

STUDENT BUILDING...

Freshman Union Applications Due

Petitioners Warned of Noon Deadline: Committee to Choose Members Friday; Grades Will Play Deciding Role in Choice

Noon today is the deadline for Frosh student union committee applications. Committee members will be chosen Friday afternoon by the main student union committee. Principal function of the new group will be to arouse interest in the campaign for building funds.

Declaring that funds for the building might be available by 1943, John Cavanagh, chairman of the main committee, said that the committee of the class of 1944 "may have opportunities to hold their student union meetings in a student union building instead of the College Side."

THINNING...

Contest Choices Face Committee For Elimination

Ten Finalists Must Ponder Their Fate Until Dance Night

Elimination of the 48 Betty Coed-Joe College contestants to the 10 names which will appear on the ballot at the Sophomore Informal will take place this afternoon at 4:30 in Gerlinger hall men's lounge by a faculty-student committee.

The five girl and five boy finalists' identity will remain a secret until February 1, the night of the dance, when ballots revealing the names will be given out at the door for final student voting.

Contestants are to appear before the judges in regular campus clothes, according to Nancy Riesch, chairman of the popularity race. Miss Riesch stressed that saddles, sweaters, and skirts would be in order for the girls.

The judging committee personnel includes: Mrs. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women; Virgil D. Earl, dean of men; Gleeson Payne, John Cavanagh, Betty Buchanan, and Joanne Riesch.

Two changes have been made in the list of candidates who were chosen during fall term. New aspirants for the title of Joe College are: Bob Rudolph, Delta Upsilon, and Pat Riley, Kappa Sigma. Chi Omega has withdrawn its entry altogether.

Ray Dickson and the Collegians will provide the music for the all-campus dance.

Scabbard and Blade Schedules Ski Trip

Through the use of machine guns and rifles the Scabbard and Blade ski outing scheduled for Sunday, January 26, at Hand Lake will be turned into maneuvers similar to those of the Finnish ski troops, Lloyd Sullivan, captain of the military honorary, disclosed today. Paris Emery, Universal news reel cameraman and George Godfrey of the University news bureau will be present to take action and still pictures of the outing.

Sullivan said that the thought behind the ski outing is to try some of the maneuvers similar to army ski patrols. Ski races will also be held among the members of the party.

The group will meet in front of the ROTC barracks at 8 Sunday morning and will leave from there. Several representatives of the faculty will accompany the outing. Mr. Emery is also down here to take pictures of the rifle team, which will fire for him on Saturday; this is also for his news-reel.

Military Ball Call

To the maidens we call With a good over-all description.

See if you have the power To fit in with our prescription.

After all, when we choose We don't want to use conscription.

—J.W.S.

LETTER WRITING...

Deadline Set For Dads' Day Contest Notes

Buchwach Allows Forty-Eight More Hours for Entries

Absolute deadline in the Dads' day letter writing contest will be 11:59 tomorrow midnight, Buck Buchwach, promotion chairman, announced yesterday, reminding students that only two days remain in which to submit entries. Letters will be judged over the weekend, and the two winners, one boy and one girl, will be announced Tuesday. Entries must be under 250 words long, and prizes will be awarded on the basis of originality, style, conciseness, and interest.

Lively letters and ones that will appeal to all campus dads are still desired, Buchwach revealed. He emphasized that students should play up high points of the three-day program of celebration which has been outlined for the weekend.

The two winning entries will be published in the Emerald, and one will be printed on special Dads' day stationery and distributed to all students for mailing home.

Prizes, two 1941 Oregonas, will be autographed by President Donald M. Erb. Judges who will pick the winners are R. D. Horn, associate professor of English, Robert Leeper, assistant professor of psychology, and George Turnbull, professor of journalism.

'Y' BEQUEST

YMCA Loan Fund Receives Boost

Rates Must Match Present Holdings To Raise Allotment

$1000 of the $10,000 bequest received by the YMCA last spring from Dr. E. C. Brown of Portland has been signed over to the University to be used for student loans, J. H. Bond, business administration professor and treasurer of the "Y" advisory board, reported yesterday.

