

Trojan Gridders Pound Ducks, 13-0

Peoples Passes USC to 'Hot' Win

Oregon Prepares for Washington State Fracas; Culwell, Berry, Schmerling, Dyer on Inactive List

Oregon held USC brilliantly during the first half, outplayed the Trojans during the entire fray, but the Los Angeles boys put their "eggs" where they hatched big dividends. They galloped to 13 first downs, three times that collected by the Ducks and one to boot, they banged off more than two yards for every one the Webfoots paced off from scrimmage—222 in all—so perhaps they deserved to win the game as they did last Saturday, 13 to 0.

Deathly hot was the sun, and so was Trojan Quarterback Bob Peoples' javelin arm, for it was via the air that USC rang the bell, with Peoples rifling both touchdown tosses, once to Sophomore End Joe Davis and once to Al

"Kangaroo" Krueger of Rose Bowl renown. Despite the gruelling ordeal down south, Webfoot gridgers were sheathed in full uniform and rehearsing on their home field yesterday afternoon, three hours after they hobbled off the train in Eugene, and a few of them did hobble.

Injured Webfoots
Jerry Schmerling, Oregon tackle, was steadying himself with a cane as he limped about the sidelines watching teammates drill yesterday. In sweat suit but not full uniform were Guard Val Culwell and Halfback Tippy Dyer. Halfback Buck Berry had on full regalia but was not too active, his wrenched knee all plastered up.

Howard Jones' Trojans did a lot of mousing around in and about midfield last Saturday, but rammied against blank walls when they attempted to barrel through the Webfoot barrier near the goal. However, stymied on the ground, they threw out aerial feelers and connected twice.

Not until midway through the third period did USC muster up scoring punch, and it was that Peoples "guy" again. Banging through the Oregon line, he blizzarded 16 yards down to the Webfoot 30-yard line. Corralled by the Duck secondary at that point, he twisted and lateraled to Guard Ben Sohn, whose 230-pound hulk rolled 28 yards to the Oregon two before being tumbled.

Peoples to Davis
Two plays later Peoples lifted one over the line to Davis for a touchdown. Bob de Lauer, Trojan tackle, made it 7 to 0 in favor of USC after his conversion from placement.

Peoples-to-Krueger chalked up the remaining six digits for the Trojans after two passes and a 15-yard roughing ganged up on the Webfoots to set the play in motion on Oregon's six-yard line. After three failing to make any headway through the hefty Webfoot forward wall, Peoples faked an end-sweep then tossed to Krueger, who grabbed the ball out of a swarm of Oregon hands. De Lauer failed to convert.

Oregon's Threat
Oregon shot its bolt in the second quarter and almost made it count. Dyer grabbed the pass from center and scampered all the way from midfield to the Trojan 21 before being hauled down. Duck Fullback Butch Nelson then bolted through for 14 yards and first down on the USC seven. Four entries netted Tex Oliver's boys but five yards, so the Trojans took over the Oregon two.

Coming in for a good deal of oreid winning was "Red" Davis, substitute Webfoot guard, who torpedoed many a Trojan power smash. Ray Segale, another Duck guard, who supplemented smashing play against the Washington Huskies the week previous did well with another edition of the same stuff against USC.

The starting lineup:
USC (13) (9) Oregon
Krueger.....LE.....Horne
Willer.....LT.....Stuart
Thomas.....LG.....Segale
Dempsey.....C.....Jacobson
Sohn.....RG.....Culwell
De Lauer.....RT.....R. Johnson
Davis.....RE.....Regner
Peoples.....Q.....Haliski
Bunky.....LH.....Berry
Robertson.....RH.....Isberg
Bantan.....F.....Stenstrom

PASSER
Bill Sewell, Washington State halfback, has made a bid for all-coast honors this year with his long distance punting and accurate passing. He'll make trouble for Oregon Saturday.

FULLBACK
Bob Peoples, Southern Cal. fullback, was one of the main factors in the Oregon defeat Saturday. Peoples smashed through the Webfoot line time and again for lengthy gains. USC finally won, 13 to 0.

Coach Warren Drills Freshmen On Fundamentals

Duckling Defense Bolstered in Tilt By Ecklund, James

By LEE FLATBERG
Fresh from their 7 to 6 win over the Oregon State rooks, the frosh took an easy workout Monday afternoon, brushing up on their blocking.

The freshmen came out of the contest in good shape, with Bob Liddy being the only player that was unable to show up for practice. Jim Newquist and Gene Peterson, who were slightly injured in the game were in uniform and seemed none the worse for their hurts.

In commenting on his team's showing in Friday's game, Coach Warren stated, "They looked pretty good in places, but bad in others. I was very well pleased with Brad Ecklund and Pete James."

