

Nazi Justice Will Be Bared By Austrian

Townfolk to Hear Dr. W. Konirsch In Lecture Tonight

Walter Konirsch, former Austrian jurist, will speak tonight at 7:30 in the faculty room of Friendly hall on "The Administration of Justice in Germany."

Holds Doctor's Degree

Mr. Konirsch's record serves as a high recommendation for authority on international law and justice. Born in Vienna, Austria, December 20, 1898, the speaker was graduated from Vienna university in 1920 with the degree of doctor of jurisprudence.

Lived in Paris

Before coming to the United States, Mr. Konirsch had a private law practice in Paris for several years. He is also the author of the Revised Martindale, a foreign law digest.

Final Exam Changes Listed by Registrar

The final examination schedule has been reorganized on a basis of number of class meetings per week rather than credits. C. L. Constance, assistant registrar, announces.

Examinations will be at the 8 to 10 and 1 to 3 periods for classes meeting on three days of the week and at the 10 to 12 and 3 to 5 periods for classes meeting on two, four, or five days of the week. Finals for classes meeting once a week must be arranged by the instructors.

While the number of class meetings corresponds to the number of credits in the majority of cases, some conflicts have arisen because of laboratory and quiz sections.

The examination schedule as it was is given on the back of the year schedule.

Campus Calendar

The YWCA hospitality committee will meet Thursday at 4 in the YW bungalow. Tea will be served, followed by a discussion about Christmas decorations for the bungalow.

The China Cupboard and Chest group of the YWCA meets in the bungalow Thursday at 4.

The fencing club will meet tomorrow at 4:30 in Gerlinger sun room. All interested in the club are asked to be there.

There will be a heads of houses meeting at 4:30 this afternoon in the AWS room of Gerlinger.

Important Phi Beta meeting in the AWS room of Gerlinger at 7:30 Thursday night.

Heads of Houses will meet this afternoon at 4 on the third floor of Gerlinger.

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's advertising honorary, will hold an initiation ceremony this evening at 5 o'clock in Gerlinger hall. A banquet will follow.

Phi Chi Theta, women's business honorary, will hold a luncheon at noon today at the Anchorage for all pledges and members.

HEART INTEREST

Betty Jane Quigley, who will play Helen Pettigrew in the Guild theater's "Berkeley Square," to be presented here December 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Play Scheduled For 4-Night Run

Betty Jane Quigley Provides Romance In Guild Production

Betty Jane Quigley will appear as Helen Pettigrew, the main love interest in the Guild theater production of "Berkeley Square," December 4, 5, 6, and 7, at Johnson hall. As Helen she will play opposite Peter Standish, the role made famous by Leslie Howard on stage and screen.

Miss Quigley's family might appropriately be called the Eugene royal family of the theater, because for years her family has been active in University drama. Her sister Roberta will be remembered for her performance in "Touch Wood," and Marjorie will be stage manager for "Berkeley Square."

Although she has been in only two campus shows, "Igot's Delight," and "Our Town," her major, dramatic action, has given her an excellent background for acting, making her a very capable actress.

Tickets are now on sale at the box office in Johnson hall, and at the Campus Shop on Thirteenth street. They can also be purchased from Miss Florence D. Alden, extension 262, Dean Hazel P. Schwerling, extension 303-304 and from members of Bundles for Britain.

Science Honorary Hears Robert Dow Of Medical School

Dr. Robert Dow of the University of Oregon medical school spoke under the auspices of Sigma Xi, science honorary, on "Brain Waves and Their Clinical Importance," in Chapman hall Tuesday night.

Dr. Dow, possessor of a master's degree in medicine, has done much work in the field of the transmission of nerve impulses, and maintains a laboratory in Portland which contains some of the newest machines invented for the measurement of brain responses.

After a regular business meeting of the society, Dr. Dow told of the practical applications of the study of brain waves, illustrating his talk with slides.

Mu Phi Meeting Set

Mu Phi Epsilon, national women's music honor society, will hold its annual joint meeting with the patronesses, prominent Eugene women who sponsor the group, this evening at 7:15 in alumni hall.

Members of the society will take part in the program which will follow the business meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Officer Visits Pi Phis

Mrs. Lou Ann Tuft, province president of Pi Beta Phi sorority visited the local chapter Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week.

Members of the house held a fireside in her honor Monday evening and serenaded her afterwards. Tuesday they gave a formal faculty banquet.

Rivalry Never Ceases Between Oregon, OSC

By BOB WHITELEY

Things aren't what they used to be—

Students of the University aren't going to the annual "civil war" at Oregon State armed with the ideas of classes in the good old days.

In the early days of the Oregon-OSC football games it was considered cricket to have one of the opposing rooters dump a hod full of bricks on some poor, unfortunate individual who just "happened to be from the wrong school."