The organization received the money with the stipulation that the interest only could be used for current "Y" expenses, Prof. Bond stated. More money may be made available from the bequest for this loan fund if interest rates on the loans match those obtainable from presently owned shares in guaranteed building and loan associations.

Prof. Bond stated that the "Y" board preferred to have the money used for student loans if income from that source would make it financially practical.

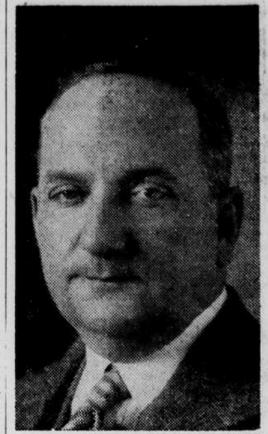

Dancers to Present Informal Program In Gerlinger Gym

An informal modern dance recital, with no costumes, lights, or scenery, will take place this afternoon at 4:15 in the dance studio and gymnasium of Gerlinger hall. Participation in the program will range from students who have had only one term of modern dance to Master dancers. The dances have been composed by students as part of their regular classwork, and represent the students' own work.

The recital has not been formally rehearsed, but will be more like an informal comparing of notes, offering an interesting chance to watch the compositional development of the students. Mrs. Kay Holman will play accompaniment for all the dances, and has composed music for some of them.

Iowa State Teachers college campfire, which each morning brings out a musical greeting to 8 o'clock class-goers, is made up of 21,625 pounds of copper and tin.

ATTACHE

Douglas P. Miller, Berlin attache of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, will discuss German-American relations at Friday's assembly.

FRIDAY SPEECH...

Nazi-American Foreign Policies To Be Clarified

Miller to Address 11 o'Clock Session Friday in Gerlinger

Douglas P. Miller, Berlin attache of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, will discuss American relations with Germany before a University assembly Friday at 11 o'clock in Gerlinger.

To accommodate the assembly, Friday 11 o'clocks will meet today instead, announces Dean Karl W. Othank.

Miller entered the commercial service in 1921. Three years later he was appointed trade commissioner to Berlin and has spent most of his time since then in that capacity.

During the first world war, he worked in the diplomatic service in the Near and Far East. After the armistice he repatriated prisoners in Stettin, Germany.

Miller is a former Rhodes scholar and holds the Oxford bachelor of jurisprudence degree. He also holds a master's degree from his alma mater, Denver university.

Touring as a member of the endowed Denver Institute of International Relations faculty, he will speak Friday noon at a chamber of commerce luncheon in the Osburn hotel.

William Chilcote will play a clarinet solo, "Scene of Air," from Bergson's Luisa di Montfort. Martegery Williams will accompany him.

Czech Architect To Defend Moderns

Conservative adults, who are worried over the American college student's increased enthusiasm for modern design in architecture and industry, should calm down.

This is the opinion of Jan Reiner, young Czechoslovakian architect, who will lecture at the University of Oregon on "Contemporary Design and Its Influence on Architecture," next Tuesday, January 28.

The educational activities board has announced that Reiner's talk, at 4 p.m. in Chapman hall, room 207, will be free to all University students and interested townspeople.

In regard to those who are both-ered by the "modernist" movement, this young architectural instructor reminds them that even the builders of the pyramids, the Gothic cathedrals, and the Renaissance palaces were modernists and sometimes considered radical.

Jan Reiner is now a faculty member of Moholy-Nagy's school of design, formerly the noted Bauhaus school, in Chicago. At the present time he is on a nationwide lecture tour, taking him to every large university and art center in the country.

$1000 FOR OREGON...

J. O. Baileys Give Memorial Fund For UO Campus

Bequest Will Finance Planting of Oaks Between Library and Thirteenth Street; Gift Honors Student Who Died in 1939

A fund of $1000 in memoriam to their son Robert, has been donated the University by Judge and Mrs. J. O. Bailey to erect a double line of Pyramidal English Oak trees from the library to 13th street, President Donald M. Erb announced yesterday.

Robert Bailey was drowned April 9, 1939, while canoeing on the millrace with James Murray.

While attending the University, Bailey was treasurer of the freshman class, president of the senior class, head of the YMCA, and president of Zeta hall before affiliating with Theta Chi fraternity. He was in the Oregon law school at the time of his death.

