Donations Include Prehistoric Relics Of Pottery, Bones

Several interesting gifts have been made to the museum of natural history during the summer months according to Carl Huffaker, student assistant curator of the museum.

Some fossilized bone artifacts, from the Lower Klamath lake region, were presented to the museum by Frank A. Payne of Klamath Falls.

Dr. H. C. Barnett, acting head of the anthropology department during the absence of Dr. L. S. Cressman, donated some specimens of northwest coast Tsimshian materials from Port Simpson, B.C. Dr. Barnett Simpson did ethnographic work in the British Columbia district, last summer.

Material from Kansas, including pottery fragments, points and scrapers were gifts from Lloyd L. Ruff, former geology instructor here. Mr. R. F. Heizer donated an atlatl from Lake Patzcuaro, Mexico.

Fossil material from the Lower Klamath lake region was received from H. F. West, and pipe frag-

'Touch Wood' Writer Known to U.S. Drama

Although an English playwright, American playgoers are well acquainted with Dodie Smith, author of "Touch Wood," this season's first campus play, October 18, 19, and possibly 23.

Miss Smith got her first taste of drama at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts. She made her debut as an actress in a musical comedy, 1915. Her first play was "Autumn Crocus" at the Lyric theater in London, 1931. It was an immediate success, and since has been on the American stage numerous times. Next of importance was "Second Service," produced at Wyndham's in London. Both plays have been adapted to the screen.

Her most recent play prior to "Touch Wood" is "Dear Octopus" which enjoyed a fairly long run two seasons ago on Broadway.

"Touch Wood" made its American debut this summer when it was produced for the first time by the University Summer Theater.

Due to limited seating capacity, the audience will be restricted to 100 persons each performance. All seats will be reserved.

ments and other fossilized material from the same region was presented by C. B. Howe.

One important purchase, a group of folsom points from Colorado, was made by the museum. The points were secured from Marvin McCormick, an unusually good specimen. This type of point represents a high degree of workmanship and is often associated with extinct animals in the southwestern United States.

YW Membership Drive Will Begin

Two Ticket Booths To Remain Open Monday, Saturday

Living organization representatives organized plans for the YWCA membership drive, which will start Monday, October 7 and end Saturday, October 12, Friday afternoon at a meeting in the YWCA bungalow.

Pat Salisbury, chairman of the drive committee, stated, "We want this year's drive to be bigger and better than ever. As the Y needs the support of the campus, so does the campus need the support of the Y."

A new plan will be put into practice—that of having membership booths on the campus between the Oregon and Commerce buildings and in front of the College Side Inn Monday and Saturday.

"There is nothing as contagious as enthusiasm," Mrs. E. E. DeCou, executive secretary of the Y, stressed in her brief "pep talk" to the large drive committee. "We want the YW membership to mean something to the girls," continued Mrs. DeCou. Although the Y provides activities for all girls, Dr. Branton's Bible study alternating with assemblies Wednesday nights will be the highlight of this year's YWCA activity schedule.

The YW is a non-denominational Christian association for girls of all religions, from sororities, dormitories, those working in private homes, and girls living in Eugene are all active members. The membership fee for a year's membership packed full of worthwhile activities is one dollar.

Local Employers Approve Student Labor in Eugene

Miss Janet Smith of the Student Employment Bureau reports that Eugene businessmen and townspersons have been well satisfied with student labor.

New students and those inexperienced in various types of work have used willingness and enthusiasm to make up for what they lack in experience.

A fifty-fifty proposition between the employer and the student is necessary for harmony. The hope was expressed that those sent out by the employment bureau will continue to prove satisfactory.

Museum Library On New Schedule

The art museum library will be open from 2 until 5 p.m. on weekdays and closed on Saturday and Sunday on its new schedule. The art museum will be open three days per week as on previous schedule.

Campus Calendar

Today is the last day for students to register who wish to vote in November presidential elections.

Civil pilot training assistant coordinator J. C. Stovall is still trying to get in touch with the following people for conference concerning their pilots training applications and requests they see him at 314 Fenton hall some time today: Lloyd Tansing, Jack Bryant, Bill Chapman, Don Johnson, Harold Knutson, William Larson, James Russell and Verlin Wolfe.

Orides will meet in the AWS room of Gerlinger for "open house" tonight. Non-members will be charged 50 cents which will apply on their membership fee if they are accepted for pledging.

There will be a brief but important meeting of the law school student body in front of the College Side Inn at 6:45 p.m. today, Saturday. All members are requested to be there on time.

Bicycle riders are meeting at 3:00 Sunday afternoon (Oct. 6) at the old Co-op corner of Thirteenth and Kincaid, to go for an afternoon ride. Everyone welcome. Bring a sandwich.

Prominent Visitors Inspect University Psych Department

Several prominent psychologists from other universities have visited the psychology department here, during the summer, to confer with the professors and observe the department organization, according to L. F. Beck, associate psychology professor.

Visitors include: Dr. E. S. Conklin, head of the psychology department at Indiana; Dr. W. T. Heron, University of Minnesota; Dr. Fred F. Courts, University of Missouri; Dr. Lloyd Humphreys, Northwestern; Dr. Harry M. Kapps, Louisiana State university; Dr. H. C. McMurtry, Yankton college, South Dakota; Dr. Francis P. ## Time, Life Offered Students at Savings

Time and Life magazines will be available to University students this year at special student subscription rates through the Emerald promotion staff in conjunction with the magazines' advertising campaign in the Emerald.

