

Coeds to Attend OSC Playday

Oregon Girls Will Tour to Corvallis Saturday Morning

Twenty-five University coeds will tour to Corvallis this Saturday for an annual WAA playday at Oregon State and will be on hand for registration at 9:30 a.m., it was announced yesterday.

Plans have been made for a day of athletic activities, and delegates will have a chance to try their hands at many different sports. Games will range from ping-pong to tennis.

Those driving cars for the excursion will be paid 35 cents per person. Margaret Young will handle plans for transportation of the Oregon group.

Girls who will attend the play day from the University are Mary Jane McMorris, Frances Delaney, Ellen Wenger, Betty Plankinton, Kay Thompson, Helen Moore, Jeannine Withers, Bellrae Jonsson, Dorothy Dunham, Jeanette Nelson, Lillian Bishop, Mary Anderson, Thelma Bouchet, Norma Scarpelli, Florence Cooley, Zo Anne Shook, Margaret Shipier, Helen Smedley, Vera Allen, Beth Musser, Mary Alderson, Ethel Dickson, Florence Anderson, Anna Banick, and Hazel Oldfield.

Comish Lectures

Dr. N. H. Comish, professor of business administration, addressed an Association of Retail Shoe salesmen on the topic "New Selling Techniques" last night at 7 at McCready's cafe.

BA School Replies To Legal Challenge

OFFICIAL REPLY TO THE LAW SCHOOL CHALLENGE

Ho Hum! Spring has come and the Law School Larvae have grown up into great big anemic athletes, and it has been brought to our attention that the infantile, immature, shyster students have again challenged the B. A. School (Better Athletes) to a game of softball in the near future—Ho Hum! Tomorrow, isn't it?

It is only after two days of heated discussion in a deadlocked decision, with pity in our hearts and remorse in our souls, that we, the B.A. School (Better Activities) condescend, stoop, or waive the privilege of rank and dignity to associate with such a motley aggregation of drunken, spend-thrift, scoundrels, scallywags, and skunks for the duration of a game of softball—the mechanics and intricacies of which are surely beyond their comprehension.

Record Cited

For years, yea, for verily eons, we have inflicted upon them such decisive drubbings the very disgrace of which has seriously decreased the enrollment of said second-hand diploma-mill to our rear. We sadly fear that if we are not more humane in our chastisement in the future that there will no longer be such a C grade institution. However, we have made no special arrangements with the Board of Higher Education to make said ex-institution one of the branches of the B.A. School (Benignant Association) in order to create a greater choice of electives for our freshmen. LL.D.'s, J.D.'s, etc., et al can be obtained by taking one term of Professor Riddlesbarger's business law course.

We wish to say, too, that we were not the least bit befuddled by the stilted, musty, outmoded, pompous, bombastic combinations of Greek, Latin, and Yiddish epithets and legal terminology of that verbose document that besmeared the north wall of the third floor of our beloved institution. We must admit, however, that one of our yearlings mistook it for a daily assignment and remarked, "translating that tripe was a pipe." 'Tis a shame indeed that a more constructive use cannot be made of these foreign dictionaries.

"Hello Walk"

Until recently—1937 B.F. (Before Fenton)—Oregon still maintained one of its most highly-prized traditions—that of saying "hello" to everyone along our once famous "Hello Walk." But now, with that blighted area at the southern terminus of the walk, the tradition has gone to pot. Why? Well, no self respecting woman or student will continually subject herself to the raucous whistling, lewd stares and childish quips of the anemic, stoop-shouldered goons loitering about ankle deep in Sensation and Aviaon cigarette butts.

It must be remembered that we are men of industry and business, and any time taken from such arduous endeavors in order to satisfy such a brazen challenge is to be lauded as a distinct sacrifice on our part, but are always ready to accommodate even such

Inspection Shows ROTC Facilities To Be Inadequate

Stressing the inadequate facilities of the military department, Maor William L. Tydings, federal inspector of the college ROTC departments, wound up his three-day visit with several comments on the Oregon unit.