Ecklund and James
Reports from fans of the Portland fray showed plainly that Ecklund, who had just taken the center duties over, and James, were a continuous menace to hook backs on line plays.

Another performance in the rook-frosh game that can't be overlooked is that of Peterson. His punting kept the rooks continuously in hot water, and his punt from behind his own goal to the rook 36 was nothing short of spectacular.

Capitalizing on the performance of his team in the game, Coach John Warren sent his chargers through a practice session tonight placing the emphasis on blocking. The frosh at the present time are sadly lacking in fundamentals. The only backs carrying out their assignments were Ecklund and James.

COUGAR
Dick Renfro, line-busting fullback on the Cougar team, has in part been responsible for the sudden rise of Washington State. They defeated California and tied Southern Cal.

Campus Sports Get Under Way

Tennis, Ping-Pong, Handball Begin; Champions Listed

All-campus intramurals begin this week with touch football swinging into its final round of competition. With over a hundred candidates listed to vie for undisputed honors in nine sports, close competition is expected.

Tennis singles incidentally found E. McFaddin of last spring's championship duo of Sherman and McFaddin in a tough spot last night when Roy Kremer started swinging and left him in the losing column with a 9-7 and 6-3 count. Other tennis men moving into the second round by virtue of byes are: C. Larson, Lem Putnam, J. Rickshecker, Bruce Maxey, B. Van Metre, Willard Heath, V. Yardum, and A. W. Graham.

Results of singles competition in ping-pong saw Bob Anderson taking the margin over Lloyd Jackson and C. Bolar outpointing George Schreiber. Eight players advanced to the second round unopposed. Schedules for double play will be posted today.

Handball fans lined the court to see H. Kaschko outbounce Bob Payne, Donald Marshall defeat Kenneth Bowes, John Veatch lose to Jim Rathbun, and E. Larson beat Loyal Lang. Bob Parker won over C. Powers by default. The only double matches played last night were between Reiter-Lakefish and Wolman-Riback, and Lettermen Pierce Mallory, Ralph Lafferty, and Ralph Cathey, and the national guard call claimed emerging victorious.

All-campus champions of the fall of 1939 are: Tennis (singles) Lawrence Key; tennis (doubles), Mullins and Livesay; handball (singles) Joe Amato; handball (doubles) Joe Amato and D. Williams; ping-pong (singles) John Sherman; ping-pong (doubles), Fouchek and Baker; golf (singles), Bob Engelke.

HELPED WIN FOR FROSH

Mike Hoyman Slates UO Aquatic Practice

By CHUCK BOICE
Mike Hoyman, varsity swimming coach, who is back on the campus after a two-year leave of absence, will open formal swimming practice this week with a squad brilliant in some events but woefully weak in others as the result of graduation and the national guard call.

Greeting Hoyman will be Jack Dallas, Jerrold Macdonald, and Sherman Wetmore, last year's record smashing trio, along with Lettermen Gerald Huestis, Al Sander, and Jim Marnie, the latter a two-year veteran. However, graduation took Lettermen Pierce Mallory, Ralph Lafferty, and Ralph Cathey, and the national guard call claimed Dick Smith, a letterman, and

All men interested in turning out for varsity or freshman swimming meet at the men's pool Wednesday, October 23. Varsity men will meet at 3:45 and freshmen at 4:30.

Ralph Huestis and Irvin Walrath from last year's frosh team. The best opening for new men, according to Hoyman, will be in the breast stroke event where there is only one man, Pacific Coast Champion Jack Dallas. Anyone interested in either the freshman or varsity breast stroke event should see him Wednesday. Hoyman said, for two positions are wide open on the freshman team and one on the varsity. In addition, Dallas' graduation this year will leave the team without a single breast stroke man for next year.

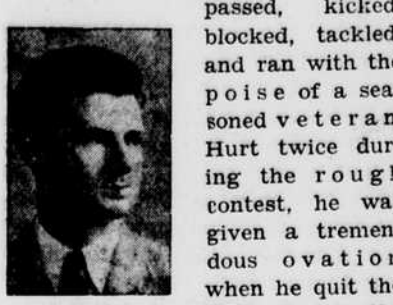

Several Transfers
On top of graduation and the national guard, Hoyman will be plagued by a lack of swimmers from last year's frosh team. Dick Allen, a freestyler, will be the lone first-year man on the squad. Several other newcomers may pick up the slack, however. "Cub" Callis, a transfer from Fullerton junior college, is expected to share the spotlight with Coach Champion Sherman Wetmore in the backstroke; Stew Randall, former Annapolis swimmer, is eligible this year and likely will team up with Jim Marnie in the sprints, and Bill Moore is another prospect.

