Coeds Vote Approval of AWS 'Reform'

Constitutional Changes Made At Assembly

Amendment Plans To Delete Politics; Speed Elections

By HELEN ANGELL
Unanimous support of assembled women students was accorded yesterday to the Mortar Board-sponsored amendment to the AWS constitution, designed to remove the "political alignment" period between nominations and elections of coed officers.

Meeting at 4 o'clock in Villard hall, the quorum of women voters decided to change another part of the AWS constitution besides the previously publicized reform. The additional change moves the new nomination-election meeting, at which candidates for women's offices are made known by the official nominating committee and voted on immediately, from the fourth to the third week preceding winter term examinations.

The constitution as amended does away with the period of one week between nominations and actual elections. The change was designed to remove chances for forming of coed political groups in the interim.

The reformed constitution places this year's elections of AWS, WAA, and YWCA officers for the week of February 17. Joanne Riesch, president of WAA and Mortar Board member, presented the proposed reform to the mass meeting. She explained in detail the actual change to the constitution and the far-flung effects which such a reform could set in motion, urging coed politicians to back the plan fairly.

President Betty Buchanan was in charge of the meeting, the first mass assembly of Oregon women this term.

YMCA Board to Meet To Elect Advisers

YMCA advisory board members will meet today to elect six new members to the board from a list of possible advisers submitted by the "Y" executive cabinet. The meeting is at 4:30 in the "Y" hut. Paul Sutley, campus executive secretary of the YMCA, will present a report of last term's and last month's "Y" activities to the board. Included in this report will be an account of the financial condition of the organization.

Dr. L. S. Bee, treasurer of the board, will present the status of cooperation between the city and campus "Y's" and their coming financial drives. Rev. Charles E. Funk, Wesley foundation director and advisory board member, will open the group's afternoon meeting with a worship service.

KKKrawl to Offer 'Extras'

Students may swing out tonight at the annual Krazy Kopy Krawl without any worries about the little "extras" that plague dancing piggers. As a special feature, sponsors of the Krawl will furnish free cigarettes, gum, and refreshments to dancers. "We furnish everything but the dates," Fred May, chairman said last night. Art Holman's 11-piece band, pictured at right, will furnish music for dancing from 9 to 12 in Gerlinger ballroom. Featured with Holman's band will be Betty Wycoff, soloist at

Oregon Dads to Begin Weekend By 'Signing in' at Johnson Today

THIS AIN'T ALL—THE FOOD—DAD

A pretty pleasing preview of the Dads' day banquet Saturday night at 5:30 is given here by Bill Skibinski. Moving to protect his chest from fragments of gray is Doris Emry, (left), while Connie Ryals (center) and Barbara Barlow move up to the right wing with reinforcements. Tickets are moving rapidly. They are selling for $1 at Dean Karl W. Onthank's office in Johnson hall.

Swarthout Coming Star Tells Beauty Tips

By MILDRED WILSON
Gladys Swarthout, the operatic star who blows soap bubbles for sound lungs, and does wall-walking exercises to slenderize her hips—has her beauty routine down to a delightful science. Miss Swarthout will sing at McArthur court next Tuesday evening in a concert open to all University students on their educational activities card. Considered one of the most beautiful women on the stage today, Miss Swarthout is a firm believer in every woman taking a night off once in a while for nerve repairs—and beauty resurrection.

No Dinner
First, according to Miss Swarthout's routine, begin by going without dinner. "Skipping an occasional meal, especially when you are over-tired, is good for looks. However, if too hungry to fast, you may allow yourself a dish of stewed fruit, a piece or two of Melba toast and a glass of milk," she recommended.

Rise, Pat, Dry
"Finally, rise from the bath, pat yourself dry, bathe your eyes with a soothing lotion or cool water, go to a wide open window and breathe deeply for a few moments and then go to bed and sleep for ten or twelve hours," Miss Swarthout advised.

Simple as it is, Miss Swarthout takes her own advice—and it evidently works.

State Board to Meet

The annual meeting of the state board of higher education to consider courses to be added to next year's curriculum will take place today and Saturday at Corvallis. The matter has been in the hands of the curriculum committee for the past two weeks for their study. The committee consists of C. A. Brand, Roseburg, chairman; Mrs. Beatrice Walton Sackett, Marshfield; and Robert W. Ruhl, Medford.

Museum Hours

The museum of natural history will be open both Saturday and Sunday afternoons for the convenience of visiting Dads. The museum is located on the first floor of Condon hall.

Top Houses Will Get Cups for Most Fathers Registered Per Capita

Kwama, Skull, Dagger to Welcome Pops; Buildings to Remain Open to Give Parents Inside View of Campus Classrooms

By BETTY JANE BIGGS
Doors in all living organizations, as well as the gates, will swing open to greet Dads as Oregon fathers start their weekend today with registration at Johnson hall between 1 and 5 o'clock.

Three cups will be given the living organizations who have the most visitors registered today and during Saturday hours, 9 to 3 o'clock. The awards will be presented at the banquet tomorrow night.

These same cups will be presented at the banquet tomorrow evening for the same recognition.

WAA Sets Award Rule

President of the Women's Athletic association, Joanne Riesch, announced at a meeting of the officers that the high awards in WAA will be given only to girls that have completed 10 terms at the University and have participated in sports activities during that time to win 10 checks. The high awards, white jackets, have been changed to Oregon blankets this year.

Other awards will be given as usual. Girls who have received five checks and have been in sports for five terms will receive Oregon "O's."

Initiation of new members into the organization will be in Gerlinger hall, February 13, at 7 p.m. Any girl who has one check after her name for participating in sports is eligible for WAA membership. Invitations will be sent out this week and girls who received invitations last year may also come.

