

And that government

. . of the people
 . . by the people
 . . for the people

shall not perish from the earth!

ARMISTICE DAY marked one successful defence of democracy.

The Civil War was another.

Will there be a next time?

Almost seventy years ago on Gettysburg field Abraham Lincoln gave his memorable address. Today every word of that speech is even more true, for now we do not have a country in dissension, but a whole world in conflict.

Our duty today is expressed by these words . . . "it is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated to the unfinished task before us." And this task is the protection of our liberty and the equality of man.

For now we are facing another great war to decide whether this shall be a world of free idealism or a land of selfish greed and tyranny.

We pray that "this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."