The pre-game pranks of that day were really double barreled. Traditional rivalry between the two schools reached a fever pitch before game time, and the event usually turned into a mass riot.

Game No 'Pink Tea'

Civilization has taken its toll, however, although the Oregon-Corvallis game is still classed far from the "pink tea party" list. Each year some tribute of affection is left displayed on one or the other campus—just as a reminder that all great painters didn't live in the 16th century. Usually the Oregon "O" gets at least one coat of orange and black paint, while someone generally tries his luck at surrealism in lemon and green at OSC. These pranks are frowned upon by administrators of both schools, but it seems that there is so much material to work on, that it all can't be watched.

'Blue Monday'

Remember that "blue Monday" when Oregon State students, still jubilant at their 14 to 0 victory over Oregon, invaded the campus

Nineteen Solo For CPT Class

Five Students Still Scheduled to Make Initial Lone Flight

Nineteen students in the fall Civil Pilot Training class have taken their solo flight since November 15, according to the CPT office. With the 26 students to solo before that date, this leaves only five who have not made their initial lone flight.

Harold Johnson and Rod McMullan, soloed November 15 with Gordon Stanley flying alone on the 16th. Carl Orcutt, Bill Craig, David Rementeria, Harold Ellicott and Al Sanders went up solo, Sunday, November 17. Johnny Kahananui and John Loback were the next to solo on the 19th.

The eight people to make their first flight, sans instructor, since the 19th are Eileen Baker, Joe Kennedy, Floyd Kirkpatrick, Vernon Kibel, Lem Putnam, Wilfred Ross, Henry Wagner and Steve Worth.

It is expected that the five remaining students, who have not yet flown without their instructor, will solo sometime within the next few days.

Tri Delt Entertain National Secretary

Scheduled to arrive on the campus today is Miss Ruth McDowell, collegiate traveling secretary for Delta Delta Delta, who will be a guest at the chapter house here until Monday.

A 1940 graduate of the University of Alabama, Miss McDowell is a member of Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa, and was last year's "Miss Alabama." She is to be honored at a fireside tomorrow night and will be a guest at the sorority's house dance Friday night. She will continue her pre-Christmas tour Monday.

'Sing-spiration' Set For Friday at YWCA

The monthly fellowship meeting of the University Christian Union will take the form of a fireside "sing-spiration" at the YWCA bungalow Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The program will include group singing, special vocal and instrumental numbers, and short inspirational talks and personal testimonies by several of the group. All are invited to attend.

en masse? For their pains and energy, Oregon students rounded up a few of the boys and flipped 'em in the millrace.

By far the smoothest deal pulled in many a moon was when a group of Corvallis boys lulled the Hayward field "dawn patrol" into a state of lethargy, and then calmly burned a big "OSC" into the turf.

Saturday marks the 41st year that the two schools have met. Rallies, noise and rooters make up the spirit for the occasion in 1940. Times have changed in over 40 years, but the spirit and rivalry between the two schools has not.

Class to Decide Show or Dance

Payne to Present Issues at Meeting Of Seniors Tonight

Variety show or annual dance? Seniors will decide this question at their meeting tonight, according to Bob Keen, class president. Tiger Payne will speak to the class and both sides of the issue will be presented. The senior class is prepared to spend a large amount of money on either production; if they have a variety show, the script continuity and music will be written by a big-name band leader who is an ex-Oregonite; if they have a dance they will try to get a big-name band to play.

If the decision is made tonight in favor of the variety show, the name of the name-band leader who will write the script, etc., will be announced to the school and a search for talent for the show will immediately begin.

Either of the productions, dance or show, will be held in McArthur court some time during winter term.

'Snowball Rally' Set To Boost OSC Game

A "snowball rally" will be held Friday night to arouse spirit for the Oregon State game Saturday and to open the winter basketball season. Pat Keller, rally chairman, announced last night.

Beginning at 7 o'clock processions will start at the Chi Psi lodge and at the ATO house. Half of the rally committee and half of the band will lead each group past campus living organizations, and the two trains will meet at the Phi Delt house.

The entire group will march across the campus to the Igloo where the rally proper will be held, Keller explained.

The Oregon State game will be played Saturday afternoon in Corvallis to end Oregon's 1940 football season. Basketball season opens tomorrow night when the Webfoots meet the Signal Oilers in the Igloo.

Mrs. Dann to Speak At YW Lunch Today

Mrs. Robert Dann, of Corvallis, member of the national committee of YWCA and delegate to the National Intercollegiate Christian Council at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin last summer, will speak to members of the YW cabinet, advisory board, Dill Pickle club, today at an informal box luncheon given in her honor at the YWCA bungalow.

