Fall Term Wind-up In Offing

Classes Will Begin
January 3, After Christmas Holiday

By BERNIE ENGEL

University classes for fall term officially end Friday. Examination week runs from Monday, December 16, through Friday, December 20. For the following 12 days students may relax in the annual Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Undergraduate registration for winter term is officially scheduled for Thursday, January 2, with classes resuming on Friday, December 21. The penalty for late registration is $1 a day until a maximum fine of $5 is reached. The penalty may be reclaimed only upon presentation of a physician's excuse.

Graduate students may register from January 3 to and including January 9.

Undergraduates should report to McArthur court for their registration material. The doors will be open at 8 a.m. No material will be issued to students who have not repaid University loans.

Assistant Registrar C. L. Constance advises those having special problems, such as change of major, to straighten out their programs now and avoid delay at registration time. Advice may be obtained at the top floor of Johnson hall.

Winter Term NYA Open

Students Desiring
Work Must Apply
Early at Office

All students interested in getting NYA work during winter term must apply at the NYA office in Johnson hall before December 24, according to Miss Peggy Jane Peebler, secretary of the personnel division.

To get NYA aid, freshmen must have a GPA of 2.25 or better, and must be in need of work. This also applies to second term freshmen who have NYA work for the last term.

Students who have been working on NYA for the last term and met all the requirements, will more than likely be reapportioned, asserted Miss Peebler.

Those students who applied for the work during fall term and didn't get it, should get in touch with Miss Peebler, so their names may be placed on the list for consideration.

Love, Marriage Series to Begin Winter Quarter

The student body committee on the annual love and marriage series to be conducted winter term decided yesterday up this year's program on the subject.

A general assembly will present the subject to both men and women on the campus, announced the committee, chairman, Billie Christensen, chairwoman, Billie Christensen. Faculty members will preside at these house discussions. The wind-up of the series will be conducted as separate assemblies for both men and women on the campus. The whole program as planned will last about three weeks, Miss Christensen asserted hopefully.

Other members of the committee include Nancy Riesch, Jim Banks, Bette Morfitt, Florence Kinney, and Earl Maynard. Dean Karl W. Onthank is the committee's faculty adviser.

Epitaph

There was a young fella named Joe,
And o'er him the poppies now grow,
For in front of no other
Than the maiden's housemother
He attempted to use mistletoe.

Class Hours Decide Finals Exam Schedule Listed

Examinations are now to be given on a basis of regular class sessions per week rather than on a basis of credits earned in the course. For example, the examination for a three-credit course meeting three times a week, with a lab or quiz section and two class sessions, will come at the same time as the examination for two-credit courses.

Following is the schedule; "meeting" refers to the number of regular class sessions per week:

8 o'clock 3-meet courses	8-10 M
8 o'clock all other courses	10-12 M
9 o'clock 3-meet courses	8-10 W
9 o'clock all other courses	10-12 W
10 o'clock 3-meet courses	8-10 F
10 o'clock all other courses	10-12 F
11 o'clock 3-meet courses	8-10 T
11 o'clock all other courses	10-12 T
1 o'clock 3-meet courses	1-3 M
1 o'clock all other courses	3-5 M
2 o'clock 3-meet courses	8-10 Th
2 o'clock all other courses	10-12 Th
3 o'clock 3-meet courses	1-3 W
3 o'clock all other courses	3-5 W
4 o'clock 3-meet courses	1-3 F
4 o'clock all other courses	3-5 F
Written English (K, comp, business)	1-3 T
French (first, second year; literature)	3-5 T
Physical education (activities, hygiene, health ed)	1-3 T
Constructive accounting	3-5 T

Examinations scheduled by subject take precedence over those scheduled by the hour of class meetings. Unscheduled or conflicting examinations will be arranged by the instructors concerned. Examinations for one-hour courses may be arranged by the individual instructor.

WAA Hop Directors Appointed

January 11 to See Winter Wonderland In Gerlinger Hall

By MARGE DIBBLE

Committee appointments for the annual WAA dance were announced yesterday by Joanne Riesch, president of the organization. The event is scheduled for January 11, at Gerlinger hall, and the theme is to be Winter Wonderland.