Spring Inspirations Modeled by Coeds in Fashion Parade

Professor A. L. Lomax, Associate Professor Arthur Dudley, business administration school faculty member, and ten BA students will be in Portland Friday night to attend a dinner meeting of the Propeller club in the Multnomah hotel.

Arthur Tode, honorary president of the national organization of businessmen and students, will be chief speaker of the evening, Jack Thompson, president of the University chapter, announced yesterday. The organization is interested in building up the American merchant marine. Prof. Lomax, faculty adviser, explained.

Emerald workers will sponsor a dance party Saturday night. All members of the Emerald staff who plan to attend are urged to get in touch with Lyle Nelson, editor.

Banquet Tickets

Students should purchase tickets as soon as possible for the Dads' Day banquet so that the committee will know how many to serve. Ticketing will begin at 5:15 p. m. and service will start at 5:30. Tickets may be purchased at Dean Karl W. Onthank's office.

Voters Must Buy Within Five Day Purchase Limit

Lowry's Constitution Originates Clause; Another Advisory Meeting Scheduled To Consult on Preferential Voting Merits

By MARY WOLF
The advising committee appointed by ASUO President Tiger Payne to investigate class constitutions recommended Wednesday to adopt that part of Phil Lowry's model constitution pertaining to a 10-cent class card.

According to Jack Hay, chairman, the purchase limit will be set at five days after registration. Any class cards purchased after that date will not entitle the holder to the privilege of voting but would on the other hand entitle him to participate in all other class activities.

The committee strongly recommended that the classes take immediate action upon the proposed plan.

"Members of the committee will meet soon to make further recommendations as to the advisability of preferential voting and in addition an executive committee to aid in class administration and policies will be formed," said Hay.

Women to Cast Ballots to Elect 'King of Hearts'

Candidates Named; Houses to Receive Prizes of Records

From among 27 candidates one boy will be chosen to reign as King of Hearts this year.

All women holding tickets for the "Heart Hop," a girl-date-boy dance, sponsored by sophomore commission of the YWCA, may cast their ballots Wednesday in front of the College Side. Tickets for the hop, which will take place on Thursday, February 13 from 3:30 to 5:30 at Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, and Alpha Chi Omega houses, will be on sale in all women's organizations Monday.

Prize Due
Houses selling the most 25-cent tickets will be given some records for a prize. Alpha hall's candidate is Hugh Muir; Alpha Tau Omega, Ralph Dunn; Beta Theta Pi, Ralph Fuhrman; Campbell co-op, Jimmy Haf-

Police Call Summons Dates to Law Dance

By JOANNE NICHOLS
"I have a summons for you."

But nobody went to court, for Sergeant Dick Spies of the Eugene city police was summoning law students' dates to the law school's winter formal.

The budding barristers will blossom at 9 tonight in the Osburn hotel to the music of McKinney's seven-piece band. Don Richardson and Irvin Mann will present a special intermission feature—either "The Sheik" or "The Vanishing American."

No Judge
If the present state of affairs continues, the law brawl won't have a "Little Judge." No qualified candidates have been nominated, and the disgusted and disheartened committee has resigned. A rather wistful statement of policy declares that its best efforts to conduct a serious election have been thwarted, and that it as a group resigns in toto.

Can't Resign
"I refuse to recognize the resignation," said Bob Recken, social chairman of the law school student body. "They were appointed to produce a 'Little Judge', and they must produce her." Dick Bryson, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday that the ballot box would remain in the law school for the rest of

ROOFLESS... Student Union Bodies to Meet Near 'Y' at 3

Dads' Day Group To Help Find Ways To Arouse Interest

Stan Staiger, chairman, and his Dads' day committee, will be guests of the combined student union committees at their meeting today at 3 north of the "Y" hut, one of the proposed student union sites.

Staiger, "as a committee chairman who has had his meetings kicked from congested corner to congested corner," will speak to the groups on Oregon's need for a student union building.

The meeting, which was called by student union chairman John Cavanagh, will discuss "all possible ways of presenting the student union problems to the student body as a whole."

Student union groups which will meet with the Dads' day committee are: the varsity committee, under Cavanagh; the sophomore committee, headed by Glenn Williams; and the freshman committee, under Oglesby Young. Any student interested in the student union movement is welcome to attend the meeting, Cavanagh said.

Theater Players Accommodate KKK

Curtain Will Rise On 'Shrew' Comedy Tonight at 7:15

Friday nighters who attend "Taming of the Shrew" will also be able to get to Krazy Kopy

Krawl as the play will be over before the Krawl begins. The curtain tonight will go up at 7:15 and the performance will last an hour. The showings Saturday at 2:30 will be the first time in several years that a matinee has been given. Previously evening performances have been the rule.

Two shrews alternate for the honor of being tamed by Petruchio. The snitfire Katherines are Trudy Harland and Helene Parsons, and the gentleman from Verona is played by Parker McNeil.

Playgoers will be served coffee tonight and Saturday night before the play begins. Single performances only are to be given each evening. On Saturday the play starts at 9:45 p.m. so that basketball fans may attend. This is in addition to the matinee Saturday.

Tickets, selling at 25 cents each, have been going very well for the Friday and Saturday plays. They can be purchased by calling campus extension 217 or at the box office.

Students at New York city's four municipal colleges last year contributed $972,000 in fees.

A MAN AND HIS BAND

Art Holman's 11-piece dance orchestra, with featured vocalist, Betty Wycoff, will entertain patrons of the Alpha Delta Sigma Krazy Kopy Krawl, tonight in Gerlinger hall. The advertisers' dance will begin at 9 o'clock and last until midnight. Holman has gained a great deal of prominence throughout the country through his arrangements.