She will talk to the group about the work of the Intercollegiate Christian Council. Anyone interested in the problems of youth today are extended an invitation to attend the luncheon by Mrs. E. E. DeCou, executive secretary of the YW.

Ode to Kwamas

The Kwamas sell us song books, And say "Now learn this song," So we can warble sweetly When assemblies come along.

I guess the Kwamas mean all right, But after all is said and done How many of them know the words And music to "Fight Oregon?" —J.W.S.

Duck Cheers To Send Team Into Civil War

Today's Assembly Finale for UO Grid Season Rallies

By DON BUTZIN

Oregon students will gather in Gerlinger assembly hall at 11 o'clock this morning to give their last collective moral support to their school team which will engage in football competition Saturday with the team of this school's mortal enemy, Oregon State College.

The rooters will in turn be treated to everything from an exhibition of Hawaiian dancing to a short talk from the president of the associated students of the state college, report Les Anderson and Bette Morfitt, assembly chairmen.

Oliver to Present Senior Players

Coach Tex Oliver will be present to introduce the senior members of his squad who will be playing their last collegiate football in the state game Saturday.

Lulu Pali, sophomore, who has received much off-campus publicity in connection with her Hawaiian background, will show the Webfoots her version of tropical dancing.

She will have a musical background provided by Hui-o-Kamaaina, Hawaiian singing group. Zenas Butler will do a specialty number.

Prexy Doug Chambers of the ASOSC will have the responsibility of presenting the Oregon State cause to the Webfoot assembly. Tiger Payne, ASUO head, will speak after him.

Three New Yells Planned

More preparation for the grid battle Saturday will take form when Earle Russell, yell leader-in-chief, presents three new yells for use in the big game.

Interesting entertainment is promised by the assembly chairmen when members of Theta Chi Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Pi Kappa Alpha perform in house groups before the assembly. They will be called on individually to sing either their house sweetheart song, the Oregon Pledge song, or "As I Sit and Dream at Evening." They will not know until called on which song they will sing, Anderson states.

As "hep-heightener," the Oregon band will be present to perform under the baton of John Stehn, director.

Order of 'O' Will Not Enforce Traditions Throughout Year

Order of "O" members will not attempt to enforce campus "traditions" throughout the year, it was decided at a meeting of the organization yesterday at the Theta Chi house, according to Jim Rathbun, president.

Rathbun explained that, however, the group would continue to function in this manner during Junior weekend and Homecoming.

"The custom of only seniors sitting on the 'senior bench,' saying 'hello' on 'hello walk' and not walking on the grass are obvious campus traditions and our members will remind students whom they see violating these," he declared.

Founders Honored At Tri Delt Banquet

The Benson hotel in Portland was the scene of the annual Founders' day banquet of Delta Delta Delta sorority last Friday evening, attended by many members of the local Tri Delt chapter and Eugene alumnae. Over 200 guests were present.

Speaker for the formal banquet was Mrs. T. Dayton Davies of Seattle, national president of the sorority, who came to Portland especially for the affair. Members of the Oregon State chapter were also guests of the Portland alumni association.

Chuck Woodruff, Steve Worth, Bob Calkins, Nick Kovtynovich, John Cavanagh, and T. Glenn Williams put finishing touches on a new constitution for the Independent Students' association.

Infirmary Total Rises As 'Gang' Creates Bedlam

Yesterday was a "boom day" as far as the campus pill palace staff was concerned. A total of seven patients left and 11 came in, swelling the total to a new high of 21 for the day.

The "gashouse gang," which includes Tiger Payne, Morrie (the tent maker) Stien and Bill Moore, live in one continual bedlam of witticisms, anecdotes, and just plain bull.

Independent Women Tour Houses Today

Independent women on the University campus this afternoon are to be guests of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, on a personally conducted tour of halls, sororities, and dormitories.

Meeting in front of the library at 4 o'clock, the coeds will visit "prize" rooms in several living organizations in a new "know your campus" program which is Phi Theta's aim for this year.

Elizabeth Steed is in charge of the tour, to which all girls interested are invited to attend. House presidents and Phi Theta members in each of the living organizations to be visited will act as hostesses to show the visiting coeds the highlights of the organization.

"The tour is designed to let as many independent girls—dorm girls, those in co-ops, or those living in Eugene—see Oregon's living organizations so that they will get a well-rounded idea of collegiate life at Eugene," Miss Steed said last night in issuing her invitation to all interested girls.

Three Groups Plan 'Town Hall' Meeting

The radio program "Town Hall of America" will be heard at 6:30 p.m. tonight in Westminster house. Three organizations, YWCA, Wesley, and Westminster, are sponsoring it. After the program there will be group discussions. Mrs. Bryant of Westminster house announces that anyone interested is invited to attend.

