the W. F. G. Thacher chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, goes to the annual national convention of the professional advertising fraternity, being held this year in Columbia, Missouri, May 7-10, he will be carrying a special message inviting members of ADS throughout the nation to hold their annual convention at the University of Oregon next year.

This year's conclave in Columbia is being held in conjunction with the University of Missouri's (Columbia) journalism week, similar to, but larger than the University of Oregon's annual newspaper conference.

Among speakers to be featured in journalism week activities will be Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Oregonian, according to word received here.

Hearst Rifle Cup Will Be Sent East After 6 Years at UO

The huge William Randolph Hearst cup was taken from the military department's trophy case Tuesday after a year's display, and was crated for shipment to the new winner of the national intercollegiate rifle matches for 1940.

Won last year by Oregon's national champion rifle team, the cup has spent more time at this University than at any other school. Every other year for the last six years, the duck squad has defeated all the other competing colleges in the United States and brought the great silver trophy back to the campus.

This year the home team lost by a narrow margin to the Lehigh university of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Four Home Runs

Haynes settled down in the second inning to blank the Vandals, while his mates pounded across another four runs on three hits. Shimshak walked and came in on Whitman's double. Whitman then moved on to third when Carney came through with a single. Both outfielders romped home a moment later when Berry walloped his four-bagger.

Although they trailed at this stage, 8 to 3, Twogood's boys still threatened. Hits by Chuck Atkinson, Joe Spicuzza, and Bob Smith and a two-base error by Cox accounted for three Vandal runs in the third inning.

This was as close as the Vandals came, however, for Haynes was beginning to gain confidence. He pitched almost flawless ball for the next five innings, blanking the Idahoans and allowing only one hit.

Meanwhile, the Ducks continued their barrage of base hits. Temporarily halted in the third inning, they posted three more tallies in the fourth when Shimshak was safe on Tony Caccia's error and Whitman, Carney, and Berry singled.

Coach Hobson's varsity added another run to their total in both the sixth and seventh innings and then climaxed the fireworks with a three-run assault in the eighth and final inning.

Whitman doubled in the sixth and scored on Berry's two-base knock. In the seventh inning, Cox tripled and came in on Jack Shimshak's single.

Oregon's ninth-inning outburst featured Carney's home run, a double by White, and two singles by Berry and Herbie Hamer.

The Vandals staged a slight uprising in their half of the ninth, but it was just the last punch of a beaten gamester. Berry's error,

McEntire Talks on Pacific Problems

Incoming migration contributes toward the maintaining of school enrollment and improves the stability of a proper balance of ages in the population, emphasized Davis McEntire, senior social scientist of the United States bureau of agriculture, Monday night at the final meeting of the Phi Delta Kappa series. "Population Problems of the Pacific Area" was his topic.

A recent survey conducted by the bureau of economics and the departments of public education on the Pacific coast showed that the future population trends will decrease if no migration is permitted and if the birthrates remain the same.

"The decade of 1920 to 1930 was the most conspicuous period of western migration. Since 1930 this migration has continued, but is slightly diminished," McEntire related.

One of the main problems is the adult education and a retraining to accustom the men and women to a non-agricultural occupational and industrial structure. McEntire believes these economic problems to be temporary and will be handled by public policies in the near future.

V. N. Phelps, president of Phi Delta Kappa, introduced the speaker.

Independence Hop Set for Next Friday

A "print and cord," date or no-date dance for all independents will be held at 9 o'clock Friday evening on the third floor of Gerlinger. The dance is to be sponsored by the Yeomen and Orides.

It is for all independents—dorms, co-ops, and unorganized students—and a charge of 25 cents per person will be made for those who are not members of Yeomen or Orides. Pinafores for the girls will be in order.

YWCA Frosh to Sell Ice Cream Today

Sale of ice cream bars by the YWCA frosh commission will take place this noon in all living organizations, but the all-campus sale, scheduled for tomorrow, has been postponed until Friday. YW President Jean Crites announced last night.

All houses are being contacted for orders by Jeanne Wilcox and Mary Kay Riordan, co-chairmen of the project, she said.

Spicuzza's grounder, and a single by Roy Ramey resulted in two runs for the Idaho club in this inning.

Stocky Merle Stoddard, a curve ball expert, pitched the entire game for Idaho and was in trouble almost constantly. Twogood evidently was saving his already over-worked pitching staff for the Oregon State series, so let Stoddard suffer.
