

Topflight Golfers, Berg and Hill, Play in Eugene

Match Play Set For Laurelwood Course Friday

By JEAN SPEAROW

Two of the nation's greatest feminine golf stars, Patty Berg, former University of Minnesota coed, and Mrs. Opal Hill, well-known professional star, will be in Eugene Friday at the Laurelwood course to conduct a morning seminar in the finer points of divotting and an afternoon lab of more of the same.

Winner of many of the nation's top-flight tournaments, Miss Berg last year enrolled at Minnesota, and there picked up an all-consuming interest in football. She returned to the golf world this year, however, accepting a lucrative offer to travel for a well-known sporting goods firm.

Mrs. Hill, long one of America's finest women golfers, teamed up with Miss Berg, and the two have spent the past few months touring the country, giving demonstrations, and playing exhibition matches.

Schedule Given

At 10:30 they will give an exhibition of shots and preside at a round-table discussion, answering questions and explaining difficult points.

In the afternoon, at 1:30, they will be paired with Mrs. Blanche Herbig and Mrs. John Bushman in a match-play foursome. Mrs. Herbig is one of the outstanding women public links golfers in the state, having once held the state public links title. Mrs. Bushman is a former Eugene country club women's champion.

There will be no gallery fee.

Tests at Massachusetts Institute of Technology show that molasses heads the list of iron-containing foods with about 6.1 usable parts per 100,000, by weight. Beef liver and oatmeal are second and third.

'Dead' Letters Found in Johnson By Reporter

Missed your morning mail? Do you feel that your girl friend or banker has been neglecting you lately? Or maybe you think that the U. S. post office department has gone bankrupt during the current flood of free political mail which our congressmen gleefully send out by the ton.

A more feasible reason for that missing letter is that it is lying in a desk drawer in the dean's offices of the Administration building. To date, 30 letters, postcards, airmail letters, post office notices and bills addressed to missing or unknown persons in care of the University have accumulated. Take a squint at the following—maybe you've got something.

They are addressed to: Mr. and Mrs. M. Carl Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Buy Armstrong and Family; Mr. Lawrence A. Beckstrom (freshman); Mr. Ellsworth Bolstad; a note to Mr. Jack L. Bangs; Mr. Ralph Beardsworth; Mr. James Culligan; Mr. Victor Mr. James Culligan... Mr. Victor De Mattei; Richard Dulaney; Mr. C. E. Francis; David W. Gibson; George H. Goslin; Mr. Jason Herviu; Mr. Howard Halgedahl; Ray S. Hewitt; Harold R. Johnson; P. Kenneth Maher.

Mr. George Murray Jr.; Mr. O. J. Nilsen; Mr. D. J. Marsdin; Robert A. Stalker; Mr. Allen Snyder; Mr. William Spitz; Mr. Harold Schluter; Mr. Richard W. Thomas; Edward K. True; Lt. James William Woolery; Mr. W. W. Wilson; and Mr. Gib Wiley.

Library Buys Books

With the fall term coming up, the University Library has a large number of new books to interest students in reading for enjoyment as well as study.

The recent additions include such books as "The Philadelphia Story," by Philip Barry; "The Eagle Gathers," by J. Taylor Caldwell; "The Chiffon Scarf," by Mignon Eberhart; "Chad Hanna," by Walter D. Edmonds; "Arizona," by Clarence B. Kelland, and "The Family," by Nina Fedorova Riasanovsky.

Duck Tracks

So you see, all the rough talk of Bujon being a poor sport and a quitter was uncalled for and now that the true story is known, Pee Wee should be commended for his actions, even if it does place Oliver on a spot for a good quarterback. He doesn't want to leave but he feels he must, and promises to be back next year in a much better position to play good heads-up football.

Ducks Watch Beavers

Several of the Webfoot grid players took advantage of the day of rest last Saturday and traveled to Corvallis to get a good look at the Oregon State Beaver team in action against the supposedly strong Idaho Vandals. Although the Orange ran up an impressive 40-1 score against the hapless Vandals, their performance failed to make much impression on the Oregon men.

Buck Berry—"Idaho wasn't worth a damn."

Jim Harris—"Idaho wasn't any darned good."

Rog "Babyface" Johnson—"We'll take 'em."

Dick Ashcom—"They looked pretty good."

As you can see, Harris and Berry felt Idaho was no test for the Beavers and Johnson didn't care whether they were a good test or not—Oregon will beat them. Ashcom played safe—which might be a wise thing for all of the Beavers' opponents to do this year.

Team Looks Good

The game with the San Diego Marines last Friday night gave the Oregon rooters quite a thrill. The Webfoots played great early season ball and the line more than lived up to the high hopes that were held for them. Granted that the Marines were a far lighter outfit, it is quite something for a team to hold backs like Hal Roise, Max Tafaya, and Lowell English to a grand total of minus six yards gained from scrimmage and at the same time rip to shreds an opposing line with veterans like Montrief, Johnny Ryland, and Bill Thrash scattered through it. The game showed that Oregon really has something and that if they can keep to a fighting pitch during the tough conference schedule, they have what it takes to make things plenty miserable for any of their opponents.

