Earl Russel, Arthur Wiggin To Dethrone Present UO Yell Kings for Montana Tilt

Woody Slater, Bob Greer Ousted by Ruling Of Scholarship Committee; Election of New Leader Scheduled Next Week

Earl Russell and Art Wiggin will be yell kings for the Montana game, Tiger Payne, ASUO president, announced last night. Payne made the appointments after it was clear that both Woody Slater and Bob Greer were ineligible as decided by the scholarship committee. Elections for a permanent school yell king will be held next week, Payne said. Arrangements could not be made for ballots in time to hold the election today, he explained.

Russell, along with Greer, has been assistant yell king this year, and Wiggin was assistant last year.

Slater and Greer were declared ineligible at the beginning of fall term, but because no action had been taken to name a successor, Slater had served as yell leader for the early games of the season.

The constitution, under rule three of scholarship regulations, provides: "scholastic probation automatically removes a student from any such office (ASUO), and prevents him from participating in any such activities while he is on probation."

Frosh Petition For Constitution Gains 100 Names

Methods Outlined For Contacting Entire Class of '41

At least 100 more names were added to petitions asking for a re-hearing on the new model constitution and the right to vote for all freshmen by class workers yesterday. Leaders in the move were busy throughout most of the day and evening securing the signatures of all first year men and women who disagreed with the class card setup.

The drive showed many signs of spreading to all parts of the campus. By nightfall yesterday most of the independents in dormitories and cooperatives had signed and campaign leaders were outlining methods of reaching other freshmen living in private homes throughout the city.

The drive has been carried on by a group of volunteers, headed by Freshman Charles Woodruff, Jim Thayer, Ted Hallock, Nancy Ames, Donald Ross, Ted Goodwin, and Bruce Taylor. These leaders have asked that all freshmen interested in working on the petitions get in contact with them.

Howard Runs for City Council Post

Charles G. Howard, member of the University law school faculty, will be a candidate for the Eugene city council, after a group of independent citizens entered his name in a petition for the nomination yesterday.

Professor Howard will run in place of Councilman P. H. Hanns, whose name is on the ballot, but who quit the race when he moved from Eugene. The professor's name must be written in on a ballot, the petitioning group emphasizes.

A member of the faculty since 1928, Professor Howard holds B.A. and J.D. degrees from the University of Illinois and has done graduate work at Yale. He is a member of Order of the Coif, law honorary, and of Phi Alpha Delta, professional fraternity for law students.

The nominating group expressed their confidence in Professor Howard as a candidate for ward 1, because of his record as a worker in civic movements, his educational and professional background, and his interest in civic affairs.

Badminton Meet Set

Membership cards may be secured at the regular meeting of the badminton club tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Gerlinger hall.

The cards will cost 50 cents per term and will entitle the owner to bring two guests per term. Membership is not based upon a player's skill or ability, but upon genuine interest and desire to play badminton.

Honorary to Meet

Phi Chi Theta, women's business honorary, will hold a dessert tonight at the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority house in honor of outstanding sophomore and upperclass women in the school of business administration.

Norma Johnston and Maxine Klinge are in charge of the program and general arrangements. Hallowe'en decorations and food will be used at the affair.

Presided
John Cavanagh, first vice-president of the student body, who wielded the gavel at the freshman elections last night.

President of AWS Releases Activity Plans

Historical Records Will Be Collected For Dean's Office

A three-point activity program for AWS for the coming year was presented by President Betty Buchanan to her council for their adoption at her meeting yesterday.

To interest the freshmen and create a place for them in AWS, as well as preserve records for future administrations in the women's organization, a file and a history of AWS will be collected and arranged for use in the dean of women's office.

Number two in the 1940-41 program will be the presentation of distinguished women as guest speakers at the AWS mass meetings.

The council will, also, try to solve during the coming year the problem of all activities in the hands of just a few students.

This project will involve much research work and much correspondence with other schools who have already overcome this difficulty, Miss Buchanan said.

The council will meet in the AWS room in Gerlinger next Wednesday at 4 o'clock to have their pictures taken, the president announced.

