Flu Germs Won't Stop Soph Informal

'Berkeley Square' Opens at 8 Tonight

Taylor to Score Again In Theater Production Directed by Seybolt

Bundles for Britain Sponsors Premiere;
Sell-Out Predicted for Opening Night;
Admission Fifty Cents; All Seats Reserved

By HUNTER VAN SICKLEN

Pat Taylor, one of the most versatile and popular campus actresses, will be seen in the role of Mrs. Barwick, when "Berkeley Square" makes its debut at 8 p.m. tonight at the Guild theater in Johnson hall. The entire production is under the direction of Mrs. Ottilie Seybolt, head of the drama division, and the premier is sponsored by Bundles for Britain.

Miss Taylor's acting ability hit a high peak in "With Fear and Trembling" in which she played a comical woman reformer who advocated the peace movement much to the enjoyment of the audience. She was also one of the chorus girls in "Idiot's Delight."

New Curtains

First-nighters will have the added pleasure of being the first to see the Guild theater's new curtains. They were installed recently, and will be viewed for public appreciation for the first time tonight.

In appreciation of the Eugene Bundles for Britain members splendid work at ticket selling, Mrs. Richard Wilder, executive secretary of the Portland branch, will attend the opening accompanied by her daughter, Miss Kathleen Wilder.

Sell-out Predicted

A sell-out is predicted for the opening, and tickets are selling strong for the other performances, December 5, 6, and 7. Tickets may be purchased at the box office in Johnson hall, the Campus shop on Thirteenth street, Miller's department store, Miss Florence Alden, phone extension 262, and Dean Hazel P. Schwering, phone extension 303-304. Admission is fifty cents, and all seats are reserved. Curtain is at 8 p.m. sharp. Informal attire will prevail.

Seniors Will Debate Ball, Show Problems

Pros and cons of replacing the traditional Senior ball with a variety show will be hashed out Thursday at 3 o'clock when representatives of the senior class meet with the students affairs committee.

Jack Marsten, who received the idea for the show in the East, will present the argument and plans for presenting such a feature on this campus.

Included in the gathering will be senior class officers and class members representatives: Dick Williams, Jick Pickett, Sue Piel, and Grace Williams.

Eight Students Pass Preliminary Exams For MA Candidacy

Eight students have completed their first steps toward their MA degree in English by passing the qualifying examination, according to words received from Dean Boyer's office.

Those who have been advanced to the candidacy for the master of arts degree in English are Frank E. Carothers, Silas B. Adams, Lester Proebstel, Dorothy Parks, Corinne Pritchard, Thomas Hawkins, Tamara Varm, and Corinne Durham.

VERSATILE

Pat Taylor, University of Oregon actress, will play the role of Mrs. Barwick when the curtain goes up on "Berkeley Square" in the Guild theater tonight.

Annual Seal Sale Begins Today

Booths to Be Placed In Strategic Spots On Campus

Today marks the first day in the annual Christmas Seal drive, sponsored by the Tuberculosis Association of America.

These seals go on sale each year at this time, and the total proceeds are turned over to the association to use in the prevention of tuberculosis.

Booths will be placed conveniently on the campus, and the sale will continue until Thursday. Heads of all the various living organizations will lead the drive, and their hope is that this year's drive will surpass those of the past years. Students are urged to buy the seals either from the heads of the houses, or at the different booths situated on the campus.

Nursing Educator On Campus Today

Miss Elnora Thomson, head of nursing education at the University medical school in Portland, is scheduled to visit this campus today.

She will attend classes taught by Miss Ruth Wheelock, associate professor of nursing education.

E. M. Pallett in Salem Today for Meeting

Registrar E. M. Pallett left for Salem today to confer with representatives of other Oregon colleges and Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction. The topic which they are considering is the administration of fifth year requirements for the training of teachers.

Future Army Fliers Face Tests Today

Health, Educational Requirements High For 'Pilot' Course

Examinations for all men students, with at least two years of university education, who are interested in army air corps flying instruction, will begin this morning at 9 o'clock in the Eugene armory, according to Major Malcolm J. Buchanan, president of the traveling flying cadet examining board. The physical examination will take two hours, so students are requested to come not later than 4 p.m.

As a general statement concerning the traveling examination board Major Buchanan stated, "We are interested in contacting all boys that are interested in taking advantage of the special training which is being given by the army to young men interested in aeronautics."

Standards Listed

Summarizing the requirements the major said, "The applicant should be between 20 and 27 years old, with good eyes, ears, heart, and lungs and we want him to bring with him his registrar's certificate, birth certificate and 3 letters of recommendation."

