Rally Squad in Limelight Again

FOR several years the rally squad has been subject to a barrage of criticism both from the student body and through its representative, the Emerald. Each year the executive committee has publicly announced that they will take politics out of the rally squad and make it a vital function of the ASUO.

So many of these statements have been made that the student body as a whole has become skeptical of any such promise on the part of the executive committee. To say that the new ASUO group will make the rally committee a useful thing would probably cause tongue-waggers to start.

Yet that is exactly what the six members of the committee determined to do at their last meeting. Further, the committee backed up their determination by concrete steps. In the first place they voted to investigate the setup under which the rally squad operates. There was considerable sentiment that in the actual system might lie the faults rather than with the rally group itself. In the second place by calling for petitions they assured themselves of a great many from which to choose.

* * * * *

AS a step in the right direction the committee unanimously voted Pat Keller, junior member of this year's rally squad, as chairman for the coming year. The discussion upon this appointment was purely around the qualifications of the candidate and all were agreed, after reading Keller's petition, that he was the best man. Keller has had considerable experience on the committee. Not only that, he has worked out an elaborate plan for rally committee activities.

Judging from these facts, from the executive committee's "do or die" attitude on the rally squad, and from Pat Keller's qualifications it can safely be predicted, we believe, that next year's rally squad will be an efficient, smooth-working group, performing a real service for the ASUO.—L. N.

Behind the 8 BALL

With JACK BRYANT

Top weekend story concerns a trio of Tri Deltas and their Sigma Chi Mortar Board dates. The always different DA Neely, Mary Rose Ryberg, and Dawn Corey presented their dates with poison oak corsages. Now, Dawn reclines in the infirmary, Mary Rose wears a lot of very obvious powder and DA gets very energetic itching speels. Jack Flannigan, George Kelmer, and Hi Hustes (the dates) got off easily. Flannigan's invitation read, R.S.V.P.

"He who laughs last . . ."
Phi Delt frosh started to take their seniors on a ride Monday night. The upperclassmen were overpowered, tied up and loaded in a trailer. The seniors that weren't in the trailer were at a private home so the frosh went after them. During the rapid fire events that took place after the frosh arrived all the frosh got out of the car, sooo . . . a senior gets in the car and drives off.