YWCA Do-Nuts Offered Today

Plain, Sugared, Spiced Varieties On Sale at Booths

Do-nuts, two for five cents, will be sold again today by YWCA members stationed around the campus, Janet Morris, general chairman of the sale announced last night.

Three varieties of do-nuts will be for sale, cinnamon, plain, and powdered sugar. They may also be obtained by the dozen at the YW bungalow.

On the committees for the sale are Donna Ray and Betty Workman of the bakery committee; Dorothy Dunham, chairman, Ann Halderman and Nancy Riesch, salesmen committee; Eleanor Engdahl, chairman, Corrine Wignes, and Corrine Lamon, publicity committee.

Adele Canada is chairman of the poster committee with Pat Salisbury, Janet Rieg, Leota Whitelock, Nelda Christensen, Martha Glover, and Maxine Cuning. Co-chairmen of sales for booths and the faculty are Mary Ellen Smith and Helen Moore, with Carolyn Kortge, Nancy Allen, Mary Ann Fox, Florence Anderson, Jean Horten, Jean Kneass, Mary Louise Vincent, Abby Jane White, Elizabeth Edmunds, and Barbara Clossland.

Chairman of sales in living organizations is Virginia James with Ruth Condon, Bobbie Roehm, Eileen Millard, and Gerry Tripp.

Evening sales will be headed by the Betty Plankinton, Elizabeth Steed, and Ruth Hartley are the other members of this committee.

Miss Smith to Speak On KOAC Tonight

Miss Janet Smith, University employment secretary, will be interviewed over KOAC at 7:30 tonight during the presentation of the speech division's program, "Students on the Air." She will present statistical information concerning student jobs.

A new feature, "Interview With the Past," will be introduced this evening. Four students, Richard Wesson, Don Merrill, Eva Marquart, and Frank Baker will interview Benjamin Franklin, portrayed by Bill Leonard.

Opening tonight's performance will be a college life comedy, "Mrs. Jeckel," with Don Swink, Jean Morrison, Bob Farrow, Dick Turner, and Tony Nickachos as participants.

Bill Mudd will offer a variety of poems on the poetry program at 8 o'clock.

On Politics: No. 3
The campus will decide today who is the lucky gent that after next election day should be our president.

Sophs to Meet In Villard Hall

New Constitution, Annual Informal Under Discussion

An open meeting of the sophomore class will be held tonight at 7:30 in Villard hall, Class President Bud Vandeneinde announced yesterday. The primary purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the model constitution as presented by the executive committee last spring. Class cards will not be necessary for a person to attend the meeting or to enter in the problems of discussion within the meeting, Vandeneinde said.

The secondary purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the sophomore class with plans for their annual informal to be held at McArthur court December 7. The dance committee will be selected through applications rather than appointment, Vandeneinde stated. Anyone wishing to get on the dance committee should give their application to either of the dance co-chairmen Pat Cloud or Len Ballif. No deadline has yet been set for the closing deadline on dance applications.

Hutchinson Named Graduate Chairman

Linn Hutchinson, Firth, Idaho, was elected chairman of the graduate club at a meeting Sunday night. Dr. Howard R. Taylor, assistant dean of the graduate division and head of the University's section, was an invited guest.

Club members, all of whom are male graduate students, decided to poll fellow advanced students on whether their organization should be a discussion or social group.

UO Student Fails To Get 'Brakes' Clipped by Car

A short ride on a bumper didn't bother the unidentified student who last night picked himself up off the pavement on Alder street, brushed himself off, and hastened to assure a frightened driver that he wasn't hurt. The driver apparently failed to see him in the darkness, and ran him down.

"Carried me quite a way," he observed as he rejoined a friend, and the two walked off together.

Hoyman's High School Health Text Finished

First Part of Book Distributed During Principals' Meeting

A guide for local initiative in school health curriculum improvement entitled "Developing Health Instruction in the Oregon High Schools," has been recently completed by Howard S. Hoyman, assistant professor in physical education at the University of Oregon.

The book is divided into three parts, the first of which was distributed for the first time last weekend at the Oregon State High School Principals' convention in Salem. Already it is being well received according to a letter received this week by Mr. Hoyman from Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction, commending him upon the work.