Major Buchanan explained that one of the three documents, either the certificates or letters of recommendation, would make the person eligible for the physical examination providing they were able to produce the other two papers soon after their test.

There is no specific quota for Eugene, according to the major, who remarked, "We want all the normal, healthy young men we can get hold of."

Prompt Decision

The person taking the examination will be informed immediately after it as to whether or not he will be recommended, by the traveling board, to the chief of the air corps who will make the final acceptance.

The flying cadet is given approximately 30 weeks of training, including ground school, and paid $75 per month, outside of regular living expenses. Upon completion of the advanced flying course the student is commissioned a second lieutenant in the air corps reserve and receives the army flying rating of "pilot."

Dean to Represent UO At Institute Meeting

Dean V. P. Morris of the business administration school will be in Riverside, California, next week to attend the annual Institute of World Affairs. He will represent the University of Oregon at this meeting for the second straight year. The institute will begin Sunday, December 8, and continue through Friday.

What Makes Typical Oregon Sophomore?

By BOB WHITELY

Just who is going to be Joe College and Betty Coed? That question is going to have to wait until the Sophomore Informal Saturday night, when two people are selected out of the many candidates who are competing for the title.

What constitutes the Joe College of today? His ability to drink? to get around? to pig? to be a typical "boomer"?

Coed Qualifications? What basis is Betty Coed judged on? Must she be a smooth dancer? throw out a awful line? cut a mean figure—on the campus?

PLANNING FOR BETTY, JOE SOPHOMORE

These five students, members of the soph informal dance committee, began their final week of plans for Saturday night's dance yesterday afternoon. Included in the picture are Don Shirley, decorations, Nancy Riesch, committee for choosing a Betty Coed and Joe College from the sophomore class, Pat Cloud, co-chairman of the dance with Len Ballif, Janet Rieg, decorations, and Ballif.

AWS Will Auction-off Lost-Found Articles

Portland Architects To Visit Art School

Glenn Stanton and Pietro Belusch, Portland architects and members of the Oregon chapter of the American Institute of Architects, will visit the campus today.

They will be the honored guests of the Architectural club at their annual banquet, to be held at the Anchorage, at 6 p.m. Wednesday, according to Walt Brown, president of the club.

Arrive at Noon
Scheduled to arrive just before noon, Mr. Stanton, president of the Oregon chapter, A.I.A., and Mr. Belusch, vice-president of the organization, will meet the university staff at the luncheon.

During the afternoon, they will watch the work in the drafting room, and also will talk with interested students about any architectural problems.

After the banquet at the Anchorage, these two architects will attend the meeting of the Architectural club in the little art gallery.

To 'Berkeley Square'

They do things berserkly when they write the thing "Berkeley."

Then for reasons quite darkly they call the thing "Berkeley."

Have a face like Heddy and accessories like Grable?

Going down to the "glammer room" of the Side, several prominent patrons were interviewed on the question—"What is your idea of the perfect Betty Coed and Joe College? Any references to persons in or on the campus is purely co-incidental—(ed note.)"

Activity Boy

Janet Farnham: "I like the type of boy who is in all campus activities and takes an active interest in school affairs. On more of the personal side, I like a boy who doesn't drive his car straight down the convention road. Detours come in awfully hand sometimes.

Seated at the end booth were two derelicts from the law school, Jack Wagstaff and Jack Dunn, still discussing the Montana football game. Neither had a statement to make on the matter. Both complained of being too old to get a date. Wagstaff added, however, that seven or eight years ago he voted for one.

No Knee Lengths

Bob Calkins: "She shouldn't wear knee-length socks, or smoke over a package of cigarets a day.

Deutschmann Takes New Post

Ex-Emerald Chief Goes to La Grande For Editorial Work

Paul Deutschmann, editorial assistant to the division of information in the state system of higher education, leaves this week for editorial work on the LaGrande Observer.

He doesn't know the exact nature of his new job, but supposes that it will be as desk or city editor. Stationed in a well-oiled swivel chair in a nook of the chancellor's office, Deutschmann has issued press releases for the state system.

His first-year work was outstanding enough so that he was awarded the highest post at that time open to sophomores, the news editorship. As a junior he took over next highest Emerald position, the managing editorship, and was named editor in chief during the school year 1938-39. He led his staff to All-American rating that year.

After graduation, he worked as a reporter on the Eugene Register-Guard and was moved up to wire and city editor. He came to the chancellor's office last summer.

The American Association of University Women has cabled $6,050 abroad to help European women scholars in distress because of the war.