Pointing out that a heavy shower had forced the Thursday parade drill to be disbanded, Maor Tydings said that the University needs a large drill hall similar to the barracks at Oregon State.

In company with President Donald M. Erb, Major Tydings inspected the junior and senior military students Wednesday. He complimented Colonel Robert M. Lyon, head of the ROTC, on the system of instruction used.

an insignificant challenge as this. Finally, the proceeds of the game will be used to send your esteemed "dishonest John" Hollis and "Cyclops" O'Connell to the blind school where their ability to call 'em will not be so hotly contested.

Let's play ball!!
Respectfully submitted,
Edwin Larson,
Hal Larson,
Leonard Ruecker.

Challenge and Communications Committee, School of Business Administration.

Dr. John R. Haynes, noted physician and regent of the University of California, is called the father of the initiative in that state.

Hunter college's new skyscraper building in New York will have a modern broadcasting and public address system.

Six New Students Pledge Fraternities

Six students representing five Oregon houses signed up for Greek letter organizations last week, the dean of men's office announced yesterday. The new pledges bring totals for spring semester to 23.

Students registering include Richard Jackson, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Gardena, California; Bill Moxley, Sigma Chi, Eugene; Roy Dobell, Phi Gamma Delta, Salem; David Scroggin and Julian E. Leonard, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Seaside; and Russell Soper, Sigma Nu, Tacoma, Washington.

Collection Donated To University Libe

Dr. M. C. Harris, local dentist and 1898 University of Oregon graduate, has given a collection of old textbooks to the University library.

Some of the books were used by Dr. Harris when he attended school here, and others are those used by his father when he attended Oregon Normal school at Monmouth.

Student Library Will Be Displayed

A suggested library for a model house will be on display Library day, Friday, May 3, in the browsing room of the University library. Also on display will be a suggested foundation library for an English student, containing 35 volumes. Mrs. Clinton Vincent is assembling the display.

DANCE
to Bob Kees
SUNDAY EVENING
Swimmers' Delight

Ted's Mixers
All Kinds
958 Oak St.

REX
2 ACE FEATURES!
"Jeronimo"
featuring Preston Foster and Nancy Drew — plus —
"Return of Doctor X"
with Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane

WHERE TO GO

McDONALD
Another Wallace Beery Hit!
"Twenty-Mule Team"
with WALLACE BEERY — plus —
"And One Was Beautiful"
with Robert Cummings and Lorraine Day

Your Guide This Weekend

Once more we delve into Eugene's amusement world.

Dancing dominates again this weekend. Dancers at Swimmers' Delight will also be entertained with a fast state league baseball game in the afternoon. Our old friend, Maurice Binford, is found twice during this weekend. Saturday night at Willamette Park and other evening at the Eugene Hotel. The sign of the neon mill will also be a popular spot this Saturday evening.

Leisure time is always well spent out at Laurelwood playing golf.

For more relaxed recreation the theaters are offering some mighty attractive bills.

DANCE
to Maurice Binford's Orchestra
SATURDAY EVENING
at
WILLAMETTE PARK

WHAT TO DO

HEILIG
On the Stage—
Smiley Brunette
In Person — also —
"Hercules of the Saddle"
with The Three Musketeers

Special Carnival Dance
with Free Refreshments
to the tune of Carl Rooen's Band
SATURDAY EVENING
at
THE HOLLAND

MAYFLOWER
Eleventh at Alder
Filmed on the McKenzie—
"ABE LINCOLN IN ILLINOIS"
starring
ROBERT MASSEY

An Afternoon AT Laurelwood

Is one you will really enjoy. Our course is in tip-top shape and inviting you to a game of par-smashing golf.

Just a Short Way from the Campus
2700 Columbia

It's a Real Deal!

With Dinner Dancing
every evening except Monday from 6:30 to 8:30 to the tune of Maurice Binford's orchestra. Phone 2000.
at
The Eugene Hotel