The squad, as it shapes up at present, is very small, and as at least a dozen men must be ready for the season's opener January 18 at Oregon State, much rebuilding is necessary. Besides the aforementioned breast stroker, two dis-

The name of Jimmie Newquist is new to the University of Oregon campus but he is no longer a stranger to the 7,000 fans that saw him perform against the beefy Oregon State rooks last Friday night. While he was in the ball game the crowd was given a show worth travelling miles to see. Jim passed, kicked, blocked, tackled, and ran with the poise of a seasoned veteran. Hurt twice during the rough contest, he was given a tremendous ovation when he quit the field near the close of the final period.

Bob Flavelle

Dimmed only by the glare of the Newquist stardust sits shifty, Inky Boe, the lad who set up the frosh's only score by his flashy running and brilliant passing. The diminutive halfback made but one mistake against the rooks and that helped Shelton of the Orange Babes to travel unmolested 54 yards to the frosh pay line. When Shelton came booming through the right tackle slot and cut over to his own left, reversing the field, Inky turned his back on the 200-pound speedster and by the time he had turned about again, Shelton had passed him and was goalward bound.

Tex Oliver is probably already looking forward to the 1941 season when the present frosh will be eligible for varsity competition. From what I've seen of Newquist in this first game of the season, he can't miss being a standout in his sophomore year. He has everything.

Penalty Stops Thrust

John Warren's team had two more touchdowns in the palm of their hands but had one called back and the fleeting second hand on the scoreboard prevented the other. A long pass, Olson to Gianelli, hit pay dirt but was recalled by a both-teams-offside penalty. In the last 30 seconds of the first half, the Olson-to-Gianelli combination worked again putting the ball on the rooks' one-yard line but a time out penalty set the ball back 5 more yards and there it remained while futile passes were thrown in an attempt to beat the clock.

The Oregon-USC contest Saturday turned out to be a bitter disappointment to those who expected the Webfoots to finally win a game. Tex Oliver refused to take advantage of a handy alibi when he said that the 99 degree heat was not the cause of defeat, that Southern California's men suffered as well. True, the Trojans were subjected to the torrid temperature as were the Ducks but being used to a warm climate they were able to stand the heat better.

Tippy Dyer continued to be the spark in the Oregon attack as he reeled off a total of 59 yards in the eight times he lugged the pigskin for an average of over seven yards per try.

Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Phi Delt Donut Sevens Win Football League Pennants

Chi Psi, Sigma Chi Push Ahead in League Play; Phi Psi, Zeta Hall Battle to Tie; Intramural Clubs Fight Hard

By FRED TREADGOLD
Three intramural touch grid teams have already come in under the wire copping the titles in their respective leagues. By virtue of wins counted up last week Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu coasted in with three victories, while Phi Delta Theta was added to the list yesterday as they edged out Gamma hall, 7 to 0.

The contest was a thriller throughout. Gamma drove deep into Phi Delt territory in the second quarter only to lose the ball on downs on the enemy 8. Rallying, the Phi Delt, intent on recording win number three, put on a push of their own. A stubborn Gamma defense thrown up on the goal line thwarted every Phi Delt move but one.

The break came when with but 4 seconds remaining in the game little Paul Jackson threw a pass to left halfback Don Kirsch who made a sensational stab of the ball in the end zone.

Scoreless Tie
A scoreless stalemate between Phi Kappa Psi and Zeta hall was staged in the second tilt. Although the deep mud hampered the team's offensive thrusts, both counted up a great deal of yardage in midfield. It was a case, however, of the teams bogging down in the clutch.

BLOCKER
Don Greeley, quarterback, leads much of the interference when the Washington State backfield begins its rushing attack. The Cougars run into Oregon opposition in Pullman Saturday.

By HOWARD BANKS
Playing their best game to date, Kirkwood co-op held Chi Psi to two touchdowns in the second game of a touch football double header played at the tennis field yesterday afternoon. The game was called in the third quarter because of darkness. Sigma Chi defeated Theta Chi, 7 to 2.

Early in the game, Larry Courtwright, Chi Psi, left end, caught passes for a touchdown and conversion to give the mill race boys a seven-point lead. No more scoring was made until near the end when Leonard Hicks went over for six more points. Courtwright again converted and Chi Psi won, 14 to 0.

Sigma Chi Wins
A rough and tumble first game brought Sigma Chi out of a slump to humble Theta Chi. Harrison Williams scored the touchdown that meant victory for Sigma Chi. Theta Chi, when matched against the Alder street outfit, just didn't look like the same team that drowned Sigma hall, 39 to 0, last week. They gave Sigma Chi a good fight, however.

Veryl Alexander, scored a safety that kept the game from being a shutout.