Bailey was born November 21, 1917, at Salem, Oregon. He attended Beech grammar school in Portland, and later Jefferson high school, from which he was graduated in 1935.

Judge Bailey, who is a justice of the Oregon supreme court, and Mrs. Bailey reside in Portland.

FOR ENGLAND...

'36 Cup Winner To Talk at Tea

Women's Benefit To Aid British 'Bundles' Fund

Ann-Reed Burns, class of '36 and Gerlinger cup winner, will be invited to speak at the silver tea benefit February 5, the AWS council decided at its regular meeting, Wednesday afternoon.

The tea will be sponsored by the Associated Women for the Bundles for Britain fund and the affair will be open for townspeople, faculty members and wives, as well as students, Betty Buchanan, president said.

Speaker Traveled

Miss Burns has traveled extensively in the United States and Mexico since her graduation. While in school she was a journalism major and vice-president of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary.

Marge Ourtis was elected by the cabinet to take charge of the AWS files and secretarial work in connection with the ASUO office. She will have a staff of approximately 10 freshman women to work under her, the council ruled.

Election Methods

Method of election of officers for the organization was discussed and it was decided to take no steps until the constitution and by-laws had been checked.

The president gave a short report on the convention of AWS representatives from the state of Oregon at Linfield college yesterday. Miss Buchanan, Maxine Hansen, secretary, Mary Ellen Smith, sergeant-at-arms, together with Mrs. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, who was one of the guest speakers, made the trip.

Press Fraternity To Hold Initiation

Four pledges will become members of the Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, at an initiation breakfast Sunday morning. Lyle Nelson, president, announced yesterday following a membership meeting.

The initiation breakfast meeting will be 10 o'clock Sunday morning at the Anchorage.

Plans for an SDX banquet, with Victor Bleudorn, Iowa newspaper publisher, as guest speaker were discussed. No definite date for the banquet was announced but it will be held sometime during the latter part of the winter term.

SPORTS:

Donut Hoop
Play Gathers
Steam

CONCERT SOLOISTS

These men, four students and a faculty member, will appear as soloists at the Eugene Gleemen's concert in the Igloo at 8 o'clock tonight.

Fred Beardsley, upper left; Bob Carmichael, upper right; and Les Ready, center left, will offer vocal solo parts. Verne Sellin, center right, will play violin solo variations. Sigurd Nilssen, below left, member of the school of music faculty, will appear as guest soloist.

VOCALISTS...

Gleemen Will Present Seventy-First Concert In McArthur Tonight

Sigurd Nilssen to Perform as Guest Artist At Annual Mid-Winter Recital; Admission Free to All Student Body Card Holders

Featuring a program composed of music from many lands and of many moods, the Eugene Gleemen will present their seventy-first concert before Eugene townspeople and University students at 8:15 tonight in McArthur court. Composed of 75 male voices, the Eugene Gleemen include in their membership several Oregon students, five of whom will sing incidental solo parts in this evening's recital.

Free admission to this annual mid-winter concert has been arranged for students by the educational activities board. Entrance will be permitted upon presentation of an activities card.

Geographers Visit Eugene Industries On Lab Field Trip

A study of economic geography in and around Eugene was made this week by students in the geography lab course. W. E. Greenup, graduate assistant, was in charge of the four groups who made the field trip Monday and Tuesday.

Eugene was explored from the standpoint of natural location and local industry. The students visited the cannery, the water plant, and the electric station. They found that the famed Oregon millrace provided the power for both the woolen mills and the excelsior plant.

A visit was also paid to the Chase Gardens across the river from Eugene where the students were privileged to see eight acres of land under greenhouses. Special attention was given to the section where orchids are raised.

Howard to Entertain YM, YW Students

Professor Charles G. Howard, law school faculty member, will host Sunday afternoon to 10 students chosen from the YWCA and YMCA organizations on the campus. This is the first of a series of faculty-student meetings to be co-sponsored by the two groups. Marjorie Montgomery and Dan Bacot are chairmen of the meetings. Their purpose is to get students acquainted with faculty leaders in religious work.

Among donors of $25,080 to Long Island College of Medicine, recently was "a little girl," who gave $1 for "general purposes."