Improvements offered The purpose of the book is not to serve as an outline of study, but it is an attempt to show high school physical education instructors and principals how they may improve their health curriculum in their local school and community. A discussion of problems of school health procedures is given in the book.

Part Two of the book, "Scope and Sequence in Health Instruction," will be distributed in January, and Part Three, "Health Units for High Schools," will be completed in the spring by Mr. Hoyman.

Appointed Consultant
Mr. Hoyman has been a member of the executive council of the National Health Instruction section of the Association of Health and Physical Education for the last three years and last summer was appointed state consultant in swimming and has coached several winning varsity teams.

Kwamas Will Sell Mums for Saturday

Mums for the Oregon-Montana football game Saturday, will go on sale today at noon when members of Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, visit men's living organizations to take orders for the flowers.

According to Grace Williams, chairman of the sale, there will be a booth in front of the College Side today and tomorrow from 1 to 5 o'clock and outside the stadium an hour before the game Saturday afternoon.

The yellow flowers with the green Oregon "O" will sell for $1 and 75 and 50 cents including florist's delivery.

Czechoslovak Will Address Assembly at 11

'Revolution' Topic Of Dr. Frank Munk, Noted Economist

Dr. Frank Munk, Czechoslovakian economist and author, speaks on what he calls "The European Revolution," in today's Gerlinger hall assembly at 11 o'clock, according to Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel.

Known as an expert in management, distribution, marketing, and consumption, Dr. Munk is at present a lecturer in economics at Reed college in Portland.

Represents Country
As an expert in his field he once represented his country on the technical committee of the international distribution commission of the international chamber of commerce in Paris.

His experience was gained chiefly in his native country which he served in many capacities. He has been secretary of the institute of business research of the Masaryk academy in Prague, member of the social institute, in the ministry of social welfare of Czechoslovakia, and a member of the permanent committee on economic planning and of the economic advisory council of one of its major political parties.

Returned Last Year
Dr. Munk carried on research work in the United States as a fellow of the Rockefeller foundation from 1931 to 1933. He returned to this country last year after escaping from his native land several months after the German invasion.

Last summer he was on the faculty of the Northwest Institute of Public Relations in Portland.

Prof. C. G. Howard of the law school will introduce the speaker in the absence of President Donald M. Erb.

Dr. Munk was the guest of honor at a dinner of the faculty club last night.

Bud Vandeneinde Selects Chairmen

Two new chairmen were appointed Wednesday to serve on the committee for the annual Sophomore Informal dance, to be held December 7.

According to Bud Vandeneinde, sophomore class president, Janet Rieg will be in charge of decorations, and Homer Thomas will take care of all the ticket arrangements.

Those who wish to help on various other committees are urged to submit their names to either Pat Cloud, Len Ballif, or other committee chairmen.

"The dance this year will be strictly informal, with campus clothes in order. Although the dance is nearly a month away, preparations are being started to insure its complete success," Vandeneinde stated.

Scholarship Benefit Will Be Sponsored By Eugene Mothers

The annual card benefit, given every year by the University of Oregon Mothers club of Eugene to raise money for student scholarships and loans will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the gymnasium of Gerlinger hall.

Both contract and auction bridge will be played at the benefit, according to Mrs. Sam C. Bond, general chairman for the party. The Alpha Delta Pi Mothers club will have charge of cards and tables with Mrs. J. A. Plummer as chairman.

Six Noisiest Floats Will Win Trophies

Committee to Award Two Cups to Men's, Women's Houses Signing Up Largest Percentage of Visiting Alums

Six trophies will be presented to living groups taking first place in three major interhouse competitive events during Homecoming weekend, November 8, 9, and 10, it was decided by the Homecoming directors committee in last night's meeting held in the Alumni room of Friendly hall.

"Two cups will go to the prize-winning noise float Friday night," Joe Gurley, Homecoming chairman, announced following the meeting.

"One cup for each of the living organizations who cooperate in constructing the noisiest float," he explained. "In case a float wins on which more than two living groups are together, the cups will be rotated during the year among the winners."

