Ned John's Yearlings Sweep Field Events To Score 92 Points Against 22 for Uni High and 12 for Eugene High

By BERNIE ENGEL

Oregon's frosh trackmen won all events but the mile and made a clean sweep of the shot, discus and javelin as they scored 92 points in their only regulation meet at home, defeating University and Eugene high squads with 21 and 12 points respectively.

Although times and distances in most cases were far from impressive, Coach Ned John's team was not pressed in the majority of the contests.

Ralph Furman, lanky frosh from Coquille, finished at a trot in the high hurdles with some 15 yards to spare over University high's Allinbaugh.

McKinney Flashes

Bob McKinney bided his time in the half, letting Briggs of Eugene set the pace for the first 660, and then came in striding to take the race handily in 2:08.

Another good mark for the yearlings was posted in the low hurdles as Russ Soper breezed home in :24.1.

On the field, the frosh came through with several good performances. Bill Beifuss cleared six feet to win the high jump. Ross Gearhart broad-jumped 20 feet 8 inches, and Lloyd LeClair put the 12-pound shot 51 feet 2 inches.

High point man for the meet was Ross Gearhart of the frosh, who, beside anchoring the winning relay team, totaled 15 points with firsts in the broad jump, 220, and 100.

Coed Chatter

By JEAN SPEAROW

So football practice is finally over and this afternoon Tex Oliver's sober, hard-working boys will walk off Hayward field just a bunch of happy lads. They may not spend the day picking flowers and singing at the tops of their voices but "Spring term at the U" will be the popular refrain.

And the boys have really earned their rest. Starting three weeks before spring vacation, the 30 days of grueling practice is culminating this afternoon with an intersquad game.

Two months of grinding, sweating, straining, and bucking can be pretty tough with no prospect of a game for four or five months. Maybe what the boys have learned will show up next fall, but right now most of them are glad enough to be brushing off the mud until next year when the incentive will be greater.

One activity which is in full swing at this point is the girls' golf tournament. Hard luck hit Nancy Lewis, the tournament's No. 1 player, when a little spot of poison oak decided to climb all over her. But it takes more than poison oak to stop Nancy when she starts to swing and she plans to be out of the infirmary by Monday, in time to play off her match before the Tuesday deadline.

Another bright spot in the girls' golf tournament was Anabel Hibbitt. Anabel came from Sacramento jaysie, trailing clouds of golfing glory, and suffered a broke ankle before she had a chance to show what she could do.

A freshman newcomer to the golf ranks is Marelle Wilbur, another California girl with a beautiful drive. Her first bid for distinction was made last week when she beat Kay Thompson 1 up in the eliminations.

Kay is the girl who made the second highest qualifying score

Husky Nine to Play Here Friday, Saturday

Oregon's last home series this season is on Howe field Friday and Saturday when Tubby Graves brings his Washington baseball team here for a couple of games which will have a lot to do with deciding the No. 2 position in the northern division. After those two the Ducks will have to look for other fields—namely, the other schools in the Northwest.

For, Coach Hobby Hobson goes for a ride with a team that really looks like a ball club with the addition of Buck Berry and a little matter of six other batting owners with averages over .300. The Webfoots meet Idaho, Washington State, and Washington in fast succession on the road.

But Hobby's main concern now is with the invading Husky. Rumors drift along from other teams in the northwest that Washington has a powerful ball club this year—and then others which claim that Graves' team is not so wonderful.

Izzard Ace Hurler

In the way of pitching Washington has Dick Izzard who also is a basketball player. Izzard hurled his mates to victory Monday over Washington State. Graves has a sophomore studded team to work with this season. Six of them hold down first string positions.

First baseman, second baseman, third baseman, pitcher, catcher, and one outfielder are all sophomores.

Thus far, Washington holds a string of three victories with no defeats to throw them in a tie with Oregon State. Oregon has seemingly found its batting punch with which to win some games. This was very much in evidence against Idaho during the first of this week.

Last night the Ducks continued their hitting spree and sprayed the frosh outfield with more hits. They scored their first win over the hitherto undefeated freshmen, a 9 to 4 affair. This gives indications of a tough time for the Huskies come Friday and Saturday. Berry was over at third, and Bill Calvert at short yesterday.

Werschkul Takes Top Net Position

Once again Oregon's varsity tennis lineup shifted yesterday when Les Werschkul threw a bombshell in the fire by upsetting Len Clark, who had been playing the number one position, 6-1, 6-1.

This shoves Werschkul up to the number one position, puts Clark in the number two post, and automatically reduces Larry Key to number three.

It was Werschkul's day to howl, and Clark was unable to match strokes with him as placements, drives, and overhand smashes scored point after point for Werschkul, who was last year's number one man.

Tomorrow Key will challenge Werschkul for his newly acquired laurels, and Clark will attempt a comeback net week to recover his number one position. Thursday of next week will mark the last day any challenges may be accepted.

and she offered a real stumbling block to a green freshman. But Marelle proved that any green that may be sticking to her was picked up on a golf course and now we're looking for more big things from her.

Duckling Ball Team Bows to Varsity

Oregon's frosh baseballers went through a short workout yesterday, and then John Warren sent his boys against the varsity for the fourth time this season, in a practice game. It was Bob Rehberg on the hill for the Ducklings, but the varsity was too much for the stocky fastballer, and the Ducks took their first win of the four-game series.

John Tuttle was back in the lineup after being out with an infection in his leg, but Bob Yancy, who is making a strong bid for the stoptop position took his turn too, at the short field spot.

The freshmen meet the Toledo high school nine at Toledo Saturday.