House representatives are being appointed to secure subscriptions from students in living organizations. Independents and students in houses in which no representatives have yet been appointed may secure subscriptions from Jay Scott in the Emerald business office, room 5, Journalism.

Five Teams Win In Donut Tennis

Touch Football Schedules Given Next Week

By FRED TREADGOLD
Second round elimination in the 1940 intramural tennis chase saw five more net quintets go the way of all flesh Friday. Teams chalking up wins were Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Tau Delta, Canard club, and Sherry Ross hall.

In the opening match the ATOS whitewashed Sigma hall, 2 to 0. Smith took his singles in straight sets 6-2, 6-2 from J. Browne, while Wilson and Payne beat Hutchens and Boice 6-2, 6-2, and Brown and Boone defeated Rush and Bloom in doubles, 6-0, 6-0.

Canard club beat Sigma Alpha Mu by virtue of a default, 2-1. The clubman singles player, McFaddin, beat Goldberg 6-1, 6-0, while the Sammies took one doubles 9-7, 6-4, the hard way. Jacobsen and Ail were on the victorious side while Thompson and Parsons were losers.

Phi Kappa Psi defeated Kappa Sigma, 2 to 0, by winning a singles match and getting one forfeit in doubles. Livesay took his singles from Riley, 6-0, 6-2, for the Phi Psis.

The Delta Tau Delta netmen belted Alpha hall from the race, 2 to 0. Drach and Metzler edged out Williams and Lake, 7-5, 6-0, in one doubles while Atkinson and Shelley took the other from Kunz and Endicott, 6-1, 7-5.

By winning a doubles and singles match, Sherry Ross hall eliminated Delta Upsilon, 2 to 0. Kramer won singles over Shaw, 6-1, 6-0, while Bessee and Luckover took a doubles match from Sorenson and Anderson, 6-2, 6-3.

Touch football will start Tuesday, October 8, according to Paul R. Washke, director of intramural athletics. Teams will be divided up into leagues of four clubs each. Schedules will be announced next week.

General geology students will go to Skinner's butte Sunday for the first field trip of the year, according to Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology and geography departments. Primary geological features will be observed. The trip, scheduled to start at 2:30, will be called off if there is heavy rain.

From The Pulpit

By DON BUTZIN

Full University church day programs are scheduled among Eugene religious organizations tomorrow. Many of them have special classes and social programs for University students.

Newman club, campus Catholic group, will meet on the third floor of Gerlinger hall at 10:30 for mass. Father F. P. Leipzig, St. Mary's Catholic church, will speak to the members at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the same building. Following his talk, students will have time to "mix" and have refreshments, John Schreiner, president, announces.

Lutherans Hear Visitor

J. J. Hunsaker, visiting speaker, will take over the pulpit of the Lutheran church on Sixth and Pearl streets at 11 a.m. tomorrow and deliver an address on the present world-wide war problem. He will reveal the governmental attitude toward conscientious objectors. Luther leaguers meet at 7:30 p.m. with Eugene Wike as leader.

Dean Victor P. Morris of the school of business administration will lead the University young people's group at the Christian church at 9:45. Church services start at 11 a.m. and Christian Endeavor meets in the annex to the church at 12th and Pearl streets.

Westminster Entertainers
Westminster house invites any University student to attend the initial meeting tomorrow morning at 9:30 of a group which will discuss "The Practical Aspects of Religion." Ore Freerksen, University of Oregon graduate who has been teaching in Seoul, Korea, for two years will talk of his experiences at Westminster during the evening meeting.

Holy Eucharist Sunday will be celebrated at the Episcopal church tomorrow with a communion service at 11 o'clock, followed by a sermon by Rev. E. S. Bartlan. Dr. Ida Virginia Turney will lead the Sunday school class for University students at 9:45 on church history. Helen Lyle, young leader, announces a meeting for University students from 6 to 8:30 tomorrow night, during which time there will be a social hour, planning discussion, and a devotional service.

"Unreality" Discussed

Christian Science students are invited to attend the reading and testimonial meeting of the church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The subject for the readings will be "Unreality."

Tomorrow marks the start of a three-weeks revival meeting series at the Baptist church. Participating as leaders will be Dr. Oscar Lowry and Rollin Calkin, former Eugene resident. The subject of Dr. Lowry's sermons tomorrow are "Prayer for a Revival, Imperative and Important," at 11 a.m., and "The Book of Books, or Is the Bible the Word of God?" at 7:30 p.m. Meetings will be held every week night except Saturday for three weeks in this revival series. Senior B.Y.P.U. meets at 6:30 tomorrow night.

Fellowship Meets

A new series of meetings for University students on "Christian Philosophy" will start at the Methodist church at 9:45 tomorrow morning. Rev. Charles E. Funk, student pastor, will be the teacher.

The Congregational church's Plymouth fellowship for University students meets at 6:30 tomorrow night with Miss Elizabeth Edmunds, Northwest chairman of the Pilgrim fellowship, as leader. Rev. Williston Wirt speaks at 11 a.m. on the subject, "Perspective." Rev. Funk will also speak at a Wesley foundation church service at 11 a.m. His topic will be "Going My Way?" This service marks the beginning of the Methodist church's observance of Christian Education week.

Wesley foundation officers will be installed at the service tomorrow morning. The foundation students meet at 7 p.m. for a devotional service and a discussion of "The American Way."