Co-chairman for the dance are Bette Morfitt and Pat Vandenberg. Further announcement as to the orchestra and type of dance will be made at the first of winter term, according to these two heads.

Following is the list of committees which will work out the plans: tickets, Mary Ellen Smith, chairman, Jane McCurdy, and Marilee Fry; patrons and patronesses, Eileen Millard, chairman, Susan Huffaker, and Wilma Stein; orchestra, Dot Horn; programs, Bobbie MacLaren, chairman, and Elise Older; decorations, Ruth Solberg, chairman, Mary McAdam, Jeanette Neilsen, Janet Farnham, and Jonelle Melvin; publicity, Marge Dibble.

ASUO Sets Train Rates

Train tickets at special rates for vacation-bound students will be on sale December 18 to 21 at the booth on Thirteenth street between the Oregon and Commerce buildings. Wally Rossman, representative of the ASUO-sponsored affairs, stated last night that all trains will be organized with student sections.

Special parties are being organized to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Klamath Falls at greatly reduced rates, and students should make party reservations early to insure against having the group split up.

Northbound trains leave Eugene at 12:20 p.m. and 4:20 p.m.; southbound, via Klamath Falls, at 12:04 p.m., 1:03 a.m., and 1:24 a.m., and to Ashland at 11:25 p.m. A special train will return from Portland Wednesday, January 1, at 6:30 p.m.

Round trip to Portland is $2.75, to San Francisco via coach $13.80, and to Los Angeles the same way, $22.30. Return tickets are good until January 7, 1941.

Coeds Plan Nickel Hop

Informal Campus Dance to Resemble Fall Bunion Derby

Plans are going ahead for the Nickel Hop, January 8, first social event of the winter term.

According to Marge Curtis, and Adele Canada, co-chairmen of the affair, the girls in charge of music and proceeds from each living organization are getting their records in order so that the boys will really get their money's worth when they come to dance.

The Nickel Hop is an annual affair and resembles the Bunion Derby in that it is a "walk from house to house" affair for the boys.

All the proceeds of the hop will be turned into the AWS to be used for a scholarship fund. Later in the term, a certain number of girls will be chosen to receive scholarships of $30 each. The sum left will go into the loan fund.

"We feel that campus clothes will be best for the Hop," said Marge Curtis, "the boys will be paying their nickels for an informal good time."

First Christmas Emerald Issued To UO Students

The Emerald's special Christmas edition today, the first ever to be published, marks the forty-ninth issue of the 131 scheduled for the 1940-41 publication year, announced Jim Frost, business manager, last night.

Also the last paper to come out this term, the next Emerald will appear Friday, January 3, Frost stated.

Flu No Barrier To Classwork, Advises Miller

Spiking campus rumors that school would be closed early because of the influenza epidemic, Dr. Fred N. Miller, University physician declared Monday that he would not advise such action.

"Under no circumstances that now seem at all probable will a recommendation be made to close the University before the regular time," he wrote in a letter to the Emerald.

Dr. Miller pointed out that the flu epidemic was prevalent on the Pacific coast, and that to close school would not lessen the possibility of exposure. The flu is of a mild type, he said, and a few days rest is usually sufficient to cure it.

Actually, he said, the past few days have shown a definite decrease in the number of new cases. Even should there be another increase, there would be no need for closing the University, he said.

Architects' Club Yuletide Party Set for Tonight

The annual Christmas party of the Architecture club will be held this evening in the little gallery at the art school.

According to Walt Brown, president of the club, every member will bring a small present to put under the Christmas tree.

After some early evening songs, games, and refreshments, Professor Willcox will distribute the gifts to everyone present.

There is a long standing custom in the Architecture club to give all of these presents to some downtown charitable organization following the evening's fun, and this year the club will do the same thing.

A regular open discussion of architectural problems will conclude the party.