Two more cups are on the Homecoming committee's mantel, ready to be awarded to both the men's and women's clans who sign up the largest percentage of alums during the "Trek the Oregon Trail" program, Carolyn Holmes, newly-appointed registration chairman, announced at the meeting.

It was also decided to award the prize winning house signs in both the men's and women's division with a trophy. The Bristol cup will continue to revolve in this competition, Sign Chairman Al Gray told the committee.

Final rules in all divisions will be announced in a later edition of the Emerald.

Frosh Choose Class Officers

Plans Abandoned On Freshman Fire At Group Meeting

Officers for the ensuing year were elected last night by the freshman class during their meeting at McArthur court. Plans for the traditional frosh bonfire were halted by a report from Joe Gurley, chairman of the Homecoming committee, stating that due to the fire hazard, the activity had been abandoned.

Following the unanimous approval of officers, Jim Burness, new president, introduced the additional executives—Betty Bisbee, vice-president; Jean Younger, secretary; Norris Ambrose, treasurer. These are the students who were named for the offices last Wednesday evening during the nominating assembly. Last night's meeting, called for the purpose of election, was instead voted for use in the actual election of the new officers.

Jim Bennisson, chairman of the bonfire committee, read the report from Joe Gurley which gave the distance of the fire site from the campus and the close scheduling of Homecoming events as additional reasons for abandoning the tradition. The Homecoming committee expressed the hope that the enthusiasm shown by the students in the matter of the bonfire would be carried over to other class activities.

Curriculum Library Open for Students

The curriculum library in room 3 education building will be open during the following hours: Monday, 2:30 to 4 p.m.; Tuesday, 1 to 5 p.m.; Wednesday, 2:30 to 5 p.m.; Thursday, 1 to 5 p.m.; Friday, 1 to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Dramatists to Meet

The dramatic club of Westminster house will meet at 4 p.m. today with Parker McNeil as director.

The club has already cast the parts for two plays and others have been contemplated. Westminster invites those interested in dramatics to attend the meeting.

Club Invites Stewart

Dr. Blair Stewart, professor of economics at Reed college, will be a guest of the faculty club at their regular meeting Saturday evening.

Presidential Poll Set for Campus By Rival Parties

Students to Select In Election Today Favorite Candidate

Oregon students will choose from a list of five candidates the man they want for president of the United States, today. Tomorrow the nation will know their choice. Plans to announce the results of the all-campus presidential poll over national press service wires were announced last night by heads of the two rival political organizations on the Oregon campus.

The poll, conducted by the campus Willkie-McNary club and the University of Oregon Young Democrats, will be held today in front of the College Side Inn. The polls will be open from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 1 to 4 in the afternoon.

A ballot is printed on the front page of today's Emerald. Students should fill the ballot out and clip from the paper before coming to the polls. All students must present their educational activities card before casting their ballot, it was announced.

The ballots will be counted by a board of six members. Dave Browning and Janet Rieg, president and secretary respectively, will serve on the board for the campus Willkie-McNary club. George Mackin and Hal Olney, president and secretary-treasurer, will serve for the Young Democrats. Professor George Turnbill, professor of journalism, will serve as the faculty member and Wesley Sullivan, assistant news editor, will serve as the Emerald representative.

Former UO Student Killed in Air Crash

Donald H. Rockwell, former Oregon student, was killed instantly Tuesday in a navy training ship near Pensacola, Florida. Rockwell, class of 1941, was training at the Pensacola naval training school to which he received an appointment last spring.

The ship in which Cadet Rockwell and another officer were flying collided with a second ship at a height of 1000 feet.

A junior in business administration, Rockwell was house-boy at the Delta Gamma house last term. Coming from Pilot Rock, he was among the first fifty students, to receive a pilot's licence last year under civilian pilot training at the University.

Rockwell is survived by his parents, one sister, 10, and one brother, 23.

Campus Calendar

Sigma Delta Chi will meet today at 4:30 in Journalism.

The YWCA Hallowe'en tea will be held today in the bungalow at 4 p.m. instead of 3:30, as previously announced.
