Activities, Floats To Be Snapped By Campus Group

Chances for Oregon coeds and fellows to see themselves in a national publication is becoming more a reality with the announcement that the University's graphic journalism class members will be posted over the campus Friday, Saturday, and Sunday to record with their cameras the activities of Junior Weekend.

The accurate and colorful pictures of the Weekend will be submitted to Life magazine. John Cavanagh, promotion chairman, has received several favorable letters from Life's editors concerning publication of them.

Photographs of the floats will be taken Friday afternoon, Pat Keller, chairman of construction announced, and he urges that all living organizations finish their decorations early so their entry may be in the pictures.

Members of the class of George Godfrey, head of the news bureau, who will be armed with their cameras to catch the real spirit of the "Springtime in Vienna" theme will be Glenn Hasselrooth, Doris Lindgren, Catherine Taylor, Rita Wright, Irwin Zeller, John Koppen, Relta Lea Powell, and Bud Jermain.

Mineral Talks Presented at Institute Meeting

Several speeches on Oregon minerals were given at the meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers when they met in Condon hall Saturday afternoon.

The meeting preceded the banquet at the Osburn hotel given in honor of Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology and geography departments.

Speakers and their subjects: Dr. L. W. Staples, geology instructor, cinnebar; John Allen, with the state department of geology, chromite; Kenneth Hamblin, lead and zinc in the Santiam; Lloyd Ruff and George Barton, lead and zinc in Bohemia.

F. W. Libby gave the last speech of the afternoon on "Lesser Known Minerals of Oregon."

Scholarships Go To Three Girls

Mothers Group Divides Annual Student Awards

Two Portland girls and one Eugene girl were awarded the three scholarships given annually by the statewide Oregon Mothers association, Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, announced.

The $500 grant was divided among the girls, with Shirley Drissalla Johnson, Franklin high school, Portland, receiving $200; Neil Allison Koch, Eugene high school, $150; and Mary Jean Robinson, Roosevelt high school, Portland, $150.

The three high school students, who will all graduate in June, were chosen from 40 petitions submitted for their outstanding ability in scholarship and activities.

Members of the judging committee were Dean Onthank, chairman; Dr. Rudolph Ernst, professor of English; Dr. Astrid Williams, assistant professor of German, and Mrs. C. C. Wintermute, president of Oregon Mothers.

Oregon Student Will Broadcast

Thelma Schnitzer, piano student of George Hopkins, will play a half-hour program of classical compositions over station KOAC, Corvallis, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. Schnitzer will be presented in her senior recital in the music auditorium late in May, Mr. Hopkins announces.
