

Moms, Kids Receive Sheepskins Together

When the 1940 diplomas are presented at annual graduation ceremonies this spring there will be, in at least two classes, a mother and her child graduating at the same time.

Miss Ruth Richardson, of the Oregon campus, will have completed her course in English at the same time that her mother, Mrs. John Y. Richardson, will receive her Bachelor of Law from Northwestern Law school in Portland. Mrs. Richardson already has her Master's degree and has been very active in Portland civic affairs. She is national chairman for Americanism for the D.A.R. and is on the citizen committee for the Juvenile Court of Multnomah county.

Receiving their diplomas at the same time from the same school along with about 625 other Oregon graduating classmen will be Mrs. Cherry O. Hutchison, graduating from the school of music at the same time that her son is receiving his diploma from the Business Administration school.

Mrs. Hutchison has attended classes at Columbia and New York Universities and the Portland Extension center before attending the University. She is a member of Mu Phi and Phi Beta, music honoraries, and the orchestra. She plays the violin and piano.

Her son, William, comes back this year to graduate after working for the First National bank in Portland. Mr. Hutchison belonged to Alpha Kappa Psi, accounting honorary, when he was here on the campus four years ago.