Epidemic Losing Strength, Latest Count Discloses

"In spite of the medicinal 'fragrance' around the famed flu institution over on Thirteenth street, the wandering newsboy was able to survive, and compiled a sizable list of victims.

These include: Phyllis Rickets, Donna Ketchum, Ula Beard, Mary Ellen Smith, Elizabeth Buckalew, Virginia James, Winifred Ebbert, Helen Tucker, Marguerite Pettit, Marie Orwick, Virginia Marshall, Clyde Hollenbeck, James Hafenbrack, Reed Gurney, Allen Cellars, Stan Alldredge, Porter Underwood, Homer Thomas, Clinton Childs, Don Lafferty, Wallace Lee, Perry Hoffman, James Hickey, Robert Lafky, Bruce McIntosh, John Jensen, Jim McInnie, William Dryden, and Ronald Dilling.

Many of the new "residents" have been moved to the infirmary from the houses as their illness made it necessary.

On the whole, the flu epidemic is improving and less cases have been reported, it was revealed.

Pupils Missing Finals Must Get Doctor's Check

Students should not leave the University before or during exam week until they have consulted the University health service, according to Dr. Frederick N. Miller, University physician.

Dr. Miller announced that the infirmary would be open during exam week and requested that all students who feel that they will be unable to take their examinations consult one of the doctors at the health service. "In case any student is too ill to come to the infirmary," stated Dr. Miller, "a doctor will call at the place of residence upon request."

"Any student who leaves school without obtaining the consent of his instructors or consulting the infirmary, is liable to get into difficulty over his credits."

Make-up Schedule Announced by Studio

The make-up schedule for the rest of the week, for those who have not had their pictures taken for the Oregona at Kennel-Ellis, is as follows: Today, Canard club, Alpha hall, Zeta hall, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Highland house, University house; Thursday, Gamma hall, Sherry Ross hall, Delta Upsilon, Alpha Omicron Pi, Orides, Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Psi; Friday, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kirkwood co-op, Sigma Alpha Mu, Phi Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Kappa, Ypsilon.

Final week, starting next Monday, doesn't keep Oregon students from catching the Yuletide spirit. (Left) Jack Daniels, Jay Ambrose, and Jim Banks brush up on their Christmas caroling, complete with a candlelight atmosphere. Eugene's Santa (right) meditates on what

CPT to Buy New Planes

First Ten Students To Apply Will Use Machines in Course

"If ten students, who possess a currently effective private pilot's license, apply for advanced civil pilot training course, a new plane will be purchased for their use," announced J. C. Stovall, assistant CPT coordinator. The course, which will earn the student 12 hours, is given in Corvallis and begins spring term, extending into July.

According to Mr. Stovall the course will cost $34 and to be eligible the applicant must have a junior certificate (or will have by the end of this term), must be between 19 and 26 years of age, a citizen of the United States and will be required to pass a physical examination and complete eye test, including refraction.

The course includes an extensive ground course covering power plants, aerodynamics and aircraft, navigation and aircraft operation.

It will not be necessary to register in school to take the course, although other subjects may be taken if the student desires. Applications should be made in 314 Fenton hall between 1 and 5 in the afternoon.

Epidemic Alibis Flu Offers Excuses For Potential Patients

By BOB WHITELY

"These flu germs make me sick," quoted one of our more illustrious sophomores late yesterday.

The truth of the matter lies in the fact that quite a few Oregonians "have gotten the bug." Things reached such a state Wednesday that the annual sophomore informal was beached until next term.

Various Symptoms Sited

For a disease of this sort, symptoms vary a great deal. Some complain of headaches, sore throat and a bad cough. Others state that they are burning up with fever and there are butterflies in their stomachs. Still there are just those individuals who "just don't feel well," either from worrying about final exams or some other and various sundry matter.

"It's funny how something of this nature can upset even the severest of routine. Whether you are afflicted or not, here are just a few of the stories you can use if you want to.

Do You Need Excuses?

