

FBI Urges Friendliness For Officers

Speakers Praise Intensive Study Of Modern Crimes

"Friendliness between officers and juveniles is essential to the understanding of one of the most serious problems of the present-day life," urged Gerald Murray, juvenile officer from Klamath Falls, during his discussion of the topics "Juvenile Control" yesterday at the second-day session of the FBI police school. Mr. Murray recommended that police officers be members of committees which handle the juvenile program and which are the best qualified to help with the problem.

Convictions Problem

Discussing the topic of the percentage of convictions of criminals, L. L. Ray, district attorney, said that, in theory, all people who commit crimes should be arrested, but that it is not always possible to get convictions. He stressed the importance of public cooperation with the work of the police officer.

Laws Discussed

During the second day of the session the officers continued their intensive study of the modern methods of description of criminals. Also the vehicle laws of Oregon were explained and stressed by Ralph W. Eamons, of the department of state. Additional discussions were held on first aid training, given by Robert Mariels of the Portland police department, and the methods of prosecution in federal courts, led by Carl Donahue, U. S. attorney, Portland. The elementary session of the school will conclude Saturday evening.

FOUND!!

The lost 23 Theta Chi nuggets have been found! However they refuse to recognize any "legislation without representation!"

The 32 hours of experience out in the wide world finds them in excellent health, enjoying their freedom and attending classes as usual. Pansy Potts denies any acquaintance with Jane Withers.

P.S. Any of their "brothers" concerned about their safety and return need not fear or worry—they'll come back someday!

Speech Students Own Voice Records

More than 300 University speech students have made recordings of their speaking voices since the beginning of the school year, according to Speech Instructor Jack L. Bangs.

These individuals, members of classes in drama, speech and voice science, are afforded the opportunity of voice recordings through the speech department's new policy of recording speech pupils' voices at the beginning of the course. A second recording is made at the finish of the term, the two being compared and improvement noted.

Yturri Running For Legislature

Anthony Yturri, Oregon law graduate in the class of 1937, is the democratic nominee for representative from district 31, consisting of Malheur county.

He was recently elected Democratic county central committee chairman. He is also president of the Young Democratic club of Malheur county and during the last year was president of the Lions club.

At Oregon he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Delta Pi, Phi Delta Phi and Order of the Coif.

Alumni Meeting Set For November 9 In Johnson Hall

Bulletins have been sent by the University of Oregon alumni association to the directors in the various counties urging attendance to the second annual meeting of the board set for November 9 in Johnson Hall.

This meeting is important as it marks the approach of the end of the first year of operation under the new county director organization. Returns so far indicated an almost 100 per cent attendance to the meeting.

Freshman Frisk

lings turned out for practice there was genuine pep and chatter. With the anticipation of the rook game, which is only three days away, the frosh gridsters started to show that necessary "get up and go."

The players looked good in practice, getting a new snap into their plays. Still sadly lacking, however, is their need for blocking.

Coach Warren's chargers will be out to erase in part the drubbings handed the frosh last year by Bill McKalip's men. The double defeat suffered last year was the first time in the five years since "Honest John" has had the frosh team that they have been set down in both games of the "civil war."

The yearlings have a bag full of tricks up their sleeve and the rooks will have a good chance to see them—under the lights on Multnomah field Friday night.

New YW Class Heads Elected

Tie in Secretary, Treasurer Jobs; Re-vote Thursday

Elizabeth Edmunds was elected president of the freshman commission and Elizabeth Daggett head of the sophomore commission of the YW at the completion of the final count of votes cast yesterday.

A tie between Babs Du Puy and Carol Hobart, freshman candidates for secretary and Nancy Allen and Mary Louise Vincent, sophomore treasurer nominees, was announced. Re-voting will take place tomorrow between 9 and 12 o'clock at the YW Bungalow.

Other officers for the frosh commission are vice-president Dorothy Clear and treasurer Barbara Crossland.

Eleanor Engdahl is the new vice-president and Abbie Jane White, this year's secretary of the sophomore commission.

The official installation of the newly elected frosh and sophomore commissions will take place at the Bungalow on October 17 at 4 p.m.

New Political Books On Current Events Added to Library

Timely books on world events and politics are suggested by the librarian for constructive reading as well as for enjoyment.

Among the new books suggested are "War Propaganda and the United States," by Harold Lavine and James Wechsler; "The German Reich and Americans of German Origin"; "The Decline and Fall of the British Empire," by Robert Briffault; "Hitler and I," by Otto Strasser.

One of the most prominent among these books on world events is the $10,000 Guild prize contest book, "The Fire and the Wood," by R. C. Hutchinson.

Colorful book covers are displayed on the various bulletin boards in the library to attract attention to the new arrivals and attract student interest.

Elliott, Sherrard Named to Art School Graduate Staff

Walter Elliott and Jean Sherrard are new graduate assistants in the University of Oregon art school this year.

Elliott, helping in the drawing and painting classes, is taking the place of Earl Scott, who was called to active duty in the 41st regimental band, Oregon National guard.

Miss Sherrard, who received her degree from the University last spring, takes the place of Jean Sutherland.

Three Oregon Men Flying at Randolph

Three University of Oregon men now flying cadets are among the 265 embryo pilots of the air corps who are scheduled to complete the basic flight training at Randolph field, Texas, "West Point of the Air." This is the eighth class to be trained under the expansion program of the air corps that envisions 7,000 additional pilots annually. Richard L. Williams, Milwaukie, '37; Jerald F. Holzapfel, The Dalles, '39; and Noel S. Benson, Klamath Falls, '38, will transfer to the advanced flying school at Kelly field, Texas for a final ten weeks aerial training in formation flying and day and night navigation before getting their "wings" and commissions as second lieutenants.

This eighth class of flying cadets started their aeronautical career last May when they began their primary flight training. Eighteen flying schools located at strategic centers of the country are utilized by the air corps for this phrase.

Bible Series Begin; Students Welcome

This year's Bible studies conducted by Dr. J. R. Branton will be open to University of Oregon men students as well as women. The first of the series will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the YW bungalow.

The book of Amos will be the topic of Dr. Branton's lecture and Mrs. E. E. DeCou, executive secretary of the Y, urges students to enter into the discussion which will follow.