Paul Bocci was very explicit on the matter. "She's got to be blonde, weigh between 114 and 120 pounds, smooth dancer and dresser. She has to be a non-boomer coupled with alluring beauty. And best of all, she's got to have charms—other than on her wrist."

Jackie Jo Finney: "Smooth dancers are enough to get my vote. Frank Bosch: **($*)—thank you, Frank."

Jim Bennett: "Taint the look, it's the personality that counts. She's got to be popular with everyone."

School Physician OK's Soph Dance

Ticket Sales Start Today in Men's Houses;
Dance to Feature Bart Woodyard's Band;
More 'Ideal Couple' Candidates Named

By BETTY JANE BIGGS

The excessive quantity of flu germs enrolled at the University this week is not serious enough to restrict campus social life in any way, Dr. L. Porter, assistant physician at the health service, said in giving the Sophomore Informal committee permission to go ahead with their Saturday night dance.

Tickets will go on sale today in all men's living organizations under the sponsorship of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary.

Bids will remain on sale all this week and may be purchased from any Skull and Dagger member. They will also be attainable at the door of the Igloo Saturday night.

Besides entitling the holder to three hours of dancing to the music on Bart Woodyard's and his Portland orchestra, each ticket will entitle the couple to vote for the ideal collegiate couple.

Infirmiry Has 28 'Pill-Takers' At Latest Census

Latest reports from the infirmiry state that attendance is still at a record peak with a total of 28 still enrolled. Five left this morning, and five came in, leaving yesterday's total unchanged.

Alec Cohen and Jack Lansing, residents of the famed "Tea Kettle" room complained of extra high pulse counts when Miss Joy Trubell comes around in the early hours of the morning to "get 'em up."

The toll is terrific. There are 55 patients being treated outside the infirmiry while 28 patients are in. They include: Katherine Jenkins, Ralph Shirley, Muriel Timms, Pat Kelly, Dorothy Ellingsworth, Adeline Hansen, Les Endicott, Stan Eselsenstrom, Jane Richard, Bob Taylor, Bennet Welsh, Herschel Patton, Jack Lansing, Alec Cohen, Warren Moe, Gale Quinn, John Aiken, Ernest Smith, Peyton Bennett, John Matthews, Bill Edleron, Don Richardson, Barney Rogers, Joe Wong, Arthur Lucy, Frank Medlin, Phil Osborne, and Bob Schatt.

'Sun in Action' Topic of Speech Slated Tonight

Dr. Seth Nicholson, Noted Astronomer, Series Speaker

Dr. Seth Barnes Nicholson, from the Mt. Wilson observatory will speak tonight at 7:30 in room 207 Chapman hall, as a part of the University lecture series, Mr. Rudolf Ernst, professor of English and chairman of the group, announced today. The title of the lecture will be "The Sun in Action."

Third of Series

This is the third of the series presented for students, faculty members, friends, and townspeople by the University lecture series committee. Mr. Nicholson spoke but to two other universities on the west coast, those being University of Washington and University of California. The speaker is representing the Astronomical Society of the Pacific of which he was president in 1935 and 1936.

Former Instructor

Dr. Nicholson received his BS at Drake in 1912 and Ph.D. at California in 1915. He was an instructor in astronomy at California till 1915 when he went to Mt. Wilson observatory for research for the Carnegie institute.

The speaker can claim the title of being the discoverer of the 9th, 10th, and 11th satellite of Jupiter. Mr. Nicholson specializes in solar astronomy and stellar radiation. He is a Phi Beta Kappa and now has his office at the Mt. Wilson observatory in California.

Dean Announces Closed Weekends

No social affairs such as desserts, firesides, or dinner dances may be held either this week or the next week because of approaching final examinations, according to a ruling made by the student affairs committee.

Girls may have two dates this weekend, although they must be in by 10:30 p.m. both Sunday and Friday nights. Special permission until 1 o'clock has been granted by the dean of women Saturday night because of the Sophomore Informal.

The following weekend girls may have but one date, which is to be on Saturday evening. Closing hours are Friday, 10:30; Saturday, 12:15; and Sunday, 10:30.

Condon Club Hears Speakers Discuss Summer Trip

A talk, accompanied by slides and a mineral exhibition, was presented by Carl Huffaker and Wilbur Greenup at a closed meeting of the Condon club Monday evening in 101 Condon hall. The speakers discussed their three-week field trip over the Northwest last August.

The talk was preceded by a business meeting at which the reports of special resolutions, membership and constitution committees were presented and accepted.