For boys: 1. Sorry, I can't hit the tub—flu, you know.
2. Well, I'd LOVE to go out with you, but I have a touch of the flu, and I don't think it would be such a good idea—might spread germs.
3. I slept in this morning on account I think the flu's got me. Feel pretty rotten.
4. By golly, I just CAN'T wait tables this week. It's—It's unsanitary.
5. Can't go to military—my feet will get wet and besides I've got the flu, too.
This type of excuse can go on indefinitely, with nine out of ten chances—successfully. All you have to do is cough one of the "wheezers" type, and you're safe.

It's Easy for Girls

The girls can do wonders with this type of situation. Almost anything will fit. Here are just a few of them.
1. But you'll, you CAN'T kiss me—Do you want to get it?
2. This Saturday? I'm afraid that I just can't make it. I've been awfully sick—really. Some other time, No?—No.
3. Don't drink out of my coke glass! It's terribly contagious. Why once—then proceed and drink your coke all by yourself.
4. If a crot comes over to see you, and you aren't in a receptive mood, just try the No. 3 cough (which starts in the diaphragm) and he will politely say that you should be in bed, and will kindly leave you—and then you can play with the girls or go down to the Side with someone else. If quizzed, just say "Twas only a frog in my throat, and pass it off at that."

Concert Set For Tonight

Orchestra to Close Fall Music Season With Symphony

A melodious and entertaining climax to the fall term music season on the University of Oregon campus will be this evening at 8:15 in the music auditorium on the campus when the 62-member University of Oregon symphony orchestra is directed in concert by Rex Underwood and sponsored by the educational activities board.

The program is mostly classical, but a number of lighter works are to be played, Mr. Underwood said. One of the most popular is expected to be "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by the French composer, Paul Dukas. The selection plays an important part in the new cartoon full-length feature, Walt Disney's "Fantasia."

The string section of the orchestra will take over for performance of Handel's "Concerto Grosso No. 2," and the complete group will follow with the third "Leonore" overture of Ludwig Van Beethoven. The Allegretto and Finale from Brahms' first symphony will also be performed.

Verne Sellin, violinist from Everett, Wash., will be featured in the concluding selection by the orchestra, the first movement (Allegro Appassionato) of Mendelssohn's violin concerto. The number gained a large popularity recently when it was played by Olivia de Havilland in the movie, "My Love Come Back."

The concert will be free to holders of ASUO activity cards, while a nominal charge will be made to others.

Fifth Allied Art League Bazaar Set for Friday

The art league bazaar, sponsored by the Allied Arts league, has been definitely scheduled for Friday, December 13.

The sale and exhibit will be held in the little gallery of the art building, starting at 2 in the afternoon and continuing through the evening.

According to Lance Hart, assistant professor of drawing and painting, this year there should be a much larger sale than ever before. Chiefly because the bazaar will have a larger collection of representative work, and the prices will be kept as low as possible.

Monotypes will be shown and sold in the bazaar for the first time. There will also be a collection of paintings, pottery, sketches, watercolors, and all types of metal work, including table decorations, tinware, and Christmas tree ornaments.

Some weaving products will also be put in the booths, besides many hand-made Christmas cards, block prints, and some special ceramic sculpture pieces.

A Christmas touch adds a seasonal tincture to a holiday display of books in the browsing room of the library.

To accommodate students preparing for final examinations all departments of the library will be open until 9 o'clock this Friday and Saturday night, M. H. Douglass, librarian, reminded yesterday.

Vacation hours will be 9 to 6 o'clock every day except Sundays, Christmas, and New Year's, Mr. Douglass announced.

Campus Calendar

All students interested in taking the advanced civil pilot training course at Corvallis are requested to get in touch with J. C. Stovall in 314 Fenton, sometime this week between 1 and 5 in the afternoon. The course will begin spring term and end sometime in July.

The meeting of the Frosh commission of the University YMCA set for tonight has been postponed until next term, Paul Sutley, "Y" executive secretary, has announced.

The last Bible study of the term, conducted by Dr. J. R. Branton, will be held at the YWCA bungalow this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

YWCA cabinet meeting at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the "Y" bungalow. Important.
