

Duck Tracks

By KEN CHRISTIANSON, Co-Editor of Sports

Edwin N. Atherton, Pacific Coast Conference athletic commissioner, is no ogre contrary to some stories written about him which might be construed to give that impression. He sat back in his chair at the men's physical education building and pointed out phases of the purity code which had not been made too clear previously.

For instance, this deal on John Petrovich, the coveted backfield prize from Alhambra, was explained to us for the first time. Despite the ineligibility ruling on Petrovich and his two teammates, these three may go to any school of their choice in the conference—it is only USC and UCLA from which they are barred so far as athletic participation goes. But, because they can't play ball in those two schools doesn't mean that Southern Cal and UCLA are exempted from fulfilling their obligations to the boys. If these players choose to go to either of these schools, they, in turn, must give the boys the "grants in aid" which were previously promised. Of course, this doesn't mean that the school must support them for the entire four years, just merely for the length of time for which the grants in aid were to apply.

Most of these grants are on a term to term or year to year basis, anyway.

No Injustice Meant
"I don't want to do anyone any injustice," declared Atherton who has had trouble getting his information printed the way he wants it. As for this reported suit which Petrovich or Southern Cal was to start, it was the Alhambra high school coach who was instigating that, according to Atherton.

But such a suit would gain no more headway than that of a player suing a coach for not putting him in a game. Petrovich's right to an education is not in the least affected by the ruling, so in this way the code is as fair to the player as to the athlete, which was so contrary to much popular thought.

Atherton is interviewing the freshman and transfer athletes on the Oregon campus now. In a couple of days he'll go to Corvallis then to Seattle. Later he will make the trip to Pullman, Washington; Moscow, Idaho; and Missoula, Montana.

Boys Not Suspected
"I'm not investigating the boys, it's just the ten schools," he pointed out. "The boys are just one of many sources of information, and I don't depend entirely on their bits of testimony in basing my decisions," he added. The boys are under no suspicion.

The main idea of the code as presented by Atherton was to prevent the wholesale recruiting of athletes. Oregon's Tex Oliver will be a busy man while he is in Los Angeles. Friday evening he appears on two radio stations, both the Mutual-Don Lee system and the red network of NBC. There is a possibility that he will also speak over Station WUX of the blue network. This is Buddy Twiss' half hour which carries the football news of the coast campuses as brought to him by the sports editors of the student papers on these universities.

Finally it seems Southern Cal's football machine is beginning to function after another slow start. They may not have the power which they had last year, but they'll give Oregon and every other team in the conference a tough time.

blocking back position in the rock backfield is Hay Hoptowitz, Indian star from Yakima, Wash. He is the brother of Al Hoptowitz who played for WSC.

A big headache for the frosh backfield will be Ralph Harper, right guard. Harper, who weighs 185 was first string in the Portland All-City and is slated for plenty of action in Friday's game.

The fight for starting positions on the frosh team at center and in the backfield have narrowed down. Brad Ecklund seems headed for the starting position at the center slot. The probable starting backfield will put Pete James at quarter, Newquist at left half, Liday at right half, and Emmons at full.

Yearlings Meet OSC Rooks at Portland Friday

The freshman football team started to taper off last night and used most of the practice session for brushing up on defensive work.

The yearlings have a busy evening out for themselves in Friday night's tilt with the rooks. Reports from the Oregon State camp say that Bill McKallip has stellar performers three deep in every position.

The rooks will have serious threats in their backfield in Bill Rush, quarterback, and Lewis Shelton, fullback. Rush, swivel-hipped runner promises to keep the frosh on their toes. Shelton, 215-pound fullback will be a test for the frosh's big line. Slated for the Badminton enthusiasts are asked to meet tonight at 7:30 in Gerlinger hall with Jack Newton, president of the University Badminton club. Both the gals and the guys are asked to attend the gathering when plans for the year will be discussed.

Electrical Detective finds wanted pair

Telephone men know this piece of apparatus as the 108-A Amplifier. It is an "exploring amplifier," developed by Bell System engineers to identify pairs of wires in telephone cables—some of which contain as many as 4242 wires.

The cable man explores this mass of wires with the pencil-like probe. A tone sounding in the headphone tells him when he has found the right pair.

Ingenuity—special equipment—attention to details—play an important part in making your telephone service the clearest and fastest in the world.