One thing is certain, Coach Tex Oliver has a fine trio of punters in Len Isberg, Curt Mechem, and Frankie Boyd. Their wet-ball booting Friday night added up to a neat 43-yard average per try from scrimmage, and that isn't to be sneezed at.

Reason for College Topic of Speeches By Debate Group

"Why is a woman in college?" This question is the one chosen by the Women's Symposium to be discussed this winter on interesting trips planned throughout Oregon, California, and Washington, Marvin A. Krenk, instructor of speech, announced yesterday.

The organization will meet this afternoon in Friendly hall, room 107, at 4 o'clock. Every girl who is interested in speech is invited to attend as outlining of the year's activities will begin at that time.

The Ghost and I

phonic date the other night without learning the pigger's name; 'phones play tricks with voices, now it's up to Janie to be tricky . . .

Ghostie jumped at the mention of telephones. . . So did Jean Morrison who thought it was another long distancer from Kansas City. Along with a Portland musician appropriately named Shaw, the K. C. general manager (three Rothschild department stores) has called Eugene 2900 several times. . . word has it that in five more years the mysterious manager will miss the draft bill completely. . . correct us if we're wrong. The Ghost may have rattled a chain in excitement over the discovery, but it is believed such a phone message disturbed the recipient while Rex Applegate and she scuffled during the hello dance.

Ken Christianson, Emerald sports editor, has been striving to put a good foot forward with Jean Spearow. . . the rumor of Jean's saw-off with Tackle Tom Terry is unfounded, Ken.

And so the Ghost told. The egg was finished, and I leaned back in my chair wondering if the foggy weather would affect the invisible imp. Ghosts are wickered in wet weather and the eerie eavesdropper has made slips to the effect there are more houses in his order book. He's gone now. Gone to read weather reports.

It's getting unfair and warmer.

And then there was the girl who DIDN'T get her southern accent by eating Dixie cups.

Eugene Bank Gives Donation Statistics

Recent figures reveal that the First National bank of Eugene has been one of the steadiest and largest contributors to the various funds and drives of the University of Oregon.

According to Mr. Richard Smith, president, the bank donated $53,000 to student causes between the years of 1920 and 1935, and has given four or five thousand dollars each year since that time.

The bank gives work to approximately 27 students each year in both part and full time jobs. Mr. Smith said, and of the 64 employees in the bank, 29 are graduates or former students at the University. The bank has also been influential in obtaining jobs for many others, he said.

Scorecast Winners Will Receive Radios

Dick Phillip, campus representative for Philip Morris and Co., announced recently that the 1941 football forecast will again be operated on the campus with five radios given away as prizes.

Three of these prizes will be given for group participation in the entire contest and the other two portables will be presented to the man or woman entering the largest total number of ballots for the duration of the football season.

Personnel Change Reported by Taylor

A personnel change in the office force was announced Monday by Dr. Howard Taylor, head of the psychology department. Miss Lorraine Larson, former secretary, was unable to continue her school work this year and is to be replaced by Mrs. Marcelle King.

Mrs. King is also handling the secretarial work of Dr. Dan Clark, head of the history department.

Faults in Speech To Be Corrected In Friendly Clinic

Students who are handicapped by various speech impediments such as stammering, lisping, nasality, etc., may enter the University's speech clinic in Friendly hall for a diagnosis and correction of their defects.

Remedial treatment, for which there is no charge, is suggested for both organic and functional difficulties. Each student receives special attention through individual conferences and may have treatments depending on his difficulty and time.

The purpose of the speech department is to give training in the organization and oral communication of knowledge gained through study and experience, to aid students in developing the powers of personal adjustment to a speaking situation, and to prepare him for effective participation in public affairs.

Campus Calendar

Oregon Willkie-McNary Non-Partisan club will meet this evening at 7:30 in the College Side.

There will be a Condon club meeting in the geography seminar room of Condon this morning at 11 for the purpose of electing officers for the year. All members and associate members are requested to be present.

Tryouts will be held for the yellow squad Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in McArthur court.

No More Theater Rallies Is Decree Of ASUO President

"Athletic rallies at theaters and other commercial places are out from now on," stated Tiger Payne Monday.

"The student body rallies," he went on to say, "are for all the students and many of them cannot afford to pay the advanced prices usually charged at rallies."

In reply to a question, he said that the student body had plenty of money without charging admission to the rallies and other student enterprises.

He plans cooperation with the Southern Pacific railroad for transportation to the Oregon-Washington football game scheduled for October 12. As this game is one of the biggest of the year, he is attempting to negotiate student rates so that a greater part of the student body will be able to attend.