Allied Arts League Plans Free Dance

The Allied Arts league will give a free phonograph dance tomorrow afternoon in the little art museum from 3 to 5 p.m., according to Jeff Shinn, president of the group. These dances are for the purpose of getting the art students together and from now on, Shinn says, they will be given about every two weeks.

Sig Eps Pledge Two

Sigma Phi Epsilon has pledged two more students, one from Southern California and the other from Eastern Oregon, reports Dean Virgil D. Earl.

Howard Cavanagh, San Mateo, California, and Raymond Walker, Vale, Oregon, are its two most recent pledges.

Non-Greeks Act On Constitution

Executive Cabinet, Senate Will Consist Of Representatives From Dorms, Co-ops, Unaffiliated Groups; 'Pep Talks' Planned

A proposed constitution for the Independent Students' association was read to a representative group from the organization last night and changes were acted upon.

The constitution, which, if adopted, will govern activities of independent students on the campus, provides that all non-Greek students registered at the University will be members.

There will be an executive cabinet which will act as a purely administrative group, and a senate, composed of representatives from dorms, co-ops and unaffiliated groups.

Plans were discussed for a meeting of all independents at which the constitution could be presented for approval.

Committee Views Plans

Chuck Woodruff reported that the frosh committee for consideration of abolishing class-cards for voting privileges was considering numerous plans, but that no decision had been reached. Woodruff is a member of the committee appointed two weeks ago by Class President Jim Burgess to try to find a way to give all frosh the right to participate in class activities without class cards, and to devise a means of financing class activities.

'Pep Talks' Planned

"Pep talks" to all independents were planned for early next week by Bob Calkins, promotion chairman. He said that representatives of the association would address all independent living organizations at noon to explain to them the plans for independent activity in campus affairs. An effort would be made, he said, to contact unaffiliated students.

The association maintains an office on the third floor of Gerlinger between 4:30 and 5:30 daily. All independents interested in organization are urged to register. Nancy Ames is in charge of the office.

Train to Corvallis Sponsored by ASUO

Oregon rooters may take the special train to Corvallis for the Oregon-Oregon State game Saturday, November 30. Round trip tickets sell for one dollar.

The train will leave Eugene at 10:45 a.m. Saturday and return early the same evening. This special is sponsored by the Associated Students.

Tickets and further information can be obtained at the booth on Thirteenth street between Oregon and Commerce buildings.

Badminton Players Schedule Dessert

Members of the badminton club are giving a dessert tonight at the home of Miss Virginia Garrison on 969 East Eleventh street at 6:30 o'clock.

All members planning to attend are asked to make reservations or to get in touch with Miss Garrison, faculty adviser. Badminton will be played following the dessert in the gymnasium of Gerlinger hall.

LeSage Pens Article

Dr. Laurence LeSage, instructor in the Romance languages department has had his article on "The Metaphor of Giradoux" received for publication in the magazine, Modern Language Notes, printed at Johns Hopkins university.

Director to Talk On TVA Project In Gerlinger Hall

Expert to Explain Utilities Practices Monday Morning

David E. Lilienthal, director of the TVA, is scheduled to speak in a Gerlinger hall assembly Monday at 11 a.m., reports Karl W. Onthank, chairman of the assembly committee.

Mr. Lilienthal was appointed one of the three original directors of the public utility project in the Tennessee valley in 1933 and has remained on the job ever since. In 1936 he was reappointed a director for a nine-year period.

His main field of interest in this government work has been power development.

"He has achieved for the people of the Tennessee valley some of the lowest electric power rates for any large section of the nation.

"His pioneering work both in power development and in the development of decentralized regional administration as demonstrated in the TVA makes him a national figure," says Herman Kehrl, director of the University municipal research bureau. Mr. Kehrl met him this summer while in the Tennessee valley investigating the aspects of the TVA related to Northwest government projects.

Fought Private Utilities In his fight to install public utilities Mr. Lilienthal has combatted the private utility interest represented once by Wendell L. Willkie, then head of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation.

During his campaign for the presidency Willkie commented upon the man by saying he certainly had developed a nonpolitical organization which contains the "cream of the crop" of utility experts.

Ager Helped

One of the men, whom Mr. Lilienthal selected to aid him in the Tennessee project, was Paul Ager who received his B.A. degree from this University in 1926. Doing graduate work here, also, Mr. Ager won his M.A. degree in 1933. He is now chief budget officer on the TVA project and assistant to the general manager.

"The practices followed in the TVA project as they will be described by Mr. Lilienthal should be of value to those interested in the government of power resources in the Northwest," says Mr. Kehrl.

Heads of Sophomore Informal committees will meet at the Side at 3 o'clock today.
