eration of what the job would entail.

The committee also voted to ask for applications for the rally committee to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Jack McCliment. McCliment withdrew from school yesterday to take a position with a firm in South America.

Marge McLean and Lyle Nelson were appointed by President Payne as the executive committee representatives on the new educational features committee of the activities board. They will help with the arrangements, provided for in Monday's educational activities board meeting, for bringing educational films, lectures, etc. to the campus.

In one of the most far-reaching bits of legislation ever attempted the committee voted to make the eligibility requirements for participation in educational activities standard for both men and women and to ask the scholastic requirements committee to enforce a ruling of 2.00 GPA for all men and women in student offices, beginning with next term.

Action was also taken on the minimum wage plan for dorms and other campus living organizations, on cooperating with the interfraternity council in bringing the interfraternity sing contest back to the campus, on the Oregon-Washington rally in Portland Friday night, and on the apportionment of funds for student union.

President Tiger Payne reported a new plan for future ASUO assemblies which was accepted by the committee. Under his new set-up freshmen will not be required to attend the assemblies, but a roll of each house will be called in order to determine how many from that house is there.

It was near 2 o'clock when the committee voted to adjourn. Said member Marge McLean, "And I had a one o'clock."

my alley." Within a few months he was acting on the University stage with such classmates as Gerd Brown, Kenneth and Florence Shumaker, Alphonse Korn, and Art Gray.

The following years were spent acting with the Art Players, now the Portland Civic Theater, the Very Little Theater in Eugene, and with the Henry Duffy Players where he got valuable experience with veterans like May Robeson and Leo Carrillo. He was also studying dentistry, and finally got his degree in 1929.

He likes Hollywood. But it's an uncertain life so he is not going to throw away his dental equipment, and eventually he and Mrs. Buchanan wish to settle in Eugene. He says you cannot beat Oregon for living. In California it is so crowded "you have to carry around your own rock to stand on when you go fishing."

YMCA Holds Meeting For Frosh, Hi-Ys

Chairman Cliff Matson announces there will be a meeting of the frosh commission tonight at 7:30 at the Y open to all freshmen interested.

The group plans to discuss the type of organization the members want and the general setup for the year such as time and frequency of meetings, possibility of a quartet among the group, and possibility of a book fair to be held sometime during the year. Freshmen having been in high school HI-Y are especially invited.

Following this meeting, at 9 o'clock, the Y student executive cabinet will come together with President Wayne Kelly in charge. At this time the cabinet will make definite plans regarding the membership campaign to be held October 15-23. Co-chairmen of the membership drive will be Milton Small acting as secretary and Bob Lovell in charge of publicity. Formal announcement of the Oregon HI-Y training conference to be held on the U. of O. campus October 19-20 will also be made.

Westminster House Delays Organization

Members of Westminster house on the campus are invited to a covered dish dinner at the Presbyterian church at 6:15 o'clock tonight. Following the luncheon will be talks by Dr. James Millar, head of the Oregon Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian church, and Dr. Frank Getty, head of the corresponding national board.

Members of the Oregon State college Westminster house group will be present at the dinner, announces Mrs. J. D. Bryant, director of the University group.

Professor to Show Summer's Movies In BA Classes

Students of Dr. N. H. Comish of the BA school this year will see motion pictures of this country's leading department stores which Dr. Comish took this summer while on a five-weeks tour of the United States.

In addition to taking pictures of the department stores visited, Dr. Comish interviewed store managers on how each store differed from others. This information will be used to the benefit of students studying problems having to do with buying and selling techniques.

Professor Stetson Leaves for Capital

F. L. Stetson, professor of education, left early this week for Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of representatives of the various accrediting associations in higher education.

At the meeting, called by Dr. George Zook of the American Council on Education, Professor Stetson is to represent the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. On his return he expects to stop at Missoula, Montana, to confer with Dean Daughters, chairman of the Northwest Commission, on problems of accrediting higher institutions in this region.

YW Bible Study To Begin Today

Dr. J. F. Branton announced last night that a non-credit course in Bible study will begin this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the YW Bungalow.

Wednesday afternoon Dr. Branton will discuss one complete book of the Bible. "In the event that a student may be forced to miss one afternoon, the previous and following lessons will be conclusive," Dr. Branton explained.

Because Dr. Branton will not interpret the meaning of the Bible, girls of all religions may feel free to attend and still keep their own religious beliefs unmarred.

"It is the hope of the entire YW," Mrs. E. E. DeCou stated, "that all Christian girls try to attend these Bible instructions consistently even though missing one week will not affect the previous lesson."

Kathleen Brady New YWCA Treasurer

Kathleen Brady was elected treasurer of the YWCA at a chapter meeting held in the YW bungalow Monday night following the acceptance of Trudy Anderson's resignation. Jean Crites, president, presided over the meeting.

Betty Pratt will replace Otilia Hofstetter as chairman of the Book Review, and Betty Lind was elected president of the Dill Pickle club.

Fordham university will award 20 special scholarships in connection with its centenary.

HARVARD'S HEAD COACH DICK HARLOW—he found he'd have to beat Harvard before Harvard could beat anybody else. Read this week's Post.

How's your FOOTBALL PSYCHOLOGY?

Read "THEY DIDN'T NEED COACHING," by Dick Harlow

YOU'RE the new football coach. Your new team is terrible. The student body is indifferent as a clam. Player after player drops out of spring practice. Head Coach Dick Harlow tells how he shook Harvard out of its famed "indifference" . . . insulted Torby Macdonald into a 78-yard sprint for a touchdown . . . built a team around a man who broke his leg!

In this week's Post Harlow lets you in on some of the psychological gags that worked on the Crimson — and some that backfired. Buy the Post this week.
