Constitution Query Draws Frosh Action

Burness Selects 6 Committeemen To Formulate Plans

Three Greeks and three independents were appointed last night as a freshman committee "to draw up a definite plan for the feasible subsidizing of class activities," by Jim Burness, class president.

The committee was appointed at the close of an open meeting of frosh in the Igloo. Independent representatives had previously explained reasons for their petition asking a rehearing on the adoption of the proposed "model" constitution with amendments, Chief amendment proposed is a provision giving all freshmen, card-holders or not, voting privileges in class

Constitution Rejected This constitution had been rejected earlier in the term in favor of the one used by previous classes. Jim Thayer, Chuck Woodruff, Ted Hallock, Oglesby Young, Dick Igl, and Tob Boyden were named committeemen.

CPI Applications Due One Saturday

Students Must File Blanks to Register For Spring Classes

"No applications for the spring civil pilot instruction class will be accepted after noon of the coming Saturday," J. C. Stovall, assistant To Hear Miss Tyler CPI coordinator, announced yesterday. "We want all students to file their applications now so they can be rated and the students informed, if accepted, before winter term registration," he explained.

Mr. Stovall remarked that students desiring to take advantage of the summer flying course may fill out entrance blanks at any time now, although applications for this class will be accepted win#### ter term also. Heed Certificates

In reviewing the principal eligibility points assistant coordinator Stovall emphasized the point that all students, within the age requirements, who have obtained a junior certificate, can apply for CPI training, whether they are attending University at the present time or not. Five girls will be accepted to make up the 10 per cent quota in the class of 50, and all applicants will be rated on the basis of their number of credit hours and their grade point average. The physical Frosh Committees examination will be given after the students are accepted for the course and eliminations, because of physical deficiencies, will be made at that time.
